His $670,000 worth of press agents crossed him up beautifully here. They announced, as reported last week, that England has just been given $5,880,000 worth of copper, $2,880,000 worth of oil. Now it is announced another $600,000 worth of copper has been given them.

Senator John Sparkman's Small Business Committee, probing rubber situation is finding rubber allocation program which is driving out of business all but the very few Rubber Bigs, was issued at a meeting of which no record was made and nobody seems to know who attended, or what they said.

So committee has issued demand more rubber be given small firms until facts are known. Committee will check just announced Marshall Plan gift of 237,000 worth of rubber to French North Africa; $120,000 to Austria. Look for extraordinary facts to develop.

Hilltop Keglers Post High Scores During Season

With the bowling season rapidly drawing to a close at the Hilltop Recreation Alleys a revival of the season's records disclosed local keglers as among the high ranking pin men in the city.

Outstanding on the local bowling scene in the season now closing were the following:

The top individual game went to Floyd Winn with 288. Walt Thrailkill and Ward Reynolds were close behind with 279 games. Winn and Thrailkill bowled in the Hilltop Businessmen's League, and Reynolds in the Suburban loop.

The top totals of the year were all bowled for Ben Brew Beer in the Recreation League. Dick Knipfer had a high of 681 and followed that with 669. His teammate Charles Neeshan was right on his heels with 668.

Riviera led the teams in with 1090 in the Businessmen's loop. Kent Brothers Builders had a big 1079 in the Recreation League as Hirsch and Hirsch shot a 1047 in the Businessmen's League.

Honors in the team three games went to Hirsch and Hirsch with 2976. Kent Brothers Construction Company hit for a pair of 2900's in the Recreation League. They were 2933 and 2904.

WHAT OF THE HARP

Do not lament the goblet broken,
Mellow with age was the purple wine.
Its ruddy stain is a lasting token
That fruit hung high on the vine.

But what of a harp hushed in the morning
Still as a lark when her song is done;
Strings that were snapped without word of warning,
Silenced when scarce begun.

Operation Sand-box: The other evening my son, aided mightily by his small daughter, Linda Jean (of whom you have read here) started to build her a sandbox. Instead of taking a dim view of the pounding, the neighbors—male and female—began coming to the back yard to see what gave. Very soon, L. J. was out of a job as Daddy's little helper, for all of the men pitched in to help while their wives sat on the back porch and talked. The event is typical in that neighborhood. All of the houses are little and new, and the families are too; mostly the houses are being bought under the G. I. loan system. While American cities have settlements like this we haven't much to fear from Stalin or anyone.

Did you read about the six-year-old girl, Virginia Ellsworth, who found a bundle of valuable bonds belonging to a millionaire oil man? She handed them to a policeman who in turn returned them to the m.o.m. He handsomely (!) rewarded her with twenty-five cents. The police department of the city collected a fund for the child, being ashamed of the smallness of one of their sex, I suppose. "Yes, Virginia, there IS a Santa Claus!"

The Japanese are an artistic people. They have a wonderful sense of color and their handiwork is rare. I believe that our occupation forces are learning a great deal overseas." From Mrs. Audrey Wright, Marietta: "Here is a poem I thought you might be able to use in your column:

IN APPRECIATION

I baked a lovely cake one day,
All chocolate and white;
And I was very pleased, you see,
Because it turned out right.

I served it to my family;
They ate in deep delight.
I was happiest when I saw
No cake at all, that night."

THE FRIEND WHO JUST STANDS BY

When dark hours come your soul to try,
You love the friend who "just stands by."
Perhaps there's nothing she can do—
The thing is strictly up to you.
For there are troubles all your own,
And paths the soul must tread alone,
And times when love can't smooth the road,
Nor friendship lift the heavy load.
But just to feel you have a friend
Who will stand by until the end;
Whose sympathy through all endures;
Whose warm handclasp is always yours.
It helps somehow, to pull you through
Although there's nothing she can do,
And so with fervent heart, you say
"God bless the friend who just stands by."

Westway Postscripts

Madam President Emma Russell of the auxiliary to Westway Post is in urgent need of girls and women to assist in the 30th Annual Buddy Poppy Drive to be held in Columbus May 25 and 26. Call Mrs. Russell at RA. 4730 and tell her you will be happy to help in such a worthy cause.

The proceeds from the Buddy Poppy sales serve this prime purpose: "Aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents and the widows and orphans."

Speaking of widows and orphans, the funds raised through this effort will also help to maintain the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Ever since 1925 the VFW National Home has provided hundreds of war orphans with all the advantages every child has a right to expect from the country his father fought to defend. The VFW National Home is a living memorial to every American who has died in defense of his country. WEAR A BUDDY POPPY ON MEMORIAL DAY. "Honor the dead by helping the living."

Commander Bob Hartman announced today that Westway Post will conduct Memorial Day services at Georgesville, O., Wednesday, May 30, at 2 p. m.

Women Past 40 Can Veil Their Age

BY EDNA MILES

MANY women, when they reach the far side of forty, decide they are past the age for such fripperies as veils. Actually, they have just achieved the point at which veils are most necessary—and usually—most becoming.

If crow's feet, frown creases or lines have begun to mar the beauty of your face, now's the time to learn about the flattery of veils. In the same way that a softly-shaded light plays down facial imperfections, a bit of netting across your face will veil the tell-tale marks of age.

Experiment a little, until you've found the veil that does most for you. The shape of your face, your hair-do and your hat are all factors to be considered.

Remember, an observer's eye will see the lower edge of the veil as a line across the face. Rarely is it attractive to see a flat, horizontal line sweeping across a woman's face. This tends to make the cheeks look broad.

Round the bottom of the veil upward a bit, following the contour of the cheekbones, or, if it's a long veil, the jaw line.

68 Years Old, Yet Now Climbs 155 Feet to Work on Scaffold

HADACOL Relieves the Cause of Nervousness and Weakness When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron.

Seems like more and more folks are finding out every day that they have to keep themselves in tip-top condition to really stay on the ball as far as doing a good job is concerned. Mr. John L. Napier, Route 1, Moselle, Mississippi, certainly found out that aches and pains, weakness and nervousness were interfering with his work as a bricklayer and carpenter.

But Mr. Napier heard how HADACOL was helping folks with such conditions that may have been due to deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin.

Here are his own words: "Before taking HADACOL, I was suffering with aches and pains for awhile. Then, came the time when I was weak and nervous. I am a carpenter and bricklayer. I also run a farm. I kept feeling bad and getting worse. Then I heard about HADACOL and immediately began taking it. After taking only one bottle, when I retired at 9 P.M. I would fall asleep immediately. After the third bottle I went back to work, carpentering and laying bricks. Now, I climb as high as 155 feet and work all day on a scaffold. I have never felt so well in many years. I am 68 years of age. And, when there is no carpenter or brick work to do, I work on my farm, planting and harvesting my crops. Thanks to HADACOL."

There's a clue that may help you, if you are suffering from a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. Why continue to suffer . . . why experiment . . . why let your distress drag you farther and farther down? For it is these very Vitamins and Minerals you may need that HADACOL supplies in a quantity greater than the minimum daily requirements. And this marvelous formula contains helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium, too.

HADACOL builds up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to send these elements coursing, surging, throughout your body, to every body organ. Already dissolved, in a special liquid form, the elements are absorbed quickly and easily in your system. Carries a strict money-back guarantee.

Hilltop Choral Groups Sing In Song Festival

The Junior Miss Choral Group, sponsored by the Juvenile, Social and Welfare Bureau of the Columbus Police Department, has completed plans for their Annual Song Festival to be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, May 17, 1951, at Central High School.

Groups from this area in the festival are the Hilltop Chorus and Hilltop Melody Maids.

This is the third such contest and this year the name was changed from Embeddied to Song Festival. Added attraction this year will be the singing of Patrolman Chester Crummer of the Bureau, who won national honors as the singing bellhop on the Arthur Godfrey Show. The Fireman's Quartette of the Columbus Fire Department will return by popular demand. Albert Justus, Charles Highland, Russell Witt and Vaughn Seeds will be accompanied by Dorothy Kinney.

Alto and soprano solos, duets and choral ensembles will comprise the contests and the winners will be awarded beautiful prizes. Radios, jewelry and trophies have been provided for prizes and the large beautiful group trophy will be, suitably engraved.

The six policewomen of the Juvenile Bureau supervise the activities of the choral groups and devote one evening each week to singing practice. In addition they arrange and supervise movies, picnics, skating parties and carrolling at local hospitals, rest homes, orphanages and other shut-ins at Christmas time.

Judges have been invited from neighboring colleges music schools. L. Lee Shackson, professor of music at Otterbein College, Karl Mackman, professor of music at Denison University, and Wayman Hathcock, professor of music at Wilberforce University, have accepted and will decide winners in all events.

Cues for a Better Breakfast

By BETTY BARCLAY

More vitamins mean more pep and more pep means more and better work — aside from the fact that it is so wonderful to feel well. What easier way is there to add vitamins and pep to your family's daily diet than to give them a better breakfast? Unfortunately, this important meal is far too often shamefully neglected.

By serving a good breakfast consisting of fruit or fruit juice, cereals, eggs, butter, milk, and whole grain bread or toast, you are adding vitamins to your family's diet in the easiest way possible. So start the day right with a better breakfast than ever before for every member of the family. Here, then, is one basically good breakfast menu, featuring a delicious muffin with real "family" appeal.

A Better Breakfast
Fruit or Fruit Juice
Corn Toasties — Top Milk or Cream and Brown Sugar
Scrambled Eggs
Banana Bran Muffins* Butter
Coffee Milk for the Children

Banana Bran Muffins*

¾ cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup milk
¾ cup mashed ripe bananas (about 2 large bananas)
1 egg, well beaten
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1½ cups 40% bran flakes

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine milk, bananas, and egg. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix only enough to dampen flour. Fold in flakes. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 6 large muffins.

Beautiful Brides Must be Good Cooks as Well

By BETTY BARCLAY

Remember how we used to be amused at the bride whose jelly wouldn't jell and whose bread wouldn't rise? Well, cooking failures are no longer funny! Wasting precious time and materials these days amounts to a cardinal sin.

One important thing for jelly making brides to remember is first study the recipe carefully, follow the directions exactly, and then enjoy the finished product. With natural fruit pectin products — available in bottled or powdered form — homemakers today take all the gamble out of their jelly making.

And we don't have to depend on the summer fruits to provide our meals with these little delicacies. Just take advantage of this year's good crop of citrus fruit — grape fruits, lemons and oranges — to prepare the most delectable marmalade of all time. The following recipe is easy to make and is delicious with breakfast pancakes and luncheon or dinner menus.

Grapefruit, Lemon, and Orange Marmalade

3½ cups prepared fruit
2½ cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 1 medium-sized orange, 1 medium-sized grapefruit, and 1 medium-sized lemon. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife, slice remaining rind very fine. Add 1 cup sugar, 1½ cups water, and ½ teaspoon soda. (This sugar is in addition to the 2½ specified.) Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cut off tight skin of peeled fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp and juice to undrained cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes longer. Measure 3½ cups into a large saucepan.

To make the marmalade. Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 7 six-ounce glasses.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Both the Chinese and the Italians claim the honor of having invented eye glasses. However, it was during the Middle Ages that Europeans hit upon the idea of putting lenses in frames and perching them before the eyes. The modern application of this old idea has saved many eyes, and has provided many more with better vision.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. Herpes zoster, or shingles, is a painful disease affecting old and young. It is in all probability a virus infection, extending to the sensitive nerve ends of the skin. The sores appear on the skin over the tips of the nerves and may cover a considerable area of skin. Medical treatment can reduce the itching and pain and shorten the duration of illness.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. More patients seek medical help because of headaches than for any other single reason. Causes range from eye trouble to brain tumors. Treatment ranges from eyeglasses to surgery. In the case of persistent headaches, see your doctor. He has at his command modern scientific methods for diagnosis and treatment.

Mrs. Otis Richard Lowe

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Preston Campbell, 24 Whitethorne-av, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Emma Jean Fairchild, to Mr. Otis Richard Lowe, 2350½ W. Broad-st, on May 5, 7:30 p. m. at Glenwood Methodist Church. Rev. Joseph Shellhaas read the open church ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladiolas, greenery and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Campbell, wore a gown of ice blue satin designed with a heart shaped neckline, long sleeves, full skirt and cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion fell from a cap of illusion and satin matching the shade of her gown. The bride's bouquet was lily of the valley centered with a Eucharist lily. A keepsake lavaliere, formerly the bride's grandmother's, was worn by the bride.

Miss Beatrice Latham, maid of honor, and Misses Marilyn Vagnier and Shirley Ann Baker, bridesmaids, wore gowns styled alike in a wood violet hue. They were designed with formal bodices and jackets of embroidered net with the same embroidered net forming a yoke in the skirt from which a plain net skirt fell over taffeta. The attendants wore matching caps of net with short veils and their basket bouquets were of yellow daisies. Their earrings were a gift of the bride.

Mr. Herman E. Campbell, uncle of the bride, was best man for Mr. Lowe and ushers were Mr. Elmer J. Hegenberger and Mr. Ralph Hockleman.

The bride's mother greeted the guests at a reception which followed the ceremony at the church, in a formal length gown of aqua with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of pink shattered carnations. Assistant hostesses at the reception were Miss Catherine Mackenzie and Miss Berths Myers.

For their wedding trip to Buckeye Lake the new Mrs. Lowe wore a brown and aqua tailored suit with brown accessories.

ATTENTION PARENTS

These Public Elementary Schools need to know the number of kindergarteners and first graders who will enter public schools next fall.

To enter kindergarten, a child must be five years of age before Dec. 31, 1951. To enter first grade, the child must be six years of age on or before Dec. 31.

It is better for children if they do not have to be changed from teacher to teacher to make up new classes that we didn't know were coming.

Will you please write or telephone if you have a child who will be five or six on or before Dec. 31, 1951.

Goldie Juengert Class Will Meet At Chittenden

The dearest object to a married man should be his wife but it is not infrequently her clothes.

Goble Cannon, 1105 Hebert St., St. Louis, Mo., says in this day and age it doesn't matter how old you are—it is how young you feel. Mr. Cannon says he's seen a lot of these young, high powered fellows just burn themselves out, while folks that know how to live never seemed to get old. Mr. Cannon says that since he has been taking HADACOL he feels as spry as a 16-year-old.

Here is what Mr. Cannon said about Hadacol when he heard how Hadacol was helping people suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron. "My job as crossing watchman for the Wabash Railroad keeps me in one place and I don't have a chance to get much exercise. I seem to get gas on my stomach and then I lose my appetite. Many times I have had nervous spells and been unable to sleep at night. Then one day I heard how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. Now the gas on my stomach has vanished, my appetite is first rate and I get a good night's sleep. And those nervous spells? I very seldom have them any more at all. I think HADACOL is mighty fine—just look what it has done for me."

The most important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Remember

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation — promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach distresses (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), as well as that general rundown condition and vague aches and pains when they are due to a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in your system

HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL

Don't go through life suffering those vague aches and pains if caused by such deficiencies when relief may be as close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or economy size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

Among Housewives

Appliances Taken For Granted In Modern Everyday Living

"The phrase, "modern everyday living," just naturally brings to our minds the gleam of a porcelain refrigerator, the clean smell of freshly washed sheets or the picture of a family group gathered with rapt attention before their television set. The woman of today has many styles of undisputed beauty to choose from when choosing one of the time-saving appliances for her home and these articles can add or detract from the grace of a home.

The importance of the strictly modern appliances which we all take so much for granted; the stove, refrigerator, washer, iron and sweeper, for example, cannot be overlooked if one gives them a moment's thought. This was brought to our attention this week as we talked to some Hilltop women about the appliances in their individual homes.

"Everyone realizes that our modern equipment saves time and energy," were the sentiments of Mrs. C. M. Anglin, 270 Neshoba-av. Mrs. Anglin, who has a new TV set ordered, is convinced that her sweeper is the one appliance she "could not live without."

Mrs. E. A. Ardis, 185 S. Huron-av, has two relatively new appliances, a range and a T-V set, but she couldn't decide which of her conveniences she appreciated the most. Mrs. Ralph Burden, 783 S. Hague-av, decided her stove was of the most importance in her home.

"A dire necessity" were the words used by Mrs. R. J. Bender, 48 N. Brinker-av, in speaking of her refrigerator. And, of course she is right, because whether storing foods for two hours or two weeks the importance of a refrigerator to healthful living cannot be overshadowed. Mrs. Bender also appreciates her automatic washer and mangle for the time they save her each week.

It is the opinion of Mrs. J. F. Cochran, 429 S. Powell-av, that the stove is "naturally" the greatest household convenience. This we believe must come from our natural preference for good food over clean clothes, etc. Mrs. Cochran also expressed a hankering for an ironer and we hope she can get one soon because to Mrs. J. L. Estell, 227 N. Eureka-av, an ironer is the "fairest of them all." And Mrs. Estell believes that all the ironer needs to compliment it is an automatic washer!

Whichever appliance YOU would choose as indispensible to your home, we believe you will agree that each holds an exceedingly important place in our life today.

Policeman Back In The Pink Again —Says He's The "Kilroy of Old"

HADACOL Relieves Lack of Energy When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

It takes a good man, a man that's really up and at 'em, to help keep an eye on one of the world's largest office buildings. So when Jimmy Kilroy, 3133 Belden Ave., Chicago, Ill., found himself below par . . . in a sluggish rundown condition . . . he turned to today's great HADACOL. He'd heard how this wonderful formula corrected the real cause of such troubles when due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. As a result, he's back in shape again, loaded with energy and enthusiasm.

Here's what Mr. Kilroy has to say. "A few lines to tell you the great things your HADACOL has done for me. As a prize fighter and now as policeman assigned to one of the world's largest office buildings, I have always had to be in the best of shape. A month ago I found I was in a rundown condition, lacking energy, always tired and sluggish. And a young man one day said at one time he was the same. Advised me to buy a bottle of HADACOL, which I did. After two bottles, started feeling like myself and from there on I got new energy. Have been working in the gym 1 hour daily and everyone tells me how great I look and act. It really is a great product and I will always keep taking it. I feel like the Kilroy of old."

There's just no doubting an honest, sincere statement like that. Surely there is no need to be a burden to yourself, to your friends, or to your family, if you are suffering from such troubles due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. HADACOL supplies more than the minimum daily requirements of these elements plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium. It really goes to work to build good red blood, better hemoglobin, (when Iron is needed) to make sure that the precious Vitamins and Minerals are aged to every part of the body, to every body organ. HADACOL is quickly absorbed in your system because its important elements are already dissolved in a special liquid form that's easy to take.

Bible Comment:

Churches Need Aid To Meet Costs and Expand Activities

INFLATION has not spared America's churches.

Rising costs have forced many churches to curtail youth and missionary activities of benefit to the entire community. Other churches have had to postpone desperately-needed repairs. And many are the churches that have had to close their doors to the public more often because of the bloated cost of maintenance.

How then can churches, struggling to break even, hope to expand their activities to meet the nation's pressing need for moral enlightenment and spiritual direction?

The answer is an old one. We, the members of their congregations, must make gifts to the churches in a spirit of willingness that clearly demonstrates a will to serve.

Of this willingness, the 35th chapter of Exodus says, "Every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing," brought offerings to the tabernacle of the congregation.

While the souls of worshipers will always be the most beautiful adornment of cathedrals, temples and churches, concrete evidence of a willingness to give must also be present.

Recognizing the crippling effect of inflation upon churches with limited incomes, we must make ample offerings to the church that their effective use may help to spread the glorious message of peace and love throughout the world.

And we must remember that willingness is at the heart of all true worship.

I hear quite frequently of civil engineers, and wonder if there is no one to say a good word for [illegible]

A Fair Test...

Recently a young minister who was addressing a large crowd outdoors was interrupted time after time by the heckling of an untidy, unwashed-looking individual on the edge of the crowd.

"Listen, brother," cried this individual at one point, "This old world's had religion for over 2,000 years—and are we any better off for it?"

The minister looked squarely at his questioner.

"Listen, brother," he answered quietly, "This old world's had water, too, for over 2,000 years—and your face doesn't look any cleaner for it, either!"

All religion asks of any individual is a fair test. Otherwise, how can its worth be proven?

The worth of religion can be seen, however, in the faces and actions of those who attend church Sunday after Sunday. These people have already settled for themselves the question of religion's worth by giving it a fair test. They are now using that religious experience they have discovered to build up character that cannot be shaken, and a faith that cannot be budged.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.—Matt. 7:7.

Have you given religion a fair test yet?

It is as close to you as the church of your choice. . . .

The time to enjoy a European trip is about three weeks after unpacking.

A trip to a distant city . . . or just to a nearby store. Anywhere you go with your car, you are in danger of financial disaster, if you are not fully protected by auto insurance. LIMITED SUPPLY FOR DELIVERY RIGHT NOW

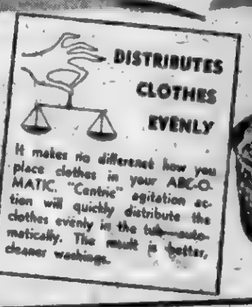
WITH THE NEW
A.B.C.O.Matic
COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC WASHER

IT'S NEW- IT'S DIFFERENT- IT'S BETTER!

Never before in the history of washers has there been such a remarkably efficient washer developed. Entirely new in conception, new in washing action, new in rinsing principle, the ABC-O-MATIC leads them all in washing and rinsing ability. Don't expect just another automatic washer. This new ABC-O-MATIC was developed by industry men who helped pioneer the first power-driven washer.

JUST LOAD IT... SET THE DIALS AND WALK AWAY FROM WORK!



AMERICA'S FINEST AUTOMATIC WASHER

Cleaner Washing

"CENTRIC" AGITATION

A sensational improvement in washing action. Up to now, the standard agitator represented the most effective way of getting clothes clean. Now "centric" agitation is an important improvement. Instead of two-way start and reverse action, "centric" agitation is a continuous washing action—easier on the clothes and more effective because of even clothes distribution. It does not reverse—it pulsates.

It makes no difference how you place clothes in your ABC-O-MATIC. "Centric" agitation action will quickly distribute the clothes evenly in the tub—automatically. The result is better, cleaner washings.

This washing principle causes clothes to circulate counter-clockwise and are surged from the bottom upward and down again every 30 to 40 seconds.

- There is no tangling of clothes . . . no balling . . . clothes are flexed, gently rubbed and squeezed.
- Clothes are swirled by the washing action . . . washing with, instead of against, the agitator. This means clothes are washed with more safety and far less wear and tear.

Better Rinsing

REVOLUTIONARY 3-STEP RINSING FOR CLEANER CLOTHES

1. DEEP POWER SPRAY RINSE While tub fills with fresh water, the agitator is loosening all dirt and soap scum from the clothes.

2. FLUSHING OVER-FLOW RINSE After the agitator stops, water continues to flow, over-flowing tub and carrying away dirt and soap scum.

3. SPLASH-AWAY POWER RINSE With tub full of water, the agitator splashes water up and out of the tub . . . dirt can never circulate back through the clothes.

SPINNER DRYING ABC's wide tub allows greater centrifugal force to get clothes dry faster. Clothes are dry in a minimum of time, wrinkle-free, easy to iron.

Greater Satisfaction

THESE ADDED FEATURES MAKE THE AUTOMATIC AN EVEN BETTER BUY:

SIGNAL LIGHT Shows when washer is operating. A convenient and step-saving feature — when light goes off, it indicates washing cycle has been completed.

AUTOMATIC LEVELIZER Self-leveling device that compensates for the difference in floor level. This provides sturdy footing to eliminate excessive vibration even during the spin cycle of the washer.

LESS VIBRATION . . . NO BOLTING DOWN

Harmful vibration is reduced to a minimum without additional mechanism for balancing. "Centric" agitation washing principle in the ABC-O-MATIC distributes clothes evenly automatically, and provides a better balance of clothes in the tub during the spin period. Therefore, no bolting down is required. This feature alone adds years to the life of your washer.

Cooking Is Fun On GE Ranges

Cooking can be fun with one of the outstanding General Electric ranges. They give the housewife more time for family, friends, economy and recreation.

Among the famous attractions of these ranges are the automatic oven timer that turns the oven off and on at pre-determined times; Extra Hi-Speed Calrod heating units that bring foods to the boiling point 16 percent faster than their predecessors; a triple oven with a waist high broiler; push-button controls for controlling cooking speeds; spacious storage drawers; a built-in six-quart pressure cooker; and a no-stain oven vent that traps grease and moisture from oven vapors and holds them in the range.

You can count on tops in comfort and cleanliness and excellent results time after time with GE ranges.

West Hill Furniture Company Personnel

The West Hill Furniture Co., 2364 W. Broad-st, is currently the only full line Frigidaire dealer on the Hilltop.

The West Hill Furniture Co., which started in business on the Hilltop about five years ago, has enjoyed almost immediate success. This Hilltop firm carries a complete line of all household furnishings, including carpeting, appliances, furniture, stoves, radio and television. West Hill carries national brand names such as Simmons, Haywood-Wakefield and Grand furnishings.

Local Merchants Invite Public To Inspect New Home Conveniences

It's spring, the grandest time of the year and the time when every member of the family wants to make improvements about the home. Many have been thinking in terms of a new refrigerator, washer, ironer, dryer, freezer, television or radio.

Local appliance dealers are taking this opportunity to extend a special invitation to every family in the community to visit their places of business and look over the latest in such merchandise. Special displays have been arranged and they are welcoming an opportunity to show their new spring lines.

In a survey made this week it was determined that every well known and nationally advertised brand of appliances is sold right here in this community. A similar survey reveals that prices on such merchandise are identical with those being offered by other business firms.

The Record is glad to be of service in extending this invitation for the local appliance dealers. Your attention is called to their many messages on the following pages.

Local dealers are well established in their field, and they are your very neighbors and friends. Your confidence can well be established in dealing with them. They in turn will stand ready to give the best in service at all times.

Buy With Confidence

Every housewife's daily work can be made much more pleasant, every home can be a happier one with the purchase of today's modern electrical appliances . . . refrigerators, stoves, freezers, cleaners, washers, dryers, radio, television, etc. Few local homes have all of these modern wonders they should have. Many are interested in buying them now. Many are planning such purchases.

Each such purchase represents a big investment in terms of the cross sectional income of this community. It is therefore all the more important that local people buy such appliances from a dealer in whom they can have confidence.

It is first important to buy the well known, nationally advertised merchandise that has been on the market long enough to be tested and found satisfactory. Your local dealer is a neighbor and a friend and he will best be able to help advise you in this matter and tell you of the many advantages of the latest models in all appliances.

In buying from a local dealer you will have a personal contact with the man who sells it. He will be far more inclined to give you satisfactory service at a later date should such service be necessary.

All the better trade names in appliances are offered by applianee dealers in this community. Any investment in an appliance by an off brand name and with an unknown firm will certainly be regretted at a later date. You owe it to yourself to become acquainted with your local community appliance dealers and the services they have to offer.

If you are interested in a new refrigerator, a stove, a washer, dryer, radio, television or other appliance why not take the time out now to drop in on these good neighbors of yours and see how their new spring lines of the best in the field. You are under no obligation. They will welcome your visit.

Color Television Is Foreseen On Regular TV Channels

Only about two-thirds of the people of the United States who should be able to receive television programs this year will actually enjoy this service, because of the prolonged "freeze" of applications for new television stations, it was stated recently at the joint meeting of the Franklin Institute and the Institute of Radio Engineers in Philadelphia, by David B. Smith, vice-president Philco Corporation.

Smith summed up the situation on color television by saying that, because there is a "lock-and-key" relationship between the television transmitting station and the home receiver, "it is absolutely essential that we be sure we have arrived at the best basic system."

"Just as everyone is opposed to sin," Smith remarked, "so everybody wants color television. Meanwhile, people seem to be enjoying black-and-white television. Therefore the problem for the industry is to carry both black-and-white and color TV on the same frequency channels."

"We are convinced that the same channels now being used for black-and-white television can eventually be used for color television. Also, existing receivers will be able to pick up color programs in black and white without any modifications.

"It will take some time to accomplish these things and to achieve the quality which the public has learned to demand from its experience with black-and-white television. The new color receivers designed to work on the compatible system are still in the laboratories of the industry and will not be ready for public use for some time," Smith concluded.

RCA Urges Ball Park Attendance

The Radio and Television Manufacturers Association launched an extensive advertising and promotion campaign designed to build attendance at professional baseball games during 1951.

RCA Victor's campaign began Apr. 15, the beginning of National Baseball Week. It includes national magazine, newspaper, radio and television advertising, as well as a wide variety of promotions, all urging attendance at the ball parks.

Video Output Shows Gain

So far as the situation can be seen at the present, the television industry will manage to produce more than six million sets again during the year of 1951, according to a marketing and sales analysis just recently released. It was pointed out that if the present market area does not expand in 1951, the sale of the six million receivers will leave the market approximately 30 percent saturated.

Another situation, pointed up in the analysis, shows that there are twice as many sets owned by the low income group. The 27.4 percent TV sets owners are distributed by socio-economic groups in almost the same proportions as the country as a whole. In the past three years the percent of sets owned by the upper income class has been cut almost in half, the percent owned by the lower income group has more than doubled.

Shelvador Wins Medal Award Second Time

For the second straight year the Crosley Shelvador Refrigerator has been awarded the Fashion Academy Gold Medal Award. William A. Blees, vice-president of Avco Manufacturing Corp., and general sales manager of the Crosley Div., accepted the award from E. A. Hartman, director of the Academy with the remarks, "We are truly grateful for this recognition of our efforts to add beauty to function."

He continued, "But in a way, we cannot help but feel that this is actually an award to the good taste of the American public which has signified its approval of the 1951 Shelvador by enthusiastic purchases that have established new Shelvador sales records."

Dish Washing Is Easy With New GE

Want to wash your dishes in the living room while you read The Hilltop Record or the latest fashion magazine?

Impossible? No, not with the new General Electric Portable Dishwasher. The dishwasher washes all the dishes of a typical service for six people and the dishes dry without leaving the washer.

The housewife never has to touch dish water with this dishwasher—no red, rough, chapped hands caused by washing dishes the old-fashioned way!

Costly installation charges are wiped out by GE's new model. The washer is connected by the housewife wherever she wishes it and can be moved easily whenever necessary.

Columbus State School Students Proud of Flower Growing Efforts

By "Pat" Martindale

As the American Retarded Children's Association met at the Columbus State School, students were hopeful that the beautiful spring flowers which they had taken great pride in raising would be noticed. The flowers were placed in the guild room where members heard the superintendent, Dr. Roger Gove and the educational director, Roy Ferguson, speak after touring the school.

Like all children, these children take pride in having visitors see their home looking its best.

When Mrs. Roger Gove and Mrs. Roy Ferguson, hostesses at the tea following the meeting, arranged the flowers, the student who delivered them beamed with pride, and rightfully so, for no florist could have produced anything more beautiful.

The state school has much to be proud of these days. Exhibits of industrial arts displayed at the Ohio Industrial Arts Association in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel drew much attention and praise. The exhibits were made by boys from seven to 11 years mental age.

The old concept of mental defectives being incapable of education or vocation has been proven a fallacy at the school. Here, it is believed that whatever is appropriate for a normal child is appropriate for a retarded child of the same mental age. Few allowances have to be made for these students because they are so occupied with pleasant interests they soon become adapted to their type of work. Regular occupation has been of definite value even if the student can do only the simplest of tasks.

The school does not feel that training these students is a burden but an opportunity to bring out unbelievable and hidden talents. They feel that it is not showing kindness to spare a mentally deficient child ordinary discipline nor is it good to allow them to be rude or nasty. Students are taught good manners and not only are they happier for it but have more agreeable personalities and are less difficult to manage.

Students at the school are making outstanding impressions for themselves and the school by their behavior and politeness.

Here a good social guidance is offered, personal attention and understanding is given. They are not the "forgotten children" but their cups are filled to the brim by instructors who care for them at the Columbus State School.

RCA Proven In Million Homes

Three great features distinguish RCA Victor's "Million-Proof" television sets: a powerful television chassis, Eye Witness picture synchronizer and "Golden Throat" tone system.

RCA's new television chassis incorporates many important improvements. These give a degree of performance surpassing any previously achieved; added circuits make RCA perform where others fail.

The Eye Witness picture synchronizer acts as the key to fine reproduction. Its electronic circuit locks pictures in place and holds them steady.

In combination with these two features, the "Golden Throat" tone system, the finest tone system in RCA Victor history, gives RCA a lead position in the hearts of buyers. The system is an exacting balance of amplifier, speaker and cabinet for the best in tone.

These features have been proven, not only in factory research laboratories, but in over one million homes. Million Proof is the strongest proof of the all around superiority of RCA TV. Many more than one million enthusiastic families have chosen RCA.

Crosley Introducing New TV Unit As Aid To UHF Reception

Television sets which now receive signals on the 12 channels, 2 to 13, will be able to cover 70 more channels with the addition of a small ultra-high-frequency converter demonstrated publicly for the first time here today.

The converter, called the "Ultratuner," was unveiled by the Crosley Division of Avco Manufacturing Corporation, which has spent nearly three years perfecting it. At a demonstration for the nation's press and radio editors, the unit was attached to a current model Crosley set for reception of a program being telecast by an experimental ultra-high-frequency (UHF) station in Bridgeport, KC2XAK. The picture on the screen exhibited the same visual quality and clarity as when received on the customary VHF — very high frequency—channels.

The Ultratuner resembles a small table radio and can be carried home under the arm and attached to the family TV set almost "as easily as you would place a bulb in your reading lamp." Nothing needs to be done to the TV set itself.

While no UHF commercial stations are now operating, the Federal Communications Commission will begin hearings next month to provide for an eventual 1,357 stations using 65 to 70 channels in the UHF band. There are now 107 VHF stations in the U. S., with a maximum of only 377 more possible in this 12-channel range.

John W. Craig, Avco vice-president and Crosley general manager, said that public UHF telecasting is still "some time in the future." The company is showing the converter now, he said, to reassure the public that UHF, as it develops can be made to enlarge the service provided by existing TV sets wherever and whenever UHF stations go on the air.

Crosley is ready to launch production of the Ultratuner for use by present and prospective owners of its sets as soon as the need arises, he added. A number of production models already have been thoroughly field tested. The price of the unit will be moderate, Mr. Craig said.

The "continuous tuning" system incorporated in all TV sets built by the company was credited with making the ease of conversion possible. Receivers having this system will require no internal service work to change tuning strips or other parts; neither will it be necessary to sacrifice VHF channels to make room for UHF reception, it was said. Attachment of the converter to two antenna terminals on the back of the set will enable coverage of the complete UHF as well as VHF bands.

Craig declared that expansion into the UHF band will eventually make television available "to all homes in all parts of the country." The FCC in making channel assignments, he said, plans to give priority to full coverage of the U. S., with at least one station in every telecasting area.

"Following this in importance is the ultimate provision of at least two stations in all parts of the country, so that competition may stimulate this service, as it does others in our economic system. I am sure the television industry is in full accord on these objectives.

"Crosley will continue to pioneer and will make further contributions to this goal in the future. Today's demonstration, we believe, is still another example of the industry's determination to safeguard the investment of every set purchaser while at the same time extending television to every part of the country as rapidly as possible."

He dreamed he was eating Shredded Wheat and woke up to find the mattress half gone.

Housewives Can 'Clean-Up' With Bendix

If you want to "clean-up" look over the three great Bendix worksavers: the Bendix Gyramatic, Bendix Economat and the Bendix Automatic Dryer.

The Gyramatic leads the list of three with Dyna-Surge, Tumble-action washing, that is fully automatic. Its exclusive Water-Rationer and Water Warden save hot water and soap. No bolting down is needed for the Gyramatic, there is no vibration.

The Economat is built for economy washing. Its fully automatic agitator washing with undertow action and Floatway-Flushway draining make washdays a breeze. The Rins-Saver saves up to 56 gallons of water every washday and the Wondertub gives gentle, natural squeeze-drying.

The Automatic Dryer is most aptly described as "sunshine in a box". Fair weather is constantly at your fingertips and you can dispense with clothes lines and clothes pins with the dryer! You can have drying weather where you want it, when you want it with the completely automatic drying, exclusive Pow-R-Vent system that sends heat and moisture outdoors.

Electric Ranges Provide Healthful Economic Cooking

More time for family and friends, economy, fast cooking, cool cooking, and healthful cooking. These are a few of the advantages that come with cooking with electricity and General Electric ranges.

Among the famous features of some of these ranges are the automatic oven timer that turns the oven off and on automatically; Hi-speed Calrod heating units that give fast heat over a large cooking surface; a triple oven that combines a Master-oven, a Speed-oven, and Super-broiler all in one unit; push-button controls for regulating cooking speed; spacious storage drawers right in the range; a built-in six-quart pressure-cooker; a thrift cooker for soups, stews, etc., that takes no more current than an ordinary kitchen light; and a no-stain oven vent that traps grease and moisture from oven vapors.

Seven models of General Electric ranges are available in sizes to fit the need of any family. They range from the double-oven to the smaller size for tiny kitchens or a supplement to the regular range.

The difference in GE range models is primarily one of convenience features. These features enhance the advantages of electric cooking—make the cooking job easier than ever before.

The GE electric range brings foods to the cooking temperature fast and maintains just-right cooking heat. Electric cooking is flameless cooking, never heats up the kitchen. And perhaps most important of all, it requires little water, cooks foods right in their own juices, making them more nourishing and healthful.

GE Springs Pastel Radios

General Electric has aimed a two-pronged drive at spring radio buyers with their kitchen and home table models in soft pastels and the hightest, "best yet" performing portable models to hit the market.

Colors for plastic home and kitchen models are rich Congo brown, alabaster ivory or Persian red. The wooden cabinets come in mahogany and blonde. The five-pound AC-DC portables, especially designed for those who want excellent reception combined with the greatest carrying ease, come in burgundy, red or cactus green.

All sets contain such acclaimed features as GE's Dynapower speaker, built-in Beamascope antenna and extended bass response. All are equipped with the new traveling Dial Beam that makes tuning in darkness as simple as tuning in the noon sun and the Alnico speaker magnet that is two and one-half times as powerful as any previous speaker magnets.

GE has the radio fun for '51.

First RCA Television Units Completed Just 11 Years Ago

Eleven years ago, a large console cabinet rolled off the assembly line at RCA Victor's Camden, N. J. factory, attended by an atmosphere of awe and reverence among the participants that marked this as a notable event.

It was a model TRK-12 television receiver, the first RCA Victor set for home use, which cost $600 and was equipped to receive the experimental programs being broadcast in the few cities that were centers of television research.

Today, in the same factory, a fast-flowing stream of thousands of new model sets flows from assembly lines, embodying the advances of a decade of television progress, and coupled with the outstanding TV programs promised for the coming fall and winter, the new sets offer purchasers the greatest dollar value in TV entertainment ever achieved.

The progress of the past ten years in television design and engineering has been paralleled in television programming. Network linkages, increasing commercial sponsorship, wider circulation, and experimentation in programming to determine public tastes will bring the new medium this fall to major entertainment status.

A number of recent market surveys have disclosed that the major portion of television sets now in use have been purchased by families with incomes below $5,000 a year, and that the rate of purchases by the middle- and lower-income families is increasing more rapidly than among those in upper-income brackets.

Television's entertainment dollar value has been increasing steadily through the past decade, since RCA Victor first exhibited the $600, five-channel TRK-12 at the New York World's Fair.

Home television had come out of the laboratory in 1939, after ten years of intensive development based on research dating back to the early 1920's. But it was not until RCA and NBC presented a telecast of President Roosevelt at the opening ceremonies of the World's Fair that an amazed public had an opportunity to see the new medium in reality after so many years of laboratory reports and conjecture.

Subsequently, the pioneering of RCA and NBC in receivers, transmitters, and programming developed many of the forms of the medium as we know it today.

In 1939, television pick-up cameras were made much more sensitive by RCA's development of the "Orthicon" tube. That was also the year that NBC telecast the first major league baseball game—played by the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds — at Ebbets Field—and the first college football game—Fordham vs. Waynesburg.

Easy Spindrier Speeds Washing And Drying

The Easy Spindrier, modern and streamlined, features an exclusive Spiralator action in one of its two tubs. While this special extra-gentle tub is washing clothes in a froth of suds the other tub with efficient Power-Rinse is rinsing the clothes and spinning them dry. These two tubs do a week's wash in an hour's time.

The Easy Spindrier is protected from "over-load" by a thermal operated switch which protects the motor from excessive washing loads and electrical short circuits. The switch can be reset and the washer put into immediate use after the motor has cooled, provided the overload on the motor has been reduced to normal.

The direct-drive transmission of the Easy is scientifically designed for quiet and smooth operation. There are only two simple exterior transmission adjustments.

The finish of the Easy is a new three-layer Easy-namel. Legs, base, top deck and panels are finished in this exclusive process. The finishing layer of Easy-namel is a pure white, chip-proof coat of plastic enamel baked for lasting luster and longer wear.

The 18-gallon-capacity tub is rust-proof—of course! The tub is made of finest quality sheet aluminum, completely anodized inside and out. The bowl-bottom design steps up washing speed and thoroughness, reduces tangling and increases ease of drainage. The quick-emptying drain is screened to catch lint and grime.

The metals in the Easy are united by projection welding, an exclusive Easy process that bonds the joints into one unit for greater strength.

The only thing he ever takes out on a moonlit night is his upper plate.

More Than Two Million GE Refrigerators Used 10 Years

There are more than 2,700,000 General Electric refrigerators giving service today that have been in use 10 years or longer.

General Electric points with pride to this record, and the new GE refrigerators are built to last even longer than the old models.

Among the improvements developed by GE in electric refrigerators are the sealed refrigeration system that provides long life and economical operation;

The all-steel cabinet, eliminating wood which will warp, crack and absorb food odors;

The flatplate condenser which eliminates cooling fan and the cleansing of dust-collecting fins;

The stainless steel across the top freezing chamber which cannot flake, chip or corrode, and is easy to keep clean;

The butter container that keeps butter at just the right spreading softness; a true convenience that saves money.

The mechanism of every new GE refrigerator has a permanent supply of oil sealed in and provides a force-feed lubrication system. Moving parts float in a fine film of oil, eliminating metal-to-metal contact and wear.

The compartment holds up to 49 pounds of frozen food, keeps it safe up to a year. It is sufficiently large for economical gallon-size cartons of ice cream too.

There are three large freezing trays for ice cubes and a two-quart aluminum pan for freezing desserts. Food freezes fast and stays frozen in the zero temperature of this compartment.

The fresh-food compartment provides moist-cold to keep perishables in top condition. There's no need to cover dishes in this compartment, because foods won't dry out. And best of all, it never needs defrosting.

Other features in this refrigerator are the deep vegetable roll-drawers with plenty of room for large fruits and vegetables such as grapefruit and cabbages; a sliding utility basket for eggs, small jars and packages; a large bottle storage for tall bottles that will hold as many as 18 square quart-size milk bottles; and sliding aluminum shelves that glide forward easily, making even foods at the back readily accessible.

It's ABC For Easy Washing

Just load it . . . set the dials . . . and walk away That's all there is to washing with the ABC-O-MATIC washer

Your clothes are washed cleaner with exclusive Centric Agitation, which distributes clothes evenly, gently flexes and washes each garment individually.

After dirt is buffeted off the clothes, the loosened grime and soap scum are carried away by overflowing water, one of the amazing rinsing actions of the washer. No washer washes more easily, more fully than ABC.

She not only expects the worst, but makes the worst of it when it happens.

Crosley Home Freezers Pay Own Way

A Crosley Freezer in your home can actually pay for itself with food savings.

Your budget will get a boost from savings made by buying in season, in quantity. You'll have everything you need for bountiful meals right at your fingertips. Foods are ready to cook or serve at a moment's notice without fuss, muss or bothersome preparation.

Shopping trips are cut down. You can spend hours in pleasant relaxation instead of tedious kitchen chores and traveling back and forth to stores.

Outstanding among Crosley freezer conveniences are the exclusive Shelvatray for cakes and pies that stores baked goods; a locking lid lift whose quick-action snap latch includes a built-in tumbler type lock; a Shelvatray with six Ball freezer jars; removable sliding baskets; a separate "fast-freezing" compartment; and a temperature control and warning light which give you fully adjustable temperatures to 42 degrees below freezing and give full warning of power failure or temperature rise.

Those who marry to escape something usually find something else.

Crosley Enters Kitchen Equipment Field Featuring Complete Line

Crosley Division of Avco Manufacturing Corporation is now in the kitchen equipment field, with a complete line of all steel wall and base cabinets, kitchen sinks and electric waste food disposers.

W. A. Blees, Avco vice-president and Crosley general sales manager, said the Crosley kitchen incorporates many new basic and distinguished features, styled and designed for efficiency.

Among the outstanding feature items of the line are two exclusive wall cabinets, a range pantry and a refrigerator pantry. Each is equipped with Shelvatrays on the inside of the doors, providing twice as much front row space that can be easily reached without straining. The range pantry provides space for cook books and has an open shelf beneath the cabinet for often-used condiments

The corners and edges of all end cabinets, doors and drawers are curved to eliminate the hazards of sharp edges as well as to compose the flowing lines which give the kitchens their streamlined appearance. All drawers are rounded inside, making them as easy as a bowl to clean out. Chrome plated mar-proof pulls give the cabinets a smart appearance and make them easy to open and easy to clean.

Charles L. Stoup, manager of Crosley's kitchen department, in commenting on the new line, pointed out that all units are specifically styled and designed to go together. All base cabinets actually seal together to form a smooth unbroken, leakproof surface.

Extended counter tops and recessed toe space permit the homemaker to work close to the counter and the sink with complete comfort. The sink's ultramodern finger tip control swing-spout faucet, with web-anti-splash aerator, turns on or off with a flick of the finger even when the hands are full. It even features a built-in automatic push-button spray with long hose as standard equipment. The longer hose permits convenient rinsing of vegetables and dishes.

Other features include noiseless drawers that glide on silent nylon bearings and that cannot accidentally pull out; rounded, one-piece top and back-splash on the base cabinets.

A convenient accessory is the Silent-Server on which food and beverages can be wheeled easily and silently in one operation to the dining or living room. Equipped with a removable tray, the Silent-Server is streamlined to match the rest of the Crosley's Kitchens' styling. When not in use, it rolls under one of the work surfaces to blend in perfectly with the other cabinets.

Five new models of Deepfreeze refrigerators were introduced to the public this spring. Sizes vary from the handy, small-space occupying model F-7, a seven-cubic-foot refrigerator for small families, to the extra-roomy deluxe model W-11, the 11 cubic foot refrigerator.

All models of the Deepfreeze line are equipped with a butter box with Spread Control that keeps your butter the way you want it; swing shelf with plastic left-over dishes—shelf swings out to provide easy access to milk and tall bottle storage; dry storage bin for bulk storage; handy-bins in dual vegetable crispers that keep vegetables and fruits moist and crisp; adjustable shelves that lift out; plastic meat tray and a five-year-warranty on all models.

A friend who is very near and dear may in time become as useless as a relative.

Don't try to marry an entire family or it may work out that way.

Better Living For Less With GE Freezers

Are you always prepared for unexpected guests? Can you take full advantage of sale prices on meat, vegetables and commercial foods?

If you can't, the answer lies in a General Electric Home Freezer. With your freezer you can have luxury living with out-of-season fruits, vegetables, game and fish; you can bake for months ahead; make a week's supply of sandwiches for school or work; store left-over stews, soups, sauces for another occasion. You can even afford to store such delicacies as canapes, crab and lobster meats for a "special" day. You can "live" with a home freezer.

The three featured models of home freezers are the four, eight and 11.1-cubic-foot. The four-cubic-foot freezer stores up to 140 pounds of foods or enough for 30 meals. The eight-cubic-foot model will hold 280 pounds of food and is designed for the average family. For large families or farm families, the 11.1-cubic-foot with a 389-pound capacity gives plenty of space.

Convenience is assured the housewife with such freezer aids as automatic floodlight lighting the entire interior when the lid is raised; handy wire baskets that make it easy to get to all foods; a counterbalanced lid that opens and closes easily and a motor that operates even the largest models at only a few cents a day.

You can live better, live easier for less money with a General Electric Home Freezer.

'Round The Hilltop

With Ray Fenner

The Hilltop Business Association dinner-dance held at the Beechwold restaurant last night was quite a success. There was a good turnout of the business men and their wives . . . Well, it's summer-time again and as the saying goes, "a young man's fancy turns to the brighter things of life", such as the old jalopy. Have you ever noticed as you take that Sunday afternoon drive, how many people are out washing and waxing their "autos"? By the way, how does your car look? . . . To the E. C. Nafzger family, 1938 Bixby-av, we extend our deepest sympathy in the recent death of Mr. Nafzger. Mr. Nafzger was the owner of the Hilltop Furniture Store until last November, when he sold the business to his brother. Mr. Nafzger was well known and well liked around the Hilltop community and will be greatly missed by many . . . Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arbaugh, 251 S. Harris-av, will soon be leaving the Hilltop. Arbaugh is being transferred to Pittsburgh. Best of luck in your new location . . . Congratulations to Hilltopper Paul Lugger, 892 S. Eureka-av. Paul is in a tie for the $7000 prize being offered by the Ohio State Journal picture tie-breaking contest being scheduled for Saturday, May 27 . . . C. C. Cook, 81 N. Warren-av, is a patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital, recovering from a shoulder operation. His condition is reported as good . . . Speaking on behalf of the West High journalism students, I would like to thank C. C. Hartley, Reynold Greene and Kenneth McVey and the Record staff for all the help and guidance they have given us in publishing this edition of the paper. It has been a wonderful experience and has been most beneficial to all . . . Congratulations to Hilltoppers Jane and Bud Raab. Mrs. Raab gave birth to a new daughter Saturday morning . . . Did see Harold Cunningham, now a prison guard, round and about his old haunts this week and sporting a new shiny sharpshooting medal. Said "Deadeye" Cunningham, "I'm good at shooting" . . . we all think so, too, Harold . . . by the way, what was that medal for?

Burt Nafzger Former Hilltop Merchant Dies

Burt Nafzger, 59, former Hilltop furniture dealer and brother of Alva C. Nafzger, current owner of the Hilltop Furniture Co., 2366 W. Broad-st, died unexpectedly last week in his cottage at Buckeye Lake. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Last November Nafzger retired from active participation in the local furniture retail outlet and sold to his brother, Alva. He had also owned the Nafzger Furniture Co. at 1415 E. Main-st but in 1941 had sold it to another brother, C. E. "Jeff" Nafzger.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in Obetz Lutheran Church with burial in Obets Cemetery under direction of the Darfus Funeral Home of Groveport.

He was a member of Humboldt Lodge No. 476 R&AM, Scottish Rite, Aladdin Temple of Shrine, Obetz Lutheran Church and Hilltop Business Association.

Fire House To Be Completed By September

By Marty Barker

The estimated cost of the new fire station at Brinker and Sullivant is $130,000. This building, which is of the most modern design and structure available, shows possibilities of being completed by August or September of this year.

A fire at the shed next to the new building causes the loss of tools and equipment, thereby slowing down constructive measures.

To be housed in this station will be housed the "quid", a combination pump and ladder truck from the station at Glenwood and Broad.

Police Are Mum On Alter Case

By Wilma Vawters

Thursday the offices of Franklin County Sheriff and the detective bureau of the Columbus Police Department issued an order that no further information would be released to the press concerning the Ruth Alter murder case.

Hilltop Veteran Groups Plan Memorial Day Rites

By Patty Sands

Hilltop veteran organizations and other civic groups this week were making plans for the annual observance of Memorial Day next Wednesday, May 30.

All three of the local veterans organizations: Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion, Smith-Barrett Post and Westway Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will trek to local cemeteries in homage to veterans of all wars.

Several of the organizations of the Hilltop community have planned Memorial Day rites for those who died for their country.

Camp Chase Post of the American Legion will hold its Memorial Day services at Alton Cemetery, and then at 3 p. m. will hold another service at Sunset cemetery.

Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, will be the principal speaker of this event.

Mrs. Theodosia Moore, 81 years old, gave an American flag to Chet Wagner, past commander of the Camp Chase American Legion Post 98, which she made herself. Mrs. Moore gave this flag in honor of her son-in-law, Samuel J. Balsinger, a veteran of WWI, who is buried in the cemetery. This flag will be presented to the Sunset Cemetery on Memorial Day.

On Memorial Day the Smith-Barrett Post of the American Legion will participate in the annual parade that is to be held in downtown Columbus, and will also participate in the decoration of the graves at Greenlawn Cemetery.

This post is also offering the services of a bugler to any organization desiring one for Memorial Day rites. A call to RA. 4016 is all that is necessary.

Veterans of Foreign War will march in the Memorial Day parade at 8:45 a. m. In the afternoon, at 2 p. m. Memorial Day services by the post will be conducted at Georgesville Cemetery.

George Tyack will deliver the Memorial Day address.

Time Extension On Quarantine Will Expire August 22

By Marty Barker

Dr. O. M. Goodloe, Columbus Board of Health Commissioner, announced recently that there will be an extension of the city-wide dog quarantine. Expiration date Aug. 22.

Two "positively identified" cases of rabies have been found in the city. This time of the year is particularly dangerous because the dogs are outdoors so much of the time. Dr. Goodloe said that both of the above reasons have caused this extension.

Tom Justice, executive director of the humane society announced that between 15,000 and 16,000 dogs have been given anti-rabies shots, leaving about 4000 to go. This deadline for immunization has been extended to Aug. 10. The cost for immunization is $2.50, while violators to the immunization or quarantine order are subject to a maximum fine of $100 or 90 days in jail.

Dr. Joseph F. Drayer, deputy health commissioner, explained that under the quarantine measure dogs must be kept either in a kennel or upon the owner's premises. Dogs must be under the control of responsible people or on a leash when taken out.

The county quarantine will expire on June 1 unless further extended.

German Students Visit West; Reveal Life Behind Iron Curtain

Four students from West Germany arrived at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, May 1. They will lecture to American high school youths on what life behind the Iron Curtain is like.

This trip was made possible by the Freedom Essay Program given in Germany by Freedom's Foundation. The four tourists are Christa Wilmanns, Juergen Moehler, Brigette Spiegelhauer, and Helmut Weber. Tours through high schools in 30 states are arranged for them.

The four teen-agers were selected from 109,000 students who entered an essay contest with the theme "The Free Way of Life." Several hundred of these essays were smuggled across the border from German youths who lived in the Russian-controlled zone of Germany.

Kenneth D. Wells, president of the Foundation, clearly states that these youths were not here for a sight-seeing trip but to convey to the American youth the importance of the free way of life.

Discussions on life in West Germany and behind the Iron Curtain will be discussed by the four German youths who will allow extensive questions from the American youths.

Two of the students were at West High School Thursday, May 17.

Freedom's Foundation is a non-profit, non-political, non-sectarian organization which every year makes awards to individuals and organizations that make outstanding contributions for a better understanding of the free way of life.

Local Mother Directs Traffic To Protect Children

HURRY—Crossing Central-av at its intersection with Cable-av, school children from Chicago Avenue School must run for the safety of the opposite curb, even when Mrs. Frank Gray directs the traffic. Speeding drivers on Central-av have so endangered the lives of the children that the sturdy housewife voluntarily guides them through traffic each day.

How can we protect the lives of our children while they're going to and coming from school?

This problem has vexed parents and PTA's throughout the country; it has stirred up particularly strong sentiment among the parents of students at the Chicago Avenue Elementary School, for almost all of the children living west of the school cross Central-av near the intersection of Cable-av.

(Central-av is, of course, one of the city's "hot spots" in speed and accident rates.)

Residents in the area requested that the city install a traffic light at the crossing for the children. City officials said they they didn't think a light could be installed there.

Parents then requested that an officer be stationed at the intersection during the hours when children used the crossing. City officials replied that an officer would cost too much for such duty.

Then they asked for crosswalks painted on the street . . . no action.

So one mother, Mrs. Frank Gray, 140 N. Guilford-av, took the situation in hand and began to direct traffic herself, assisted by Mrs. Clifford Richmond, 1443 Wendell-av.

The sturdy housewife begins her patrolman's duties at 8:30 in the morning. She remains at the intersection until 9:45, when kindergarten and elementary school children are in the classrooms. She returns to the corner at 11:30, directs traffic until 11:55, dashes home for 10 minutes and eats lunch and comes back to the intersection and remains there until the children are in the school again. She winds up her often death-defying duty with a 3:15 to 4 p. m. stint.

With no light near to slow traffic, drivers on N. Central often exceed forty miles per hour as they roar by Mrs. Gray, holding a group of youngsters on the corner. Whenever a break in traffic appears (which happens very infrequently), Mrs. Gray dashes to the middle of the street, flings out her arms in the familiar "halt" signal, and gives approaching drivers a blast on her silver whistle.

Most drivers pay reluctant attention to her commands, but there are those . . . On Monday afternoon when Mrs. Gray was photographed for this story, a motorist described by her as one of those "wild cowboy drivers," was appromixately 100 yards from the unofficial patrolman when she dashed into the street and began herding the children across. In spite of her signals he drove on and came to a screaming halt only when she leaped directly in front of his car to protect the children. He came to a stop within measurable inches of her.

Later, all she could say was, "If I just had a badge . . . But she remains unnerved by her oftimes hair-raising escapes. She feels, and the statement was certainly not made in any sense of mere bravado, that "the lives of these kids, our future generation, are much more important than mine."

Mrs. Gray, with her aide, Mrs. Richmond directing at the curb, has become an institution in the neighborhood. Elderly neighbors unable to safely cross Central-av without walking far out of their Way to W. Broad-st, wait for her to begin directing duties so that they can cross with the school children.

Realizing that something more than Mrs. Gray's excellent efforts are needed at the intersection, local residents headed by Mrs. Richmond are circulating a petition to be placed before city authorities requesting the installation of a traffic light. The petition is receiving strong support from the area's PTA members and business men. If you wish to help circulate the petitions or add your signature, contact Mrs. Richmond at her home or phone JO. 4147.

Remember, the West Side still holds the record as the worst accident area in the city—help protect the lives of our young citizens.

Franklin Trustees Let Contract For Fire House

At a special meeting of the Franklin Township Trustees Saturday afternoon a contract was let for the construction of a fire house in Briggsdale.

Successful bidder for this work was C. C. Vogel, 715 S. Wayne-av, with a bid of $24,064.47. Work is scheduled to get under way this week with completion of the project is approximately 120 days. The bid was selected from among nine sealed proposals opened by the trustees on May 10.

The fire house will be of concrete block construction with a brick front. It is to be 60 feet deep and 42 feet wide with provision for housing three firefighting and emergency vehicles. It will be located on the south side of Frankrd just east of the traffic light on Harrisburg-pk. It will be built on a one-acre tract of land purchased recently from two separate parcels of land belonging to Clara and Gertrude Werther and Charles Will-

A fire truck for that area to be serviced by Fire Company No. 3 is expected to be delivered next month. It will be the third pumper to be delivered to Franklin Township during the past eight months. Provisions have been made for temporary housing of this unit until such time as the fire house is ready to be occupied.

Scouts To Dedicate Training Center At Camp Lazarus May 27

The biggest scouting activity of the year is expected to take place Sunday afternoon at Camp Lazarus when 3,000 persons gather to dedicate a new $50,000 training center.

The new building will be dedicated to the memory of the late L. R. Bucher, former chief of the Central Ohio Council, Boy Scouts of America. It was his planning and foresight that made this building a reality.

Scout Executive Paul W. Handel and members of his staff are being assisted by scout leaders in each of the 24 districts in entertaining what is expected to be the largest crowd ever to attend a function at the Scout Reservation, located six miles south of Delaware.

The Hon. Carl V. Weygandt, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, will give the dedicatory address and Dr. Hand L. Bradley, vice president of Ohio State University, will give a eulogy to the memory of the late scout executive.

Other highlights of the afternoon include a band concert by the Regional Boy Scout Band, directed by Gene Steinauf; conducted tours around the grounds; demonstrations of camping skills and crafts. Families are invited to bring picnic baskets and eat their evening meal on the grounds.

The new training center is the first major improvement to Camp Lazarus in several years. It will be used primarily for training scout leaders throughout the year, but will be particularly valuable to summer camping program when it will be used for administration and leader conferences.

Local scout committeemen who will attend the ceremonies are Jack Bentenbrenner and Paul Wichterman.

Local Woman Is Honored As Good Neighbor

By Ray Penner

Mrs. Charles S. Moody, 788 S. Richardson-av. was chosen by the Ohio State Journal last week as a "Good Neighbor". Mrs. Moody, a wife and mother of two children, Donald, eight years old, and David, five years old, is secretary of supply work for the Women's Society of Christian Service at Westgate Methodist Church.

An example of some of Mrs. Moody's work is that the WSCS groups furnish food, toys and gifts for children at the South Side Settlement House, a Red Feather Agency co-sponsored by the Community and Methodist Churches.

Mrs. Moody

Mrs. Moody was chairman more than two years of one of the circles of WSCS and now is head of Circle No. 1.

She is den mother for Cub Scouts at John Burroughs School, where her oldest son, Donald, attends classes.

Mrs. Moody's husband is with the Ohio National Bank and has been attending Franklin University law school at nights for the past five years. He expects to receive his degree next month.

Modern Treatment of the Mentally Ill In Ohio Shows Wide Span of Progress

By Pat Martindale

At the time of the Federal Constitution in 1787, practically no facilities existed in our country for the care of mentally ill. They were permitted to roam at large, exist by begging, confined to poor houses with paupers, committed with criminals to prison or more often permitted to remain with relatives who knew little about the care and training of mentally deficient persons. Such persons very often were subject to abuse and mistreatment because of their handicap.

An institution for care and training of the feeble-minded youth was established in Columbus in 1857.

In getting away from the shortcomings of the county system in caring for these patients, the little attention was given to the fact that specialized care and treatment, just the same as a person who has a chronic physical illness, was needed. This led to the oversight of erecting institutions to keep the patients in and the public out. Another error was the false economy of establishing low costs at the expense of the patients.

Genuine occupational therapy is a necessary part of treatment of many adult patients but it must be predicated on the theory that it exists for the benefit of the patient and not for the institution.

It is not good therapy to treat each individual alike, serve the same diet or apply the same kind of discipline.

Ohio has realized that there was a need for a new approach to this problem, and while progress has been slow, the state is rapidly moving forward.

Ohio rewrote its laws on the commitment, care and treatment of mental patients and by legislative enactment mental illness is now regarded as a sickness from which people may recover or be cured to some extent.

Again, in 1949, Ohio made a decided step forward by enacting new laws for a system of mental hygiene clinics, funds for research, provisions for psychiatric and psychological help and guidance to those who need it.

Another step forward is the research and training of professional personnel in the field of mental illness.

The establishment of a central receiving unit at the Columbus State School for the reception of all mentally deficient persons committed to the care of the state is one of the recent forward steps taken by the State Division of Mental Hygiene in providing for care, training and rehabilitation of mentally deficient persons.

The Medical School and Bureau of Special and Adult Education at Ohio State University, and other educational institutions have offered their services and will cooperate in classifying and training the state's mentally deficient wards at the Columbus State School.

The Columbus State School now has the most modern medical equipment to be had, including X-ray and dental equipment, an electroencephalograph machine, instrument for recording of brain reaction, and modern food conveyors.

During the past two years Columbus State School has made unbelievable progress in living conditions, education, health, personality, behavior and skills.

When medical science is developing so rapidly, it seems unwise to say that any organic condition is incurable but inferior intelligence is a very severe handicap and definitely limits achievements. However, even though many can not be completely cured, they can be made both happy and useful members of society.

Perhaps we shall always have the mentally retarded with us, but they need not be a problem, if we understand them. They will arouse our sympathy, but not make us feel they are a disgrace. They will move us to seek intelligent care for them in the home, in the public schools, in our communities and even more adequate provision for good institutional care, such as our own Columbus State School endeavors to give, for a wise society will make room for all, for,

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me." (Matt. 25-40).

Be Careful Memorial Day — Be Alive May 31

Memorial Day is on Wednesday this year. This may reduce the national traffic death loss, but is not expected to have much effect in Ohio.

Last year there were 16 fatal traffic accidents in Ohio during the four day period that many plants, schools and offices were closed. This was in line with the month's total and much better than the national experience.

National figures on all kinds of traffic accidents are up almost 15%. Ohio is one of 13 states that has a decrease in fatalities. But our record in May last year was so good that we will need exceptionally careful driving if we are not to kill over 140 persons — last year's record—on our streets and highways this year.

The records of the Ohio State Safety Council show deaths in May 1950 were: 45 pedestrian, 37 from collisions between motor vehicles, 13 collision of motor vehicle with fixed object, six from non-collision accidents, five collision of auto or truck with railroad train, two were bicycle riders, and the other 32 died in as many different kinds of accidents.

Speed is the killer in highway mishaps. Collisions at moderate speeds produce injury and property damage. But let two cars, each traveling over 50 miles an hour, come together and death is very likely to result. At that speed cars are approaching each other at a rate of 145 feet a second. On the average a driver requires three-quarters of a second just to think what to do. The cars are 100 feet closer than they were when the emergency arose. The chances are that neither can be stopped in time to avoid a collision.

Highway markings have almost disappeared on many of our roads. Many of the yellow "No Passing" lines are gone. Of course, the yellow line didn't stop many people from passing—regardless of the distance they could see. But until those lines are re-painted, the motorist is on his own. He will have to remember that it is not safe to pass on a hill or curve—until he can see that the road is free of approaching cars for enough distance that he can pass without interfering with oncoming traffic.

During 1950, pedestrian deaths in Ohio dropped from 531 to 471. This was the only major improvement in our traffic picture. Safer walking practices saved at least 60 Ohioans' lives last year. You can safeguard your life by crossing highways only at intersections preferrably where there is some kind of traffic control, and by walking along the left side of the road facing traffic—when no sidewalk is available.

Save a life in May—celebrate Memorial Day by being alive on the 31st.

SMALL BUSINESS

By E. WILSON HARRIS

Senator John Sparkman's (D. Ala.) Senate Small Business Committee investigating weird actions of the National Production Authority on rubber, is learning one apparent fact.

That fact is this. If a Washington bureaucrat cannot ignore a small businessman, they then insult him. Instances of both have entered the record of the hearings.

For example, in his testimony, L. B. Calvin, vice president the Bearfoot Sole Company of Wadsworth, Ohio, employing about 400 people making rubber heels and soles, found the allocation set for them threatens their existence. He addressed several inquiries to Leland Spencer, head of the rubber program.

C. W. Harder

Spencer failed to acknowledge any communication. Spencer, a vice president of a subsidiary of one of the Big Four in rubber, assumed control of rubber when Earl Glenn, generally credited with establishing a fair allocation system was summarily fired without explanation.

Then there is the testimony presented by Kent Tomlinson, head of the Kent Equipment Company in Chicago.

Tomlinson has an unique problem. His company, probably the smallest of the 900 firms in the nation in the rubber business, specializes in making rubber fingers for automatic chicken picking machines. These machines have been responsible for the dressed chicken industry jumping from 400 million birds processed in 1940 to almost a billion and a half chickens at the present time.

To make these picking fingers, his company needs only 5 tons of rubber per month, of which 70% must be latex. Spencer's office cut him down to 35% latex. This means, he said, that the fingers only last a fraction of their normal time, requiring the use of 30 tons of rubber a month to supply his customers.

Tomlinson talked to a Mr. Miller in Spencer's office to explain the unusual problem involved. Mr. Miller promptly demanded "Why weren't you there to write the law?" When Tomlinson replied he had never received any notice of a meeting for this purpose, he was told "It was all in the newspapers."

Not getting any place with Mr. Miller, Tomlinson told Miller he was going to appear before the rubber hearings of the Senate Small Business Committee.

Miller replied, "Well, that is like most of you fellows, go over there and talk to a lot of Senators who are trying to run our department and do not do anything about it."

That was what the bureau underling said, Tomlinson reported, in a land where government is supposedly vested primarily in elected representatives.

Sen. Sparkman, however, is not accustomed to being pushed around by bureaucrats, and he is deadly in earnest about his chairmanship of the Senate Small Business Committee.

He is taking a long, hard look at all bureau directives.

Through his efforts, NPA order cutting off aluminum is 75% of the nation's 14,000 small aluminum fabricators who only use 5% of the national supply, has been postponed. Sen. Sparkman intends to investigate. Chances are, an actual potential surplus of aluminum exists.

STRICTLY FRESH

A NEW YORK CITY judge recently told the parents of juvenile delinquents to discipline their youngsters by applying "a stick where it will do the most good." Not what you would call a spanking new theory!

Definition of "relief": Returning from a summer trip, dashing into the house, racing upstairs and discovering that the bedroom window was not left open after all.

Thieves broke into a Brooklyn candy store and stole a case of bubble gum. How cheeky can you get?

London police picked up two men and charged them with stealing lingerie but both suspects refused to talk. Maybe because the items were unmentionables.

The State Department has asked Congress for one million dollars to wine, dine and otherwise entertain foreign government officials. Guess they are all staunch "party" men!

Every man should have a fair-sized cemetery in which to bury the faults of his friends.

HARDENING OF THE Arteries

Normal, healthy arteries are soft, elastic tubes that contract and expand, as the blood passes through on the way to feed organs and nourish the body.

Arteries carry out new, energy-laden blood and veins bring the blood back to the lungs, and other replenishing organs, then back to the heart, to be again pumped over the body.

When we fail to observe healthful habits of eating, drinking, resting, working and recreation over long periods, or there is a diseased condition of the blood, arteries become inelastic, Arterio-Sclerosis or hardening of the arteries results. When their elasticity is gone, exercise, emotion, or over-eating, throws a heavy burden back on the heart. The entire process of living is "slowed up."

Arterio-Sclerosis can be prevented by sane living, and by regular physical examinations to locate trouble in time to do something about it.

Ken Hallam Wins Pole Vault Event In District Meet

By Dave Miller

West's track squad managed 11 points in their district attempts held last Saturday afternoon at Ohio Wesleyan.

The Cowboys' only scoring came on a first in the pole vault, with Kenny Hallam clearing 11'6" for six points. The remainder came on a third place by Ronnie Coup in the 880 yard run, and a fourth spot by the mile relay team.

On Thursday, the locals competed against East on the latter's oval in their earlier postponed contest.

The power-packed Tigers romped easily over the Cowboys, 114-38. The story can easily be told in the fact that East grabbed 12 of 14 firsts, eight seconds, and five thirds.

This left West with only two firsts, one grabbed by "automatic" Kenny Hallam, clearing the pole vault for 11 feet; the other coming by Ronnie Coup in the mile run with a 4:51.2 time.

West took three seconds—Ted Johnson in the 120 highs; Dick Briggs in the 180 lows and Don Whipple in the discus.

Thirds were taken by Ray Harper, Cliff Everett, John Bolg, Ronnie Coup, Joe Sams, Ted Johnson and Dick Briggs.

Dick Briggs Is West High's 1951 Agonis Award Winner

Dick Briggs

By Dave Miller

Dick Briggs, probably the most active boy in the June, 1951, graduating class, recently added another honor to his star-studded belt this week as he was chosen as West's representative to the Agonis Club of 1951.

The distinct honor is annually given to the outstanding scholar-athlete in his respective school. Here in the city, honors were given to: Aquinas, Jack Schmidt; Central, Bill Hairston; East, Dick Linson; Linden, Bob Vannett; North, Clark Lawrence; South, Bob Nolan.

Dick has a long list of things in his wake at West. In addition to being president of student council, he is vice-president of the senior class. He is active in numerous clubs at West, is a member of the stage crew, and recently held one of the leading roles in the senior class play.

His athletic achievements have also been numerous. Probably his biggest moment was in this past season's Aquinas-West football game. With the Terriers threatening deep in West territory (West leading, 12-6), Dick intercepted Russ Reckling's pass three yards deep in the end zone and raced 103 yards for a touchdown—a new Magly Field record.

Dick played defensive line-backer on the football squad and was also outstanding in track. He ran in the 100 yard dash, 180 yard low hurdles and the broad jump. His biggest day this spring was against McKinley, when he took firsts in the 100, 180 lows, and broad jump. Dick won the decision at West over many candidates, mainly Jerry Johnson and Morris Dobbs.

Previous winners at West have been:

1950—Bob Epps
1949—Paul Theisen
1948—Jim Slager
1947—Don Borror
1946—Dick Slager

West's golfers recently topped Rosary, 9-7, at Minerva Golf Course. Bob Shivers was medalist with an 85; Guido DePaul, 87; John Morison, 100; and Arlowe Bryant, 107.

Perry Reall Named New Hilliards Cage And Grid Mentor

A new basketball and assistant football mentor at Hilliards High School was recently named in the person of lanky Perry Reall, football, basketball and baseball star, formerly of Linden McKinley, and presently of Otterbein College.

Perry, whose top sport is probably basketball, will accept his new post of head cage mentor and assistant grid coach at Hilliards next fall, according to announcement made by M. D. Hartstock, superintendent of Hilliards schools.

Reall will succeed Tom Swope who served in those capacities for two years.

The newly appointed Hilliards mentor is 24 years of age, married and lives at 2293 Delbert-rd.

Westerners Drop Sixth Loop Verdict At South

By Dave Miller

Connecting with base blows when they meant runs, South's baseball crew made short work of West's diamond crew last Friday in their City League game staged on the Bulldog layout. The final score was 9-2.

It was South's seventh win in 11 loop games with one remaining—with regional champions, Linden. For West, it was their sixth setback in nine contests in loop play. They were scheduled against East Tuesday and at McKinley tomorrow.

However, the McKinley tilt will no doubt be postponed to a later date due to Linden's participation in the state tournament at OSU tomorrow and Saturday. After this the Cowboys are booked with Central at West next Monday in their season's finale.

West stayed in the thick of things last Friday, but South's ability to hit with the men on bases paid off in big dividends. South sent one across in the initial inning on singles by Dick Wagner, Bob Nolan and Jim James.

They made it 2-0 in the bottom of the third with another singleton on two walks, an error and Nolan's second hit.

The Cowboys knotted things in their half of the fourth. A throwing error, stolen base and four singles by Al Shade, Eddy Gleibe, Norman Reeves and Russ Gardner scored West's lone runs of the game in that inning.

However, the Bulldogs didn't waste any time in getting back into the lead in their part of the fourth, tallying three markers, thanks to singles by Nolan and George Wirtz and pitcher George Treneff's three-bagger to deep left.

West hurler Ted Fladt fanned the South side in the fifth, but walked the first two men in the sixth, which quickly brought trouble.

The Bulldogs tallied four times in this inning—thanks to those two passes, a fielder's choice and two timely base hits.

Fladt hurled all the way for the Cowboys, fanning seven, but walking six and granting 10 base knocks—all coming in crucial periods.

It's all-city time again.

And with it comes the big choice of selecting representatives to the City League all-star team of 1951, with our selection finding Linden McKinley again dominating the field.

In our selections, McKinley tops the field with four individuals; Central and West each two, and North and East one apiece. Aquinas failed to gain a first place berth.

In the infield, Mo Dobbs at first and Russ Friend, both of West, have been continually slugging the apple at a .400 clip all year. Russ is a second baseman, but will be given plenty of competition from Bob Hewitt of South and Dick Burkley of Aquinas.

Joe Ciminello, last season's all-city selection at shortstop, rules as a definite favorite for the spot this year, although "Hop" Cassady of Central and Dick Wagner of South provide plenty of competition. Some city coaches are moving Cassady to third base on their selection.

Catching is a tossup between Jim Blake of Central and Harold Kings of McKinley, with the latter getting the nod, probably because he is with the champion team. There is little difference in the two.

Two Linden aces, winners of all-city recognition last season, Bob Vannett and Louie (Schoonie) Troutman, seem sure of spots this year. George Treneff of South is our other hurling selection.

The outfield is the main problem on the squad this year. However we have picked Dick Dent of Central; Hewitt McIver of North, and Lou Wright of East. Dent seems sure of a berth, but the other spots are wide open between the aforementioned and George Wirts (South), and Bob Mangan (Aquinas), and Dick Potts (Linden).

The second team consists of Dick Linson (East); Bob Hewitt Dick Wagner (South), Dick Burkley (Aquinas), and Ed White (East). Catcher, Jim Blake (Central), and pitchers, Ted Fladt (West), Bob Strawser (South) and Vernon Feen (Central).

Dick Hoover, erstwhile West athlete of '45, recently was the winning pitcher over Columbus' Red Birds (his top ambition) in an American Association contest staged here a few weeks ago. Dick is hurling with the Milwaukee Brewers after a successful year last season at Atlanta. He is currently pitching relief, but hopes to be starting shortly.

Catchers were at a premium last week during West's workouts. In a batting practice session, No. 1 receiver, Ron Farley, was banged in the mouth by a foul fly, knocking three teeth out of place.

The Cowboys, scheduled with St. Charles that day, started Ken Garber, but a pinch-hitter was needed for him in the sixth, and Don Mers, a converted infielder, went behind the plate after a finger injury to another catcher, John Chesher.

One catcher, sophomore John Weaver, was left at home, and is o.k. as we go to press.

West Junior's baseball squad evened their junior high league mark at 2-2 last Wednesday with a close 8-7 verdict over Roosevelt at East. Joe Hutchison drove in the winning two markers in the top of the sixth. Jim Kimball was called in to relieve starter Jim Vincent, and receive the ultimate decision.

The city track meet was scheduled for West Tuesday, with junior high eliminations booked for the following day at Magly Field under the arcs.

West's tracksters were scheduled in the district affair at Ohio Wesleyan Saturday, with the state this coming week-end. The Cowboys' big hope will be Kenny Hallam in the pole vault event.

Hilliards Raceway Opens June 5 With Special Events Scheduled

When Hilliards Raceway gets under way on June 5 for forty-one nights of harness racing, colt racing will be a special attraction. Hilliards is the first stop in the Ohio Colt Racing Association circuit. Seven other tracks also provide opportunity for two-and-three-year-old trotters and pacers to show how well they have learned their lessons.

Twenty-two horses have been entered in the two-year-old trot; 25 in the three-year-old trot; 22 in the two-year-old pace; and 17 in the three-year-old pace. The purse for each race is worth $1600.

Other Ohio tracks in the circuit include Xenia, Wilmington, Springfield, Greenville, Lebanon, Sidney and Kenton.

All early closing events scheduled for Hilliards have been filled, with more than 300 horses entered in the 16 stake events. The 16 pace, scheduled for July 6, drew the largest number—46 horses. The $2000 free-for-all trot on July 13 attracted 14 horses, including Allie Lord, Clever Burke, Coburn Hanover, Dandy Dick, Earl's Pied Piper, Hadley Hanover, He's It, Lucky Key, Neb Echo, Nenoma's Song, Princess Key, Skeeter Volo, Susan Scott, and Walton Stone.

Of special interest will be the free-for-all pace on July 20 with nine horses eligible. Many of last year's winners are among the entries: Dorothy Mac Spencer, Double Vola, James K. Abbe, Progress Chief, Single See, Sultan Hanover, Try Wyn, Waverly Ann and Widower Cyrus.

More than 475 stall reservations have been made and additional requests continue to come in.

Broncos Take One Of Three Loop Games

By Dave Miller

West Junior's baseball squad was the victim of some tough luck in their loop outings last week. The Broncos encountered three of their five scheduled league contests, dropping two of the verdicts by one-run margins, winning their lone one by the same edge.

The Junior Cowboys, coached by O. D. Lehman, hailed as the undefeated champs last year, lost to Everett Tuesday at West, 5-4, in eight innings. The locals tallied a run in the bottom of the sixth (last inning in junior high), apparently winning the game, 4-3.

However, after everybody had practically left the diamond, it was discovered that the official scorebook had the game in a tie, hence the game was continued, with Everett finally winning in two extra frames, 5-4.

Thursday the Broncs edged past Roosevelt, 9-8, at Wolfe Park, thanks to a two-run single by first-sacker Joe Hutchison in the top of the sixth. Jim Kimball took credit for the pitching win, relieving starter Jim Vincent in the fifth.

However, undefeated Crestview made it four straight on Friday by edging past West, 4-3, in their loop game at North.

Outfielder Jerry Marvin of the North Siders tripled home the tying run and stole home for the ultimate winning tally in the bottom of the fifth. Jim Vincent was the losing hurler.

The Broncs now have a 1-3 mark in the Junior High League with one more contest slated with Indianola on the latter's field.

Hilltop 'Y' Loops To Be Organized

By Dave Miller

Jack Downing, the active secretary of the Hilltop YMCA is planning his sports program for this summer that he hopes to carry for boys participating from ages 12-18.

The top league of the Y organization, the Intermediate softball loop, will again swing into action, "if interest of managers, players, and churches can be stirred," said Downing.

The league consists of last year's defending champion, Oakley Baptist, with five other teams, Highland Friends, West Park Methodist, Hillcrest Baptist, Hilltop YMCA, and Burgess EUB.

The league will stage its games on Thursdays at the Westgate diamonds.

Jack is currently working on the organization of the Grade School Baseball League, which he hopes will encourage the interest of the sport highly among the elementary schools.

At the present, Mr. Downing is hoping to merely organize the league and create a better interest. Managers of thems that have not contacted him as yet are asked to do so at the Hilltop YMCA, JO. 4641.

Sales Tax Stamps Determination Provide Pupils With Piano

By Pat Martindale

Two years ago Helen Ross and her first grade pupils decided they needed a record player so they saved sales tax stamps and purchased one. Last March her class wanted a piano of their own so that Miss Ross could accompany their rhythm band and they, too, decided to save sales tax stamps.

It was almost like reaching for the moon but they had nothing to lose so Miss Ross made a chart on which the amount of stamps collected could be tabulated each month and a ledger in which to keep the amount each child brough to school. Since refunds are made on a percentage basis it would take $3000 in tax stamps to make $30 in cash and that's a lot of stamps for little first graders to accumulate but, their enthusiasm was great and they had more confidence than any one else who heard about their project. Fortunately when they were promoted to the 2B Miss Ross was appointed to teach the 2B.

In March 1951 the goal was reached, Miss Ross inserted an ad in the newspaper for a studio piano costing $100 and received immediate response.

The band consists of musical blocks made from two blocks of wood, musical sticks, two drum sticks, musical cans, small tobacco cans filled with corn and sealed, tom-tom drums made from half of oat boxes and painted red, and tambourines made from paper plates and roofing tins for cymbols.

This band plays in orchestra arrangement style and perfect rhythm is kept by these pupils. Of course temptation becomes a little too great every once-in-a-while for a little fellow with the drum sticks, and the child in front just happens to get his head used as a drum but all in all the orchestra is out of this world.

These 2B's are so proud of their piano and their accomplishments that they are continuing to save tax stamps. Miss Ross said, "Billy Karn alone brought $800 worth of stamps in and wants to reach the $1000 mark." When she asked them what they wanted to purchase next everyone yelled, "A television set for the school." Although they are little folk with big ideas they go after what they want and seem to do all right for themselves.

Second Annual All Girls Show Will Be Held Friday, May 25

A new trend has developed at West High during the past three years to raise the collection of sales tax. All-girl shows and all-boys shows are presented to the students turning in a designated sum of sales tax. Friday, May 25, marks the date for the second all-girls show to be held in the West High auditorium.

Included in the show as emcees are four characters that answer by the names of Nancy Miller, Nina Bates, Barbara Wesley, and Diane Renollet.

Throughout the show we see such people as Virginia Vail in her rendition of "Deep Purple" on the piano; Judy Fenimore singing and dancing to the "Lullaby of Broadway", Shirley McCarley and her accordion; and a comedy routine by Ann Brown, Emilie Halverson, Diane Patton, Sharon Robinson, Sue Raiks, Barbara Voorhees, Carol McPherson, Nancy Bradshaw, Judy Banner, and Donna Grant.

A song and dance number will be presented by the sisters, Barbara and Beverly Booth. The Rockettes, the precision dance line that made its debut in the 1951 Band Variety Show, are Maryanne Brooks, Nancy Volz, Gloria Russell, Mary Young, Sue Keller, Linda Yapic, Ann Durham, Marilyn Story, Marilyn Weller, Suzie Johnson, and Susie Jennings. Such numbers as a pantomime, dance routines, and others will be presented by Pat Neff, Delores Moriva, Doreen Hately, Garnetta Geis, and Pat Miesse.

The torch singer, Lois Reeder, and Mary Lou Tilton's operatic voice will provide entertainment of opposite degrees. Pat Culbertson will make her last appearance as a student on West High stage, as she plays the vibraharp.

Carol Rickert, Onda McPherson, Donna Theisen, and Ann Cockfield will provide many laughs for the show. The jazz "Abba Dabba Honeymoon" will be done by Nancy Penn and Martia Lowery. Carol Robinson and Ina Willis will sing "Sweet Georgia Brown".

Shirley Krull, Barbara Barbee, and Audrey Smith are working more comedy into scenes of the show, while Janice Underwood will sing "Give My Regards to Broadway" as the finale.

The profit from the all-girls' show will be used for the public address system that will contact each room throughout the school.

Phil Young, West Grad, In Pro Ball

Phil Young, West's all-round athlete, graduate of last June, was recently moved from his Ohio-Indiana berth with Richmond in that league to Wausau, Wis., of the Wisconsin State League.

Phil, all-city basketball and baseball player at West last season, has hurled in four games in his new league, winning two and losing only one. The league is Class D.

Trading Corner's Doors Are Always Open For Swaps

Come on in . . . the door's open.

Do you have anything to swap, anything to trade? You can swap big articles for the little or vice versa. Trade that upright piano that Junior hasn't touched in years for the vacuum sweeper you need, as trade like one of our customers, Mrs. Harrison, 130 N. Hague, did.

Mrs. Harrison named several articles, including a mangle that she was willing to trade. Then she listed several articles she needed, in the Trading Corner. Now she has her electric roaster and rugs.

We not only have fun in our Trading Corner, but we help folks get things they really need without spending a dime in a purchase. Rates for the Trading Corner's section are 22 cents a line, with a minimum of two lines.

If you want to swap without having to shop, call RA. 1135 and ask the friendly ad taker to place your swapping list in the Trading Corner.

Caps, Gowns To Be Donned June 6 By West Seniors

By Patty Pryor

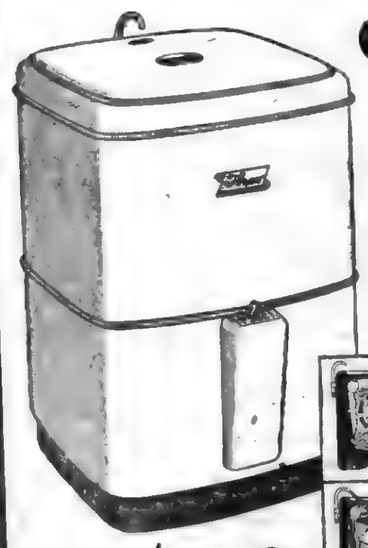
For the past several years, principals of Columbus public high schools have been considering using caps and gowns at graduation. This year, action was taken.

The principals had meetings to discuss the matter. Articles appeared in the downtown newspapers and a few schools had preliminary votes. On the whole, the idea appealed to everyone.

In April, the matter was taken to a definite vote by the classes, with the idea that unless the majority of the schools voted for it, none would wear them. It passed by an overwhelming majority in each school.

Next to be decided upon was the color. Colors to be selected from were white, gray, maroon, black and blue. The West High graduating class chose blue for the boys and white for the girls with buff and brown tassels on the caps.

The caps and gowns are furnished by the C. Ward Company in New London, O., for $2.75.



Glenwood Methodist Church will hold its 21st annual banquet honoring its high school and college graduates on Thursday, May 24, at 6:30 p. m., in the church Fellowship room.

Grandmother Keeps Busy Feels Good; Took Hadacol
When She Heard How HADACOL Was Helping People Suffering From Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin And Iron

Keeping up with two small grandchildren as well as doing your housework can keep one woman mighty busy. And Mrs. B. R. Battle, 807 Archer, Houston, Texas, does just that. There was a time when Mrs. Battle didn't feel up to all this though. She was bothered with stomach disturbances and vague aches and pains. Then she heard the news about how Hadacol was helping relieve conditions caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.
Here's her statement:
"I had been troubled with indigestion and aches and pains. I heard about HADACOL and began taking it. After the fifth bottle I began to feel better. I could eat better and rest better and the pains and aches were less. I have now taken 12 bottles and can truthfully say that HADACOL has helped me a lot."
Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin, but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.
Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come In Liquid Form
There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Battle, it may do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia, when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.
So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.
Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest druggist? If you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron this great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or economy size $2.50.

Boy's State--

The Boys' State is composed of pseudo cities and counties on a small scale. There are approximately four cities to each county, which are named after Department Post Commanders of the American Legion.

Boys are grouped in Federalist or Nationalist parties, and do their own campaigning for political offices. Each city has its individual mayor, sheriff, councilmen, and other public officials.

The boys run on platforms, hold political rallys, exchange voting blocks, and do their campaigning in a regular democratic manner.

The governor and other officials assume their offices on June 18. Each day spent by a boy in office represents about four months of actual public administration.

Pete DeWeese, director of the Boys' State, also doubles as band director by organizing a 75 to 100 piece band which participates in political rallys and entertains with concerts on Sundays.

Camp Chase Post lauded the Hilltop Business Association and Hilltop Kiwanis Club, for their cooperation in making it possible to send these students to Buckeye Boys' State.

Westway Postscripts

Our Service Officer A. A. Bunner will represent the post at the VFW Rehabilitation Conference of Service Officers which is to be held in Columbus May 26 and 27 with headquarters at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

WESTWAY MARCHES AGAIN from E. Broad at Washington-av, at 8:45 a. m. Decoration Day. Honor your "Buddy" who has "passed on" by taking part in this line of march.

Memorial Day services will be conducted by Westway Post at the Georgesville, O., Cemetery at 2 p. m. Comrade George Tyack will deliver the Memorial address.

At our first meeting in June, Comrade Martin McFadden will be presented with a Membership Medal for his outstanding work in obtaining new members for the post.

Former Hilltopper, Pfc. Paul Haines, Entertains Buddies

By Dave Miller

Pfc. Paul Hains, formerly of the Hilltop, and currently training with the Marine Corps at the base in Quantico, Va., is making a hit with his armed service mates as a pianist, according to news received by The Hilltop Record.

"Listening to Paul, one can detect a bit of Stan Kenton, Frankie Carl and Charlie Barnett styles creeping in. This is understandable because Paul played in their orchestra before he came into the Marines," comes the quote of R. G. Waite taken from an article on Paul written in the marine newspaper, The Sentry.

Haines enlisted in the Corps in 1949, but this did not curtail his keyboard activities. He won a first in an amateur contest while in boot camp, and while attending a stenographer's school in San Diego he had occasion to play with the bands of Harry James and Bob Crosby on their marine corps base shows.

The staff NCO Clubs at Camp Lejeune, San Diego, has had Paul in to provide an evening's entertainment.

Paul first started his search on the "88's" at the age of five in his home town, Columbus. A former neighbor of Paul, Mrs. C. F. Burger, formerly of 65 S. Hague-av, brought this to the Record's attention.

The good looking six-footer now works as a legal clerk in the school's troop headquarters office and his nimble fingers are as adept to shorthand as they are to the ivorys. After a day at his office, he says he likes to hunt up a piano and relax with a little semi-classical stuff sprinkled lightly with a dash of "Paul Haines Boogie."

Sr. Banquet Proves Success To Grads

The West High Senior Class banquet was held last night, with approximately one hundred eighty seniors attending.

The seniors enjoyed a delightful meal consisting of baked ham, pineapple, scalloped potatoes, frosted peas, bing cherry salad, rolls and butter, 51 mold ice cream, cake, and coffee or milk.

The program then began with a welcome by the class president, Ralph Van Atta.

Pat Culbertson played two entertaining selections, "Deep Purple" and "Star Dust" on the vibraphone. A group of talented senior girls sang a few numbers.

Jack Galloway, program chairman, then played "Hot Canary" on his violin.

Dick Briggs played "Warsaw Concherto" on the piano.

Gail Hinton read the class of "51" prophecy.

The program was brought to an end by Dude Krull and Bobbie Graves when they played and sang a duet on the uke.

Committees were appointed by Class President Ralph Van Atta. They are as follows: tickets, Pat Kight, chairman; her co-workers were Mary Carson, Donna Mayhew, Peggy Morris, Mary Brofford, Jerry Calahan, Guido De Paul, and Ed Whitehead. Program, Jack Calloway, chairman; his helpers were Leslie Chestnut, Cliff Everett, Warren Northrup, Judy Banning, Juanita Neff, Virginia Bartigis, and Geneva Emrich. Decorations, Lou Leech, chairman; aiding her were, Margy Acker, Pat Culbertson, Virginia Dawson, Coleen Nicholson, Maxine McElroy, Juanita Needham, Nancy Penn, Martha Spangler, and Mary Ann Burke.

By Ray Fenner

The last minute shopping, the pressing of gowns, and the washing of the "jalopy" will be the scene of many high school seniors next June 1.

Yes, that is the date that has been set for the senior prom.

The prom, the last event of the school year, will be held in the school gym from 9 to 12 p. m. and will be semi-formal; all who attend will dance to the music of Ziggy Coyle and his orchestra.

Memorial Season Turns Focus To Gold Star Mothers

By Judy Ward

During the Memorial season minds turn to the memory of those who gave their lives for our freedom. They are remembered once a year, but their mothers remember them constantly and have banded together to help veterans who have lived but were left disabled or in financial distress.

The Columbus Chapter No. 1 of Gold Star Mothers received their charter in 1947. The group started with 60 members and has enlarged to 170. By concerts, rummage sales, bazaars and dinners, this group makes funds for the care of needy families of veterans, their widows and orphans, and those disabled by the war.

The Columbus Civic Orchestra will give a concert at Central High School, May 27, 8:15 p. m. All proceeds will go to the Gold Star Mothers for their charity work.

The Gold Star Mothers visit Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, each month, where they entertain the various wards with parties and musical entertainment. At Christmas time gifts are taken to the veterans at Benjamin Franklin Hospital and the State Hospital to provide a touch of home at that season of the year.

Hilltop women who are actively associated with this group are Mae Bennett, Dessie Gehring, Catherine Gorden, Margaret Hart, Anna Hatton, Edna Johnson, Edith Muckelbauer, Martha Mairn, Margaret Niebler, Ethel Worthen and Henrietta Hunt.

Suntan Time Is Here Again!

By Alice Wilson

Long awaited summer is here once again and now you can get that tan you've been dreaming of all winter. If you can't afford to go to Florida and leisurly soak up sun and acquire a golden tan, you'll be interested in these pointers on how to get a tan right around home.

If you tan very easily, a few minutes out in the backyard each day is a perfect setup. However, if you are one of the people who just stay out all day in the yard and never get tanned, it is a good idea to go to a lake where the wind and sun work together. Whether you lay in the yard or go to a lake, it is wise to graduate the time you spend in the sun. Fifteen minutes gradually increased to an hour is long enough to stay out in the yard at a time. After a hour at the lake extra clothing such as a beach coat or a jacket should be added.

There is danger of staying out too long in the sun. If you are unfortunate enough to get sunburned, it is well to know what to do to get relief since sunburns can be painful. Erythema, a first degree burn, is indicated by red skin. A mild soothing lotion will bring relief.

For a second degree burn which has blisters you should treat it as you would any second degree burn. If there is infection with a second degree burn use vaseline and compression bandages.

It is believed that people exposed to the sun for long periods of time such as in Australia have cancer of the skin. There isn't much danger of this for people just trying to get suntans. The sun does dry out a skin which has a tendency for dryness. It also causes the tissue of the skin to lose its elasticity, which has a tendency to make lines in women's faces.

Doctor William M. Rhoades believes that lotion is just a protection for the skin and doesn't help one tan. It does enable a person to stay out in the sun longer.

A sun tan lotion which is widely used, and one that you can make yourself, is equal parts of Johnson's baby oil and iodine. This lotion only renders the same as other lotions, screening out some of the sun's rays and thus keeping you from burning as easily, according to Wilma McFadden, local beautician.

Most lotions say on the label that it should be applied each time you come out of the water. Even if used properly no sun tan lotion guarantees you won't sunburn if you stay out too long.

Happy tanning!

The monthly meeting of the women's guild of the Community Christian Church will be held with Mrs. Eldon Ardle, 26 Whitethorne-av, Friday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock. There will be an election of officers. All the women of the church are invited.

St. John Church Scene Of Gulden-Wolfe Ceremony

Mrs. Francis B. Wolfe

By Alice Wilson

St. John Lutheran Church at Broad-st and Hague-av was the setting, April 14, for the uniting of Miss Virginia Gulden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gulden, 50 S. Roys-av, and Mr. Francis B. Wolfe, son of Mrs. F. C. Wolfe, 2405 Indianola-av.

Rev. C. T. Langhoh performed the ceremony before an altar decorated by two vases filled with huckleberry greens, white stock and snapdragons. Two traditional seven branch candelabra were used with Oliver Twist bridal candles and clusters of huckleberry foliage and emerald greens. Parents' pews were marked with white satin bowettes, and a fan-bouquet of white stock decorated the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an aqua Charles Kupersmith Original suit with white accessories. She carried a white Bible, satin covered, and topped with a framework of frenched carnations and white outline leaves. A white hybrid orchid with a fuchsia center was tied into the arrangement. White satin streamers tied with lover's knots and miniature blossoms fell from the bouquet.

The only attendant, Miss Joan Gulden, sister of the bride, wore a light gray Swansdown suit with navy accessories. She carried a hand corsage of a single lavender hybrid orchid with matching satin tips.

Mr. Arthur K. Harrison, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. Joseph Taxter and Mr. Carl Seeger.

The bride's mother wore a grey dress with lime accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore over the shoulder corsages of frenched carnations tied with self ribbon.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Acting as hostesses were Mrs. Joseph Taxter, Mrs. A. K. Harrison, Mrs. H. W. Perry and Miss Janet Gulden.

After the ceremony the couple left for a three week honeymoon in Washington and Baltimore. Since their return they are residing in their new home at 763 Binns-blvd.

Miss Gulden is a graduate of West High School and is employed by Earl Sarver, Inc. Mr. Wolfe is a graduate of North High School and is employed by Huffman-Wolfe Co.

Tiny Roses, Rare Tree Peonies Grace Yard of C. W. Walton

By Alice Wilson

If you haven-t seen the lovely flowers in Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Walton's yard, 39 Eldon-av, you have missed a rare sight. Dahlias, bergamot, sweet peas, heavenly blue morning glories, American Beauty roses, mums, rose of sharon, syringa bushes, peonies, and tree peonies are some of the beautiful flowers which add color to the yard.

The tree peonies which Mr. Walton has are very rare. Tree peonies date back to 2,000 years ago. In AD 536 they were the exclusive property of the emperor of China and anyone found in possession of them was put to death. They are still rare in the United States although they were introduced here about 100 years ago. Tree peonies live about 100 years. They bloom about two weeks before the herbaceous sorts so well known to everybody blooms, and the flowering season lasts from two to three weeks. Mr. Walton has had his tree peonies for 30 years.

Sentiment is connected with a tiny 37-year-old rose bush which bears miniature pink roses. Mrs. Walton bought it for 10 cents in a dime store and brought it home when they were first married.

Mr. Walton expects his peonies and syringa bush to be in bloom Memorial Day.

Summer Brings Style Change

By Judy Ward

Crisp pique and sheer organdies can withstand the wilting rays of summer. Frosted and perma-finish organdies will always look fresh. Sheer materials call for full skirts; touches of velvet will be worn all summer.

Linen-opera pumps can be dyed any color to match dresses or skirts. Solid-colored shoes are also available in flats.

Some blouses are sheer and soft; others are of a tailored type in linen or pique. Many of the latter are sleeveless.

Some new-style shorts are in the Daisy Mae style with scalloped edges. Sleeveless blouses and T-shirts are popular. Ensembles include a skirt, bolero jacket, a tailored blouse, shorts and slacks.

Bathing suits are of opposite degrees. One or two piece, very plain. The other types are lace, metallic material, and even pique with large pockets.

The sheath dress with cool simplicity can be changed half a dozen different ways, by adding a sash, a stole, a tunic or even a bolero.

Artificial flowers can be obtained in any color of the rainbow and they add much to the freshness of summer.

The new jewels that adhere to the skin are available in colored or white stones and in different sizes and shapes. These can add much to a formal occasion. Again along the very dressy line are the decorated hose which have designs in sequins and other brilliants on the sides, or several rhinestonss up the back of the seam from the heel.

Tom Greene Named to 'D' Honorary At Denison U

Tom Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Greene, 281 S. Southampton-rd, was recently named to membership in the "D" Association at Denison University in Granville. The "D" Association is an honorary society for varsity team members.

Mr. Norman Christopher, 2344 Cumberland, Houston, Texas, works for the Water Contract Division of the City of Houston, and he says the housetops aren't high enough nor the days long enough for him to praise HADACOL. He says since he has been taking HADACOL he feels mighty good. For Hadacol seemed to be what he needed and Hadacol may bring you the relief you're looking for if your condition is caused by lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Mr. Christopher says: "After I got out of the Army I was underweight, nervous, couldn't sleep and had a terrible time getting food to agree with me. When I would wake up in the morning I would always be sick at my stomach—I could never eat breakfast—imagine having to wait until noon before eating the first meal of the day. Even then just a few mouthfuls of food would fill me up. At night I couldn't sleep—I would just roll and toss all night. I felt miserable. Nothing seemed to help me until I started taking HADACOL. After the third bottle of HADACOL I could tell a difference in my eating and sleeping habits. Now after a year's time of taking HADACOL I have gained almost 20 pounds. I sleep well—and the most wonderful thing—I can enjoy 3 full meals a day. There is no way I can describe the tremendous improvement in my appetite. I have started my wife taking HADACOL and she, too, is feeling wonderful. If there is anybody who doubts my word about what I have said about HADACOL they should have seen me before I started taking HADACOL. I sincerely recommend HADACOL to all my friends and urge them to take HADACOL."

All Ages Can Be Helped

HADACOL is simply remarkable, the way it has helped folks of all ages—yes, thousands of men, women and children who have deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for stomach distress, nervousness if caused by an upset stomach, vague aches and pains, or a general run-down condition, when they are due to such deficiencies.

Remember, HADACOL is not a quick-acting product that only attacks the symptoms of the miseries, but actually relieves the real cause of pains and aches due to such deficiencies. Yes, and continued use of HADACOL helps prevent the miseries from coming back.

Start Taking HADACOL Now

Don't go through life putting up with a stomach that is easily upset, that causes you gas pains, heartburn, sour risings after meals; a stomach that will not digest food properly; yes, if due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, you can overcome the deficiencies which are causing those miseries by taking HADACOL which contains those precious Vitamins.

Start taking HADACOL right away, and if you do not get the results you expect your money will be immediately refunded. HADACOL costs only $1.25 for a trial-size bottle. Large family or economy size, $3.50.

This would be a good time to take that trip to the lovely Shenandoah Valley. It is beautiful any time but in the spring it is at its best. If you have been there you will remember; if not, you should go. If I remember correctly, you take Route 50 to Winchester, Va.; Route 11 goes down through the Valley. In the Valley are farms, colleges, snake farms, apple-candy factories, old houses that are full of history, monuments, small towns, old, old cemeteries, Civil War museums, caverns, drive-in theatres, blue mountains on each side, and blue and grey ghosts. You find yourself wondering about those ghosts; wondering what they would think of the Valley now, and of the world. There is a hotel in Harrisburg that was operating during the Civil War. Hope you can go to the Valley this summer. If you do, you'll go back, every now and then.

Some time ago a well-known radio network personality called Columbus "Rustyville," after my favorite shutin, "Rusty." Later, a friend of hers went to New York City and sent a card addressed to her: "Rusty, Hilltop Station, Rustyville, Ohio," just to see if she would receive it. She did.

My own private Waterloo: remembering to empty pockets before sending out the laundry; (I lose more phone numbers and jotted-down stuff for this column that way!) trying not to read the last paragraph of a who-dunnit to find out who dunnit, right away; trying to be interested in the high bloodpressure of the party on the other end of the telephone line when my own b-p is rapidly rising because dinner isn't ready and Pop is due home any minute, hungry; coping with curtain-stretchers.

Am not sure who wrote this but it is the universal question of those who have "loved and lost":
You, whose love has helped me bear the pain
Of every sorrow that I ever knew,
Where shall I turn, where find the courage now,
To bear alone the pain of losing you?

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

There ain't no justice, folks! We feed the birds, have bird baths for them, do everything except clothe them, and what do they do in return? Just ask CONNIE CAMPBELL. A couple of robins have been chasing her and did all but bite off her nose. Bet she tears down the first bird house she sees, eh, CONNIE.

Three cars in front of FLOYDS last Saturday and only two people to drive them. Well, "Toy-boy", their dog, hasn't got his driver's license yet.

Speaking of licenses MARY GORDON and BOB WHEELER were seen entering the Court House for their marriage license. 'Twon't be long and their June wedding will be here.

We greet MAE SCHAFER and daughter MARY who returned from a few days' vacation up in Detroit. They had loads of fun up there with MAE'S sister.

ALFREDA SCHWINNE is celebrating her seventh wedding anniversary tomorrow. Her husband is, too, by the way—but she's getting more of a kick out of it because they're going to Washington, D.C., for the week-end, and she's never been there. P.S. Hubby doesn't like to travel. Says he had 'nough travelling in the Army.

A new Toastmaster for the GRALMER residence. Their old one was 12 years old and they got plenty of service from it until the heating part of it refused to toast—just neglected to do its duty. So they bought a new one and have toast again every morning.

Driving down Wrexham-av the other day was DIXIE HAMMOND, visiting her old neighborn. She left the Hi Ridgers two winters ago and went to live in California. Glad to see her back for several weeks. Hubby ARTHUR is here visiting "MOTHER MARY HAMMOND" on West Mound-st.

"Eating your fill might be o.k. for some people—but I just can't take it," remarked JERRY LIBENS last week. He gets hungry as a bear but can't eat like one. JERRY went to his family reunion Sunday and oh they had everything under the sun on the table. He partook too much and had a bad case of indigestion. Of course he's not blaming any particular person. In fact his own wife cooked some things herself.

A new power lawn mower now belongs to LOREN HIGHFILL. They're sharp handy gadgets to have around. Wish I had a LAWN so I could use one. Just my luck, wifey would have me trimming it all the time! so I guess I'm just as well off not wishing.

Local Resident Proud Possessor Of Antique Chair

An antique chair, 133 years old, and an election ballot dating back to the election of John Buchanan, are the proud possessions of Cecil C. Pinkerton, 985 Midland-av, Reebow Addition.

Mr. Pinkerton acquired the rocking chair some 44 years ago when it was given to him by his grandfather, James Hanson. The relic was originally hand made for the wedding present of Miss Elizabeth MacKaye, who was Mr. Pinkerton's grandmother. He was presented with the chair at the time of her death, June 17, 1861. The chair was hand made and the rockers were fastened on with wooden pegs. Mr. Pinkerton first saw the chair 70 years ago.

The two election sheets in Mr. Pinkerton's possession have been in existence for 94 years, representing the election of John Buchanan for president of the United States and John Brough for governor of Ohio. Mr. Pinkerton's grandfather also gave these to him although the fact was unknown to him at the time. They were found in the back of an old book years after they had been put there.

Among some other souvenirs which Mr. Pinkerton now looks back on are a "shin plaster" and an ancient cigar which he has had for 48 years. The "shin plaster" is worth 10 cents and was issued at the time of the Civil War, when it was impossible to get money to the soldiers fighting in the South. The cigar is nearly 60 years old.

Another interesting article is a commencement announcement for the "Sixth Annual Commencement of Perry High School on June 1, 1865."

Mr. Pinkerton lives at home with his wife and they have been married for nearly 44 years. They have two girls and four grandchildren. He has been retired from the J. R. Watkins Co. for the past four years and has been a resident of Columbus for the past 10 years. He is formerly from Harding County and can well remember the introduction of the Australian type election ballot which we now use and also the beginning of women suffrage.

Junior At West High Chosen For Girls' State

By Marty Barker

Sue Keller, a junior at West High School, has been named to attend the Girls' State held at Capital University June 17-25.

The Girls' State is sponsored by different American Legion Auxiliaries throughout the state. The purpose of the project is to teach women the way the government is run, and how to take their places in our government.

Scholarship, service, character, leadership, along with an interest in civic affairs are the qualifications used as basis for choosing representatives.

The girls who are chosen to attend, must submit, by June 1, an essay on "Why I Value My Citizenship." The two best essays are then chosen and the girls who wrote them are appointed reporters for their home cities' papers.

The week's schedule is: Monday, primary elections; Tuesday, final election; Wednesday, the various officials start to work; Thursday, bus trip throughout metropolitan Columbus; Friday, outstanding women speakers such as senators, etc.; Saturday, the girls are invited to attend a tea at the Governor's Mansion.

The girls reside at the dormitory on campus, under close supervision. They are allowed off the campus to attend vespers on Sunday evening and on the bus trip Thursday. Seven o'clock is rising time and lights must be out by 11 o'clock.

During the week a band, orchestra and chorus are organized. Later in the week these organizations entertain the other girls.

Youth Sunday Is Scheduled At Westgate EUB

The morning worship service Sunday will give honor to the youth of the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Seniors from high school will be recognized and presented with a Bible by the Sunday School superintendent, Milton Armstrong. Rev. Harold Dutt will use as his theme, "Ye Shall Be My Witnesses."

The young people will march into the sanctuary and sit in a body.

Those who will assist in the worship service are James Conley, Jacquelyn Rhoades, Claire Patterson and Mary and Joseph Aluttis.

The youth director is Henry Ruegg.

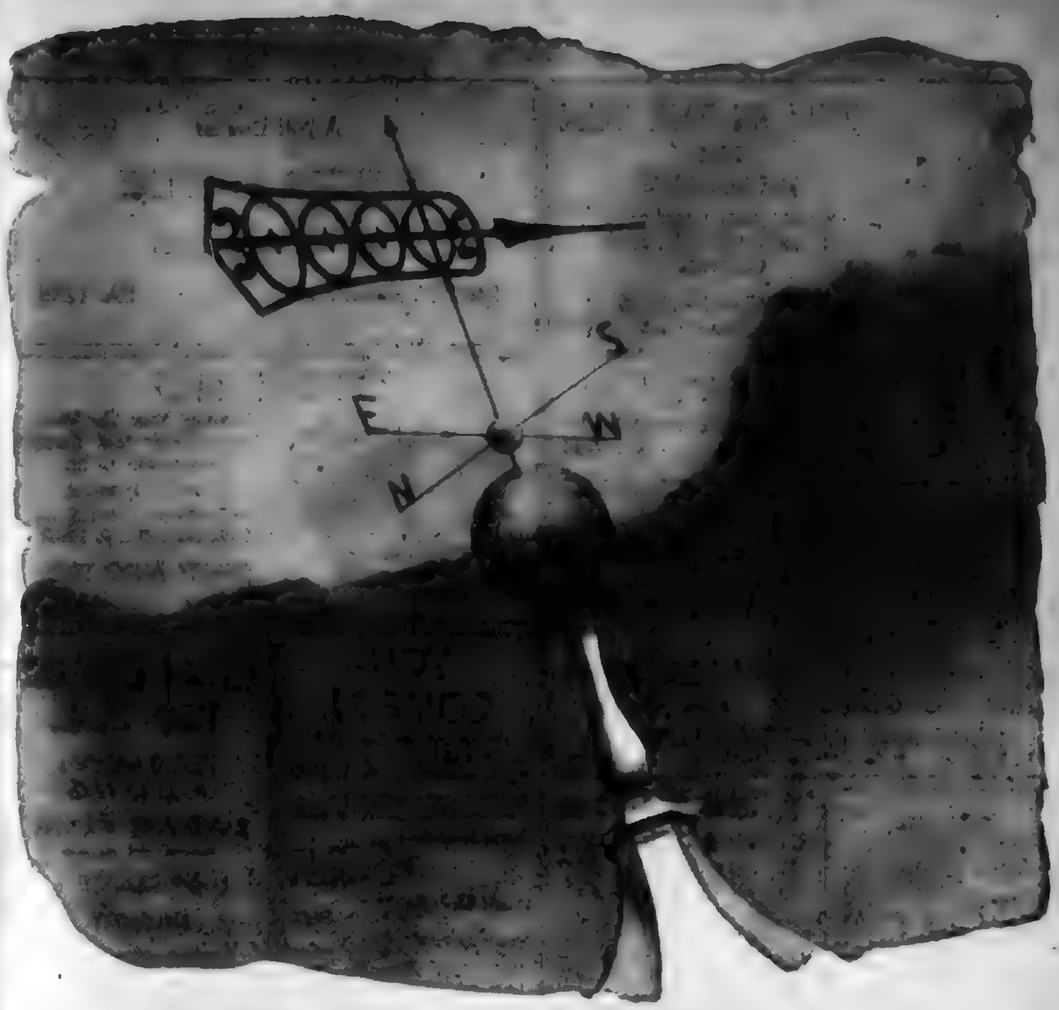
The God to whom little boys say their prayers has a face very like their mother's.

Bible Comment:

Shortest Bible Verse Symbolizes Jesus' Humanity

THERE are many who know that the shortest verse in the Bible is "Jesus wept."

But few realize that this same verse also symbolizes the humanity of Jesus. The verse is from one of the Bible's most dramatic passages attesting to the human compassion of Jesus. It tells how He was overcome with grief by the sight of His sisters mourning the death of Lazarus.



The human aspects of Jesus are again made real in the story of His friendship with Martha and Mary at Bethany and with their brother, Lazarus. We see Jesus in the friendly contacts of that Bethany home, a welcome guest, accepting the kindness and hospitality like any man in need of companionship.

Jesus was also an effective organizer and made decisions with a speed and perspicacity that would leave many a modern day businessman agog. After training his disciples, he sent them forth to be "fishers of men" much as a modern day salesman might direct a sales force.

To those who still refuse to accept the fact of the divinity and humanity of Jesus, the Biblical passage that tells of Mary annointing the feet of Jesus must be suggested.

There are so many other incidents in the Bible that it seems appropriate to quote the words of John, "The word was made flesh."

By this John meant that the significance of the Master's divinity was the fact that Jesus revealed it in His own life.

Base Point

We count on the weather vane to give us the wind's direction. No matter which way the vane turns, the four points of the compass remain permanent. Those four points are anchored fast and true.

Yet they stand fast only because of one other feature of the weather vane that's easy to overlook. That is the base point, the spot where the weather vane is fastened to the structure that supports it. If that point gives way, the whole apparatus will tumble in the first strong wind that blows its way.

We have our own compass points to guide us in the political and social storms which swirl about us so often these days. We call these points "principles"—the principles established in church. To strengthen those principles so that nothing will shake them loose, we look to the church for a base point that will guarantee our solidarity in any crisis. And we find what we seek in the strength of God, the rock of ages for generations past, and generations yet unborn.

That strength is our strength if we will but make our churches the spiritual base point of our lives.

For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm. . . —Isa. 25:4

31 New York Central Railroad Cars Derailed Near West Broad St. Viaduct

Broken Gasoline Tankers Imperil Area In Early Morning Accident

Thirty-one New York Central System railroad cars were smashed into pieces of twisted metal and splinters early Wednesday, when a Springfield to Columbus "merchandise" train was derailed beside the West Side Lumber Co. Yards at the intersection of Derrer and Camp Chase-rds. Early unofficial estimates by New York Central officials placed the damage at approximately $60,000.

According to railroad authorities, the wreck occurred at about 5:00 a. m. when a journal box on the ninth car burned out and the axle dropped to the tracks, derailing the following 22 cars throwing them into nine cars on a siding at the lumber company. Members of the wrecking crew estimated that the train was traveling about 30 miles per hour at the time of the wreck.

The general wreck scene reflected the tremendous impact and weight of the cars. Wooden boxcars lay shattered, with their wheels ripped off and their contents dumped on the right-of-way.

Three big gasoline tank cars lay snuggled together like pieces of firewood. Fumes rising from their opened seams were visible at some distance.

A scant few feet away lay a white-hot axle upon which firemen played a stream of water to hasten cooling and prevent an explosion, while volunteer drivers from nearby oil terminals hurriedly pumped the gasoline from the wrecked tankers into their fuel trucks.

Drivers estimated the four wrecked tank cars' contents at over 40,000 gallons.

The spreading fumes from the gasoline cars made the wreck scene doubly dangerous since the railroad tracks at that point are bordered on one side by the huge storage tanks of the Sunoco and Standard Oil Companies' terminals and on the other by the West Side Lumber Co. One spark in the area would have touched off a holocaust.

Crowds estimated at several thousand persons swarmed around the wreck scene throughout the day, but were restrained by city patrolmen and sheriff's deputies.

City firemen received their first call about the accident at 5:25 a. m. Three Columbus Fire Department pump companies responded, as did the Clintonville Volunteer Fire Department and members of the Franklin Township Volunteers. Sheriff's Deputy Richard Shuster arrived on the scene at about 6 a. m.

They found that the train's crew, Raymond H. McGhee, flagman, 64 N. Roys-av; J. F. Williams, conductor, 507 Larcomb-av; James Howard, engineer, 936 S. High-st, and John Bates, brakeman, 166 E. Fifth-av, were all uninjured.

Some loss was incurred by the West Side Lumber Co., according to Vernon D. Peterson, manager, who said the rampaging cars had damaged a mill building and torn down fences along the tracks. One car ended its bumping trail a few feet from the lumber yard's main building.

The wreck scene, which halted many passing motorists, was slightly less than 100 yards west of the West Broad-st viaduct at the city limits.

Among the wrecked cars were the four gasoline cars, two coal cars, one of soy beans, one car of corn that littered the neighboring field, two gondolas of electrodes, one car of zinc oxide, a car of pulp boards, two of cement, one of doors and sashes, one of milk, two of furniture, a carload of miscellaneous merchandise and three empty cars.

Wrecking cars worked until late Wednesday clearing the tracks of the wreck's wake. The New York Central brought a wrecker from Bellefontaine to assist the Columbus crew. All trains on the line were rerouted to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks until the wreckage was cleared and the roadbed repaired.

Splintered boxcars invaded the grounds of the West Side Lumber Co. Wednesday morning, when an overturned journal ripped the wheels off a car. Pictured above is a jumbled pile of cars beside the end of the lumber company's mill building.

Firemen are shown as they worked with the volunteer aid of gasoline truck drivers to pump the fuel from four wrecked tank cars shown in the background. The cars, leaking badly, presented a dangerous problem, since they were within a few feet of the lumber yard and 50 yards of huge storage tanks at the Sunoco and Standard Oil Terminals.

Construction of Huge New Plant To Begin At Once Say Officials

A half-mile long manufacturing plant facing Phillipi-rd to be used for the production of jet engine components and, after defense needs are met, for electric appliances will be built on the Hilltop near the Columbus city line, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, announced today.

Purchase of the 350-acre Franklin County site on Route 40, three quarters of a mile west of the city line, at Phillipi-rd, was completed this week. Survey crews have begun work and construction will start immediately.

The new building—the largest single plant yet to be built by Westinghouse—will have 1,900,000 square feet of floor space, 38 acres under roof and 2½ times the size of the GM plant.

"The immediate need for the plant is to increase Westinghouse production of jet engines, which power some of the nation's fastest military planes. The Columbus plant will serve as a 'feeder' plant for other Westinghouse jet plants; that it, will manufacture jet engine component parts for Westinghouse-developed jets. After the demand for military production ceases, the Columbus plant will be wholly converted to the manufacture of refrigerators," Mr. Ashbaugh said.

The Columbus plant will be operated by the Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division, headed by Mr. Ashbaugh. Appliance Division plants are in Mansfield, O., headquarters of the division, and at Springfield, Mass.

Following defense production, the new plant is expected to increase the division's output of electric appliances by 50 per cent, Mr. Ashbaugh said.

"The appliance production in Columbus will in no way affect employment at the division's other plants," Mr. Ashbaugh said.

The new plant will be built and operated by Westinghouse. Construction of the one-story type factory building will take approximately 18 months, including installation of equipment, Mr. Ashbaugh stated.

The building was designed and will be built by Ebasco Services, Inc., of New York. It will have four manufacturing aisles, each 200 feet wide by 1450 feet in length. These aisles lead in a straight-line production pattern to the storage and shipping area. In addition to the factory there will be a two-story office building.

"Components produced at the Columbus plant will be assembled into jet engines and tested at the

Many Honors Are Accorded At West's Award Assembly

Recognition for scholastic and athletic achievements accomplished during the school year which is now rapidly drawing to a close was in store for over 100 students of West High School on Tuesday. The influence of the Community Christian Church is being felt in the east end of Columbus as well as in the west end. The pastor, Rev. James F. Lorenz, has organized the Second Community Christian Church in the new Amvet Housing Project.

The project will soon have over 700 families in it. The church has acquired a new home at the corner of Sunbury-rd and Argyle-st. Funeral Rites Held Monday For J. M. Emrich Services were held Monday for Jacob Marion Emrich, 75, former chief engineer of the city water pumping station, who died Friday, at his home, 501 S. Warren-av.

Mr. Emrich retired as head of the pumping station Apr. 1, after working for the city for 43 years. He went to work for the water division in 1908. One of his proudest recollections was that the city was never without water because of a breakdown at the station in the 43 years of his employment.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; daughter, Mrs. Geneva Fitzgerald, Chicago, Ill.; three sons, Marion S., 2236 Abington-rd; Burleigh L., 2608 W. Broad-st, and Frank H., 114 S. Westgate-av; and two granddaughters. His wife and he celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary in April.

Entombment for the veteran Hilltopper was made in the Greenlawn Abbey.

Hoelcher Named To New Fire Dept. Position

Battalion Chief Walter Hoelcher of 150 S. Westgate-av, will succeed Harry W. Caldwell of 776 Seymour-av, head of the Fire Prevention Bureau, when Caldwell retires June 16.

In making the announcement, Fire Chief Walter G. Strickfaden said there will be two other changes in the Columbus Fire Department as a result.

Capt. William Wentzel of 2655½ W. Broad-st, will succeed Chief Hoelcher as training officer, and Capt. J. C. O'Conner of 52 S. Ogden-av, will succeed Capt Wentzel as chief of the fire emergency squads. Capt. O'Conner has been in charge of a pump company.

Over 400 Petitioners Request Light Change

Housewives, parents and PTA members have rallied in support of the petition requesting the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Central and Cable-avs and, according to Mrs. Clifford Richmond, 1443 N. Wendell-av, unofficial head of the petitioning group, the light installation is under consideration by the West Side Board of Trade.

Residents in the area north of Broad-st and in the vicinity of Central-av have obtained more than 400 signatures in the past week on the petitions.

Mothers, stirred by their children's dangerous crossing on Central have developed a door-to-door and telephone campaign that seems to have assured the signatures of almost all neighbors in the area.

The problem of the crossing has vexed parents and PTA members for some time and stirred up strong sentiment among those whose children attend the Chicago Elementary School and must make the crossing four times each day. They have pointed to Central-av's record as one of the city's "hot spots" in speed and accident rates.

Unorganized groups and individuals have in the past requested the installation of a light at the intersection. When they didn't receive satisfaction, they asked for an officer to be stationed at the crossing during hours when the children use it. Traffic officials turned down the request.

So finally, one of the mothers, Mrs. Frank Gray, 140 N. Gulford-av, began to direct traffic herself.

Her efforts were applauded. The children all came to her, neighbors used the crossing while she was on duty and everyone came to depend on her.

However, drivers haven't given her the same amount of respect. She faces at least one driver each day who refuses to stop for her and the children she guides and guards while crossing the street.

Rather than continue to daily risk the life of the unofficial and unpaid traffic patrolwoman, and demand her time to protect their children, interested people banded together to obtain petitions to present to city authorities.

Mrs. Richmond, head of the group, explains the reasons for the group's demands as a combination of community pride, desire for the protection of children and aged, and a hope to end a dangerous traffic problem.

"We've got to protect our children and elderly people who have so much trouble going through the heavy traffic on Central," she declared. "A large percentage of the

HAYES URGES WEST ATHLETES TO NEVER GIVE UP FOOTBALL

By Dave Miller

"Whatever college you pick—small or large—don't forget football. That sport will aid you throughout life with its constant manner in teaching you to meet the changing situations in your lifetime."

That quote came from Ohio State's new football coach, Woodrow "Woody" Hayes as he addressed some 137 West High athletes last Monday evening in the second annual all-sports banquet of West High School. The affair was staged at the Hotel Southern.

The fete was sponsored by the six Hilltop business organizations, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Hilltop Lions Club, Camp Chase Post American Legion, West High Boosters, West High Athletic Association, and the Hilltop Business Association.

Approximately 300 relatives, friends and guests added to the team members present which totaled about 500 people jammed into the hotel's second floor banquet room.

The speakers' table was the largest in the room, serving the seven coaches and their wives to the left of toastmaster, Rev. Joseph Shellhaas and the banquet sponsors and wives Also seated were Irvin F. Young, West principal, and wife; and Supt. of Schools Novice Fawcett.

Toastmaster Rev. Shellhaas introduced the seven West High coaches who in turn presented

Alibi Defense Given In Alter Case Hearings

An alibi defense for George Phillips of Hague-av, was assured Tuesday by Defense Attorney Paul M Herbert, when he promised to furnish the court with "a dozen witnesses" who would prove that Phillips was at work in a S. Fourth-st insurance office at the time of the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Alter in her home at 360 N. Sylvan-av, last Apr. 25.

Herbert offered the alibi defense unexpectedly and Judge Charles R Petree continued the County Criminal Court hearings to comply with the state law requiring a three-day notification of alibi.

"There's No Place Like The Hilltop" Says Contractor Kenneth Miller

Kenneth Miller

Kenneth R. Miller, 262 Haldy-av, is thoroughly sold on the idea of living on the Hilltop. "There's no place like it," he declares.

Miller has lived on the Hilltop off and on since he graduated from West High School in 1930. Finally, the advantages of the area proved too strong and he settled at the Haldy-av address with his wife and their six-months-old son and four-year-old daughter.

Commenting on the benefits of residing "On The Hill," Miller says, "We've got everything out here that anyone could need — movies, restaurants, stores and shops of all kinds. There's no need for going downtown. It's darn convenient living here and perhaps even better, this is the cleanest part of town."

A general contractor specializing in light construction work, Miller is currently building the Topper Drive-In on the corner of W. Broad-st and Green-av.

Outdoors sports such as hunting, fishing and boating are the forte of Miller who will be found most any sunny summer week-end enjoying the advantages afforded by Buckeye Lake.

Miller was a member of the armed forces during World War II

Escapees Steal Car, Demolish It In Wild Ride

Two escapees from the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster led sheriff's deputies in a 90-mile-an-hour chase through the West Side early Tuesday in a stolen car. The wild race ended when the pair crashed into a ditch and then a tree in front of 3636 Alkire-rd after the deputies had fired five shots around the car.

City police reported that the demolished car was stolen from Buttles-av and High-st shortly after midnight. It belonged to Ernest Denney, 1896 McKinley-av.

Acting on the report, about two hours later, Sheriff's Deputies Mac McClure and William Harmon spotted the car near Georgesville and Hall-rds, going in the opposite direction.

They turned the patrol car and followed the stolen vehicle over five miles of curving highway at speeds up to 90 miles per hour.

Kenneth Nutt, 18, 932 Ingleside-av, lost control of the stolen car at a speed of 90, according to the deputies' statements. Neither he nor the other escapee, Cephus Cox, 17, Cincinnati, were injured in the crash. The deputies said that the pair escaped from the industrial school several days ago.

Sadly missed by Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell and family.

Golden Age Club Observes Second Anniversary at Sunshine

By Pat Martindale

The adage, "Old age is a troublesome guest," can be obliterated as practical wisdom in this modern age of ours.

Grandma and Grandpa are no longed to be left sitting at home in their rocking chair, rocking away their remaining years. Neither do they care to "tag along" with their children and grandchildren.

The Golden Age Club sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department has provided a new interest in the lives of the older folks.

Proof of the above statement was plainly shown at the Second Anniversary Banquet of the Golden Age Club held at the Sunshine Center last week. Nearly two hundred guests and members, the men with boutonniers and the ladies with corsages, were seated at beautifully decorated tables.

After being served with a delicious meal consisting of chicken and noodles, green beans, candied sweet potatoes, salad and dessert, N. J. Barack, director of the Columbus Recreation Department and master of ceremonies for the affair, gave a short talk then introduced special guests including the principal speaker, Rabbi Zellzar, president of the recreation commission.

In his talk to the Golden Age members, Rabbi Zellzar said that it was his fervent hope that he could find the joy and contentment that these people had found, through such a club, in his retiring years.

The oldest man, 92-year-old Pat Patterson was presented with a gift and an orchid with the traditional kiss was presented to 83-year-old Sara Rafferty by Mr. Barack. Mrs. Rafferty was one of the first thirteen members to join the club.

Frank Hogan, president of the club, presented Patricia Mathews with a going away gift and a gift from the members for her outstanding services as an organizer. Miss Mathews will leave the recreation department to return to college this fall.

Other presentations were made to Mrs. Hathaway and Mrs. Griffith, season's euchre champions, Mrs. Russell, "Keno" champion and Mrs. Bradinigan, "Chinese checker" champion.

The evening was completed with outstanding tumbling and tap dancing exhibitions by the Schiller Recreation Center.

West High's Marching Song A Product of "Flying Teacher"

By Myron T. Selfert

The spirited fight song, "Hail the Cowboys, Rah, Rah, for West High," which has thrilled thousands of West High students and alumni, continues to reverberate in the halls of the Hilltop school and wherever West alumni meet. Since its release by James McCollum, then 16, and graduate of the West High class of 1932, the song and composer have gone far.

McCollum is now known as "The Flying Music Teacher of 1951," in the Lakewood High School faculty.

He has fifteen published songs to his credit and many others still unpublished — some bearing his own name, others a family name which he uses.

He flies on a week-end to New York to sell a publisher a song, to southern Ohio to be guest composer at a concert where his composition is being sung, to southeastern Ohio to confer with his former teacher of composition, and now he is considering making a regular weekly Chicago trip to attend a Saturday class.

"Hail the Cowboys" was written in answer to an appeal for a new West High "pep" march in December 1934, and was submitted by James McCullom, to Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, then president of the parent sponsors of the West High band.

McCollum, an alumnus of the class of '32 played in the school orchestra.

The music is the work of three persons. The original idea was furnished by Florence Hall, class of '30 who turned it over to H. E. Wise, then athletic mentor at the school. Mr. Wise added twelve measures of his own and gave the result to McCullom who wrote a piano accompaniment.

The words are the contribution of Russell Dean, an orchestra leader at Ohio University, where McCullom was a student. McCullom played the piano in Dean's orchestra.

The song, when it was first sung at a gathering of representatives of the West High Alumni Association, received enthusiastic approval from all present. The association then appropriated $25 to buy an arrangement of the song for the West High School band.

Miss Hall originator of the song is remembered for her singing of "Pickles", senior high operetta and again in the '30 class play, "Under the Red Robe." She was gifted with a clear soprano voice and sung in many entertainments in addition to the two mentioned.

Seniors Select June 1, For Prom

One event which will linger in the memories of the seniors for years to come will be brought to life the night of June 1, when the 12A Class has its prom.

Ralph Van Atta, Senior Class president, said the event will take place in the West High gym from 9 to 12 o'clock. Between 200 and 250 people are expected to attend the festivities.

Music for the June 1, event will be provided by Ziggy Coyle and his orchestra.

Each senior is permitted to bring one outside guest.

Church of God Bible School Opens June 11

Vacation Bible School at the Church of God will begin on June 11 and continue 10 days, according to Rev. Mary Louis Wiles, director of the school. The interdenominational classes are open to youngsters of all ages. They will be held at the church at 738 W. Rich-st from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

The Cyclist's Lament

America's 18,000,000 bicycle riders are going in circles—and they don't like it.

This centripetal cycling has been forced upon them by bike paths throughout the country that offer restricted tours of the local park and nothing more. Despite the spectacular resurgence of two-wheelers in the last decade and authoritative predictions of 25,000,000 riders by 1960, few cities have taken action to make paths anything but a convenient treadmill.

What the country's bicyclists and safety experts want is a lane on main roads and city streets, separated from automobile traffic, where the bike can roll freely. They point to the very few towns whose paths lead out to picnic grounds, slow tempoed countryside and other points of Sunday-afternoon interest. These cycling highways cost no more than the unimaginative park variety; pay off handsomely in safety for both adults and teen-agers.

The acute lack of action to open the bicycle's horizons stems from a mistaken belief of legislators that the two-wheeler is just a toy. Actually, it escaped that limited role during war when factory workers found the bike a convenient means of transportation and pleasure, and women discovered its weight-reducing prorpensities. They, together with the kids, have started a boom that threatens to break bounds unless legislators wake up and vote bicycle highways into existence.

Today's unequal competition between millions of bicycles and millions of cars, could be ended by the construction of the special lanes. The Bicycle Institute of America, voice of the industry and the fans, report hundreds of letters urging action on such highways, and is demanding action be taken to provide a 5-ft. bicycle on through high-speed highways.

In Passing

By ESTHER WEAKLEY

IN MEMORIAM

We garnered autumn's loveliness and laid
Quiet pools of fallen, incorporeal gold
In cerebral fence corners against cold—
Voluminous richness stored that dosf not fade.
Our minds were cells, and we industrious,
When harvest fields were sweet and beauty stood
Along the streams and in the amber wood;
We knew the glory would not long be thus.
Likewise, from war's uncertainties
we turn
For spiritual balm to a remembered vow,
How else endure departure's sorrow now,
And discipline in ways of truth so stern?
The heart can live on root and bark if we Have hope, or lacking hope, have memory.

Down in Korea (Kentucky) there is a correspondent whose news letters are "fearfully and wonderfully made." So different are the letters that Doubleday and Company of New York, have almost decided to publish a volume of them. Her spelling and the way she juggles words are delightfully refreshing — a few examples: "Blank's 'suninglaw' spent a 'weakend' with him; "Lightning struck Little Fitch Patrick's house and run in and tore fixture off wall and busted gun Barrel;" "Mrs. Blank fell and throwed her ankle out of place. Just mearly can bear a little weight on it;" "Blank's hand is improving where he liked to had blood poison." I'm going to subsubscribe to Rattie Mann's peper so I won't miss any of her stuff. It's wonderful."

Here is a poem by O. O. Tope who is with Motor Vehicles and lives in New Rome:

DUST

Dust blown by idle winds
Settles on a humble object
Or on a priceless work of art.
Dust of circumstance
Settles before the eyes
And there is much we do not see.
It is when we do
The regrettable things
That haunt the memory.

Life is a hospital in which every patient is possessed by the desire to change his bed.

SMALL BUSINESS

By A. WILSON HARDER

Watch for fireworks over Sen. Harry Byrd (D. Va.) resolution to abolish Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Powerful financial interests are behind this move, capitalizing on a few admittedly rotten actions by a few people not big enough for the trust reposed in them.

But it is believed that Sen. Byrd, one of Virginia's wealthiest apple growers doesn't chop down his orchard on finding a worm in it. He just gets rid of the worm.

C. W. Harder

The other day in Congress, veteran Illinois Representative Adolph Sabath, also a Democrat, threw some very revealing facts into focus.

Rep. Sabath pointed out that RFC has helped thousands of small business firms to get on their feet. The figures show that [illegible] loans under $500,000 have been made. The average of these loans has been $42,000.

Despite all the hue and cry, RFC has only written off slightly more than 1½% as bad loans. But here the facts get even more interesting.

The write offs on the small loans, these loans to small business averaging only $42,000 each, is less than 1%. But loans to the big borrowers, averaging $2,-200,000 each, have been written off to the tune of slightly more than 1½%.

And here the facts presented by Rep. Sabath get even more revealing.

Over half of the $134,000,000 written off by the RFC as bad loans was on loans advanced to railroads, financial institutions, and political subdivisions such as counties, etc.

In fact, the 2½ billion dollars loaned small business by the RFC is less than one-sixth the amount of money that has been given away to help European business through the Marshall Plan. The entire losses on all RFC loans of 63 million dollars is only about ⅛ of the money given away by the Marshall Plan in free gifts of tobacco alone. But that is a minor point.

No one presumes to argue that unlike the Marshall Plan, which is a dead loss to the taxpayers of the nation, the RFC has made money. In fact, RFC has earned the U. S. Government almost 2 billion dollars.

Twenty years ago, when set up, RFC was given a $500,000,000 loan from the United States Treasury.

In these 20 years the RFC has turned over to the U. S. Treasury the following amounts. Payment on principal advanced . . . $400 million. Interest on loan $305 million, plus [illegible] of $327 million plus $600 million worth of RFC operating profits.

Bear these facts in mind when the big debate comes up on the RFC.

Bear in mind that RFC has made it possible for 60,000 small businesses to have a chance. Also bear in mind that RFC has paid back almost 2 billion dollars on a 3 million dollar loan from government. Then before you get too impressed with this 2 billion dollar RFC earnings, also bear in mind that the Marshall Plan gives away more than three times this amount in a single year. Which agency, you should ask yourself does America the most good?

BACON ROLLS

Bacon rolls set the stage for a snappy lunch. Combine bread crumbs with diced celery, green pepper and onion, season, moisten with an egg and a little milk. Place a tablespoon of the dressing on a slice of bacon. Roll the bacon and fasten with wooden picks. Oven cook the rolls until the bacon is crisp and the stuffing heated through.

Drawing on my fine command of language, I said nothing.

POT-ROAST CHANGES

Follow the standard method of cooking a pot-roast but instead of using water as the liquid, let it be tomato juice. Season with a bay leaf. For another change, pour a little horseradish liquid over the meat after it is browned. With this addition, the gravy as well as the meat will have an interesting flavor.

BROILED TOMATO SALADS

Cut off the tops of large, firm tomatoes and scoop out the pulp to make cups. For the filling, combine diced cooked meat with diced hard-cooked eggs, cooked peas and mayonnaise. Stuff the tomato cups and dot with butter, then place them in the oven to thoroughly heat. Serve on toast rounds.

Cowboy Hurler Jim Smith Sets League Pace With A No-Hitter

By Dave Miller

Jim Smith of West's baseballers hurled the initial no-hit, no-run ball game in City League play last Friday as he blanked East's Tigers, 6-0, on the Cowboy diamond.

It was Jim's first start in City League play this year, having held a won-two, lost-one rating previous to hurling his first loop fray last Friday. Before Friday he had hurled 22 innings, allowed 14 hits; walked 15, fanned 28, and allowed only three runs.

Friday, he hurled seven frames, walked six and fanned 11 to run his total for the year to 35 in only 29 innings. Jim's masterpiece was the initial no-hitter in City League play since last May 23 when George Treneff of South blanked Central.

However, Smith was invincible last Friday. He faced only 27 men, six under the minimum, setting 11 down on strikes, two by Tom Shepard and Ed White. The latter, incidentally, was probably the only batter from East to even come close to a safety.

In the sixth, White sent a looping fly to right center field, which looked as though it was going to fall for a Texas leaguer. However, out of nowhere came center fielder Ed Gleibs, who snared the ball on a dead run waist high.

In the meanwhile, the Cowboy hitters were backing "Rabbit" with a nine-hit, six-run attack off East's all-around athlete, Dick Linson who, confidentially, should stick to first base.

Linson's error and Mo Dobbs' two-bagger to left-center went for naught in the first as Gleibs fanned for the third out. However, in the second, with two gone, Russ Gardner singled to left, Kenny Garber walked, and Herb Brown's double to center sent both home to give West a 3-0 cushion.

They added three big ones in the third—thanks to the potent slugging of Smith. An error and Dobbs' single set the stage for Smith's homer—which was an ordinary single to right, but took a bad hop over right fielder Bob Lewis' shoulder.

Ted Fladt's single to left, an infield out, and two passed balls sent home West's final run of the day.

The line score:

East	000 000 0	0	0	0
West	023 000 x	6	9	1

Linson and Salmons; Smith and Garber.

Red Bird Clinic June 2

All boys, aged eight to 18, are cordially invited to attend the baseball clinic to be held at Redbird Stadium, Saturday, June 2, from 9:30 to 11:30.

Members of the Redbird team will work out with the Knothole League, consisting of boys from 8-18 and the little Knothole League composed of boys from 8-12.

A catcher, pitcher, first and second baseman, and Harry Walker, manager of the Redbirds will be present to instruct the boys in batting, position plays, base running and sliding.

At 11:20, the boys will be taken to Sullivant Gardens, a recreation center near the stadium, for box lunches. Here the future big league players will be entertained by movies of the World Series, running bases and the double play, one of the most important plays in baseball.

Next the boys are invited, free of charge, to view the Redbird game that afternoon.

All the credit for this benevolent act to engage youths in wholesome fun goes to the owner of the Redbird team, Al Banister, who arranged the entire program.

West High's 'High and Low'

HOW'S THE WEATHER — Joe Gosset, left, stretches his five foot frame beside the six foot six inch towering chassis of George Crissinger, right. Both boys are graduating seniors at West High.

The "long and the short of it" will march down the aisle together dressed in solemn gowns and mortar boards in commencement exercises at West High School on June 6. There will be an unusual 18 inch variance in the altitude of their tassels, however.

The shortest buff and brown tassel on the four-cornered symbols of educational success will be on the head of five-foot Joe Gossett. Joe, 17 years of age, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gossett, 22 N. Ogden-av. He is the shortest of the senior class.

The tallest tassel waving in the group will be borne by George W. Crissinger, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Crissinger, 404 S. Eureka-av. George stands six feet six inches tall in his stocking feet.

Both boys have their employment plans outlined for after graduation. The "long of it" plans on an army career for a time, with a hope of eventual matriculation in forestry at some college. "Little Joe", who tips the scales at 73, "dripping wet", plans to accept a clerical position.

Kiwanis Clubs Again To Sponsor Benefit Game for Underprivileged

Combining forces throughout the city, local Kiwanis members have launched the third consecutive campaign to raise money to send underprivileged youngsters to summer camp.

June 12 has been selected as the date for the annual Columbus Kiwanis Baseball Karnival, featuring a single game between the Columbus Red Birds and the Minneapolis Millers.

Proceeds from the benefit game, as in the two previous years, will be used to send more than 150 deserving boys to camp who otherwise could not afford it.

Heading the Karnival committee this year is Dwight W. Blauser, president of the Northwest Kiwanis Club, assisted by Claude Yost of the Linden Club.

Along with the game, special entertainment is being arranged by the program committee under the leadership of Phillip V. Stout, Hilltop Kiwanis. A special feature will be a parade by Kiwanians and various local youth groups.

Tickets are being sold by every Kiwanis Club member at regular prices. Last year the Karnival netted $5,657.53 which was used to send 146 boys to the Big Brother Camp in Hocking Hills.

The camp is located on a 165-acre, wooded tract near Logan, O., completely equipped with cabins, mess hall, recreation hall, infirmary, wash cabins, swimming pool and recreation area.

Fulltime counsellors, cooks, lifeguards, leaders, directors and nurse are provided for the leadership, education and safety of the young campers during their two weeks in the hills.

Boys who will receive a camping experience will be selected from applicants ranging from 7 to 16 years after careful investigation.

Attendance Record Set

Two boys attended West Junior High School for three years without missing a single day. They are Ralph Headington and Jack Howell.

Ralph lives at 45 South Sylvan Avenue. He is on the track team; this may be the reason for his perfect attendance.

Jack's reason may be the fact that he lives directly across the street from the school at 136 South Powell Avenue.

Glenwood and West Park Continue Undefeated Slates in West Senior Church Loop Play

By Dave Miller

Glenwood Methodist and West Park Methodist continued as the only unbeaten teams in the West Senior Church Softball League after games staged last Monday evening at Westgate.

West Park started fast, and despite a last inning drive by their opponents, managed a wild 23-14 win over last-place Hillcrest. The Methodists pulled off the league's initial triple play in the third inning.

With Chuck Klein on first and Bob Thornton on third, Dave Lazanby of Hillcrest lined back to pitcher "Bootie" Wilks, who tossed to first, for a double play and the return to third was good enough to get Thornton for a triple play.

Wilks hurled until the third, being relieved by "Kid" Bryant. Ed Lants pitched all the way for Hillcrest.

Glenwood took the measure of Westgate, 6-3, and Avondale EUB downed Hoge Memorial, 9-8, in the night's other games.

The standings:

Team	W.	L.	T.
Glenwood	2	0	1
West Park	2	0	1
Hoge Memorial	1	1	1
Avondale EUB	1	2	0
Westgate eEUB	0	2	1

SPORT SLANTS

By Dave Miller

Hats off to the West Junior track squad, which again came through in flying colors to win the junior high track championship in the City Meet held last Thursday at West.

The locals juniors, paced by Jim Morgan's 13½ points (co-individual scorer of the meet with Charles Peaks of South) took four firsts out of the 10 events run off for the afternoon.

Firsts came in the 880-yard relay, shot put (Jim Kimball); mile run, in which both first and second spots were taken by Ted Dean and Joe Brenot, respectively; the other event, the 440-yard dash, was taken by Morgan.

West racked 54½ points; Everett took second, 23 7/10; South, 23½; Champion, 15 2/5; Indianola, 12 7/10; Barrett, 11 1/5; McKinley, 8; Mound, 6; Starling, 3.

After Jim Smith's no-hitter last Friday against East, West's entire bench ran out to grab "Smitty" as Bob Lewis, final East batter, swung at a third strike. They carried him on their shoulders to the locker room, where everyone signed the baseball, to be kept by Jim.

Incidentally, that was the first shutout of the season by a West hurler. Jim was not only applauded by both coaches, but by the game's umpire, Elmer Regar, who says he has quite a bit of control as well as stuff.

West coach, George Williams, jokingly said to East mentor, Jackie Moore, after the game, "Whatta you think of our sophomore?" Moore was pretty much amazed.

Williams, who told him no different, had better explain that Jim will graduate next January, at present being in the 12B.

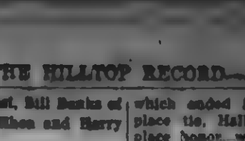
Central's track squad merely went through the motions in last Tuesday's 35th running of the city meet, staged for the first time under the lights at Magly Field.

There was no doubt by anyone from the start as the Riversiders swept to their 20th win in 35 classics. The potent Bucs racked up a total of 81½ points to 51 for the usual runnerup, East. North grabbed third with 32½; South fourth with 26¼; West grabbed fifth with 21¾; Aquinas (running for the first time) had six points, and Linden (the baseball school) had last with five.

To top it off, and to humiliate other coaches more, the Bucs ran without their individual ace, Bill Hairston, who rested his leg muscles for the state meet held last Saturday.



West's Ronnie Coup was the meet's lone double winner, taking both the half-mile and mile runs. The Cowboys' only other first was a tie in the pole vault between Ken Hallam of West, Bill Banks of South and Virgil Rhea and Harry Wallace of East.

Incidentally, there was quite a bit of tossing of coins at the city meet last week. In the pole vault, which ended in a four-way first place tie, Hallam won the first-place honor, which consisted of a division of prizes—the pot getting the smallest share winning the first place bucket—which is really a beaut.

Eureka-av, driving over a curb, a lawn and into the side of the home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Tickner, at 831 S. Wayne-av. According to Police Officer Herman Stofle, Mrs. Miller, going west on Mound-st, apparently became frightened while entering the curve, "froze" on the wheel and stepped on the gas instead of the brake. Damage inflicted on the new Chevrolet was heavy. Mrs. Miller suffered slight hand injuries.

Veteran Cub Scout Den Mother To Retire After Five-Year Service

Mrs. Charles Meddles

By Myron T. Seifert

When Mrs. Charles Meddles, 507 Binns-blvd, retires from serving as Den Mother of Den 2, Pack 86, of the Boy Scouts, she will round-out five busy, but happy years of service, in this work.

Announcement of her retirement will come with expressions of regret to the numerous boys she has helped in their climb in Boy Scoutdom.

Notes of appreciation from the scores of boys she has mothered would fill volumes.

Mrs. Meddles had an average of 30 cubs in her Den each year since 1946, probably the largest and most active Den in Columbus. Forty-seven cubs have graduated into Boy Scout troops from her Den. Two cubs, Scott Pence and Glen Moler, graduated with perfect attendance records, she said.

Another cub, Johnny Sears, received a cup for an act of bravery in saving the life of another cub.

Mrs. Meddles spends much of her spare time planning and helping her cubs with their various projects and activities, including the making of valentines for polio patients at Children's Hospital, making change purses, bill folds, scrap books for State School, and State Hospital.

Packages were also sent by the den to the Sun Ridge Rest Home where their former adopted mother, Mrs. Alice Dilsover, was a patient.

Mother's Day each year was a special occasion for the den when gifts were made.

A tea was arranged, flowers planted, corsages made, candy and cookies prepared by the cubs with Mrs. Elizabeth Thomson, 92 years old, and Mrs. Barbara Laischer, 83, whom they sponsored as honored guests, mothers of the cubs were also present at the ceremonies.

Come June, a "sloppy joe" dinner will be planned for Dad's Day, the food being cooked and served by the cubs. A skit and ball game will follow the dinner, as on previous occasions.

Hikes and over night trips were planned for the summer, knot hole games were attended in groups, accompanied by Mrs. Meddles.

Other projects include Thanksgiving and Christmas when packages, toys, candy, pop corn, and baskets of food were prepared by cubs, and given to needy families.

Cubs of Den 2 were contributors to the Heart Fund, Cancer Fund, Polio, Community Chest, and Red Cross. Money contributed to these different drives was earned by saving sales tax stamps, rummage sales, and paper drives.

Mrs. Meddles teaches the cubs good citizenship and community responsibility. The most important thing in cubbing is to learn loyalty, courtesy, obedience, cheerfulness, courage, and reverence. They learn they have a duty toward God and their country.

Each cub was taught the importance of the American Flag. It's a familiar sight to see the cubs grouped around the flag pole in Mrs. Meddles yard. They were taught to raise and lower the flag, fold it properly and to respect it.

Besides being interested in "Cubbing," Mrs. Meddles is a charter member of Dr. Hospital Guild No. 6, White Hospital Guild 34, room mother at West High School, Chapter No. 463, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Meddles plans to spend her spare time entertaining her three grandchildren, Sandra, Linda and Sharon Davidson, but she will always be a cub-mother to the den of boys whom she has helped in guiding to better citizenry.

Social Service Is Important Factor Between Students and Home

Social Service acts as a connecting link between students and their home and community life at the Columbus State School.

The Social Service Department probably has a bigger job to fulfill than any other department of the Columbus State School inasmuch as their work covers many fields.

Beginning with the preadmission of students, this staff arranges consultations with parents of students in order to enlighten them on customs of the school, to obtain medical history and background or other information that might help with the student's future.

Admission is then arranged by the Welfare Department and patient counseling then begins. Diagnostic staffs make full reports to the Welfare Board so that relatives or communities can be informed of student's mental condition, health and progress.

Correspondence is conducted regularly with relatives or other inter-agencies regarding each student. An average of 15,000 letters is sent out monthly by the department.

The State School's Social Service does cooperative planning with other agencies in order to give full attention to each individual before entering the school, upon admission and after leaving the school.

Placement staffs do a tremendous job in determining the type of work and proper placement for students away from the school. Outside supervision must always be considered and regular check-ups are made.

This department does not concern itself only with students who are to be admitted to the State School but helps supervise home care and training, recommends proper education and prepares organizational programs for the retarded child in the community.

The Social Service Public Relations arranges programs and service projects by the public and programs by students for public entertainment.

FUN FOR ALL ALL EVENING

ST. MARY MAGDALENE CHURCH

FUN FOR ALL ALL EVENING

Regular Meeting June 5 Will Include Initiation of Class

The regular meeting of Robert Morris Chapter will be held June 5. There will be initiation of a class of candidates. Entertainment for the evening will be in charge of Sister Katherine Hakola. Refreshments will be served.

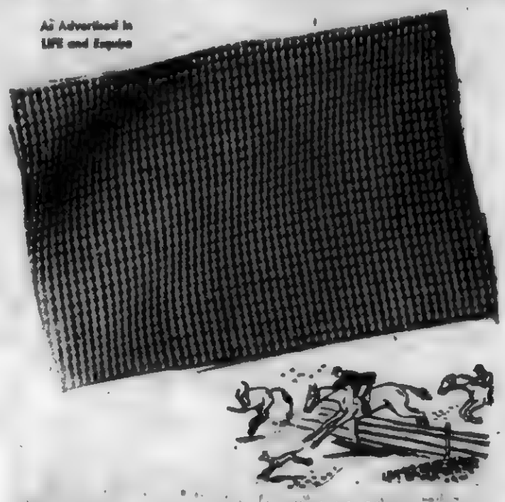
Tuesday, May 1, was Friendship night and the officers and members of Eugenia Chapter, Reynoldsburg, were guests.

Sister Thelma Doran and Brother Cranston Williams greeted the guests and visitors.

Business of the Chapter was taken care of and reports of committees given. Sister Amy Humphrey, Worthy Matron of Eugenia Chapter, gave the ritualistic farewell.

The air was filled with anticipation for the entertainment was to be different. The first surprise was the Chorus of Job's Daughters of Bethel No. 3. These young ladies entertained with a program of songs. Brother Harry Louderback new told of what was to come as the Men of the Chapter gave their version of a ladies' lodge meeting.

One might say that the style show that entered the room was most outstanding.



The men were given a big hand for all their efforts in presenting the evening program. Thanks to Brother Herb Pfaltzgraf, entertainment chairman.

All retired to the dining room for refreshments and get-together. The decorating committee had transformed the dining room into a garden of roses and there was plenty of moonlight there too.

May 15 was Social Club night at Robert Morris Chapter. After the transactions of the chapter, the class of candidates was received into the order. Worthy Matron, Sister Thelma, reminded everyone of the festival to be held at the Temple on June 26, sponsored by the 1951 officers. The meeting was closed by Past Matron, Sister Fern Johnson giving the farewell. Sister Thelma then turned the evening over to the Social Club.

Past Matron, Sister Minnie Vollmann was in charge of the program. The theme of the evening being "school days", the dining room tables were decorated with slates and balloons. "Sacked lunches" were at each place.

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Battle, it may do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia, when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Sunday, June 3, will be the third anniversary of the Community Christian Church, at the corner of Powell-av and Olive-st.

The Church was started in the West High School and is now using the foundation of the church across from West High. The Church has acquired this large corner lot to build its stone structure.

The celebration of the third anniversary will start on June 3 and end on June 10. Dr. Roland V. Hudson, professor at Asbury College, will be the speaker. Rev. Hudson is well known in Columbus. He received his Master's Degree from Ohio State University, and his Ph. D. from Purdue University. He was a chaplain in World War II with the rank of a major. He is a pastor, a missionary lecturer, an evangelist, a youth speaker, and a church educator. He is now teaching psychology in Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky.

The community is invited to hear Rev. Hudson who will speak at the Community Christian Church from June 3 to June 10.

Memorial Flag Is Presented Local School

A feature of the John Burrough's School Memorial Service held Tuesday, May 29, was the presentation by Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen of the flag used to drape the casket of her son, Robert, upon his return from France following World War II. The flag was presented to E. B. Graham, principal, retaining its original military fold.

The program included various choral numbers by students.

Contest Winner

Mary Jane Whalen, niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Holton, 5013 Fisher-rd, was one of 15 prize winners in the annual art poster contest sponsored by the "Fairy Tale Theater" of Radio Station WGAR in cooperation with the Cleveland Board of Education.

Children in the first six grades participated in the contest. Each child was to illustrate his impression of WGAR's "Fairy Tale Theatre."

Adventists To Aid Medical Corps Trainees

Two medical cadet training camps will be conducted this summer by Seventh-Day Adventists in cooperation with the government to fit their young men for the medical corps. Seventh-Day Adventists are non-combatants, but they give service to their country by being channelled into the medical department of the armed services where they may save life.

These medical cadet training camps will give preparation to hundreds of young men who haven't had opportunity of the instruction and drills which have been given in some communities and at some of the denomination's schools. One of these will be at Grand Ledge, Mich., June 5 to 19, and will be named the Desmond T. Doss Training Camp in honor of the Seventh-Day Adventist Okinawa hero given the congressional medal of honor by President Truman. Doss and his wife and child will be there.

One Hilltop boy, Erwin Ruth, 1560 Union-av, and Paul Spindler, Lamby-rd, from the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church, will attend the camp at Grand Ledge.

Oh Lord, grant that we may not despise our rulers; and grant, oh Lord, that they may not act so we can't help it.

Bible Comment:

Holy Sabbath Has Become a Day for Golf, Gardening

FOR millions of Americans, Sunday means a date with the garden rake, screens, niblick and putter, car polish or lawn mower, with little time left over for church services and an old-fashioned snooze in the hammock.

This national habit of using Sunday as a day for indulgent pleasures or hard work constitutes a rejection of the ancient Jewish belief that the Sabbath is a holy day of rest, dedicated to the Lord.

Says the book of Genesis, "And he blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made."

The modern observance of Sunday as a day of pleasure means that many must toil in the unnecessary business of supplying pleasure for others.

More important is the fact that many who have made Sunday neither a day of rest nor a day of worship for themselves fail to realize how much they are missing. In addition, by failing to refresh themselves physically or spiritually, they are robbing the day of its significance.

There are, of course, certain justifiable exceptions. Stepped-up production to meet Korean war needs has made it necessary for many to aid their country by working Sundays. Others with defense jobs that keep them busy six days a week, have only Sunday on which to execute garden chores and seek relaxation in competitive sport.

But for most of us the Sabbath can be a day of sacred rest. As it has been often said, the Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath. Therefore man, for whom the Sabbath was made, ought to make the most of it.

United

In the wild, lurid flicker of the forging shop, skilled workers are calmly demonstrating the value of united effort. Without it, this axle would never be forged. With it, steel has become the backbone of a nation whose watchword is "United We Stand."

Yes—it's a big word—a sound idea. Yet there are many who can't see the need for unity in religion at all.

"Religion's a personal matter with me," they say, "I have my own ideas about God. Churches are all very well, but I'll practice religion by myself."

We honestly believe these people are mistaken. True, one aspect of religion is personal. But the other is built by the united action of men and women who know what organized religion can accomplish and must accomplish if we are to have a better world.

Many people believing singly in the need for united states did not form the United States. This nation was founded through united effort. World peace and brotherhood will not come through people thinking about it.

That, too, will take united action—by church members.

Religious unity through church membership is not a fence that surrounds men of faith.

It is a strong and harmonious bond between them through which passes the holy word of God.

Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

THE LIFE EXTENSION TREE SERVICE
JO. 1423 RA. 3387
Oakley Wiseman, Mgr.

Member of The Columbus Landscape Association—The National Shade Tree Conference—The National Arborists Association. 25 years in tree work.

A sketch of the new Westinghouse Electric Corporation plant that will be built on the Hilltop is shown above. The half-mile long manufacturing plant is to be used for the production of jet engine components and, after defense needs are met, for electric home appliances, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice-president of Westinghouse, announced here today. It will be built on a 350-acre site on Route 40, three-quarters of a mile west of the city line. Survey crews are now at work and construction will begin immediately.

The new plant will be built and operated by Westinghouse. Construction of the one-story type factory building will take approximately 18 months, including installation of equipment. It will have four manufacturing aisles, each 200 feet wide by 1450 feet in length. These aisles lead in a straight-line production pattern to the storage and shipping area. In addition to the factory there will be a two-story office building. (Westinghouse Photo)

Many Honors —

again won the honor of having their names inscribed on the trophy. They are Janet Williams, Alice Wilson and Pat Whalen.

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award which is made annually to the student displaying the most proficiency in the study of science was awarded by Principal Young on behalf of that firm to Ralph Van Atta.

The Danford Foundation award of "I Dare You Books," awarded annually for qualities of leadership displayed by senior students, was awarded to Richard Briggs and Sharon Clarkin.

Ralph Van Atta again scored for further recognition in the assembly program when he received the award of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Veterans of Foreign Wars medals given for the recognition of good citizenship were awarded to Gail Hinton and Dick Wray. The presentation of these medals on behalf of Westway Post of VFW was made by the local post commander, Robert Hartman. Accompanying Hartman in the presentation was his father, more familiarly known as "The Old Sarge". The elder Hartman is a past commander of Westway Post.

Rita Ambrosia was given special commendation by Principal Irwin Young on the acceptance of a poem which she had authored, by the National Anthology of High School Poetry. The poem was entitled "Little Remembrances."

Senior awards were also given to the French class by Miss Glenn of the West High faculty. Carol Christy was given outstanding recognition for her work in this study for the past year.

To the highest ranking senior in scholarship, Janet Williams was given an award of a one year subscription to Readers Digest by Principal Young.

Junior classmen also came into the limelight during the ceremonies for their share of recognition. George Brown, Richard Gilbert, Allan Hopkins and Jim Murray were introduced to the assembly as the youths who were chosen by Camp Chase Post of the American Legion as representatives to Boys' State at Camp Perry, this June.

Girls' State awards were made to Sue Keller with Nancy Cornwell being named as alternate. The Girls' State will be held at Capital University.

Perfect attendance awards were accorded to Judy Ward for a perfect attendance record since the ninth grade; Gary Dixon, a four year record, and to Dick Wray for a perfect attendance over a 12 year period.

Triangle Club awards for drafting were made by Mr. Kennedy, who also awarded a trophy to Harry Hubbard for his outstanding achievements in the field of architectural drafting. Stage crew awards and recognition were then made by Mrs. Hall.

Special athletic awards were then made to three of West High's stellar athletes for their outstanding performances during the year. Dick Briggs received the Agonis Club award from Coach Mack Pemberton; Jerry Trabue the Ray G. Hauntz award from Coach George Williams and Paul Anderson the track award by Noble Allen from Rufe Glass.

You can never trust a woman; she may be true to you.

Westinghouse—

Kansas, Mo., works of the Westinghouse Aviation Gas Turbine Division. While the plant will be operated by the Appliance Division on jet work, its production schedules will be directed by the Aviation Gas Turbine Division, which supplies jet engines to the Navy," Mr. Ashbaugh said.

Headquarters and research facilities of the Aviation Gas Turbine Division are at South Philadelphia, Pa., and the Division manufactures and assembles jet engines there as well as at Kansas City.

Employment at the new Columbus plant will be relatively small at the start but will build up to approximately 1,500 when jet production is well underway. After defense needs are met and the plant is set up for consumer goods manufacture, employment, at capacity production, will range from 6,000 to 7,000, Mr. Ashbaugh pointed out.

The Westinghouse officials lauded the cooperative efforts of city, county and township officials as well as Columbus business men in helping the company to locate in Columbus.

Among those who were most active in this phase of the work were Mayor James A. Rhodes; President of City Council Henry A. Koontz, Councilmen Dr. O. J. Fielinger, Joseph R. Jones, Frank H. Kearns, Robert T. Oestreicher, Walter R. Snider and Dr. Daniel J. Whitacre; Chairman of the County Commission Clarence P. Lauderbaugh; County Commissioners Nathan A. McCoy and Harry T. Vigor; City Service Director Elmer A. Keller, Division of Water Supt. Paul C. Laux, Division Sewage and Drainage Chief Engineer Orris Bonnev, Franklin County Engineer Guy H. Elbin; Franklin County Sanitary Engineer Desso T. Mitchell, Regional Planning Engineer Grover F. Clements. The land purchase was handled in Columbus by John Galbreath.

Anybody can win, unless there happens to be a second entry.

Hayes Urges —

their athletic teams of the season. These teams were for varsity and reserve basketball, baseball, track, swimming, cross-country, golf, and varsity and reserve cheerleaders.

Added laurels were bestowed on Ronnie Coup, West outstanding distance runner in spring track as well as cross-country, having held the individual city championship for two seasons.

In addition to the "highly unheralded cheerleaders" numbering 11, Coach George Williams introduced five young ladies, who, in his estimation, deserved rank as the top ticket sellers in the city.

After the presentation of the athletes came the talk of Mr. Hayes, who certainly stamped himself as a "Mr. Football" with everyone attending the banquet. The new OSU certainly loves his game, which should well prove why he has been so successful in the field.

As far as most Hilltop athletes were concerned, it was merely a "tossup" as to the adeptness of last year's speaker, Wesley Fesler, and this year's Woody Hayes. Last spring, Fesler spoke to the boys as though he was their father—left a very gentle feeling between a football coach and his player evident.

'Round The Hill Topics

By Ron Greene

Vacation time has descended upon us again . . . fishing tackle's being gone over, the car gets a rub-out before a long trip to other climes and many folk about the Hilltop are just disappearing from their usual haunts for anywheres from a week to 30 days . . . The Harry Eaton's of Roys-av dropped us a card today from Los Angeles . . . reporting of trips to Frisco and Grand Canyon and a grand time . . . Bill Coon of these prints has a pocketfull of snapshots taken on his recent sortee into the West and will on the slightest provocation recite his complete itinerary . . . try him and see.

Heard reports this week of several nice catches of the finny tribe in adjacent streams and wonder why only we . . . can come up with just sunfish . . . for others it's big catfish in the 20 lb. class.

Golfers too are enjoying the greens these days, although some are reporting high scores . . . Jack Kirwin incidentally frequents the Beacon Light Course still in quest of a par . . . And speaking of golf, on Thursday night the local YMCA in cooperation with Seiler's is showing a sound movie at the local "Y" on "Basics of Better Golf" the narrator for the film is golfdom's own "Jug" McSpaden . . . Palm Beach week is the occasion for the film.

Comes reports across our desk these days of the many outings and picnics which are annual affairs . . . the 13 Club this year is deviating from its usual pattern and plans to hold its annual stag outing at Beulah Park for the first time. The co-chairmen Eddie Hertenstine and William Krause say the affair will be held rain or shine on Sunday, June 17 . . . The 13 Clubbers are an Hilltop organization whose many charitable acts are well remembered. Hilltop Kiwanis has the get-out-in-the-open feeling too . . . next Thursday they will hold their annual breakfast at the No. 3 Shelterhouse at Griggs Dam . . . 6:30 a. m. is the time. The Kiwanikwa group has scheduled its annual birthday party at the Fort Hayes Hotel for June 14, too.

Mrs. Roscoe Reinhart (Mary Roberts), 236 N. Wayne-av, is in fair condition at Grant Hospital following her second brain tumor operation on Tuesday. The family requests no phone calls for at least a week.

Lions Plan July 4th Community Celebration

Carl Schmelzer, Chairman

A gigantic "stay-at-home" program for the Fourth of July is being planned for Hilltoppers by the Hilltop Lions Club. The program, consisting of an afternoon's entertainment and contests for youngsters and an evening of talent shows, fireworks, and street dancing, will be free and open to all.

In answer to a strong community need, the Lions' plan for a happy, safe and sane Fourth, will set a pattern for programs for years to come.

The outline of the program, to be held at West High School, begins with the youngsters' section of the day opening at 1 p. m. and continuing through 5.

Prizes will be awarded in all contests, which include:

A "best dressed" cowboy and cowgirl contest, a 50-yard dash, a two-legged race, a wheelbarrow race, a peanut race, a crawling race for infnats, a one-legged race, a three-legged race, a sack race and a hopping race.

Following the races, a contest will be held to find the best decorated vehicle at the celebration. Youngsters may enter bicycles, tricycles, scooters, wagons, or anything they can ride. Top prize for this event will be a $25 U.S. savings bond.

A two-hour intermission will be granted the celebrants from 5 to 7 p. m.

The gala affair will reopen at 7 p. m. with an amateur talent show, followed by the fireworks display. The display will be one of the largest and safest yet viewed by Columbusites.

At the conclusion of the display, the street dancing will begin and continue until about midnight. During the dancing, prizes will be given for the best round and square dancers.

Lions will sell ice cream, hotdogs and soft-drinks throughout the affair.

Program planners urge all those interested in entering the talent show and the dancing contests to contact Francis C. Higgins, 232 S. Harris-av, at JO. 1800 or John D. Dickson, 24 N. Powell-av, at JO. 1337.

Lose Suit To Halt Rabies Vaccinations

Franklin County kennel owners and operators lost their fight to halt compulsory rabies immunization for dogs kept in kennels.

Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds denied a temporary injunction last Tuesday, sought by seven kennel owners. The owners had asked that the Health Department be enjoined from enforcing the regulation against them. The suit attacked the legality of a regulation passed Feb. 27 by the County Board of Health, which required the immunization of all dogs three months of age or older by anti-rabies shots.

The kennel owners declared in their suit that the order should not apply to their dogs because they are kept in kennels under constant confinement and control; immunization has never been proven as an effective complete control of rabies and further, that no emergency exists that requires compulsory immunization.

Judge Reynolds said that dogs kept in kennels could be exposed to rabies from the outside or prior to their confinement, that evidence showed immunization is "markedly effective" in controlling rabies, and the situation clearly revealed its critical nature and that an emergency does exist with respect to the spread of rabies.

Judge Reynolds discounted each of the arguments advanced in the suit.

"The regulation was enacted for the general good and protection of all, and to make it effective for that purpose, ought in all fairness be complied with," Judge Reynolds said.

The deadline for immunization of dogs in the county areas was June 1. Dog owners who failed to have their animals vaccinated are subject to maximum penalties of $100 fine on a first offense and 90 days in jail or both upon a second violation of the regulation.

Phillips Bound To Grand Jury

George Phillips, 33, confessed slayer of Mrs. Ruth Alfie, was bound over to the grand jury without bond in a Municipal Court session, last Thursday.

Defense Attorney Paul M. Herbert conducted his defense to have the first degree murder charge reduced to a lesser degree so that Phillips could be released on bond.

Herbert contended the prosecution did not show "reasonable cause" to send Phillips to the grand jury. Judge Charles Petree ruled that Prosecutor Glenn Kemp presented enough evidence for the state to bind the defendant over.

Officials of the county prosecutor's office said that Phillips will probably be brought before an early session of the grand jury, but if he is indicted, the trial in Common Pleas Court may not be held until next fall.

City Considers Memorial For J. M. Emrich

Plans to dedicate the Scioto River Pumping Station's new screen house on Dublin-rd to the memory of J. Marion Emrich, former chief engineer of the station were introduced into City Council Monday night.

The $175,000 screen house and intake were sought by Emrich for more than 20 years. Construction of the structure began last year and will be completed by the end of August.

The screen house is designed to take in water from the Scioto River and screen out leaves, twigs and foreign matter before the water is filtered for Columbus residents' use.

Emrich, who died May 28, lived at 501 S. Warren for 44 years.

Local Home Owners Launch Protest Against Low Cost Housing Project

Confederate Memorial Services Held Sunday

FIRE SALUTE—Firing a salute, Sunday, above the graves of the 2240 Confederate dead in the Confederate Cemetery on Sullivant-av between Wiltshire-av and Binns-blvd, is the Jeffrey American Legion firing squad. Memorial services were held in the cemetery on Confederate Day by the Camp Chase, Jeffrey, Franklin and Smith-Barratt Posts, and the Robert E. Lee and Dixie Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The low, white gravemarkers of the 2260 soldiers buried in the Confederate Cemetery on Sullivant-av, were flanked Sunday by Union and Confederate flags and decorated with real Spanish moss and dahlia blossoms. The markers glistened in the sunlight following sudden summer thundershowers, as women from the Robert E. Lee and Dixie Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy carefully tended them.

Not even the stirring marching and fighting songs of the South played by the Franklin Post Band could shake the quiet solemnity of the lonely, walled-in graveyard.

All attention was focused on the markers, raised above the soldiers, many of whom died of smallpox while here in federal prison, held as prisoners of war. At least two of the men in gray, lying in the narrow plots, were shot while attempting to escape from the prison camp.

The program, sponsored by the UDC women, began after a thundershower, with Mario Smith, commander of the Camp Chase Legion Post acting as master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Fred Holaday, chaplain of the Legion Post.

The pledge of allegiance was given to both the American and Confederate flags and the program continued with southern melodies played by the Franklin Post Band.

Dr. J. Curtis Hodges, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, delivered the principal address of the day on "What men like General Lee would want us to be concerned with at this time." The pastor paralleled conditions of the present with those of early Civil War days. Both his grandfathers fought with the Confederacy and one was killed at Gettysburg.

Dr. Louis M. Casper, pastor of the South High Street Baptist Church, gave the benediction and a salute of honor was fired by members of the Jeffrey Legion Post while John Kelly of the Camp Chase group played "Taps."

One of the unusual sidelights of the annual memorial service conducted on the 143rd anniversary of Jefferson Davis' birth was the location of the grave of Sgt. William A. Atkins by Charles Atkins, 2770 Plainview-dr, a grandson. The Atkins family had never known what had happened to the Confederate soldier. His grandson theorizes that he was a victim of the smallpox epidemic that swept the prison.

Petition Cites Eleven Reasons For Opposition

Indignant and irate citizens in the vicinity of Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd, this past week began a movement to halt construction of a multi-unit low cost housing project in that area. A meeting of Westgate and Franklin-twp residents and property owners has been held for purposes of organization to better combat outside interests who seek to establish the project.

The group of home owners held its first meeting in Franklin Township Hall last Friday. Committees were appointed, petitions were handed out and the group of 86, the nucleus of a rapidly growing organization laid plans to deter the firm of Weintraub and Westlake from building the low-cost project in the midst of new and expensive homes.

Headed by Harold Banker, 474 Demorest-rd, the group decided to get voters' signatures on petitions calling for the blocking of the project; contact loan associations and banks and familiarize them with the situation and the consequent lowering of home values if the project is constructed; contact Congressmen Bricker, Vorys, Bender and Sen. Taft; block FHA loans from the Chicago office; approach Hilltop contractors and real estate developers with a proposal to take over the land site and develop a suitable project; and petition the zoning board for rezoning the area from Binns-blvd to the Sullivant Avenue Airport and Sullivant-av

Meet Westinghouse — A New Neighbor

With the announcement of last week by officials of Westinghouse that the location of their new big plant for manufacture of jet engines would definitely be in this community a new era of development has opened up for this sector of the city. The location of this new enterprise in our midst definitely indicates a growth in this community far beyond the dreams of the original settlers here and opens the way for more new business, more new homes and greater prosperity for the future.

Many in the past few days have queried, "What does Westinghouse make?"

It is a good question and one which merits an answer in order that the people of this community be better acquainted with this new industrial neighbor.

Westinghouse has 38 manufacturing plants in this country, none in foreign countries. In addition, there are 37 manufacturing and repair plants, many of which are major manufacturing units. Thus at present there are a total of 75 plants of all sizes.

Additional plants are planned.

It would take a book to list every product made in Westinghouse plants. By groups of products, the more important include:

Small and large motors; motor controls; gears and gear-motors; steam turbines; gas turbines; switchgear; electric power-generating and distributing apparatus; transportation equipment (rail, water, air and automotive); radio and radar; meters and instruments; electric elevators and stairways; air-conditioning and air-handling apparatus; electric lighting apparatus; stokers and industrial-heating equipment; electronic tubes; X-ray equipment; plastic Micarta.

Among consumer items are electric lamps, both incandescent and fluorescent; electric refrigerators; ranges, freezers, automatic washers, water-heaters and a whole array of smaller appliances; television and radio sets.

And now, of course, Westinghouse products include many of a strictly military nature.

Beyond the tremendous service they render to the nation and its industrial and individual consumers, the impressive thing about the number of Westinghouse plants and products, the company said, is the almost unlimited opportunities they offer for employe advancement. There is ample room in Westinghouse for the flourishing of individual skill, ability, ingenuity, inventiveness, ideas and ambition.

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Dear Editor:

We are living in an age of invention and progress. Since the beginning of time there has been opposition to all progressive movement. So it has been, so it is now and so it will be. There are always some people who drag their feet and to some degree impede progress, while others do the pushing.

With the invention of the radio and television much is being said pro and con, but both have proved to be instruments of great good.

Both are broadcasting the gospel message to an inestimable number of people that churches do not reach. Of the two the television is more impressive in that it visualizes the service. Through the television personalities can be studied. These bodies of ours are mirrors that reflect the image of the person living in them.

If but one soul is influenced through these broadcasts to accept the Lord, Jesus Christ as their personal Savior, does not that far outweigh some questionable broadcasts? "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?"

Of course both radio and television are misused. No one denies this. But what isn't misused? The automobile is owned by most of the people. Why don't people stop using it because gangsters use it in their crimes? Why don't people who object to the television condemn the automobile because immoral people use it for illicit purposes along the roadside.

The telephone, the telegraph and the mail are misused but people use all of these. Why don't they condemn their use?

The press and radio have been sounding the alarm of the drift toward crime and corruption, but it took the television to bring it to the eye.

The press and radio laid the foundation for reform, but it took the television to start the movement that is sweeping the nation.

"Back to the Bible" is the battle cry. Everywhere people are rallying around the Christian and national banners, highly resolved to save our country from corruption and ruin.

If you can't boost, don't knock.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDIE

While MacArthur episode causes debate on preservation of American lives in Korea, a drive is launched in Washington to preserve the huge profits of Big Whiskey.

Strong efforts are being made to get bureaucrats declare a grain shortage; limit use of grain for distilling.

There is a grain surplus. There is also a whiskey surplus, largely in the many warehouses of Big Whiskey. Distilling holiday would cut down independent production.

C. W. Harder

Many monopolistic corporations believe in Freedom of Enterprise as long as they have freedom to utilize government bureaus to manipulate profits.

Socialists also use bureaus for their subversive ends. The actions of the Food and Drug Administration now being fought by the National Association of Retail Druggists illustrates this point.

At present time most of nation's 40,000 independent druggists could be prosecuted under arbitrary law established by this bureau.

Here's an example. If you run out of the non-narcotic cough syrup prescribed by your doctor, your druggist is not supposed to refill it for you without a new prescription.

Most likely, your druggist is saving you money, and both you and your doctor needless bother. He goes ahead in defiance of this edict which parallels in arrogant stupidity any edict ever issued by the Kremlin.

Another example. Perhaps you live 15 miles from a drugstore. Your doctor arrives, finds your child will die unless medication is given immediately. He phones in a prescription which your druggist rushes out to you.

But to be legal, according to the bureau edict, your child should die, because it is illegal for your druggist to fill any prescription until received in writing.

What is behind these callous edicts? A Congressional investigation will find out. There is considerable opinion Oscar Ewing pushed the edicts through.

Ewing is the official constantly trying to push through socialized medicine. He has been repudiated by everyone including the overwhelming majority of the National Federation of Independent Business.

But, unfortunately, socialists neither die nor fade away, they just bore underground in a new direction.

It's obvious if a bureau edict can force the independent druggist and medical practitioner into medicines, expensive methods, resentment against them by people not aware of the full facts will enlist new recruits for socialized medicine.

Congressional probes will continue. Look for more facts. Subversive activity cannot stand spotlight.

One of the hardest blows dealt Acheson and British Socialists came when MacArthur testified British Hong Kong is important Red China supply base.

This came at critical time.

Britain, which announced end of Marshall Plan gifts on December 31, 1950, but still getting millions more, had just requested additional $6 million in wheat from Marshall Plan.

Good Exercise

There is no exercise better for the heart than reaching down and lifting people up.—John Andrew Holmes.

A good folly is worth whatever you pay for it.

I do not regard a broker as a member of the human race.

No!

A man was running along Madison Avenue shouting at the top of his voice: "No! No! Certainly not!"

A policeman stopped him and said: "Here, you, what's the idea?"

"It's all right, officer," was the reply. "I'm a 'Yes' man on a holiday."

"Are you the young man who jumped in the river and saved my son from drowning when he fell through the ice?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Where's his mittens?"

ANYONE MIGHT BE Undernourished!

Most mothers are shocked and incredulous when the physician says "Undernourished." However, every day counts in building a child's constitution, and a balanced diet is not a haphazard affair. Consider the various minerals, salts, carbohydrates, proteins and fats necessary to growth.

The physician knows requirements of the individual, to maintain growth, good appetite, freedom from infection, normal mental and physical development.

Give him a chance! Keep your child under the observation of your physician at regular intervals. It may mean the difference between a fretful baby and a happy, thriving youngster. It may also mean the difference between a "spindly" legged, sickly, inactive child and a healthy, active, mentally alert future [illegible].

Convulsions, bowlegs, bad teeth, anemia, rickets, and many other ailments of "sickly" children may be traceable to improper food.

YMCA To Open Little Nine Loop

WARMING UP — Don Furry, 138 S. Burgess-av, is shown as he warms up for tryouts for the Hilltop YMCA sponsored Little Nine Baseball League. Don, a 5-A student at West Broad Street School, insists that he isn't just trying out for the catching post, he declares that he's going to get it. The first practice session for aspirants was held on Monday.

The YMCA sponsored Little Nine Baseball League held its first team organizing practice at 5 p. m. Monday on West High School's ball diamond. All other boys interested in playing in the league are urged to come to the Hilltop YMCA and register immediately.

Seventy-two players are needed for beginning league play. According to present league rules 24 11-year-old pitchers are needed; 18 12-year-old catchers, shortstops and third basemen; 19 10-year-old first and second basemen are needed, as well as 12 nine and eight-year-old infielders and outfielders.

All games in the league will be played at 5:15 p. m. on Mondays and Wednesdays on West High School's baseball field. Parents are requested by YMCA officials to bring the players and to stay for their games.

All boys who will not have reached their 13th birthday by Aug. 1 are eligible for play.

The games will be played on a special fenced-in "junior" size diamond that measures 60 feet on the base-line instead of the regulation 90 feet.

Special "junior" size protective equipment will be issued to all catchers. The equipment consists of a mask, chest protector, shin guards and ball gloves. Rules require all boys to wear tennis shoes in league play. No baseball shoes or cleats can be worn. Batters must wear protective caps.

The age levels on the teams will be so adjusted that no one team will be unevenly matched. Three 12-year-olds, four 11-year-olds, three 10-year-olds and two eight and nine-year-olds will be placed on each team.

All games played will consist of six innings.

SPORT SLANTS

By Dave Miller

Another sports year has come and gone at West High School and with it, only two trophies were added to the case in the lobby of the Powell Avenue School.

The two trophies added to the lobby came in cross-country and in junior high track. These two squads were the only teams that were able to garner any championships out of the numerous athletic teams that represented West the past year.

Beginning in the fall, football first took the spotlight with the annual autumn drills beginning Aug. 21. From here on, the season progressed until Nov. 10.

Although the team only won five of nine games overall, Head Coach Mack Pemberton stated just last week at the West all-sports banquet that "this football season was the shortest of any he has ever coached."

Determination keynoted the Cowboy Eleven that year. They won four City League games and lost two (North and East, who were the city co-champions). Their non-loop losses were suffered from Upper Arlington and Lima Central, winning the Marion Harding contest, the season's opener.

Standouts on the squad all season were backs Ronnie James, Dick Briggs, and "Sonny" Hunter; and linemen George Crissinger, Jerry Trabue, Dave Lasenby, Ed Gleibs, and Dick McDermitt. The latter and James were the team's co-captains.

The cross country squad, running in the fall finished the season for the second straight year as city champion, although their individual winner of the two seasons past, Ronnie Coup, was beaten by Linden's Bob Coldren.

In addition to winning the city crown, the locals snared runner-up spot in the district meet, the 13th place in the state. Coach Rufe Glass again mentored the two milers.

Members of the team were Captain Cliff Everett, Paul Anderson, Ronnie Coup, Jerry Witherspoon, Garland Edwards, Don Trimmer, Bob Brooks, and Ray Harper. This number finished in the team time trials to represent West in the district and state affairs.

The winter brought about both basketball and swimming at the Powell Avenue School, with the cagers doing a little better than what was expected of them at the beginning of the season.

After a mediocre 10-9 season, they swept to three straight victories in the Central Ohio District Tournament at the Coliseum early in March. Central finally knocked the cagers out, by a 50-42 count in the semi-final classic.

Jerry Trabue, outstanding junior athlete won the City League scoring crown with 237 markers, a bucket more than state champio nEast's center, Rollie Harris.

The swimming team didn't fare so well although Eddie Whitehead, Bob Harmon and Jerry Whipple all scored in the city and district meet. Whitehead also tallied in the state event.

Following, of course, is the recently completed spring sports section of the calendar at West for their athletes, and of the five teams representing West during the period of March through June, only one, the junior high track team, managed a championship.

The tracksters, coached by Tim Craney, an OSU student, won the City Meet staged late in May at West. Many members dominated the squad, but some of the standouts were Jim Morgan, Ted Dean, Joe Brenot, Jim Kimball, Ronnie Dean, Jim Fondaw, Ronnie Klein, and Bob Fenimore.

Morgan, incidentally, brother of senior high shot and discus man, Larry, was the top scorer of the junior high meet with 13½ points.

The senior high track squad, however, didn't fare so well through their season. Their only win all season was a rousing 84-27 win over McKinley. About the only high spot was pole vaulter Kenny Hallam and miler Ronnie Coup, both placing in the city and district meets.

"I could go on for hours telling you about this year's baseball club," said Coach George Williams at the banquet last week. "We even had a triple play pulled against us; we didn't win many games, but we certainly had lots of fun."

The baseball squad finished with a 4-7 league slate, and a 6-10 overall record. Errors were their main trouble as well as a rather weak hitting club.

The junior high baseballers complete the season roundup of 1950-51. Defending champs of last spring, the baseballers lost a couple heart-breakers—one thanks to an umpire, the other thanks to a scorekeeper—and they were out of the league bunting with a 2-3 loop slate.

Having covered West High School athletic events for four very enjoyable years, I am leaving the local scene to enter college this summer, and hope that I have done a reasonably good job of reporting Hilltop athletic events.

Thanks to everyone for everything, especially Mr. Green and Mr. Hartley at the Hilltop Record, and Mrs. T. R. Kneer at West.

Central's Pirates Edge Cowboys In Final Game of High Season

Hits were at a marked premium in West's final baseball game of the 1951 season last Tuesday as Central's Pirates edged the Cowboys, 3-1, on the Cowboy lot.

In the contest, the finale for both teams, there were only four base hits, one by West off right-hander Frank Wiseman of the Riversiders and three off the Cowboys' right-handed ace, Jim Smith, who, incidentally, hurled a no-hitter against East his last time out.

Thus West finishes the season with a rather dismal won—six; lost—nine mark overall, with a .4-7 tally in loop activity. Their final loop game with champion Linden McKinley was canceled because the Linden field is at present receiving a face-lifting.

Central scored in the very first stanza of the game last week on two errors by Smith, a fielder's choice and another miscue by shortstop Ted Fladt. However, the Cowboys came right back to knot the count at 1-apiece in their portion of the initial canto.

A walk to leadoff batter Herb Brown, a sacrifice by Russ Friend and Merrie Dobbs' single to left-center brought in West's lone tally of the day. The hit by Dobbs was the only safety by West all afternoon.

Central pushed over unearned markers of the singleton variety in the second and fifth frames to thus cinch the verdict. Hits by third-baseman Phil Orem highlighted the Buc uprisings. Orem's two blows were the only off Smith, but both came at a tale-telling period.

Smith finished the contest with nine strikeouts and three walks, the same number of passes issued by Wiseman. The latter fanned eight.

Kiwanians Sponsor Game To Send Youngsters To Camp

EDUCATION — Sam Alford, ticket chairman for the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, looks on as Stevie Tweedy and Frankie Dicesare get a lesson on gripping the bat from Red Bird slugger Buddy Phillips. The two Columbus youngsters will go to summer camp at Hocking Hills as the result of the Kiwanis Baseball Karnival to be held June 13, when the Birds will face the Minneapolis Millers.

The Big Brother Camp at Hocking Hills has set aside two summer periods to accommodate the 150 underprivileged Columbus youngsters who will be sent there as a result of the third annual Kiwanis Baseball Karnival June 13.

Hilltop Kiwanians and club members throughout the county are now in the midst of a campaign to sell-out the Red Bird Stadium for this benefit game between the Birds and the Minneapolis Millers.

The boys, age seven to 16, are selected to attend camp on the basis of need, leadership, initiative, ability, cooperation and citizenship. They will be divided into two age groups. One group will go during the two week period of July 5-19, while the other group will camp from July 24 to Aug. 7.

The camp is a 165-acre wooded tract southwest of Logan, where there are rustic cabins, mess halls, an infirmary, recreation barns and a modern swimming pool. The boys will receive the personal attention of counsellors, cooks, nurses, lifeguards and directors.

More than $5000 is needed to send these youngsters to camp. Under the leadership of Dwight Blauser, baseball chairman, and R. E. Gruesser, ticket chairman, the Kiwanians are selling tickets at regular prices. Blocks of tickets also are being sold to individuals and companies.

Dept. of Natural Resources Gives Fisherman 'Dope' on Laws

Fishermen! Read this, it may protect you from an embarrassing and possibly costly error.

The problem of distinguishing between private and public waters has been a long and difficult one for many years.

Is there a fisherman alive who hasn't asked himself, "I wonder if I'm legally right in fishing here?"

And he may have asked himself, "Can I fish from my boat on a stream, even if the landowner of the adjoining bank prohibits fishing?" Or, "Does he own the land under the stream too?"

A search of the law by the state department of natural resources reveals the following conclusions on the problem:

Ohio courts have handed down a long line of decisions that indicate the landowners, adjacent to or through which a stream flows, own the land to the center of stream, or where they own the property on both sides, the entire bed of the stream.

This right of ownership, however, is subject to the public's right to use the stream for commerce and transportation.

It follows then that unless a stream is navigable, and thus can be used for commerce and transportation, the public cannot use it without the permission of the person owning the underlying land. (This restriction applies to fishing while wading or boating, as well as from the bank.)

This, however, leaves a question to be answered too. That being—When is a stream navigable in a legal sense?

The law says the following: A stream is navigable where there is a public terminus at each end.

Therefore only partially navigable creeks or streams, which open upon a bay but lead merely to private lands, are NOT public, navigable waters.

The fact that there is water enough in places for rowboats or small launches, or that hunters and fishermen pass over the water with boats ordinarily used for that purpose, DOES NOT render the waters navigable.

So next time you go out on a stream or creek, play safe. Protect yourself by getting permission of the landowner.

Close Busiest Bridge On West Side 'til July 1

The Grandview-av bridge across the Scioto river is closed to traffic until about July 1, Franklin County Engineer Guy Elbin announced the bridge connecting Dublin-rd and McKinley-av, will be refloored and repaired.

The old traffic-battered concrete floor of the 266-foot span has been used without replacement for about two decades. Some of the present floor stringers will be replaced and a new steel floor plate will be welded to the stringers. The new floor will have a covering of bituminous concrete. The roadway width of 36 feet will not be changed.

Elbin's traffic survey division estimates that about 7,800 vehicles pass over the bridge in each 24 hour period. Much of the traffic consists of trucks.

The county maintenance crews will work from dawn to dark in an effort to complete the repairs as speedily as possible. All needed materials are available.

This bridge is the busiest route between the West Side and the Grandview Heights area.

GI Letter Home Describes The Korean Attack

Despite the assertions by members of the United Nations that the events in Korea are but a "police action," to those boys from this community who are currently doing the fighting in that part of the world, it is a war with all its grim realities of death.

Richard Koontz, now a Pfc. with the armed forces in Korea, recently wrote a letter home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Koontz, of 465 Hilltonia-av. The local youth in his letter home describes some of his own experiences in the recent spring offensive launched by the Chinese Communists in his sector of the fighting front.

Here's Dick's letter home:

Dear Pop and All,

Well, I received my first letter since I was in Korea. One from you and two from Elaine. I just got them this morning and you know I love to read them. About sending me something. The thing I would like most is that choc hot chox. Could use two shaving brushes for cleaning rifles. When you write, write on say two pages with one side empty with an envelope inside and I will write on reverse side.

Now I am going to tell you about the mad retreat. I bet you're worried sick about me. I was too.

First of all, a red flare means assembly here to attack and also the famous bugle of the Chinks. On the night of the 22nd I was on a hill and dug in. At 7 o'clock they said I and the third squad was on outpost 200 yards from CP and when you're on outpost that's where they hit first. Well when you're on guard you pull 50% guard. The Chinks used artillery and coming in close so no one slept. At 10:30 p. m. they said move out because they were coming so I went back to the Platoon CP which was a good city two blocks over hills and the moon was bright. After I got there they told me to go back and get half of the squad I had just left and bring them back to help around the CP or dig in.

Well, when I started back up there someone started firing at me. I crawled all the way up and never got hit. After I told them I went back down and they told me to go back to my own bunch or squad, so I went back and they fired at me all the way, so I jumped in with two other guys in a hole, still not too scared. I could not figure out who was shooting at me because it came from behind our lines.

Well I was with these two guys in the hole and I heard walking below us. Then a red flare behind us and in front of us and then I knew the chinks were behind us and in front. They started up after us and we had grenades fixed below us as booby traps and one went off and blew up one Chink. Then the bugle sounded off, they came by thousands. I shot, threw grenades and was I tired. They got within 15 feet They threw a grenade in our hole but it was a dud. They threw another which hit my head and bounded out and back down the hill where he was and killed him.

Then the word came to retreat. I stayed in the hole and covered for the other two guys, after that we worked our way up toward the CP and bullets hitting all us.

We hallooed at the CP and a guy said, "Who there," and we said, "GI's" and he said, "Who," so we said "GI's again and he started throwing grenades. He killed two at this time. One bounded in a rock in front of me and over my head and killed the squad leader. We were trapped from all sides. We then tried to go down a valley behind us—13 of us. We ran all the way, falling down the steep hill. They threw everything at us but never got one. We got down to the creek bed and waded all the way up it to give no tracks and it was cold.

We walked till four in the morning till two guys said, "Halt", and they were Americans. I could have kissed them both.

We then rested till day light and started walking. We were 25 miles from our unit. We walked and thumbed until we got there. We got there about 2 p. m. yesterday afternoon. We have 89 men left out of 215 men, so pop my luck I still have. I have a lot of shrapnel in my hands but it's all right. I am lucky because I got out. I just used my head as much as possible.

I am now resting. We are going back to the Hon river and set up defense. I am below the 38th now. Don't worry because I am safe now. On the run.

I am now Pfc. I think and I am assistant squad leader just because I saved two guys' lives by covering them. Now you will have lots to tell people.

If you don't like this kind of a letter let me know and I won't write them. I still feel lucky when only 89 guys out of better than 200 came out alive.

We should have never crossed the 38th. The worst thing is to hear that bugle. It scares hell out of you. The Chinks are all hoped up. They laugh and raise hell like nuts or something.

Well, tell everyone I am "o.k." and tell them hello and I will be fine. I earned my blue rifle badge. This was as hard as they were ever hit in the winter.

All my love, Your [redacted]

"Richard."

St. Aloysius Holds Fifteenth Annual "End of School Picnic"

By Pat Martindale

It has become a tradition with St. Aloysius School to bring the school year to a close by sponsoring a family picnic where children, parents, teachers, priests of the parish and even grandmas and grandpa enjoy the festivities. This year on June 3, the fifteenth annual picnic was held at Westgate Park.

Thomas Walsh, 189 North Burgess-av, was general chairman with Mr. anad Mrs. Frank Wolf, Ed Grogan, Mrs. J. N. Bonn, Edward Zmstudil, Harry Hetterscheidt, Jim Shea, Frank Shea and Mrs. G. H. Glynn as committee members.

At 10 a. m. families began to gather at the park and by noon nearly 200 persons were present. Of course food—and plenty of it—was the predominate factor of the picnic, even though little Tommie or Mary knew too well that they would probably have a tummie ache the next day if they ate too much. Appetites grow with each game of softball, tag, races, tug-of-war and the many other games. The dads who played against their sons in the baseball game claimed they were defeated because they were hungry, and those who lost games after eating used the excuse of having eaten too much.

In spite of the sudden showers the afternoon games and contests were successfully held as scheduled. Some of the children's clothing was dampened but certainly not their spirits, As one youngster put it, "What's a picnic without rain in the lemonade and ants in the potato salad, anyway?"

As the afternoon drew to an end, everyone seemed to comment on the fun they had and were wondering, "Why we don't do this more often," except mother, who as usual was stuck with "clean-up duty" and was probably hoping that at least several weeks would elapse before another picnic.

All in all this was just one of a typical American pastimes, where food has no rationing, clean fun and laughter known no bounds and worldly cares are forgotten for the day.

On Friday, June 1, a round and square dance was held at Glenwood. Tom Morton and his Buckeye Rhythm Boys played for the dance.

Last Week For Boccia Display

HIGHLIGHTS—Pointing to one of the outstanding paintings in an exhibition of works by Edward E. Boccia, "Doc" Campbell, who conducts the displays at the Hilltop Library, has announced that next week will be the last for this group of moderns. "Variation on the Return of Saint Christopher", shown above, and the 11 other paintings by Boccia will remain in the library through next Thursday.

By William "Doc" Campbell

Edward E. Boccia's stunning collection of modern art, now at the Hilltop Branch Gallery of the Columbus Public Library, through June 14, is not to be put away with a wave of your hand. The dean of the Columbus Art School—youthful and energetic—is much like his paintings. He is the first artist to make me begin to like modern, or contemporary art, as he likes to call it. His approach to this divided classic and geometric effect is masterly and orderly.

Vincent Van Gogh, the great French modern (dead more than 70 years), gives us the hint to Boccia's original work. Van Gogh, in an original letter, which I read in New York City at the Whitney Museum of Modern Art, said in part: "Artists might better follow, as do great or near-great musicians, their approach to creative art. The musicians always studied the etudes of the music-masters, then, later on, sought to create." Boccia's paintings emulate this great modernist in entirety.

Most of today's moderns fake their work to be merely a sort of copy of the greats, and I could never learn to like moderns (especially when reproduced in black and white) for they appear like corpses dug out of a grave—repelling, not compelling! Young Boccia has dynamic results which give new and stimulating thought to any onlooker. Three of his paintings are remarkable, and I shall attempt to place emphasis on their distinction.

The large "Introduction to Spring" is a gay and positive juxtaposition of grays (the drabs of "passed" winter) with the gorgeous pageant in geometric patterns, of approaching spring or youth. In fact this tremendously brilliant painting shows the geometric pattern in intense pure colors, pointing with several prongs toward the center of interest (not the center of the canvas) and at this spot is placed a genuine, gray photograph print (about 8x10 inches) of a youthful beautiful woman peering at you over crossed arms. This is a new way of enticing you to see his thought. I love that painting—positive realism with a fusillade of pointed geometric shapes. The psychology is sure and definite.

Another painting for your thought—and this one, as Mr. Boccia said, is "In the Tradition of Cezzane" French modernist, titled "Portrait of Alonzo." The head never moves, seems rigid in posture, but the background of oblong squares is ever moving in imagination behind this semi-realistic portrait—another point scored for Boccia. A realistic head and a moving, imaginative background.

The "Man Who Died" is, of course, the head of Christ—and the head with the beard is entangled within many lines and shapes to create the effect of suffering, torture, agony, etc., that Christ endured before He died on the cross.

The "Siblings" (look in your dictionary for the word) is in exceedingly low color, yet its geometric pattern holds your attention and you cannot look elsewhere until you have solved its story. It is a lovely low gray-yellow-green flat decoration that does not thrill but tends to make you wonder at its arresting story.

If you do not care for the artist's bold patterned results, there are two or three semi-realistic landscapes that will soothe your excited nerves. These are luscious in color and painted in the best tradition of oils.

Don't miss this different exhibition. You will undoubtedly want to compare it with others. Don't do it. Study it in the light of a young man's endeavor to break away from fake and commonplace pictures! Use your imagination and enjoy his half-way trip between old tradition and terrible soul-less moderns! We are fortunate to have this scintillating collection shown here on the Hilltop. And, by the way, Boccia next year will be assistant dean of art at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Wedding bells are heard for MISS EDWARDS on Wrexham. HOMER BARTON is the lucky man.

Another happy bride who recently walked down the aisle is the daughter of MRS. R. G. VANCASTLE. ELIZABETH married JAMES WATT, formerly of Indiana.

Caught in the rain Sunday afternoon was LOUISE BECKMAN. She had a lot of warning but she was so hot she decided to wait until the rain really started. It came upon her so fast as she was resting on the front lawn, that she was deluged. She laughed it off, as usual.

MARYLAND came to visit us last week. I mean the state of MARYLAND. These visitors dropped in on the DILDINES and had a fine reunion.

Speaking of reunions GERRY RENTSCHLER hadn't seen his friend of Canton for a long time—way back when they were buddies during the war or before the war or something like that. Any how, he and his wife entertained the Canton, Ohio, family over the week-end.

A new job is what MARIE GOLDMAN wanted, and she got it. She's now behind a pane of glass at one of the out-door theaters. She loves it because she gets her housework and all her meals finished, and then goes off to work for just a few hours.

Now that RITA TRAPPE has new glasses she says it boosts her morale like a new hat used to do. She laughs and says she feels like she had her face lifted.

GARNET BROWNING gets so provoked when her phone rings and its only an insurance agency or a photo studio or the like. The other evening GARNET got a call from her husband. He fooled her and asked how much her family was insured for and before he had a chance to explain, she told him to mind his own business and "click" she hung up. John got a kick out of it. She says he got what he deserved.

Yesterday there was a bridge luncheon at MRS. R. C. VEIT'S. The ladies are always glad to get out a noon time—but what mother doesn't have to prepare a home meal before she goes out?

At least that's what my wife says all the time. You'd think the way she talks that I eat all the time. If wifey would eat more she'd talk less. Yet, those are probably just the two things she can do at one time.

Can't win, — we men.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davison, 69 Belvidere-av, were the guests of honor Sunday, May 27, at a basket dinner held at the home of cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Endsley, near Excelsior Springs, Mo.

To Enjoy The Great Outdoors Fix-Up the Porch and Yard

With spring housecleaning under our belts we turn our attention to the OUTSIDE of the house. There is the garden to be planted; screens and storm doors to be maneuvered; the lawn to be "shaped-up"; and then it's time to drag out the old canvas chair and enjoy the beauty we have created.

After the porch is scrubbed-down we take a look at last year's porch furniture and check the damage wrought by a winter in the basement, attic, or garage. Oftentimes a good wash job will brighten it sufficiently for another year, or an amateur paint job makes it look as good as new.

If you did a good paint job on last year's glider but can't brighten up the cushions, West Hill Furniture, 2364 W. Broad-st, does have the cushion sets in a variety of colors and designs.

However, if you want to start out with "brand new" furnishings, it can't be denied that "luxurious" is the word for the latest thing in silent gliders. And what can you do to glamourize a porch or yard more than to decorate it with a cool-looking chaise lounge? A porch complimented by a chaise lounge, grass rug, potted plants and cool lemonade couldn't be more hospitable.

All-metal furniture for porch or lawn is damaged very little by being left victim of the summer elements, and it is easy to paint them when the time comes for rejuvenating. Mr. Nafziger of Hilltop Furniture, 2364 W. Broad-st, suggests you try a chair with a spring-steele base with a perforated back and seat for comfort. He has them in red, green or yellow, so you can choose a color that will make your porch or lawn look as fresh as the summer dew.

For added convenience when it's tea or cocktail-time on the lawn, Mr. Shadler of West Hill Furniture would like to have a small metal table beside his lawn chair. West Hill has them in red only but they paint very easily.

Erlenbach's Hardware, 2409 W. Broad-st, can offer you a chair which combines the wearability of metal with the comfort of canvas. It is a folding chair with legs and braces of substantial metal with canvas back and seat. Gather any number of these handy chairs together with Erlenbach's new folding picnic table and you can have a picnic dinner anytime, anywhere. This table is conveniently portable! The metal legs and masonite top fold into what can be carried as easily as a suit cse.

If you like to create your own designs in outdoor furniture, you can get the makings from the Jones Lumber Co., 57 N. Sylvan-av. Or you might consider one of their wooden chairs which are available in many stages of completion. These chairs which are known to have been moved into distant states may be had either unpainted or completely knocked down. That gives the hammer and nail man something to busy himself with.

But whether you clean-up, rejuvenate or redecorate the outside living area of your home, don't forget it "belongs." Sit down, relax, enjoy it.

JUNE

"And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune.
And over it softly her warm ear lays."

James Russell Lowell.

"Long about knee-deep in June
'Bout the time strawberries melts
On the vine."

James Whitcomb Riley.

"A noise like of a singing brook
In the leafy month of June,
That to the sleeping woods all night
Singeth a quiet tune."

Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

JOLLY TWELVE CLUB, ORGANIZED IN 1931, PLANS SUMMER TRIP

Back in October, 1931, a few ladies met at the home of Mrs. Russell Brooks, 486 Maple-dr, to make doughnuts for a PTA affair. So much fun was had that the "Jolly Twelve Club" was formed. After 20 years of continuous friendship, they are one of the oldest social clubs in Rome.

Once a month a complete dinner is served by a member and once a year they celebrate with a dinner party in Columbus or a trip out of the city. This year Mrs. M. A. Howell was successful in securing 12 tickets to Ruth Lyons' Fifty Club at Cincinnati for June 25.

In the early days of the organization members would take refreshments and a small gift in honor of another member's birthday and would give farewell parties to those who moved away. During the war periods they made cookies and sent them to sons and sons-in-law of the members.

Original charter members still active in the club are Mrs. Russel Brooks, Mrs. Joseph Coulter, Mrs. W. Willis and Mrs. D. J. Woehrle, Sr.

Mrs. O. O. Tope, 285 Lenox-av, entertained the following members June 6 at her home: Mrs. W. J. Stormont, Mrs. Oscar Baker, Mrs. Joseph Coulter, Mrs. Russel Brooks, Mrs. M. A. Howell, Mrs. Henry Warner, Mrs. W. Willis, Mrs. D. J. Woehrle, Sr, Mrs. James Snyder, Mrs. L. A. Thompson and Mrs. William Butin.

Under the glass on my desk: "The soil of sadness watered by tears is the most fertile and rich of all. In it all good things grow;"

"Every day, in banks, subways, on the street, there are many like you and me. They pass by quickly and once in a while when the need is great, they do not pass by each other;"

"To every man there openeth
A way, and ways, and a way.
And the high soul climbs the high way
And the low soul gropes the low;
And in between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro,
But to every man there openeth
A highway and a low.
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go."

A brilliant young man with high ambition and a most pleasing personality—that's Jimmy Osuga. If you haven't heard Jimmy sing you are unfortunate. I'm one of the lucky ones for I have two of his records and they are about worn thin. Jimmy is a busy lad. Director of the Junior Choir of the Broad Street Church of Christ; is youth director; Sunday School worker; young people's counselor and he also sings in the senior choir of that church. A graduate of Capital University, he played on the tennis team of that college and is interested in light-weight boxing. He is soloist at numerous weddings and other functions and he sings for free, just because he likes singing. A native of California, he and his parents have lived in Columbus several years. Jimmy is grateful to Columbus people, and especially Dr. Floyd Faust and others at the Broad Street Church of Christ, for taking an interest in him and his voice. "It's a pleasure to know and to work with Jimmy Osuga." That is what Jimmy's friends and co-workers say. I'm one of the many who predict a great big future for this 26-year-old.

Here is a safety hint from somewhere that's worth passing along: "Don't fool yourself that because you have been doing a job over and over, day after day, without an accident, that you are immune to them; that you have a charmed life or that the job is not dangerous. If you have been doing your job from force of habit some day you will be reminded, perhaps by a mere scratch or perhaps by a broken leg, that you are not giving enough thought to the job you are doing. A good habit can be quickly transformed into a bad or dangerous habit, unless accompanied by thinking. This is especially true of driving a car. Of course in the case of driving a car it is always the other driver who should remember those words of wisdom, for accidents are sometimes HIS fault. Buckpassing seems to be here to stay."

Grandmother Keeps Busy Feels Good; Took Hadacol

When She Heard How HADACOL Was Helping People Suffering From Deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin And Iron

Keeping up with two small grandchildren as well as doing your housework can keep one woman mighty busy. And Mrs. B. R. Battle, 807 Archer, Houston, Texas, does just that. There was a time when Mrs. Battle didn't feel up to all this though. She was bothered with stomach disturbances and vague aches and pains. Then she heard the news about how Hadacol was helping relieve conditions caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Here is her statement:
"I had been troubled with indigestion and aches and pains. I heard about HADACOL and began taking it. After the fifth bottle I began to feel better. I could eat better and rest better and the pains and aches were less. I have now taken 12 bottles and can truthfully say that HADACOL has helped me a lot."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin, but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come in Liquid Form

There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be A 'Doubting Thomas'

After reading Mrs. Battle's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula may help you if your system lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Battle, it may do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia, when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest druggist if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, [illegible] only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or economy size $3.00.

Soldier Answers Mother's "Why Do We Fight" Query

Pfc. Earl Welker

"Why are we fighting in Korea?" is the question asked in debates throughout the country. A direct answer to the question was given by Pfc. Earl Welker, son of Mrs. Earl F. Welker, 123 N. Burgess-av, in a letter mailed to his mother from his station in Japan.

The letter began:

"I received a letter from you today in which you asked the ever repeated question, "Why do we fight in Korea?" Maybe I can answer that question for you — at least I can try.

"You may not realize it, Mom, but the land on which our house is built, the porch you like to sit on in the summer nights, and the big old tree in the front yard, all that, and your every day freedoms are the stake for which the enemy is gambling.

"This is not a war for the liberation of a small strip of land, nor is it a war to protect a nation of poor, bedraggled people that a year and a half ago we knew nothing of. It is a war against an enemy whose sole purpose is to conquer the whole world. The Commie has but one goal, world domination.

"You must remember that 10 years ago the Germans said, "Today Germany, tomorrow the world!" Today we face a different slogan, "Today Korea, tomorrow the whole world!"

"Our enemy has no regard for human rights, for justice as we know it, or for truth as we know truth.

"The attack on Korea was only the start for these mad men who wish to destroy everything we hold dear. We must have victory in Korea, because the Reds won't stop there. They not only want Korea, but the islands of the Pacific, of all the seas and oceans—but more than anything they want to do away with our way of government.

"We will never let them get that far, as long as we remain strong and have faith that what we fight for is right.

"There are a lot of good American boys dying to uphold everything we know to be right and you people back home must never let them down. I am proud to know that I am a part of the machine that is stamping this evil force into the very ground . . ."

With these words, the former student at West High School, closed his letter. Prior to his induction in November, Earl was employed at the Columbus Packard Co. and assisted at the local draft board.

Children's Program Precedes Annual Church Picnic

Children's Day will be observed at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Sunday morning, June 10, at 10 o'clock, with a program of songs, recitations and a religious film. Mrs. Glenn Rowe, assisted by Mrs. Edward L. Schneider, will have charge of the program.

The program will be followed by the annual picnic dinner held in Westgate Park for the congregation. John McLurg is general chairman. The afternoon will be given over to a recreation program.

Louisiana Mother Says Housework is Much Easier

Mrs. Leo Picard, Church Point, Louisiana, is mighty proud of her two daughters. Wilma Jean, 5 years old, and Juanita Marie, 4. She says it's a full-time job just keeping track of them. It wasn't too long ago when it was all Mrs. Picard could do to just barely get her work done. Now all that is changed . . . now that she has been taking HADACOL, for Hadacol seemed to be what Mrs. Picard needed and Hadacol may bring you the relief you are seeking if your condition is due to a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down, weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come in Liquid Form

There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be a "Doubting Thomas"

After reading about Mrs. Picard's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Picard it may do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress, and a general run-down, weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On a Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest druggist if you have a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size only $1.25 Large family or economy size $3.50.

Bible Comment:

Americans Must Seek Spiritual Preparedness

We think of nations preparing for war, children preparing for school, young couples preparing for marriage and campers preparing for possible emergencies yet seldom do we realize that the Christian must also prepare.

The whole story of the founding of Christianity is one of preparation. Every aspect of the ministry of Jesus, the missionary labors of Saint Paul and the life of John the Baptist yields evidence of readiness.

Think of the boy Jesus obediently listening and learning in Nazareth, equipping himself for that ministry which was to be so short in earthly years but timeless and endless in its truth and blessing.

Nor should we forget the long, silent years of Paul's training for the tasks of a missionary.

John the Baptist also spent long years qualifying himself to serve God to best of his ability and called upon all men and women to prepare themselves, saying, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight."

In the face of the military preparedness demanded of this country by the world situation, it is more important than ever that America's citizens be spiritually prepared, for nothing in God's providence is accomplished without discipline and preparedness.

Let us all make an effort to remember the preparedness that professed the greatest of all ministries, the ministry of Jesus. And let us all make an effort to achieve preparedness through earnest prayer and a daily life guided by the ten commandments.

The feeling that comes over you as you join the folks on Sunday is as inspired and soaring as the church steeple, yet as warm and humble as a neighbor's handshake.

You and your friends, sharing the thrilling inspiration of church services become vital strands in a harmonious web-work held secure by the frame of religion.

You need the church and the church needs you!

"I was glad when they said unto me, "Let us go into the house of the Lord." Psalms 122.1

Protest

to Clime-rd for single dwelling units.

Reasons expressed on the petitions for the group's opposition are, the depreciation of the value of homes in the vicinity, the deprivation of owners' property rights since they may not be able to sell or develop their properties if the proposed project is built; inadequate school facilities, fire protection, police protection, recreation facilities, transportation, sewerage, water, gas, stores, and the innumerable problems that would arise because of the project's location outside of the city limits.

The group's concern for the impending construction of the multi-dwelling units was heightened by the announcement that the sewerage plans for the project had already received city approval. Some few seemed discouraged because the prospective builders have gone so far in their planning, but the large majority expressed their desire to fight the plan out to "the bitter end."

Edward F. Schilling, 3181 Parkside-rd, expressed the group's determination, when he told the assembled neighbors that Westlake had been in Chicago at FHA headquarters negotiating for a federal loan and that it had been turned down only because of certain minor details. He said, "If they have straightened out these points and gone back to the FHA and gotten a loan, we're sunk. But if they haven't gotten the loan yet, we must stop them. We must use every way to convince the federal and local authorities that the voters are vitally interested in stopping low-cost construction in this area."

Schilling explained that S. P. Haban real estate firm held a $27,000 option on the land. "The option," warned Schilling, "is good until August."

Mrs. Mary Demorest then added the opinion that "the people in the township will certainly join you in the opposition of this project."

A petitions committee was formed under the direction of Ted Todd, 820 Chestershire-rd. The committee went into immediate action and by Sunday had collected over 500 signatures on protesting positions.

'Round The Hill Topics

After last week's sortee into the gentle art of columning and a few complimentary remarks seeded into the "so what" variety, we again brave the ire of the reader by another attempt at emulation of The Spectator, who is vacationing for the money . . . and speaking of vacationing the venerable Dr. R. J. Miller this week hied himself toward the cold waters of Canada to try his skill against the wily muskie . . . we truly envy the good Doc on his luck and are now anticipating some tall ones on his return . . . before he left Dr. R. J. imparted to us a secret . . . he carries a ball bat in the boat with him and knocks the fish cold . . no fooling.

Casting about the Hilltop this past week for newsy tidbits, did note that the HBA lads are again preparing for the annual bean dinner . . . which date has been set for July 10 and 11 . . . elsewhere in these prints are more details of this annual get-together . . . Jack Sherick, the dancing maestro, stopped in the other day and imparted to us the fact that his recent dance revue for the benefit of the "Y" building fund netted $96.32 for that worthwhile cause . . . it's three cheers for Jack and his keen interest in Hilltop youth . . . Speaking of cheers, we're expecting cigars from George Halvorson one of these days, too . . . Noted, too, that Alva Nafzger has accepted the president's job of the HBA for the balance of the year, provided he is given plenty of support . . . we're wishing Alva a very successful administration.

Scanning the ad copy of this week did notice an outstanding contribution by Sherm Hoover of Hoover Meat Market . . . he really taps the nail on the head relative to meat shortages . . . his message is found on page 6 . . . Noted, too, a report of the season's first home grown ripe tomatoes . . . Ethel Rings of New Rome says her garden owns them . . . and the inevitable has happened—Russ Carter has always talked farming and will do so soon when he moves up Smoky-rd way.

Of interest to many local residents, too, is the graduation of Robert Whalen from the Apostolic Bible Institute in St. Paul . . . he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Whalen, 785 S Hague-av . . . speaking of graduations, Robert A. Turk of 792 S. Eureka-av garnered an MA in Political Science at Ohio U last Sunday.

Robert Morris Chapter, order of Eastern Star, is planning its annual Festival for June 26 at West Gate Masonic Temple . . . tickets to the event are now available from any 1951 officer . . . out Westgate way too, did note that remodeling is progressing nicely on the new American Legion home . . . understand the Camp Chase boys hope to move in the near future . . . Along the club news front also is the fact that a Hilltopper, Joseph A. Fodey, 143 Powhatan-av, has been named as president of the Lions Club of Columbus.

Sunday is "Father's Day" . . . give homage to that guy that brings home the bacon every week . . . or better yet, tell him to take the day off and go out to that 13 Club Stag Outing at Beulah Park this Sunday . . . he'll thoroughly enjoy himself.

Flowers of the Week To Bob Draper

Dear Bob:

Too often the gratitude of a community and its people is not properly expressed to one who has given so freely of his service for so many years as has been true of you during the past 12 years while you have been a member of the Columbus Board of Education.

Last Wednesday night when you handed out the diplomas to the West High graduates was no doubt one of the high spots of your career because these were the same youngsters that were starting their education in first grade the year you became a member of the Board of Education.

It was a fitting honor and climax to a career marked by the realization of an ever improved Columbus Public School system made possible through the guidance of public spirited citizens like yourself giving many hours each month to this job and during twelve years never receiving one cent remuneration for it.

And now as I look back to 12 years ago when you first started your services to the community I am certain the community joins in extending a hearty "Thank you" for a job well done. The Hilltop and Columbus need more men and women who will be willing to give of their time and talents without seeking personal gain.

It is with sincere congratulations from a grateful community that we send you the Rosebud-Hilltop Record Flowers of the Week.

Ceremonies And Parades Open City Playgrounds

PARADE—A parade of decorated vehicles opened Holton Park's summer activities. The youngsters entering the march rode bicycles, tricycles, scooters, garbed crepe paper decorated baby buggies, strollers and doll walkers.

One of the wisest investments of our times in the city's playgrounds, where the safety of our children is guaranteed and juvenile delinquency finds no place.

Of the 70 playgrounds in Columbus, 58 are sponsored by the City Recreation Department and 15 by the Board of Education.

The Hilltop boasts of seven well supervised playgrounds located in various neighborhoods to serve all sections: Glenwood, the supervisor of which is F. N. Reister, with assistants Barbara Frosh and James Lyons, is located on the Glenwood recreation grounds; Columbian, with supervisor William Reinhart, is located on Columbian-av; Holton Park, on Westwood-dr, will be supervised by Betty Sheean, assisted by James Storey; Westgate Park, on Westgate-av, is being supervised by Mack Pemberton and Mrs. Margaret Edwards; and Highland playground on the Highland Avenue School grounds will be supervised by Rosa Trigg. Supervisors for West Broad Street School and John Burroughs School playgrounds, appointed by the Board of Education, are Janet O'Neil, Charles Beachler and Mary McAndrews. All supervisors are persons well trained for the job.

One of the first of the Hilltop playgrounds to open was the Highland Avenue School playground, under the direction of playground supervisor, Mrs. Rosa Trigg, 44 S. Oakley-av, assisted by Lilly Mae Brown, Joan Saunders, Delores Parks, Carol Good, Alice Jones, Mrs. Paul Ross, Mrs. Trafford Ream, Mrs. Guy Boots, Mrs. Wilbur Stanfield, Arlene Ross, Mrs. Herman Zielke and Mrs. Howard Lloyd.

The Monday afternoon festivities started with the flag raising, pledge of allegiance and the singing of "America" by Camp Fire groups Tanda and Nah-top-pi.

The girls of Mrs. Guy Boots' group Tanda were Helen Zielke, Ann Evans, Patti Donaldson, Darlene Maxwell, Linda Boots and Mary Grabill, Nah-top-pi girls with Mrs. Trafford Beam as leader were Carolyn Decker, Joan Roast, Roberta Armentrout, Ze-Ang Stanfield, Carolyn Cooper and Peggy Hastilow.

Annual HBA Bean Dinner Scheduled For Two Days

In a meeting held earlier this week plans were revealed for the annual Hilltop Business Association Bean Dinner to be held at Westgate Park. The dates of July 10 and 11 have been reserved for the annual event which has become a community institution.

According to Chairman Robert Kneisley, plans for the annual affair are now well underway with committees already in action and events being slated well in advance. The only deviation from past years' bean dinners is that no beans will be served on Tuesday, the first day of the affair. They will, however, be dispensed on the next day.

A band concert has been tentatively scheduled for 6 p. m. as the opening feature of the bean dinner on Tuesday, July 10, to be followed by inspection by the public, of the merchants' displays which to date number over fifteen.

On Wednesday, the bean dinner will really be in full swing, with beans being served at the bean tent, contests scheduled during the entire afternoon for both young and old and the big prize awards scheduled for the evening.

HBA Secretary Jack Morris today urged all merchants who are planning a display for the bean dinner to contact the Hilltop Business Association offices no later than June 30 in order to be sure of reservations and proper tantage. He said that space is now going fast and that early reservations are absolutely necessary.

Committee chairmen announced by Kneisley this week are, tickets, Joe Briggs; concessions, Chubby Distelhorst; grounds, Ed O. Malvin; bean tent, Curt Roberts; first aid, Ben Knepper; prizes, Jack Alkire; tents, Bill Coon; games, Bob Case, and publicity, C. C. Hartley.

The new Mrs. Watson, well known on the Hilltop as "Libby" Downing, former society editor of the Record, was more recently employed by the Zanesville News.

Mr. Downing collapsed as the wedding march began and was administered to as the wedding went on with Ned Downing, a cousin of the bride from New Madison, O., giving the bride away. Rev. Edwin S. Jones proceeded with the ceremony before some 150 guests. Mr. Downing was pronounced dead at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

In addition to his daughter, survivors include his wife, Elizabeth; another daughter, Mary Leona, and a son, Stephen; a brother, Jack, and a sister, Mrs. Ruby Mikesell.

Scouts Need Equipment, Do A Good Deed

Have you done your good deed for the day, or even the week?

If you haven't and you want to live up to the old motto, you have an easy "out"; you can give your old camping, cooking or GI equipment to a Boy Scout troop that faces a crying need for such material.

The West Side troop needs all types of camping and hiking equipment, including shelter halves, mess kits, canteens, knives, sheaths, tents, shoulder packs, knapsacks, or anything suitable for outdoor use.

At the present time, troop members have none of this necessary equipment. Anyone wishing to donate such material may contact John Branch at FL. 3468 or Fred Asberry at AD. 1008.

"Could Have Sold 100 Rugs . . . Great Paper," Says Dr. N. T. Miller

We like to share the comments we receive from our advertisers, because it pleases us to find them so pleased with the paper.

Last week we found the following letter from Dr. N. T. Miller:

"In the 31 years I have been practicing on the Hilltop, I never have had the response to an advertisement that I had from that one offering a rug for sale that I ran in your paper.

"Thursday, throughout the day, Friday, Saturday and Monday and Tuesday of this week I received calls. I quit keeping count the first day, when the rug had been sold. I could have sold 100 rugs. Believe me, I and my wife were kept busy answering the phone, and each time we had to repeat the same old story, 'the rug has been sold, sorry'.

Galloway

By Mrs. Eva Ramey

About 30 relatives and friends gathered at the Isaac Ramey home last Wednesday night to help him celebrate his birthday. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Putman of Columbus, Mrs. Ines Rice and daughter, Dorothy, of Hilliards, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rooker of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Rooker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tyler and daughter, Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Biser, Beatrice and Tommy Biser, Mrs. Gobel Watson, Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett and sons, Cecil and Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Morris, Rosalee, Bradley and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ramey and daughter, Virginia Ann.

Mrs. Alice Smith and Elsie spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ora Smith and family of Georgesville.

Mrs. Ida Wilson is spending a few days with relatives and friends in Columbus.

Our sympathy goes to the Bubey family in the death of their husband, father, son and brother, George Bubey of Columbus. George was a former resident of Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ramey called on Mr. and Mrs. George Kitchen of Lilly Chapel Sunday evening.

Mrs. Faye Rideneur and daughter, Nancy, called on Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Byrum, Sunday evening.

Did you know that a study of convalescent children's appetites concludes that a seven-ounce glass of milk an hour before each meal does not interfere with mealtime eating?

Patrol Entertains Boys' Club

Members of the Columbus Boys Club were entertained Tuesday by representatives of the State Highway Patrol. Patrol Sgts. E. E. Smith and A. B. Cook supervised the program which included an exhibition of Judo, first aid, transmission of radio messages, films on safety and general information of state police work.

TB Control Week Proclaimed

Governor Frank J. Lausche recently signed a proclamation setting aside the week of June 10-16 as TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL WEEK IN OHIO. At the same time, Dr. Robert H. Browning, Director of the new Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus, announced plans for an open house and Tuberculosis Institute on Thursday, June 14.

The observance of Tuberculosis Control Week and the announcement of an open house is to acquaint the people of Ohio with the services of the new tuberculosis hospital and to point out the fact that the control of tuberculosis continues to be a serious problem in Ohio.

In his proclamation, Governor Lausche pointed out that the efforts to reduce the deaths from tuberculosis had met with a great degree of success throughout the years: Through the use of new drugs and modern hospital care it is now possible to cure a great many more patients of their disease and to return them to a useful, productive life. "But," said the Governor, "with all of the progress made, more than 1,600 persons died of tuberculosis in Ohio last year. Over 6,000 new cases of the disease were found. Health officials estimate that there are from 16,000 to 20,000 unknown cases of tuberculosis in Ohio today. Case finding programs and hospital beds are therefore extremely important. The new tuberculosis hospital at Columbus is a welcome addition and a vital necessity to the continued good health of our citizens," the Governor said.

As part of the day's ceremonies, programs will be provided for health officers from every city and county in Ohio, public health nurses, physicians and doctors from all tuberculosis hospitals, tuberculosis nurses, county commissioners and the executive secretaries of all county tuberculosis and health associations in Ohio.

It is this group of public health people who will be responsible for finding the cases of tuberculosis, making accurate diagnosis of the disease and seeing to it that the patients are admitted to the new hospital.

Tuberculosis associations, health departments and private physicians find the new cases through examination and mass X-ray surveys. Hospitalization must be provided immediately for the good of the patient and to protect the people in the community from further spread of the disease. Health officers and nurses must make detailed arrangements for hospitalization of the patient and county commissioners are responsible for the financial problems involved.

The cooperation of every health official in the county is necessary if we are to make the best use of the new facilities. There are plenty of new cases needing hospitalization according to recent Ohio Department of Health reports which show that over 6,000 new cases of the disease were discovered last year.

— Letters To The Editor —

Dear Editor:

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again
The eternal years of God are hers;
But error, wounded, writhes in pain
And dies among her worshipers."

There never has been a perfect crime. Some clew is left that leads to the apprehension of the criminal. No matter how skillfully the criminal has laid his plans, the truth, sooner or later, will be found out.

The same thing is true in matters of state. Efforts have been made to cover up tragic errors, but in time the real facts are revealed.

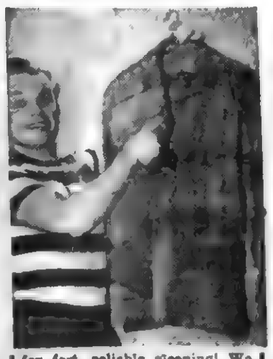
Our nation recently has experienced attempts by offenders to cover up their blunders, two of which were the "Pearl Harbor" incident and the "Sidings Case," but the "whitewash" has worn off and the truth has come to light.

Lincoln once said, "You can fool all the people part of the time and part of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

It has been said that we are the most gullible people on earth. This may be partially true, but as Lincoln said you can't deceive all the people all the time. Maybe our people are being deceived and misled by the president and his propaganda machine in the MacArthur investigation? We wonder how many people are being blinded by the president's fear of a third world war?

We wonder why the president didn't think of the tragedy of a third world war when, on his own initiative without consulting Congress, he ordered our boys to be sent to Korea where 140,000 casualties are reported, more than half of which have been kept from the public?

We wonder if the president wanted to get rid of our great statesman and military general, because MacArthur as a free American citizen wouldn't "stay put" under his thumb as some military puppets do?



Could it be possible that our president is trying to get control of the military forces of our country and then at the appropriate time command them to take over everything, Congress and all, and set himself up as a dictator?

This very thing has happened in other countries. It is possible to happen again.

Awake, America. Put only real Americans on guard. Our country and our freedom is on trial.

J. A. DOWNEY.

SMALL BUSINESS

Congress wants to take steps to make the Secretary of State responsible to Congress, and thus to the people.

The problem is this. In days gone by, the State Department merely functioned to observe international amenities, carry out intent of Congress when relations with another nation became thorny.

E. W. Harder

However, the United Nations has changed all that. Actions are now taken by the State Department without consent or knowledge of Congress.

Now even a small one man business can be wiped out by the State Department.

The carefully worked out system of checks and balances has been destroyed and the Secretary of State dominates not only in foreign matters, but in matters affecting business, taxes, even life or death.

Many of the confused orders controlling vital materials are State Department blunders.

It is a situation that was never visualized. Traditionally, the President has been intellectually equal to his State Secretary, as in the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations.

Current happenings reveal that the reverse is now true. The tail now wags the dog.

failing to realize that a Communist is nothing more than a Socialist in a hurry.

Hearings on the rubber mess by Sen. John Sparkman's (D. Ala.) Senate Small Business Committee is outlining the extreme efforts that Acheson has exerted to bolster up the Socialist government of Britain.

So far, hearings have shown that in 1948 synthetic rubber program was all but sabotaged to protect British rubber monopoly profits.

Korea boosted natural rubber prices 600%. American taxpayers are paying to save Socialism in Britain at any price, even in American lives and dollars. Disagreement with MacArthur views show same trend.

MacArthur wants to blockade China. This would cause severe financial loss to British Malay interests who shipped in first nine months of Korea 130,000 tons of rubber to Red China; 40,000 tons to Russia.

There is also the Acheson record on convicted traitor Alger Hiss; his plan to force the Chinese Nationalists to form a coalition government with Communists.

Briefly, that is the background for a movement to insure that either the Secretary of State is stripped of many powers, or safeguards set up so that the office will be filled by someone of the American people, by the American people, and for the American people.

Senate Small Business Committee is also studying the weird newsprint situation. So far one interesting fact is revealed.

The nation's 9,000 weekly newspapers, backbone of the free, independent American press, only uses 3% of the newsprint supply; the Federal government uses 7%.

Three Boys Head West On Tour

A West High footballer and two Grandview buddies hit the road Thursday, bound for the "wide-open spaces."

Dick Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Briggs, 34 S. Algonquin-av, who graduated from West High School last Wednesday, headed for California with Tom Ritter, Grandview class valedictorian, and Chuck Foster, another recent graduate of Grandview.

The three, traveling in a convertible loaned to the boys by Briggs, intend to spend about two and a half weeks touring the country. Their first long stop on the way to California will be at the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

The boys are financing the trip through their savings and graduation gifts they have received. They plan to slice the cost of the trip by doing most of their own cooking and sleeping in a tent. Briggs has been nominated to do most of the cooking; no one mentioned doing dishes.

When the trio returns, Briggs will enroll in Denison University for next fall's classes. Foster will enter the navy and Ritter intends to attend Ohio State University.

Camp Chase Nine Loses Thriller To Waverly By 1-0 Count

The Camp Chase-Beasley Grove American Legion baseball team lost a 1-0 thriller to the Waverly, (O.) Legion team in a game under the lights at Waverly last Friday night.

Right handed pitcher Jim Kimball allowed only three hits and gave up one walk only to see his team shut out in the hit department by Waverly's right handed [illegible].

Kimball, just graduated from West Jr. High, faced the toughest competition of his baseball career as he fanned nine of the classy and highly touted Waverly team.

The team left Camp Chase Post at 3 p. m. and made the trip to Waverly in a national guard truck. After a swim at Lake White near Waverly they proceeded to the downtown ball field and played under the lights before a near capacity crowd.

But error, wounded, writhes in pain
And dies among her worshipers."

There never has been a perfect crime. Some clew is left that leads to the apprehension of the criminal. No matter how skillfully the criminal has laid his plans, the truth, sooner or later, will be found out.

The same thing is true in matters of state. Efforts have been made to cover up tragic errors, but in time the real facts are revealed.

Our nation recently has experienced attempts by offenders to cover up their blunders, two of which were the "Pearl Harbor" incident and the "Sidings Case," but the "whitewash" has worn off and the truth has come to light.

Lincoln once said, "You can fool all the people part of the time and part of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

It has been said that we are the most gullible people on earth. This may be partially true, but as Lincoln said you can't deceive all the people all the time. Maybe our people are being deceived and misled by the president and his propaganda machine in the MacArthur investigation? We wonder how many people are being blinded by the president's fear of a third world war?

We wonder why the president didn't think of the tragedy of a third world war when, on his own initiative without consulting Congress, he ordered our boys to be sent to Korea where 140,000 casualties are reported, more than half of which have been kept from the public?

We wonder if the president wanted to get rid of our great statesman and military general, because MacArthur as a free American citizen wouldn't "stay put" under his thumb as some military puppets do?

Could it be possible that our president is trying to get control of the military forces of our country and then at the appropriate time command them to take over everything, Congress and all, and set himself up as a dictator?

This very thing has happened in other countries. It is possible to happen again.

Awake, America. Put only real Americans on guard. Our country and our freedom is on trial.

J. A. DOWNEY.

ANSWERS ON PAGE 8

SMALL BUSINESS

By WILSON HARDIE

Congress wants to take steps to make the Secretary of State responsible to Congress, and thus to the people.

The problem is this. In days gone by, the State Department merely functioned to observe international amenities, carry out intent of Congress when relations with another nation became thorny.

C. W. Harder

However, the United Nations has changed all that. Actions are now taken by the State Department without consent or knowledge of Congress.

Now, even a small one man business can be wiped out by the State Department.

The carefully worked out system of checks and balances has been destroyed and the Secretary of State dominates not only in foreign matters, but in matters affecting business, taxes, even life or death.

Many of the confused orders controlling vital materials are State Department blunders.

It is a situation that was never visualized. Traditionally, the President has been intellectually equal to his State Secretary, as in the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations.

Current happenings reveal that the reverse is now true. The tail now wags the dog.

Dean Acheson, a very suave intellectual, has never really been a part of the American grass roots; has no conception of how independent enterprise built America.

He is also one of the Georgetown clique who sees nothing wrong with a "little socialism", failing to realize that a Communist is nothing more than a socialist in a hurry.

Hearings on the rubber mess by Sen. John Sparkman's (D. Ala.) Senate Small Business Committee is outlining the extreme efforts that Acheson has exerted to bolster up the Socialist government of Britain.

So far, hearings have shown that in 1948 synthetic rubber program was all but sabotaged to protect British rubber monopoly profits.

Korea boosted natural rubber prices 800%, American taxpayers are paying to save Socialism in Britain at any price, even in American lives and dollars. Disagreement with MacArthur views show same trend.

MacArthur wants to blockade China. This would cause severe financial loss to British Malay interests who shipped in first nine months of Korea 130,000 tons of rubber to Red China; 40,000 tons to Russia.

There is also the Acheson record on convicted traitor Alger Hiss; his plan to force the Chinese Nationalists to form a coalition government with Communists.

Briefly, that is the background for a movement to insure that either the Secretary of State is stripped of many powers, or safeguards set up so that the office will be filled by someone of the American people, by the American people, and for the American people.

Senate Small Business Committee is also studying the weird newsprint situation. So far one interesting fact is revealed.

The nation's 9,000 weekly newspapers, backbone of the free, independent American press, only uses 3% of the newsprint supply; the Federal government uses 7%.

A DETROIT woman was uninjured when an automobile crashed into a drugstore, knocking her off a soda-counter stool. Maybe she had once worked as a curbhop at a drive-in.

A Reading, England, citizen claims he can stop rain from falling by stepping out into the garden and concentrating. Aw, he's probably all wet!

In Memphis, Tenn., police accused a man of breaking his wife's jaw twice: once because his coffee was too hot and a second time because it was cold. Guess they both have grounds for divorce!

Attempting to set a world record for non-stop piano playing, a Boldon, England, resident plunked the keys for 186 consecutive hours. Or was he trying to compose an unfinished symphony?

Wish somebody would invent a shrink-proof budget to resist the annual deluge of June wedding shrivel.

Legion Baseballers Win First League Victory By 10-2 Score

The Camp Chase-Beasley Grove baseball nine won its first league game against Southway-Potter Geger at Southview field last Sunday by a 10-2 score.

Jim Smith, who made fame with his no-hit, no-run game for West Senior this past season, right handed 20 Southway players out by the strike-out route. He allowed only four hits.

Pitcher-outfielder Jim Kimball, who played left field this game, led the hitting attack for Camp Chase with 3 for 3, two singles, a double, and two triples, as he drove in four runs and scored three himself.

Catcher Ken Garber collected a single and double as he scored three runs.

Three Boys Head West On Tour

A West High footballer and two Grandview buddies hit the road Thursday, bound for the "wide-open spaces."

Dick Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Briggs, 34 S. Algonquin-av, who graduated from West High School last Wednesday, headed for California with Tom Ritter, Grandview class valedictorian, and Chuck Foster, another recent graduate of Grandview.

The three, traveling in a convertible loaned to the boys by Briggs instead to spend about two and a half weeks touring the country. Their first long stop on the way to California will be at the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

The boys are financing the trip through their savings and graduation gifts they have received. They plan to slice the cost of the trip by doing most of their own cooking and sleeping in a tent. Briggs has been nominated to do most of the cooking; no one mentioned doing dishes.

When the trio returns, Briggs will enroll in Denison University for next fall's classes. Foster will enter the navy and Ritter intends to attend Ohio State University.

Camp Chase Nine Loses Thriller To Waverly By 1-0 Count

The Camp Chase-Beasley Grove American Legion baseball team lost a 1-0 thriller to the Waverly, (O.) Legion team in a game under the lights at Waverly last Friday night.

Right handed pitcher Jim Kimball allowed only three hits and gave up one walk only to see his team shut out in the hit department by Waverly's right handed Bill Markmeyer.

Kimball, just graduated from West Jr. High, faced the toughest competition of his baseball career as he fanned nine of the classy and highly touted Waverly team.

The team left Camp Chase Post at 3 p. m. and made the trip to Waverly in a national guard truck. After a swim at Lake White near Waverly they proceeded to the downtown ball field and played under the lights before a near capacity crowd.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Vacation time is here again. Just as MR. AND MRS. SCHULZE returned from a week's stay at Buckeye Lake, son HERMAN took off for Denver, Colorado. We got a card from him at his stop-over in Chicago.

"I was robbed," said HAL RASHER. Yep, that he was. He purposely went to bed early Monday night, got up early to play golf and it rained half the morning. And it was his only day off this month. Better luck, next time, HAL.

According to MRS. LARKIN, her husband doesn't putter around in his garden like he started in the early spring. Now that he has the vegetables growing, LENORE has to see to the rest of it, he says. Well, she does.

"Because of that, — because of that", sounds like a certain advertisement, but to ELSIE BROWNLEE, it's an every day expression she finds herself saying to her little girl, every time the little one gets into scrapes,—such as "because of that, you'll be punished."

"You're doing fine—now hold it"—said the amateur photographer ALEX GRAMM who lives on Belvidere. He took some pictures of his family at a reunion. When he was all finished, he tripped over his tripod, dropped the film, which unrolled, and his snaps were ruined.

Yesterday MARLENE WALLACE had her sewing class party. Three years ago she met quite a number of young women when she learned to operate her new sewing machine. They meet three times a year and show each other what they've done from one time to another.

We're sorry to relate HERB FELTER fell from his horse on his uncle's farm last Friday, and broke his kneecap. He's coming along fine now and he still wants to go riding again as soon as he's well.

Speaking of riding horses, SAM SCHILLING has told me he's ridden horses in his day and he'll take an automobile any day.

See! Just the difference in people's opinions. But, of course, Sam just bought a new BUICK last month. No wonder!

J. J. Williams, Owner Of Sohio Station, Is Horse Racing Fan

J. J. Williams

J. J. Williams, owner-operator of the Sohio Filling Station on the corner of Sullivant and Wayne-avs, is a Kentucky man and, having been born and raised in the "Blue Grass State", he's an avid racing fan.

In fact, according to Williams, other than hunting and tending the lawn and flowers around his home at 818 S. Hague-av, his only hobby is attending outstanding racing events. He draws the line, however, at sulky racing.

Williams, a personable, balding, red-haired man, entered the filling station business the hard way, via an attendant's job. After working for a number of years, he acquired the station he now owns at 2421 Sullivant-av, 10 years ago.

He is married and has one son.

Hunting, a secondary hobby, is one that Williams has to take when the opportunity is afforded him. He likes to hunt rabbits and birds, but his problem is finding time to go out and tramp the fields to get them.

Vacations, especially the one he hopes to take this summer, are also a problem. "I don't know where I'll go or when," he said, "but I'll get there."

Williams is a member of the Hilltop Business Association and the Odd Fellows Lodge.

MEATS and The Truth About the BEEF SHORTAGE

Many of my customers are asking "WHY DO WE HAVE A BEEF SHORTAGE?" Well, the truth is there IS NO BEEF SHORTAGE but it should be evident by this time to the average citizen that there is something rotten in Denmark. The big packers have set out to break the controls on beef and will probably end up by doing so unless you, the one who buys it, do something before the controls expire June 30th. We have a courageous man in the person of Mr. DiSalle in the office of Price Stabilization who understands the issues and is meeting them squarely. The controls in my opinion are fair and allow a just profit to anyone handling meat, the retailer as well as the packer. It seems unjust that four packers in the U. S. could wield such power but that is the case in the meat industry, as in some other fields, for example the soap manufacturers, where two or three companies can set the price of raw materials such as tallow and grease, and then charge the consumer any price they can get.

Their motto, as Eric Johnston said, is "damn the consumer, full pocket books ahead." Now Mr. and Mrs. Consumer, there are a few things you can do in the future to remedy this most situation. Scattered around Columbus are dozens of small independent slaughtering establishments, some retailing, others selling to retailers. HOW MANY OF THESE HAVE YOU PATRONIZED LATELY? Our quota is based on what we killed the corresponding months of 1950. Had our patronage been greater our quota would have been greater. I would say that there are enough slaughtering houses in Columbus and Franklin County to well serve this area, if we had the quota and help to do so.

While not speaking for other slaughterers, I imagine their experience is somewhat similar. I was forced to lay off help for lack of business in the recent months.

Why? Again some one asks me this. I do not know, but I do know that we have as good meat and in most instances are lower in price than meat obtained from the big packers. It is impossible on short notice to slaughter enough meat even if we had the quota to fill the needs. It would not be sensible to try and expand either, for the emergency just past taught us that people will go right back being payers of big business after the emergency is over. It is everybody's right to deal where they please but it isn't always good sense, as you probably see for yourself at this time. You can not only help yourself but others in using your own good judgment as to whether there is sense in this message. At the end of the last war the big packers did the same thing and succeeded for the reason that the O.P.A. helped them shuttle price controls. About the only meat available, if you remember, was that killed by the small independent slaughterers who were labeled "Black Marketers" by the big packers as well as the enforcement staff of the O.P.A., who, I regret to say, have a few of these men on the boards of the O.P.S. But, as I said before, Mike DiSalle knows what happened then and has guarded against such mistakes in the future.

The same cry has gone up again by the big packers, but they have cried wolf! wolf! too often and are not scaring Mr. DiSalle one bit. Many of us worked hard and long hours to meet the needs of our customers and notwithstanding a lot of propaganda we did not overcharge our customers. Some of us worked far into the night getting up orders with nothing more than our customers' interest at heart. True, many of our places don't compare in size and grandeur with the chain stores or the plants of the big packers, but inside the buildings you will find something that they never had and that is a heart and the desire to be of service to the people of their own locality. You won't find many of us refusing to help bring you meat at the lowest possible prices. I am not writing this message in anger or with the desire to hurt anyone; rather I am trying to point out the dangers of placing too much trust in 'big business.' Don't do panic buying, don't be misled into believing there will be a shortage and don't buy any more than will serve your immediate needs. To do so would help break controls and will encourage black markets. Write to your Senator or Congressmen asking him to help keep your meat prices down, and above all DON'T PAY MORE THAN CEILING PRICE.

We will do our best to bring you good meat and assure you it will not be above ceiling price, in fact, most of the time much lower. Our supply will be limited and we will be forced to close part of the time but I am sure things will work out. Phone your order in early as we will take care of our customers first.

Sincerely,

J. E. Hoover

Miss Loretta Bihr, Harrison, O., maid of honor, and Miss Viola Bischoff, St. Leon, Ind., bridesmaid, wore gowns styled alike of maize and aqua taffeta, respectively. They were styled with a high sheer yoke and draped berthas trimmed with rosebuds. Their hats were of net and chantilly lace and they carried bouquets of dark pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Mrs. Walter Schumann, St. Leon, Ind, and Mr. Edward Bihr, Harrison, O.

Dear Folks:
We know you probably do not remember us, but we were recent patrons of your restaurant. Making a cross country tour, we stopped to eat. Your place was one of many but I remarked to my husband, Joe, driving out—did you ever taste such good food?
I felt I must write a word of appreciation. The service was excellent and the thoughtfulness of the waitress in warming the baby's milk will not soon be forgotten. We will surely recommend your establishment to our friends who might be making trips. Any time we travel your way we expect to make a special point to visit you again.
Cordially yours,

68 Years Old, Yet Now Climbs 155 Feet to Work on Scaffold
HADACOL Relieves the Cause of Nervousness and Weakness When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Seems like more and more folks are finding out every day that they have to keep themselves in tip-top condition to really stay on the ball as far as doing a good job is concerned. Mr. John L. Napier, Route 1, Moselle, Mississippi, certainly found out that aches and pains, weakness and nervousness were interfering with his work as a bricklayer and carpenter.

But Mr. Napier heard how HADACOL was helping folks with such conditions that may have been due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

Here are his own words: "Before taking HADACOL, I was suffering with aches and pains for awhile. Then, came the time when I was weak and nervous. I am a carpenter and bricklayer. I also run a farm. I kept feeling bad and getting worse. Then I heard about HADACOL and immediately began taking it. After taking only one bottle, when I retired at 9 P.M. I would fall asleep immediately. After the third bottle I went back to work, carpentering and laying bricks. Now, I climb as high as 155 feet and work all day on a scaffold. I have never felt so well in many years. I am 68 years of age. And, when there is no carpenter or brick work to do, I work on my farm, planting and harvesting my crops. Thanks to HADACOL."

There's a clue that may help you, if you are suffering from a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Why continue to suffer . . . why experiment . . . why let your distress drag you farther and farther down? For it is these very Vitamins and Minerals you may need that HADACOL supplies in a quantity greater than the minimum daily requirements. And this marvelous formula contains helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium, too.

HADACOL builds up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to send these elements coursing, surging, throughout your body, to every body organ. Already dissolved, in a special liquid form, the elements are absorbed quickly and easily in your system. Carries a strict money-back guarantee.

Father's Day Gifts Featured As Time For Purchasing Here

By Judy Jones

FLASH! Only three more shopping days until Father's Day. Yes, June 17, the day set aside for honoring the fathers in the family is rapidly approaching. Show your appreciation for the screen door "Dad" fixed, the basement he cleaned, the time he spent with the "kids," etc., by giving him one of the many suitable gifts featured especially for him.

A word of warning: If you are not sure of what you want to buy, go shopping with these facts at your fingertips: hat size, shirt size, waist measurement, sock size. You will then be semi-prepared to buy whatever catches your eye.

No size or measurement is necessary however to buy what has been and I imagine will continue to be one of the most popular gifts for "him" anytime of the year. That, of course, is the tie. The Esquire Men's Shop, 2417 W. Broad-st, has ties and more ties for you to select from. Solid colors of the latest in modern designs they will have something to please you (I mean him).

The Esquire also features the latest in sports shirts. In weaves, knits and cloth you will find new color combinations and patterns that can give your man a dressed-up look in sports wear.

Seiller's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st, has an A-gift suggestion in their delightfully new lounging pajamas, a special feature for Father's Day. They come in cool and serviceable cotton with plain cuffed slacks and a matching semi-checked shirt. Excellent for the traveling man, they will find a use in any man's wardrobe.

A store with their walls literally stacked with Father's Day gifts is the Hilltop Sporting Goods Store, 2461 W. Broad-st. Every phase of every sport is prevalent in the store. Special gift ideas are the "cold-fire" colored billed hats and the straw sun hats which have been featured lately in many magazines and other mediums.

If he is a camera enthusiast the Photo Shop of the Sporting Goods Store will have what he hankers for, be it camera, film or accessories.

If some other hobby monopolizes his time you may be able to find his gift at Buell's Hobbyland, 2423 W. Broad-st. Equipment for models of every description is prominent at the Hobbyland and a wide selection of materials to work with. They also have a variety of magazines dealing with hobbies which would make an appropriate gift to the interested party.

Other gifts are available at local jewelers and hardware stores so give Dad a second thought and appreciation of the wonderful guy he is.

Policeman Back In The Pink Again —Says He's The "Kilroy of Old"

HADACOL Relieves Lack of Energy When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

It takes a good man, a man that's really up and at 'em, to help keep an eye on one of the world's largest office buildings. So when Jimmy Kilroy, 1153 Belden Ave., Chicago, Ill., found himself below par . . . in a sluggish rundown condition . . . he turned to today's great HADACOL. He'd heard how this wonderful formula corrected the real cause of such troubles when due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. As a result, he's back in shape again, loaded with energy and enthusiasm.

Here's what Mr. Kilroy has to say. "A few lines to tell you the great things your HADACOL has done for me. As a prize fighter and now as policeman assigned to one of the world's largest office buildings, I have always had to be in the best of shape. A month ago I found I was in a rundown condition, lacking energy, always tired and sluggish. And a young man one day said at one time he was the same. Advised me to buy a bottle of HADACOL, which I did. After two bottles, started feeling like myself and from there on I got new energy. Have been working in the gym 1 hour daily and everyone tells me how great I look and act. It really is a great product and I will always keep taking it. I feel like the Kilroy of old."

There's just no doubting an honest, sincere statement like that. Surely there is no need to be a burden to yourself, to your friends, or to your family, if you are suffering from such troubles due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. HADACOL supplies more than the minimum daily requirements of these elements plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium. It really goes to work to build good red blood, better hemoglobin, (when Iron is needed) to make sure that the precious Vitamins and Minerals are aped to every part of the body, to every body organ. HADACOL is quickly absorbed in your system because its important elements are already dissolved in a special liquid form that's easy to take.

THE FLAG

I am the "Grail that gleams"—
Men follow me
To distant lands
Across a troubled sea.
They look at me
Through young and homesick eyes;
I'm not a flag—
To them I symbolize
A little town,
With one street wandering through;
Wide fields of corn; low hills—
The things they knew
Before their world
Became insanity . . . .
I am the "Grail that gleams"—
Men follow me.

Gripe of the day: In many of our dealings with Uncle Sam he requires us to prove that we were born by submitting a birth certificate, but when it comes to collecting taxes from us he never doubts our existence. (Not original—heard it somewhere.)

Here is a hot-weather note, from "Kentuckiana All Over" by Edwin Finch: "In 1899, another cold winter in Kentucky, George Ramsey was living in the home of Mrs. A. D. Melton in Madisonville. One door in his room opened to a porch.. George poured water around this door and his window, thus weatherstripping them with ice. The door remained frozen, keeping out the cold all winter."

From "Tonics and Sedatives" (AMJ): "One of our neighbors is proud of her little boy's scientific knowledge and likes to show him off to her bridge club. One afternoon she asked her quiz kid, 'Bobby, what does it mean when the steam comes out of the spout of the kettle?' 'It means,' replied Bobby, 'that you are going to open one of Daddy's letters.'"

My own private Waterloo: Trying to get anything done in the morning till after the paper is read (The Ohio State Journal is welcome to this free advertising, though they probably won't know about it) and the mail comes; trying to keep Satan behind me when I see a vacant house out in the country, with flowers in the yard; trying to be interested in whether it's cactus or roses on a given dining-room table.

I know "tempus fugits" but it seems impossible that Jimmy Reeder, 813 Wiltshire-blvd, is eleven years old today—Flag Day. To help him celebrate his birthday, his Grandmother, Myrtle L. Reeder, who is one of this city's fine poets, has written a poem. Congratulations, Jimmy, and here's the poem:

GROWING UP

His new stand(s broom-handle high—
And as spindly, I might add.
With every inch of him a bomb
Of energy, just waiting "to be had."
His pitching arm is expertly trained
As toppled hats and broken window panes will prove;
His only excuse being that such practice
Keeps him fit and in the groove.
Where once he was content to play
With miniature planes and cars,
His interest now runs to rocket planes
And the inhabitants of Mars.
He has begun to wash his face
And half-way comb his hair;
To brush his clothes without being told,
And give his nails some care.
We are waiting now for the day to come
When he will ask to drive the car.
And demand an allowance that will more than cover
One show, one soda, one candy bar.

Bible Comment:

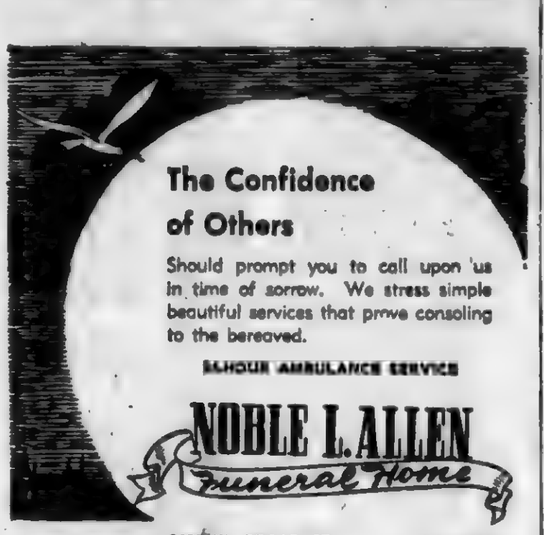
Thomas Is Proof That Honest Doubt Leads to Riches

IT is fitting, in these days of widespread skepticism, that we pay tribute to Thomas, the one disciple who was not content with hearsay evidence.

Mildly rebuked by the Lord for his unreadiness to believe, Thomas received proof. The Lord pointedly said, however, "Blessed are they who have not seen, yet have believed."

The weakness of Thomas seems to have lain not in his inquiring mind and in his hesitancy to believe except upon clear evidence, but in his rather gloomy pessimism, a fault of which we are becoming increasingly guilty.

The great thing about Thomas was that he truly wanted to believe. A sincere desire for faith prompted Thomas, to question facts before accepting them. To a lesser degree such disciples of faith and action as Peter, James and John possessed this trait.



Honest doubt has an important part to play, both in the experience of the individual believer and in the progress of religion. Among sincere and earnest seekers doubt has been the gateway to richer experience.

But it was the faith that cried, "My Lord and my God," not his previous doubt, that has created for Thomas a high place among those who have testified to the Resurrection.

To Thomas and the other doubters of his time, successive generations of Christians owe a great debt of gratitude for belief in the fact of the physical Resurrection depends in a large part upon the testimony of those disciples who saw Jesus after His crucifixion.

JOE BRIGGS Says:

He that is good for making excuses is seldom good for anything else.

Slippery roads are no excuse when you skid into another car and face a claim for damages. Maybe you couldn't help it . . . but you have to pay just the same. Why not let insurance pay those claims for you? It will save you many a headache as well as paying the bill. See JOE BRIGGS, 2596 Sullivant Ave., RA. 3194.

AMERICAN · SOCIETY · MERIT AWARD · INDUSTRIAL · ENGINEERS

In the home laundry field, only the Westinghouse Laundry "Twins"—the Laundromat and the Clothes Dryer—wear this Coveted Seal of the American Society of Industrial Engineers which reads in part:

"Because they are sound in engineering principle and design, produced from correct materials and manufactured in strict conformance to the accepted standards of quality-controlled production processes."

IT'S AS SIMPLE AS 1-2-3
THE LAUNDROMAT...

1. WEIGHS Your Clothes on its Exclusive Weigh-to-Save Door. You are sure of washing the right amount of clothes in just the right amount of water with the right amount of soap.

2. SAVES Soap and Hot Water—When you set the Laundromat's Water Saver Dial to correspond to the weight of the load you are washing—small, medium, regular, you save gallons of hot water and soap, too!

3. WASHES Clothes So Clean. The patented Inclined Washing Action of the Laundromat gently and thoroughly washes each piece without your hands touching water. And, when the clothes are washed clean, they stay clean because dirty wash and rinse waters are drained away from the clothes—never through them!

'Round The Hill Topics

Out and around the Hilltop these days one becomes more acutely conscious of the summer vacation period . . . what with seeing cars pulling away from the curbs loaded with luggage and hearing wishes for a nice trip being called by neighbors as some lucky soul drops the worries and cares of every day work and flies off to some distant spot for relaxation and a week or two of pleasure . . . a card from D. Clarke Fineran now sojourning at West Palm Beach . . . told of his attendance at the Kiwanis Club there as guest of Vern Fiscus . . . Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cornwell accompanied by Regina Sheskey departed Sunday on a vacation trip through the east . . . and numerous other of our Hilltop folk are also on the road . . . in the meantime we read the post cards dropped off along the way and sigh in anticipation of our vacation days.

Another sign too, of the vacation fever is the youngsters now swarming into the local parks to frolic, romp and play games under the supervision of well trained and community conscious women of the Hilltop area . . . a bouquet to these ladies and their devotion to guidance of our youth.

Summer time, of course, always brings about the usual planning for the annual Hilltop Bean Dinner which is sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association . . . the committees are busy and it behooves all of us to give what aid we can to this annual community get-together the best ever. And too . . . don't forget that up and coming Hilltop Lions Club . . they've really come to life in these past few months and give every indication of giving other local service groups a tussle for honors as the most active group on the Hill . . . it's hats off to the Lions for their sponsorship of a big July 4 celebration at West High Athletic field.

Along the club news front too was the notice that young "Bill" Ferguson has been elected as commander of Camp Chase Post of the American Legion . . . Fletcher Wright as illustrious master of West Gate Masonic Lodge and Carl Smith as chancellor of Mentorwood Lodge of the KP . . . passing from the Hilltop scene this past week was another figure long faithful and industrious in the work of the service clubs of the community . . . Ray McVay's presence, will be keenly missed at the Kiwanis and American Legion.

Summertime of course brings its problems other than the heat and this past week was no exception to the rule with Duane Shively, son of our shop foreman, Weldon Shively, taking a tumble from a swing and coming up with a fractured clavicle . . . a note too, in passing, that those summer dangers of swimming can be offset greatly by having the youngster attend those Red Cross swimming classes at the local pools . . . they learn to take care of themselves in the right manner there.

And it's congratulations this week to Mr. and Mrs. J A Ingles of 296 N Harris-av, who on Tuesday observed their 41st wedding anniversary. Thirty-one of these years of marital bliss have been lived right here on the Hilltop.

Another of our Hilltop friends we note has accepted a new position, Walter F. Evans has advanced to position of sales representative and office manager for Graf and Sons, Inc., over on W. Goodale-blvd.

To wind up the week's observations anent the happenings around and about the hill . . it's a friendly pat on the back to Sgt. Joe Foster and Patrolman Herb Winters of Columbus Police Department for their sincere endeavors to promote traffic safety in the city and in the Hilltop area. We believe their approach to the problem is the right one . . . of finding the cause of accidents and enlisting the driving public's aid in elimination of the cause . . . more power to them and we'll lend what aid we can in these prints to lower the accident rate in this section of the city.

Falls Injure 2 Youngsters

Pin-setting at a Hilltop bowling alley proved to be a hazardous occupation for Howard Morris, 13, 2136 McKinley-av, who suffered a fractured left forearm when he fell into a pin pit Thursday. He was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Another West Sider treated at Mt. Carmel for injuries was Bobby Pack, 13, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce, 434 W. Town-st, who suffered severe cuts on his right hand when he fell on a broken pop bottle.

Westgate School Approved By NPA

Construction of the projected Westgate Elementary School was assured Friday by an announcement by John Bork, manager of the Columbus district office of the National Production Authority that the construction was approved and authorized.

The building, estimated at more than $300,000, was approved last spring in a special election.

Police Radar Patrol Is Proving Vital Factor In Campaign to Make Local Streets Safer

WAITING — The two radar patrol cars are pictured as they wait by the side of the road for a traffic violator to ignore their warning signs and speed past them. Note the radar transmitter (black box) located on the left rear fender of the rear car. Violators are clocked at almost the position the cameraman was in to take this picture.

ACTING—Officer E. J. Kleinhenz looks into the radar patrol car as he and Officer A. J. Dufort watch the reading on the radar speed indicator mounted on the dashboard. Dufort has the radiophone off the hook on the dashboard, ready to phone ahead complete details on the passing speedster.

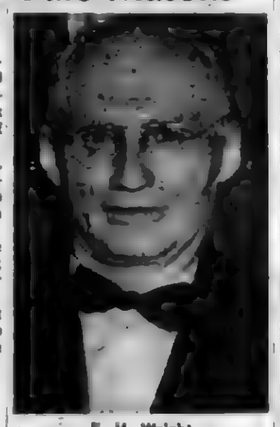
A blue, 1947 Plymouth four-door sedan rolled smoothly by the Columbus Police radar-patrol car on Hague-av as Officer A. J. Dufort picked up the radiophone and told his partner in the second patrol car about 150 yards ahead, to stop the blue Plymouth—45 miles an hour."

Officer E. J. Kleinhenz stepped out of the black Ford cruiser and flagged the Plymouth to a stop. In a little less than five seconds a speeder had been spotted, clocked by the radar-patrol's outfit, a radio message sent that was received on the second patrol car's radio, headquarters' radio and on a tape recorder in the police headquarters' building; the arrest was made.

The "speedways" on the West Side see this rapid fire action almost every day and yet the speeders keep on getting caught.

The fact that the patrol picks up speeders in the same areas day after day doesn't surprise the officers anymore, but it certainly came as a shock to this reporter to see drivers ignore large "speed control zone" signs posted at least 100 feet behind the cars.

It seems to indicate that speeding drivers are a danger, not only through the velocity of their autos, but also in their inattentiveness to such obvious details as two patrol cars with "POLICE" lettered on their rear decks in 10-inch letters, the large black radar box attached to the rear left fender of the last car and the signs.



If drivers fail to see these things, how can they be expected to notice a small child darting from the curb or a person stepping from behind parked cars?

Officer Dufort has "worked" the radar patrol for the past two years; Kleinhenz has acted as his partner for one year.

The two begin their day at about the time heavy traffic starts to stream into the city. They drive

Arnold Durbin, 281 E. Richardson-av, past illustrious master, was elected to serve a three-year term as trustee.

The installing officers were Ray Newlun, Everett Crawford and Harry Fell.

K of C Holds Picnic

The Knights of Columbus held their annual Family Basket Picnic Day last Saturday at Buckeye Lake Park.

"Citizens' Committee" Formed To Arbitrate Transit Problem

A "Citizens' Committee" has been organized to settle the present Transit Co. situation by arbitration, on "a just, equitable and lasting basis" between it and the city, according to Emile Reiss, attorney for the committee and its acting secretary.

The committee is presently composed of Gary Nichols, 4500 Dublin-rd, president of First National Cleaners, acting chairman; Emile Reiss, 1909 Sullivant-av, attorney for the committee and secretary; Jack Morris, 52 S. Eureka-av, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association; Rabbi Jerome D. Folkman, Bryden-rd Temple Israel; John A. Knight, secretary of the Builders' Exchange; Harry Mayfield, labor leader; Albert Crombie, educator and author.

Plans call for the inclusion of eight more members on the committee.

The representative body will hear both sides of the controversy, and all witnesses who may contribute anything to the solution of the problem, or have any points to make are invited to attend. The proceedings will be conducted according to the arbitration laws of Ohio.

In his first statement as a member of the committee, Reiss said, "The present measures taken to solve the problem have been too political. After all, the people pay the freight and should settle the problem, once and for all."

Early last week Reiss filed a petition in Common Pleas Court against the Columbus Transit Co. to secure an injunction preventing the line from withdrawing their buses and to place the company in the hands of a receiver, while the action is considered in court.

His petition pointed out that if the buses were removed from the streets the city would be without transportation service for the majority of the population and that it in turn would suffer large losses of revenue.

"I consider that receivership would be the best way to operate the transit company while the court is considering the issue, because it would be operated exclusively subject to the jurisdiction of the people."

Speaking on the subject, Reiss

Bowling Lanes To Open In September

Two new bowling alleys on W. Broad-st, now under construction, are scheduled for September openings.

The Hillcrest Bowling Alleys, located just east of Wilson-rd on W. Broad-st, being built by William E. Wright, owner of Imperial Engravers and the Old Trail Lanes, under construction in the former Old Trail Theater building, built by Robert and Jerry Winkel, are both slated for September initiation ceremonies.

'Honey Of A Problem' Solved In Westgate

The search by health and smoke abatement officials for the cause of the "mysterious" greenish-brown droplets that have been staining cars and homes in the Westgate area ended last Thursday when honey bees were found to be the culprits behind the nuisance.

The drops, which appeared in the area bounded by the city limits, Broad-st, Sullivant and Westgate-avs, plagued residents by leaving oily spots on car and house paint when washed off with water.

Smoke Engineer Harry C. Ballman assigned men to survey the area to find possible sources. They set up sampling stations and the Columbus Health Department began to analyze small amounts of the sticky substance which had been isolated.

Finally, after consulting State Apiarist S. E. Bailey, Ballman decided that honey bees are the cause of the local consternation.

Bailey said, "Clover is in bloom. Bees love honey. Quite they love, they find it difficult to fly and [illegible] part of their load."

Earlier in the week, Ballman had guessed that bees might be the cause and remarked that he couldn't see a solution. "You can't enjoin them," he declared.

Rips Up Ticket, Argues, Loses, Serves Time

Carl E. Rowsey, 2729 W. Broad-st, had a brief disagreement with a police officer in Washington Court House and came out on the losing end.

Rowsey, a driver for a contract star mail route between Columbus and Washington Court House, got a ticket for double-parking in the small city. According to police, he tore up the ticket and resisted arrests.

Acting upon these charges, Police Judge Richard R. Willis fined Rowsey $25 and costs for disorderly conduct and $100 and costs for resisting an officer.

The W. Broad-st man was sentenced to the Cincinnati Workhouse last Wednesday to work out the $125 in fines and the costs.

Ray McVay

Services were held for Ray F. McVay, 54, 165 S. Roys-av, Monday in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church. McVay, local business and community leader, died Thursday at Mt. Carmel Hospital after apparently suffering a heart attack.

He was owner of the Ray McVay Co. and the Bauch Coal Co., 217 W. Main-st, and recent purchaser of the Lewis & Noon Coal Co., 78 N. Sylvan-av. Alkire Rd. Mishap Fatal For Driver

An East Side man died Tuesday in Mt. Carmel Hospital from injuries he received Monday night, when his car rammed a brick abutment.

Clyde Adams, 40, 1003 Franklin-av, died after he suffered fractures of his skull, a broken nose, broken right jaw, forehead lacerations, dislocated hip and multiple bruises and cuts.

Sheriff's deputies said that the accident occurred when his car left the highway in the 8000 block of Alkire-rd and rammed the abutment.

Evelyn Jane Sanburn, 2574 Sullivant-av, was awarded a degree in last Saturday's 107th commencement exercises at the University of Michigan.

Bean Dinner Committees Anticipate Large Crowd

Hilltoppers had better begin trimming their appetites, because the Bean Dinner planners expect to tickle hungry palates on July 10 and 11 with their tentative orders of 500 pounds of beans, 350 pounds of wieners, 350 dozen wiener buns, 3000 paper cups and plates, 30 pounds of coffee, 15 cartons of crackers and 5000 lumps of sugar.

Diners at the annual affair, sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association, will find the bean tent aromatic Wednesday with the stewing odors of bean soup flavored with good, old-fashioned ham hocks, and the tempting tang of newly cooked wieners. Plenty of milk will be available for those who wish it. No beans, however, will be served on the opening night.

The bean dinner opening will be held at 6 p. m. Tuesday, July 10.

Tentative plans call for a band concert as the opening feature.

Following the concert, the public may inspect the merchants' displays. Fifteen displays have already been arranged.

Contests will fill the entire afternoon Wednesday, with prizes for both old and young. Wednesday evening, prizes totaling $1,000 will be given away.

Masters of ceremonies for the prize awards will be Joe Goodwin and Dewey Stout. Chairman for prize committee is Jack Alkire.

Members of the prize committee are Harold Ely, William Southworth, Marvin Southworth, Gus Johnson, Robert Mawell, Ed McGurer, Del Pack, Erm Groves, Fred Rather and Joe Worthin.

The committee chairmen are—tickets, Joe Briggs; concessions, Chubby Distelhorst; grounds, Ed O Melvin; bean tent, Curt Roberts; first aid, Ben Knepper; tents, Bill Coen; games, Bob Case, and publicity, C. C. Hartley.

HBA Secretary Jack Morris again urged all merchants who wish a place in the displays to contact the Hilltop Business Association not later than June 30 to secure reservations.

Local Banks Establish New Working Hours

The Columbus Clearing House Association has adopted a new schedule of banking hours to go into effect on July 6 for West Side banks, to provide additional Friday banking hours. At the same time the association agreed to conduct regular banking business on four days now observed in financial circles as holidays. All banks will be closed on Saturday.

Regular banking hours will be held on Washington's Birthday, Lincoln's Birthday, Columbus Day and Armistice Day.

The local banks will operate from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Monday through Thursday. Friday hours have been established as 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. They will not be open on Saturday.

W. D. Ferguson Elected To Head Camp Chase Post

William Ferguson

William D. Ferguson, 36 S. Hague-av, was elected commander of Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, in an election held at the post headquarters Friday.

Ferguson is a World War II veteran as are the newly elected first, second and third vice commanders, Fred Holaday, first vice, George Levasay, second vice, and Walter Zimmer, third vice.

Six of the 11 offices filled went to World War II men.

Other officers elected were sergeant-at-arms, William Adams, WWI; chaplain, Clarence Fuhr, WWII; finance officer, Robert Jones, WWI; members of the post executive committee, Lynn Baker and Elmer Young, both WWI; member of the post permanent home committee, Fran Morgan, WWI; and as a member of the Franklin County Council executive committee, John Martindale, WW II. They will not be installed until September.

Camp Chase is the third largest post in Columbus and Franklin County.

W'gate Home Owners Set Up Association

The latest in the moves of home owners in the vicinity of Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd to halt the construction of a multi-unit, low cost housing project was registered Wednesday night when they met in Franklin Township Hall to organize the Camp Chase Civic Association.

The association, which will be an incorporated group, is aimed at not only effectively blocking what members term "the end of Westgate's westward expansion and the utter devaluation of our homes," but at a long range planned development of the area surrounding Westgate, both township and city, say its members.

Earlier, members of the group reported that they had received a letter from Congressman-at-Large George H. Bender, which quoted the local head of the FHA as saying that while the loan may be passed by his office at some later date, after certain corrections were made in the plan, he saw little change at floating it, considering "the soft condition" of the local loan market.

Grand Jury Indicts Dale

The Franklin County Grand Jury indicted Chief Petty Officer Thomas L. Dale, 38, 135 Lechner-av, on shooting to kill, Tuesday.

The indictment was leveled at the naval reservist after he told police he wounded his ex-wife, Dorothy, 33, at the Lechner-av home and then wounded himself.

Model Plane Meet Set For Sullivant Airport

"Ol' Doc" Lemon To Act As MC For Lions July 4th Festivity

The Hilltop Lions and WCOL's disc-jockey in the leopard skin outfit will combine on July 4 to produce a gigantic "stay-at-home" program at West High School for the community's residents.

The Lions Independence Day planning committee, under the chairmanship of Carl Schmelzer, has succeeded in securing the services of "Ol Doc" Lemon, local platter madcap, who will emcee the evening, adult section of the day's proceedings.

The statistics on the "Doc" show that he was born in Marion about 30 years ago. He lists his home town as Columbus and has worked in radio since he was 13. A veteran of WW II, he was discharged from the infantry after four years' service, as a lieutenant.

Lemon's experience in radio stretches from here to Dallas. He built his reputation largely on his "Goodwill Dawnbuster" show on Station WJR in Detroit and by his daily performance on two radio shows and a TV program on three Cleveland stations. He was acclaimed as the country's hardest working disc jockey by "Billboard", "Variety" and "Broadcasting".

Since he has been back in Columbus he has emcee'd and aided many community events.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

The FRANK SHEA FAMILY had a humdinger of a trip. They went up to Buffalo and over to Niagara Falls this week. They needed a vacation from all the work they put in redecorating and painting their home.

Learning to play the electric organ is BILL FRANKLIN. Ever since he graduated from high school he's wanted to learn the piano or organ. So now in his spare time, his wish has been granted and he's doing so well, he's on his third practice book.

Used by LILLIAN SMYTHE is her new vacuum cleaner. She says she'll never get anything but a Hoover—AND she's not a Republican, either.

I'm afraid that little gentle MARLENE WINTERS will have to be more careful in the future. This new bride started to the store to get her husband some lunch meat and she fell off the curb in front of her house. NOW hubby goes to the store and helps cook, while MARLENE nurses a few torn ligaments in her ankle.

I must say HELENE CUSTER gave a splendid performance when she got out her daughter's bike and went around the block a couple of times to the "whistles" of the neighbors.

SYLVIA SWANEY had a rough time taking the ink spot off the pocket of a white shirt. We offer sympathy to hubby JIM who now is minus a pocket, due to a surplus amount of bleach.

I'm not a miracle man, but I'll bet I can paint a house quicker than CARL PHILLIPS can paint his dog house. We're all kidding him over here. He got started two weeks ago and hasn't finished yet.

To tell the truth, when his back was turned his dog upset his paint and he lost it all. So he says he doesn't know whether it's worth it to buy any more—PAINT, not dog.

Living is going to be easy for PAT and MAE STRUBLE this next season. They got themselves a half acre of ground out beyond the city limits and are gardening like regular farmers. They're raising corn to freeze in their locker for next winter.

Really getting around these days is friend RUSS STITH. He bought a station wagon four years ago—and this summer he's taken it to Texas and back, with a thought of a trip to Utah this fall. Let's all go with him!

Not me though—my mother-in-law lives there. Think I'll send my wife there to stay.

Grandview-av Bridge Now Reopened

The Grandview-av bridge over the Scioto River was reopened to traffic Saturday.

According to County Engineer Guy Elbin, the bridge, which has been closed since May 21, has been braced by new steel supporting stringers and a bituminous flooring poured over new steel floor plates.

The 285 foot long bridge was rebuilt by workmen who worked, said Elbin, "from dawn to dusk." Cost of the reconditioning project was $65,000.

Monkeying With the Thermometer

The general manager of a leading association of retail stores recently said, "Retailers are not opposed to price control as one phase of an anti-inflation program but they do not believe that inflation can be controlled through price control alone. They believe that price control deals only with symptoms and that in theory price control is tantamount to trying to alter the temperature of a room by monkeying with the thermometer. To attempt to attack inflation by price control alone not only is bound to result in failure but also eventually will hurt production of goods, the only long-term remedy for inflation."

The real causes of inflation are many, and are totally beyond the control of the manufacturer, the retailer or any other private group. They lie in excessive government spending, in unsound fiscal policies, in ever-recurring, ever-rising budget deficits, and in the heavy increase in credit. Price control, no matter how wisely planned and how well administered, can offer but slight resistance to these powerful inflationary forces. Indeed, as has often been pointed out, price control itself can contribute to inflation by retarding production and producing scarcities.

We now have a fifty-cent dollar. We will eventually have a five or ten cent dollar unless the government follows monetary and budget policies which will cut costs to the bone, encourage savings, limit credit and, as nearly as possible, put the nation on a pay-as-we-go basis. Monkeying with the thermometer doesn't change the temperature.

The Folks Back Home

The House of Representatives has been doing good work in cutting the proposed 1952 budget. Item after item has been closely scrutinized, and some have been pared by as much as 50 per cent. The House Appropriations Committee has charged that although "this nation has been in an emergency since the end of the war," nevertheless "all agencies of the government resumed business as usual, disregarding the varied and continued threats to our security. To this is added, "All agencies, it seems, are willing to assist in the defense effort provided they can continue to carry on their regular activities."

In the long run, the issue of government economy versus government extravagance will be decided by "the folks back home." Some of the worst offenders have been civic, business, agricultural, labor, and other local groups which have turned all possible pressure on their Congressmen in search of tax handout for all manner of activities. These groups are invariably in favor of economy as a general principle, but they frequently issue high-soundng resolutions demanding cheaper government. But, it turns out, they want the other fellow—never themselves — to bear the burdens of the economizing.

The House deserves praise for what it is doing to squeeze some of the water out of the pending budget. It should do a great deal more than it has so far. It can and will do it if the voters show that they support iron-handed economy. In the long run, the people still run our government, and the people's wishes are final.

SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARDER

An interesting air battle wages in Washington. The battle is bitter, and as so many battles along the Potomac these days it is a conflict between Sen. John Sparkman's (D. Ala.) Senate Small Business Committee and a Washington bureau seeking to protect and enrich monopoly.

C. W. Harder

The Committee is engaged in hearings to find out why the Civil Aeronautics Board is trying to drive out the nation's airlines classed as small business in favor of the four or five huge airlines that dominate air travel.

So far, the hearings indicate this one fact. If you attempt to operate a business without government subsidy, and reliably serve the public at a lower cost, some bureau is sure to crack down on you.

The few huge airlines who also receive millions from the government in mail subsidies do not like the competition from independent airline operators who furnish a fast travel service without all the "plush" trimmings for one-fourth to one-half the fare charged by the big airlines.

Yet, as brought out by the testimony of Andre de Saint-Phalle of California-Eastern Airways, the big airlines reached their biggest year in 1950, yet only 5% of the population travelled by air.

And that 5% was made up largely of people with more than $10,000 a year income, or those on expense accounts.

On the other hand, the small airlines, to which by clever phrasing the big airlines impute illegitimacy by referring to them as "irregular", carried only 2.6% of the passengers.

In fact, testimony reveals that the head of one major airline does not want the common people to travel by air, stating it is essential to eliminate all special low rate fares to "get rid of all those persons riding on airplanes who don't belong on them anyway."

Saint-Phalle asked a very pertinent question.

"Is it the intent of Congress that the mass of the public be left on the ground while the privileged few are served steak dinners aloft?"

Bear in mind that the small airline operators do not want government subsidies as enjoyed by the big airlines.

All they want is to continue giving the public low cost air transportation.

Safety does not enter into the argument, either, as all airlines, large or small, are bound by the same safety rules.

And on this point, the big airlines wanted no part of a public airing of comparative accident records.

But even though the 760,000,000 passenger miles flown by independently owned airlines in 1950 represented less than 3% of the total business, big airlines feel uncomfortable.

Eventually, they know, the public will ask why they cannot offer a good service at reasonable rates, too.

So once again the nation witnesses heads of monopolies protesting they believe in and cherish traditional American free enterprise and competition, with but one exception.

The government just shouldn't allow it to happen in their business.

— Letters To The Editor —

Dear Editor:

The expression, "History repeats itself," has more truth than fiction in it. Empires have risen to heights of glory only to fall, the victim of a greater one.

Egypt became the first great empire under the Pharaohs. In time, she fell, having been conquered by Alexander, the Great. We will speak later of his empire.

In the meantime the Chaldeans were building an empire in western Asia. But she declined as a power and was eclipsed by Assyria under Sennacherib.

Under Nebuchadnezzar, Babylonia threw off the yoke of Assyria only to be suppressed by Cyrus, the Great, ruler of Persia. For a number of years the Persian Empire dominated western Asia under the leadership of Cyrus, Cambyses and Darius respectively.

The scene changed from Asia to southern Europe. Alexander, the Great, unified the nations of the Grecian peninsula and formed a great empire known as the Alexandrian Empire.

The Persian and Alexandrian Empires vied with each other to see which one would become the master. In the battle of Arbela, Alexander won and the Persian Empire lost its power. At this period Alexander Conquered Egypt.

Another power was developing in Italy under the Caesars. At one time the Roman Empire controlled all the countries surrounding the Mediterranean Sea. This included all the territory of the once great empires referred to above. But this empire declined and fell.

When Napoleon Bonaparte was made emperor of France, he had the ambitions of conquering the world but was finally defeated at Waterloo.

Recently Hitler started out to conquer the world. His end is well known.

Stalin seems to have the same ideas and we hope he meets the same fate as Hitler.

Yes, history repeats itself, great empires have risen to great heights, each adding something to the progress of civilization, but each crumbled into their own dust and ruin.

What has been the cause of the downfall of these empires? There is but one answer — selfishness, corruption, dictation, injustice and greed for power.

May our country profit by these examples. The prevention of the same fate rests with the people. We are a democracy and elect our own officers.

Let this be our motto: "My country, when right I will stand by her. When wrong, I will help to make her right," with my vote.

Camp Chase Wins 10-4 Contest Over Malcolm-Jeffrey Nine

Camp Chase-Beasley Grove beat the Malcolm-Jeffrey American Legion Jr. baseball team for the second time this year in a non-league tilt at Ohio State University last Thursday.

In the first inning after Krebs walked and Hughes doubled, Brown singled to score two and put Camp Chase in the lead. Malcolm-Jeffrey scored two in the top of the fifth to tie up the game 2-2.

With two out in the sixth Vincent reached first on a bobble by the short stop. Easterly singled. The catcher threw wild to first on J. Hutchison's grounder in front of the plate, allowing Vincent to score. Chesher singled to left scoring Easterly and Cobb singled to right scoring J. Hutchison.

Bill Spratley looked good as he made his first effort at pitching. He struck out four and allowed only one hit in five innings. He faced four batters in the sixth before Kimball relieved him. His wildness in walking seven attributed to his being relieved by Kimball. A little practice and he should develop nicely. Kimball got credit for the win.

Legion Baseball Nine Wins Over Franklin By 5-2 Count

The Camp Chase-Beasley Grove Fords baseball nine defeated the favored Franklin Post-Ross Cleaners team, defending Northwest League, city and district American Legion Jr. Baseball champions, in a game at Linden Park last Sunday. It was the second league victory against no defeats for the Camp Chase team.

With the score tied at 2-2 starting the eighth inning, pinch hitter Jim Hughes drove a double to center with a runner on first to score the winning run.

Out fielder Jim Kimball tripled after successive singles by Dick Hutchison and Ken Garber to score two more in the ninth and further put the game on ice.

Pitcher Jim struck out 13 while allowing six hits.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

The greatest trial of the doctor is his inability to relieve a condition after making his diagnosis, because one of the hardest patients to handle is one living under high-pressure — who refuses to slow down.

The oldest recipe for health is moderation in work, play, diet, recreation and rest. Overwork can be mental or physical, and the brain as well as the body should be allowed "time out" for rest. Work is not nearly as dangerous to health as worry, and within reasonable limits is a good antidote for worry.

However, high-pressure living is costing too many valuable lives.

Relax and live! Recreation serves as mental ballast to prevent your thoughts and tissues from becoming stale and unhealthy. Don't even take your sports too seriously! The intense desire to win can rob play of its value to your health.

What's your hurry? If you rush from bed to shave like mad, work all kind of hours, drive at breakneck speed, rush through meals—and worry in between—take an inventory and slow down. Let your doctor advise you how to RELAX AND BE HEALTHIER.

Wounded Burgess Ave. Marine Writes Of Battle And Injury

Things are rosier now for Mr. and Mrs William Johnson, 331 N. Burgess-av. Their son, Marine Pfc. William J. Johnson, Jr., was reported wounded last week in Korea, but this week's mail revealed that the wound was a painful but not serious one in the hip. He is now reportedly being evacuated to Japan.

In the first letter to his family after they received the official Department of Defense notification of his wounds, Johnson told of the circumstances.

He wrote:

. . . . "I'm sorry I haven't written to you sooner, but we have been on the move and haven't had any time to ourselves. We have been pushing the Chinks and Koreans back and hitting quite a bit of trouble.

"The other day we walked 11 hours in a rain storm and I just about froze that night because everything I owned was soaked clear through and so was everyone else's. It rained up until noon the next day and then the sun came out and we dried out.

"Well, folks, I added another ribbon to my chest on June 1.

"We were taking objective Zebra, which is a mountain on a road flank our outfit was to open and the night before we started, we could see "toxon" (Korean for many) Chinks and Koreans on it, so we called in the air force strikes and heavy artillery. We got quite a few of them that way, but more moved in during the night. The next morning we called in another air strike and more heavy artillery. It was beautiful.

"Then it was our turn to do some damage, so we started out. Our platoon was assault platoon and our squad was the point and my fire team had the point for the squad.

At first we didn't hit much but the farther up we went, the more fire we received and the more "gooks" we got. We were pinned down on a little peak and a British Bren Gun (Lend-Lease to Nationalist China) that a "gook" had been operating (but was no longer in condition to operate), was in front of me, so I backed down the hill about a foot, so I could turn the gun around and use it on them.

"Suddenly something hit me in the hip and rolled me over and what do you know? My luck ran out on me and one of the little slope heads got me. The bullet went clear through so it is a clean wound and not at all serious.

"Tomorrow I am going to Pusan to a hospital for a rest, which I really need. Right now I am in Taegu in a hospital. I had my first airplane ride yesterday and I loved it. I also saw the first American women and ice cream since I left Japan seven months ago.

As far as I know, my outfit is still 'on the line' There were 19 that fell out of my platoon of 42. None were killed though . . ."

Johnson left with the Marine Reserve Unit last Labor Day for active duty. He graduated from West High School in June, 1950.

Nuptials Read At St. John Unite Rhea Halliday, Mr. Seim

Mrs. John Arthur Seim

A June 9th evening ceremony united in marriage Miss Rhea Marie Halliday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Halliday, 1487 N. Hague-av, and Mr. John Arthur Seim, son of Rev. and Mrs. John I. Seim, Malvern, O. The bridegroom's father and Rev. C. T. Langholz officiated the nuptials at St. John Lutheran Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an imported organza gown fashioned along princess lines, featuring an off the shoulder neckline and sheer yoke with a jeweled crushed bertha effect. The long fitted sleeves came to points over the hands and were fastened to the waist in the back with tiny covered buttons. The very full skirt was worn over an old fashioned lace hoop and extended into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell gracefully from a bonnet of net and pearls.

She carried an heirloom handkerchief given her by the family of a great aunt and a bridal bouquet of white roses and carnations.

The attendants, Miss Martha Halliday, maid of honor, Mrs. Fred Kimes, bridesmatron, and Miss Martha Handley of Chillicothe, bridesmaid, wore gowns styled alike of iridescent taffets. They featured a shoulder drape and an overskirt of marquisette.

Miss Halliday wore pastel lavender and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli. Mrs. Kimes and Miss Handley wore yellow with lavender gladioli, and mint green with peach gladioli, respectively. The attendants wore head pieces of the same flowers as their bouquets.

Mr. James Seim, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and seating the guests were Mr. Howard Wilson of Detroit, Mich., Mr. Clovis Frank, Danville, O., and Mr. Paul Klotz, Malvern, O.

Mrs. Thomas Norvel Clark

Mrs. Thomas Norvel Clark, formerly Patricia Louise Goodwin.

White gladioli and Madonna lilies abounded throughout the wedding scene in the First Presbyterian Church of Allen Park, Mich., when Miss Patricia Louise Goodwin became the bride of Mr. Thomas Norvel Clark on Friday evening, June 15.

The candlelight ceremony uniting Miss Goodwin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Goodwin, 2909 Sullivant-av, and Mr. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Niedermeier of Wyandotte Mich., was read by Rev. H. H. Brunelle.

Groups of candles cast a soft glow throughout the church and white satin bows marked the bridal aisles as the bride approached the altar escorted by her father.

Pure white gossamer mousseline de soie fashioned the bridal dress. The gown was designed with a Queen Ann flowering neckline, tight fitting bodice, and long sleeves terminating in points over the hands. The very full tiered skirt cascaded into an abbreviated yet formal train.

The bride's veil of French illusion, made in tiers fastened together with seed pearls, was attached to a small cap. Her bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis designed into a cascade bouquet with the handkerchief carried by the bride's great aunt at her wedding fastened in the bouquet. Her only jewelry was

Bride Chose Cotton Lace Gown For June Candlelight Ceremony

Mrs. Gerald Watson, the former Miss Elizabeth Ann Downing

A ballerina length gown of white cotton lace over white satin was chosen by Miss Elizabeth Ann Downing for her June 9th wedding to Mr. Gerald E. Watson. Briggsdale Methodist Church was the scene of the double ring ceremony read by Rev. Edwin S. Jones.

The soft candlelight reflected from the rhinestone trim on the tiny turned down collar and the cuffs of the three-quarter length sleeves of the bride's gown. A juliet cap of white cotton lace was also trimmed with rhinestones and the bride wore short sheer nylon gloves. Her bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis.

The former Miss Downing, daughter of Mrs. H. C. Downing, 2050 Eakin-rd, and the late Mr. Downing, had as her bridesmaid, Miss Mary Lee Downing, her sister. The attendant's gown was styled in pink organdy and featured a scooped neckline, cap sleeves and a full circular skirt. Grandmother Keeps Busy, Feels Good; Took Hadacol

When She Heard How HADACOL Was Helping People Suffering From Deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin And Iron

Keeping up with two small grandchildren as well as doing your housework can keep one woman mighty busy. And Mrs. B. R. Battle, 807 Archer, Houston, Texas, does just that. There was a time when Mrs. Battle didn't feel up to all this though. She was bothered with stomach disturbances and vague aches and pains. Then she heard the news about how Hadacol was helping relieve conditions caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Here is her statement:

"I had been troubled with indigestion and aches and pains. I heard about HADACOL and began taking it. After the fifth bottle I began to feel better. I could eat better and rest better and the pains and aches were less. I have now taken 12 bottles and can truthfully say that HADACOL has helped me a lot."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin, but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come in Liquid Form

There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be A "Doubting Thomas"

After reading Mrs. Battle's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula may help you if your system lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Battle, it may do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia, when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful!

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest druggist. If you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron this great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or economy size, $3.50.

Louisiana Mother Says Housework is Much Easier

Mrs. Leo Picard, Church Point, Louisiana, is mighty proud of her two daughters. Wilma Jean, 5 years old, and Juanita Marie, 4. She says it's a full-time job just keeping track of them. It wasn't too long ago when it was all Mrs. Picard could do to just barely get her work done. Now all that's changed . . . now that she has been taking HADACOL, for Mrs. Picard seemed to be what Mrs. Picard needed and Hadacol may bring you the relief you are seeking if your condition is due to a lack of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron.

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down, weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B, B, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come in Liquid Form

There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be a "Doubting Thomas"

After reading about Mrs. Picard's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula, will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B, B, Iron and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Picard it may do for you if you're troubled with vague aches and pains, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress, and a general run-down, weakened condition when they are due to deficiencies of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On a Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drugstore if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size only $1.25. Large family or economy size, $3.50.

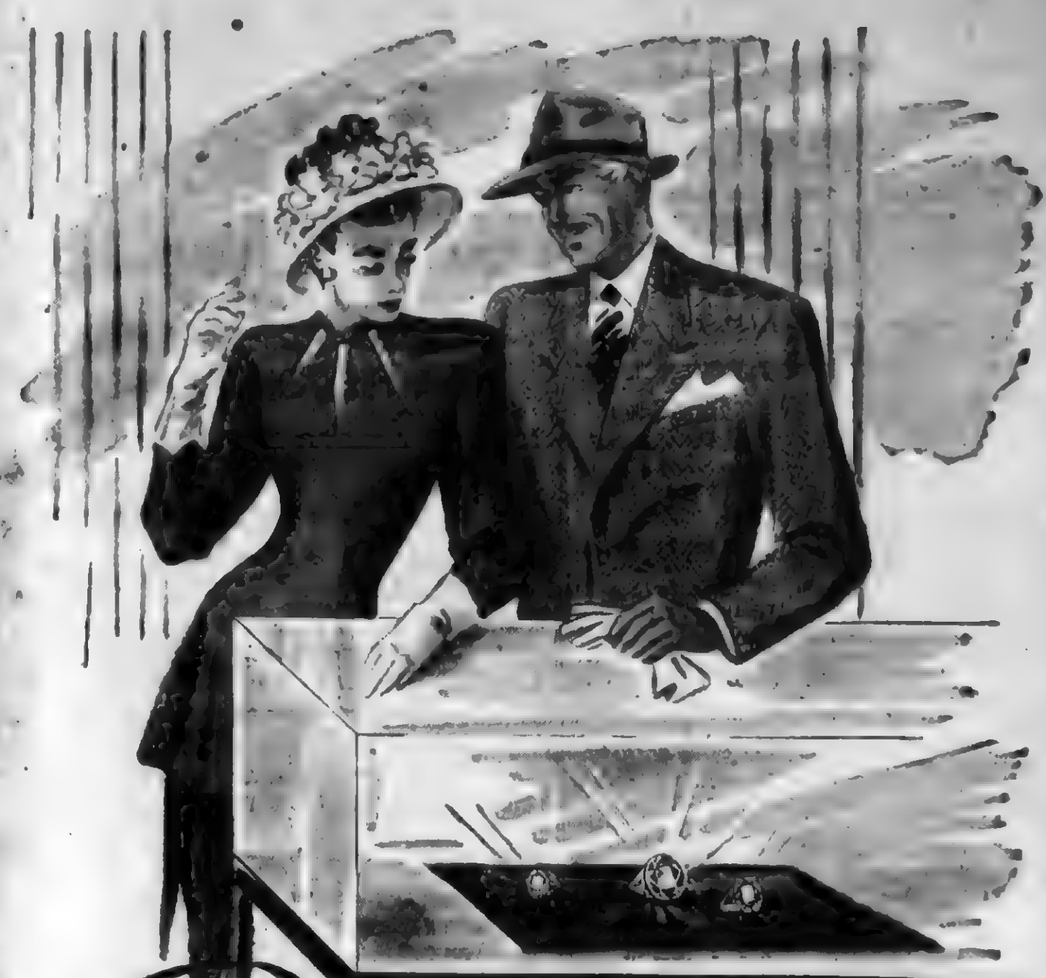
Bible Comment:

Disciples Were Average Men With Special Virtues

THERE are two common misconceptions regarding the disciples of Jesus. Many mistakenly believe the apostles, as we call them, were extremely well educated and had attended the leading universities of the day.



Others, leaning to the opposite extreme, contend the disciples were simple, unlearned men. The truth falls somewhere in between these two schools of thought.

Taking into consideration the time in which they lived, the disciples were about as well educated as the average man of today. It is probable that when they answered the Master's call, they had attended a synagogue and received supplementary training from their parents.

Why then had Jesus chosen these particular men? Adventurous of spirit, ambitious of purpose, and willing to endure and sacrifice, the apostles had a rare combination of virtues suited to the gargantuan task of founding a church.

That they succeeded in giving the world that torch of faith we call Christianity is proof that Jesus was a shrewd judge of men. Only Judas let the Master down. And it was not that Jesus' initial estimate of Judas was in error but that Judas failed to realize his potentialities.

Jesus calls us all for what we may be. How often do we rise to His vision of us as His modern-day apostles in a troubled world?

Reflections

Any girl prizes this moment.

She is ready to choose her diamond, to be worn in the good years ahead as the shining symbol of her love for the man at her side.

Unlike any other gem, the diamond is colorless. But when light touches its surfaces, the diamond transforms that light into rainbow flashes of beauty. But without that light, it is only a speck of pressed carbon—meaningless and dull . . .

People, too, are like diamonds, reflecting only those influences which touch them in their daily lives. This is why it is never necessary to ask truly religious men and women why they attend church.

The serene, shining quality of their character is a true reflection of Almighty guidance which radiates from their hearts and souls.

Without light, a diamond is worthless. Without God, humanity loses its character.

Light reflection—the key to the diamond's beauty. . . .

Spiritual reflection—the key to the lasting happiness of man.

LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

Burgess Ave. Man Dies In Ship Blast

Machinist's Mate John Robert Ward, 27, son of Mrs. Fleta Burns, 382 S. Burgess-av, and Ralph L. Ward, 91 S. Harris-av, was killed in Korean waters on June 12, when an underwater explosion ripped the U.S. Destroyer Walke. Seven other sailors were also injured. The cause of the blast has been undetermined.

Another son, William R. Ward, 23, was fatally injured last October, when the plane he was flying crashed in the vicinity of Lockbourne Air Force Base. He was a navy veteran and student at OSU.

Their third son, John R. Ward, 29, the father of a two-year-old daughter, is serving aboard the USS Cunningham as a boiler tender, first class. The ship is in Korean waters.

Besides his father, mother and brother, Ward is survived by a sister, Mrs. Violet Ramsey, and two grandmothers, Mrs. Alma Turnbull, 310 S. Terrace-av, and Mrs. Clara Ward of Spargursville.

A veteran of World War II, Ward had enlisted in the Navy after attending West High School.

KNOW YOUR WATERWAYS

Grossly Wrong

Year after year, the Army Civil Functions Appropriation Bill is widely labelled in the press and elsewhere as the "Rivers and Harbors Bill," with the downright incorrect inference that the total appropriation is for harbor and channel improvements.

The amount recommended by the Budget Bureau for Army Civil Functions for the fiscal year beginning July 1st is $641,950,000. Only $19,784,000, about 3 per cent, is for actual harbor and channel improvement (18 projects) along the entire Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Coasts, the Great Lakes and all major rivers; only $41,070,000, less than 6½ per cent, for maintenance of the entire federal waterways system. These amounts are inadequate.

Government economy at this time is imperative. But proposed savings should be prudently weighed. It is neither sound nor safe to radically curtail funds for improving and maintaining shipping facilities, vital both to defense and the normal growth and welfare of the nation.

Radar Patrol

to the areas from which they have received complaints about speeding or to the streets where they know from experience that traffic really "rolls".

Picking their patrol area, Dufort stops the radar car at least 100 feet from a permanently installed speed control zone warning sign, or if there is none near the spot, he sets up the same sign on a portable base that he carries in the rear of the car.

Kleinhenz, driver of the arresting car, pulls up one block beyond Dufort, if they are operating in a 25 mile per hour zone, and two blocks beyond him if they are in a 35 mile per hour zone.

Then they sit and wait for the erring "speed merchant" to streak by them.

A car entering the area covered by the radar outfit, is picked up as far away as 50 yards on a typical street like Sullivant-av. As the car approaches a 45-degree angle to the patrol car, the speed indicator mounted on the patrol car's dashboard registers a higher and higher speed until at 45 degrees, the indicator shows the highest and the exact speed the car is traveling.

The accuracy of the patrol car's reading has never been questioned and, according to Dufort, it has "never lost a case in court."

The radar will pick up cars traveling in opposite directions and register their speed, however the closest car will naturally reflect the strongest signal sent out by the little black box and so will give the accurate reading.

It is quite simple for the experienced officers to spot each individual auto at the 45 degree angle point from the patrol car and check its speed, regardless of the density of the traffic.

Following and checking complaints and traffic on the West Side, the two officers have found that the worst offenders can be found on W. Mound-st, Sullivant, Hague and McKinley-avs. They screen these thoroughfares sporadically so that drivers cannot anticipate their location.

Most of the complaints about speeding on local streets come from residents of the neighborhood. The officers go to the individual's home, learn the hours of the worst offending traffic and invite the person to check speed readings on the radar indicator with them.

Usually the complaining finds that he is widely over-estimating the vehicles' velocities because of narrow, rough or brick streets, all of which emphasize the impression of speed.

However all complaints are not in error. In one two hour period last week, the officers arrested 18 drivers on Sullivant-av, all of whom were driving over 40 miles per hour. One was driving over 65.

When Kleinhenz makes an arrest, he presents the motorist with a "Courtesy Notice." The officers complain that too many drivers attempt to accept such a ticket as a warning notice, in spite of the fact that it orders him to court.

The "courtesy" part of the notice is that the officers are empowered to take him to jail, but do so only if they run into a "belligerent character."

Despite their heavy record of arrests, police haven't received any complaints about the officers, possibly because their motto is "treat them just like we'd want to be treated if we were picked up."

Transit Problem

declared, "I feel that the final and lasting answer to the whole problem is municipal ownership. I recommend that a Columbus Transit Commission be appointed to either purchase or rent-lease the lines and operate them in the name of the people

"If the situation were handled that way, we could always control the fare, use high-speed gasoline buses and provide satisfactory service at all times and place the employees under civil service," he continued.

He felt that an eight cent fare could probably be charged.

Speaking on the further public needs in transportation, he said, "We also need express non-stop service, except at designated spots. Local service should be used for short-haul traffic."

He charged that "The Columbus Transit Co. owes large sums for street repairs required by damage that their buses inflicted and also large amounts for non-payment of rentals. We should be given credit for this and then the purchase should be financed by long term bonds."

"This is the only solution," Reiss stated, "to once and for all settle the problem."

Hilltop Parks Are In Best Condition Ever

Hilltop's parks are today the best they have ever been.

Recent cleanup of the parks and especially the work done on Glenwood Park and the Westgate Park lake should be most appreciated by residents of this community.

To Ray Dietz, park superintendent, should go a very big "Thank You" from Hilltoppers and West Side residents for the attention he and his men have given our needs in recent months. It is also a compliment to Mayor James Rhodes to have such a man head up this important department in the city government.

Camp Chase Civic Association, Inc. Organized; Asks Rezoning of Area

SIGNERS—Men and women line up in front of temporary desks installed in the central township fire station at Derrer-rd and Sullivant-av to sign petitions protesting the construction of the low-cost housing units in the area and to sign up for membership in the Camp Chase Civic Association, Inc.

The first major step taken by the Camp Chase Civic Association, Inc., in blocking the construction of 1035 low-cost housing units on the southwest corner of Demorest-rd and Sullivant-av was announced Wednesday by the Franklin County Rural Zoning Commission. The published statement said that a "public hearing will be held at 8:30 p. m., July 30, in the Franklin Township House located on Sullivant-av . . . to change the zoning of a tract of land owned by Alfred W. Snyder containing 76.23 acres . . . from light manufacturing to 1-R-6 or 1-R-8 Residential." The group had petitioned for rezoning two weeks ago.

The association in top speed work after their organization meeting last Wednesday that last night in an open meeting held in the auditorium of West High School. They were to have been addressed by Ernest Stark, secretary of the Regional Planning Board; Grover Clements, director of the County Regional Planning Commission; Don Smith, attorney, and Henry Koontz, president of City Council.

The one-week-old group, organized into a strong, unified organization, composed of residents of the Westgate, Wiltshire, Franklin and Prairie Township area near the Hilltop, held its first meeting last week in Franklin Township Hall. They elected the following officers:

Harold Banker, president; Bill Maurer, vice president; Ted Todd, Treasurer; George Woodland, secretary; and Bill Radford, sergeant-at-arms. The executive committee is composed of Mary Demorest, Fred Taggert, Charlie Barnett, Dexter Souder, F. L. McCarley, and Don Smith.

Arbitrary boundaries imposed by the group extend from Hague-av west on Broad-st to the railroad viaduct, southwest along the railroad to Georgesville-rd, south to Clime-rd and east on Clime-rd to a point beyond Bluhm-rd where Hague would intersect with Clime-rd. Membership fees were established at $1 per year.

The meeting, called on short notice, attracted a crowd estimated at above 350 people. Two deputies from the sheriff's office and a special deputy were on the scene to handle the flow of traffic that milled around Franklin Township Hall.

The meeting opened with the hall packed and more than 100 listeners lining the walls of the building to follow the discussions and speeches through the open windows.

Harold Banker, 447 Demorest-rd, head of the small group that had led the fight against the firm of Westlake and Associates, who are attempting to build the project, explained the purpose of the incorporated organization, gave the group the background of the situation and briefed them on the latest developments.

Banker explained that the small group he headed had met after learning that the project was contemplated, obtained signatures on petitions protesting the development, wrote congressmen urging the blocking of any federal loan, met with loan authorities and city and county officials to discuss the issues involved.

Checking with various sources, Banker said that they found that the units were to be of the "cheapest construction, of cement block and without basements." The 1035 units, he added, "would block fur-

Survivors include his wife, Lulu; three daughters, Barbara, Dixie and Judy; four sons, Jimmie, David, Darwin and Chester, Jr.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Fields; five sisters, Julia Goins, Mattie Pepon, Ida Gordon, Ellen Skipper, Sarah Bronson; and two brothers, Pryse and Mathew Fields.

Sylvan-av. Man Sentenced On 2 Driving Counts

Albert Lape, 22, 275 N. Sylvan-av, was sentenced to 10 days in the workhouse and fined $25 and costs on each of two counts, occurring within five days, of driving after his rights had been revoked. Judge Rodney Ross also fined Lape $10 and costs on each of two speeding charges, in police traffic court, Thursday.

He was arrested earlier this year on charges of failing to stop at a red light and his driving rights were revoked in April after he was found guilty of leaving the scene of an accident.

Rumors circulating on the Hilltop about the supposed sale of the Snyder tract to local residents is "definitely not true", according to members of the Camp Chase Civic Association, Inc., who say they have thoroughly investigated the heresay.

First Federal Savings-Loan Sets New Hours

Hilltop office of the First Federal Savings Association at 2369 W. Broad-st will be closed on Saturdays beginning July 7 through Sept. 29, according to announcement. Action of the local Saturday closing observance is in line with a national trend which extends Friday business hours and eliminates Saturday openings.

Office hours of the local branch of First Federal Savings and Loan, according to Herbert G. Deems, will be from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. Monday through Thursday; Friday hours will be from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m.

Highway Dept. 'Dismissals' Are Protested

A Hilltop woman, Elsie Snyder, 231 Belvidere-av, joined 10 other State Highway Department employes in appealing to Governor Lausche about their "dismissal" from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

The 11, all of whom are a minimum of 70 years of age, delivered their protest about plans to dismiss them, effective June 30.

According to Robert Wallace, department personnel director, the 11 civil service workers are not being dismissed, but rather retired because "they have reached 70, the retirement age."

Some of the employees, he added, have already been given extensions. However, he explained, under the state law, the decision on retaining such employes is up to the head of each bureau.

In their letter to the governor, the 11 wrote "we understand that under the law we may work until 1953. We also understand that the Bureau of Motor Vehicles is willing for us to stay on, but we must have the approval of the highway director."

Three Hilltop Servicemen Are Wounded

Three servicemen were reported Wednesday as wounded in Korean action.

Cpl. John T. Beaver, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Beaver, 39 Guilford-av, was wounded on June 3 for the second time in three months while serving with the 3rd Infantry Division.

He received wounds in his right arm when he was struck by small arms fire. He had been wounded in the same arm in February. He was treated in Japan for his first injury and returned to his unit.

Cpl. Beaver is now being treated in Battle Creek, Mich. He entered the army in July, 1950, and trained at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Also wounded was Marine Pfc. Edwin W. Emery, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Emery, 132 Avondale-av. Pfc. Emery, 19, was hit in the leg and hip by a mortar shell in Korea on June 9. He entered the Marine Corps Reserve after he graduated from Central High School in June, 1950. He went on active duty with the Marine Reserve Battalion that left here on Labor Day.

Another Marine reported wounded was Cpl. John G. Carroll, son of Mrs. Helen S. Carroll, 331 S. Ogden-av.

Postal Money Orders Change

Beginning Sunday, you'll be able to buy a postal money order that can be endorsed to another person, cashed at any post office or bank, payable anywhere. The resulting convenience and ease of handling will save the Columbus Post Office an estimated $35,000 a year.

The new punched card will allow the postal system to employ the most modern accounting system. The system decentralizes the accounting offices and establishes twelve regional offices, located in cities having Federal Reserve Banks, in accordance with recommendations made by the Hoover Commission.

However, to make the transition smooth between the two systems of money orders, local authorities request that all of the old-style drafts, issued before July 1 be cashed promptly upon receipt and not later than July 9.

Woman Stricken On Greenlawn Bus

Mrs. Ruzena Ruzicka, 71, 345 Stimmel-rd, became ill Tuesday night on a Greenlawn-av bus and was pronounced dead in the emergency room of Mt. Carmel Hospital.

The gigantic, community-wide Lions Club "stay-at-home" Fourth of July celebration at West High School will get underway at 1 p. m. next Wednesday. The program, consisting of an afternoon's entertainment and contests for youngsters and an evening of fireworks, street dancing and a talent show emceed by "Ol' Doc" Lemon, WCOL's personable disc-jockey.

The Lions Club program is an answer to a strong community need for a sane and safe Fourth.

The afternoon's activities will consist of:

A "best dressed" cowboy and cowgirl contest, a 50-yard dash, a two-legged race, a wheelbarrow race, a peanut race, a crawling race for infants, a one-legged race, a three-legged race, a sack race and a hopping race.

Following the races, a contest will be held to find the best decorated vehicle at the celebration. Youngsters may enter bicycles, tricycles, scooters, wagons, or anything they can ride.

Top prize in the decorated vehicles contest will be a $25 United States Savings Bond and other prizes will be awarded.

The best dressed cowboy and cowgirl will each receive a $10 cash award.

A two-hour intermission will be granted the celebrants from 5 to 7 p. m.

The evening's program will begin at 7 p. m. with the amateur show emceed by "Doc" Lemon. The affair, featuring some of the Hilltop's finest talent, to date has accepted more than 20 applications for competition for the beautiful trophies. Those who have applied thus far for entry into the audience-judged contest, include:

Mary Lou Tilton, singer; Trio Girls, singers; Lois Ann Reeder; blues singer; Doreen Hately, soprano; Sue Keller, dancer; Bob Johnson, pianist; Bonnie Klein, singer; Shirley McCarley, accordionist; and Malcolm McCoy, comedian, pantomime.

Albery Sisters, dancers; Delores Morova, fast tap; Carrol Robinson and Susie Willis, singers; Pat Miesse, comedienne, pantomime; Jack Galloway, violinist; Cliff Everett, baton twirler; male quartet; Jim Lee, song and dance and pianist; and Nelson Carson, guitar artist.

The fireworks display will follow immediately the talent show. The display will be set off on West High's athletic field and the audience will view the scene from West's Stadium.

At approximately 9:30 p. m. the display will end and the street dancing will begin with music furnished by Will Marot's orchestra.

During the dancing, prizes will be awarded for both round and square dancing. The music will continue until about midnight.

Members of the Lions Club will sell soft drinks, ice cream and hot-dogs throughout the program.

A special award, six months free diaper service, made in conjunction with the Fourth of July celebration, will be given to the parents of the first baby born to Hilltop parents after midnight, July 5. The award is being offered in cooperation with the Konner Diaper Service.

Camp Clime's Water Okayed

At a committee meeting held at the YMCA last week the Hilltop Community Council announced that well-water on the Camp Clime site has been tested and approved by the Board of Health.

Jerry Spears, president of the council, said that a new gate at the entrance of the site and signs giving directions will be erected immediately. Other repairs are to be made as soon as arrangements can be made, including repairs to the craft house, an additional [illegible] and flag pole.

The camp site was leased last March for camping and outing purposes to be used by Hilltop youth groups.

Jack Morris, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, said that approximately 500 individuals have used the site over the past six weeks, including Camp-fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and a group from the Columbus State School.

The use of the site can be obtained by calling Morris at the Hilltop Business Association office.

Kiwanis To Hear Convention Reports Today

Hilltop Kiwanis President Harold Cramer and Vice-President Sam Morrison are scheduled as the top speakers at the regular noonday meeting of that organization, Thursday, June 28.

Cramer and Morrison are to report to the local club their observations at the International Kiwanis Convention, to which they were named as delegates.

In last week's meeting Joe Goodwin and O. H. Craft were declared the winners in an old fashioned spelling bee conducted by Past Presidents Jim Miles and Jack Sensenbrenner.

Hilltop Record Deadlines Advanced

Next week's issue of The Hilltop Record will appear on Friday, one day later than usual, due to the observance of the Fourth of July holiday. The issue will be dated July 6.

To meet the requirements imposed by the holiday, new advertising deadlines have been established, for next week only, on classified and display ads. All display ads must be placed by Monday evening and all classified ads must be taken [illegible] Tuesday.

New Hearing, Thursday, Set For Phillips

Utilizing a law passed in 1932 and never used before in a court of law, Paul Herbert, defense attorney for George Phillips, 23, accused slayer of Mrs. Ruth Alter, secured a hearing to determine if he can be released under bond.

Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter, in granting the hearing, said he had no other alternative under the law. He expects to set the case for 10 a. m. Thursday.

State witnesses will be called to show sufficient evidence to continue holding Phillips for the slaying. The law allows a preliminary hearing if the confined claims he is unjustly held.

In his request for a new hearing, Herbert said new evidence in the case has been uncovered, since the municipal court hearing.

The Versatile Jeep Comes Through Again

There is an old adage that says, "Necessity is the Mother of Invention" and during the past week at the time of the temporary power failure saw its proving locally. When power went out Filling Station Operator Ted Schrock called upon his faithful "Jeep" to supply the power at his gasoline pumps. With left front wheel jacked up and in position against the drive shaft, the gasoline continued to pour into cars despite the lack of electricity.

THREE KINDS OF COURAGE

There's the courage that nerves you in starting to climb
The mount of success rising sheer;
And when you've slipped back there's the courage sublime
That keeps you from shedding a tear.

These two kinds of courage, I give you my word,
Are worthy of tribute—but then,
You'll not reach the summit unless you've the third—
The courage of try-it-again.

JUNE'S PASSING

Even June can't last forever;
Roses red will mark her grave.
Winds will whisper to her gently;
Thank her for the joy she gave.

June will come again . . . tomorrow . . .
Lovelier than she is today.
Absence will enhance her beauty—
That is what the roses say.

Heard somewhere: If all the automobiles in America were placed end to end, it would be Sunday afternoon . . . A Seattle undertaker signs his letters "Eventually yours" . . . There's a simple way to keep up with the Joneses. Just slow down and in a few years you'll meet them coming back . . . Theory—a bunch with a college education . . . A wise husband will buy his wife such fine china that she won't trust him to wash the dishes.

Here are a few scraps of conversation I heard "in passing" at the Zoo: A tired mother to her four lively youngsters—"Come on over to the monkey house and you'll see how you kids act"; A teen-ager—"Boy, think of all the hamburger that elephant would make!" A small boy—"Hey, Mom, I saw a snake like that in the field yesterday" (he was pointing at a copperhead'); The man in the next car—"It's worth the price of admission just to watch people watching the animals watching people"; A mom to a dad—"I told you you'd never get Tommy away from that cage. He wants to see if a lion really roars."

Here is my favorite shutin's favorite poem. Thought it might help others who might be discouraged or ill:

PRAY WITHOUT CEASING

Unanswered yet, the prayer your lips have pleaded
In agony of heart these many years?
Does faith begin to fail, is hope declining,
And think you all in vain those falling tears?
Say not the Father has not heard your prayer—
You shall have your desire, some time, somewhere.

Unanswered yet? Though when you first presented
This one petition at the Father's throne,
It seemed you could not wait the time of asking,
So eager was your heart to make it known.
If years have passed since then, do not despair—
For God will answer you some time, somewhere.

Unanswered yet? No, do not say unanswered,
Perhaps your part is not yet wholly done.
The work began when first your prayer was uttered,
And God will finish what He has begun.
Keep incense burning at the shrine of prayer,
And glory shall descend, some time, somewhere.

Unanswered yet? Faith cannot be unanswered.
Her feet are firmly planted on the Rock.
Amid the wildest storms she stands
undaunted,
Nor quails before the loudest thunder shock.
She knows Omnipotence has heard
her prayer,
And cries "It shall be done, some time, somewhere."

Hold "Doggy" Pet Show At Highland

Pets had a heyday last Monday at the opening of the Highland School playground and the attendant pet exhibition.

Puppies, ducks and chickens all figured in the contest, but blue ribbons were won by Sandra Fain for her two-week-old, black cocker spaniel pup which she carried in a decorated Easter basket; by Philip Brown's two white ducks; Robert Wilson's two cocker spaniels who outdid all the other dogs with their tricks, and Caroline Taylor's baby bulldog, which was judged the cutest dog on the grounds.

Excitement for the day was provided by Charles McClaldon's rooster. It escaped several times during the exhibition; almost seemed as if it didn't want to compete with trick dogs and white ducks.

Joan Saunder's puppy was dressed up in a big, pink ribbon.

The judges, volunteers from the Playground Advisory Council, were Mrs. Richard Jones, 31 S. Oakley-av; Mrs. Eugene Lowery, 134 S. Oakley-av; and Mrs. Clarence Wiggs, 32 S. Oakley-av.

This Taxation Problem

Practically everybody talks about taxation, governmental budgets and related problems. But a relatively small number of people knows much about them. By the same token, there is endless talk as to just what the government's tax and fiscal policies should be in the current emergency, but few of us are in a position to suggest anything tangible.

The Committee for Economic Development—a non-political and non-profit organization of some 180 leading business men and educators who are devoting their time, experience and resources to objective economic research has proposed a program which, it believes, meets the needs of the moment. Not everyone will agree with all of it. But it is a significant contribution to the literature on a complex and extremely important subject.

CED says that higher taxes are necessary. "But," it adds, "there is also a danger in higher taxes. The danger is that extremely high taxes—especially if long continued and badly distributed — will interfere with the growth of production, which is also one of our main economic objectives . . . In fact, there is a danger that taxes will be at the same time too high and too low — higher and more harmful to production than would be necessary if effective action were taken with respect to government expenditures, credit expansion and savings and yet not high enough to control inflationary pressure in view of the other policies that are actually followed. If, in addition, the taxes we impose are of a kind that put great restraint upon production and relatively little restraint upon inflation, we shall have taxed ourselves at great cost for little benefit."

CED proposes a four-part financial program which it considers adequate and balanced. First, the proposed 1952 budget will be cut by $6,000,000,000. Second, taxes would be increased by $10,000,000,000. Third, tight restrictions would be placed on credit. Fourth, a national program to encourage private savings would be instituted.

It is one thing to advocate tax increases and another thing to figure out where they could be imposed without undermining the economic machine. CED's plan in this regard has three main facets. First, individual income taxes would be raised by five per cent on taxable income after present exemptions and the present tax. Second, the combined income tax rates on corporate profits in excess of $25,000 would be raised from the present 47 per cent to 50 per cent. Third, a new excise tax of five per cent would be imposed on goods sold at retail, excluding food, housing utilities and certain other items. The present manufacturers' excise tax on a number of commodities, such as automobiles and other durable goods, would also be raised. CED likewise recommends that various "loopholes" in the tax laws—such as that which exempts cooperative businesses from taxation—be plugged up.

Generally speaking, this is the kind of tax and budgetary program which most economists favor now. The heavy emphasis that is placed upon strict government economy is of particular significance. Some think the budget can be cut by substantially more than the $6,000,000,000 CED recommends. Aside from the precise figure, almost all are dead certain that big reductions are both possible and necessary.

— Letters To The Editor —

Dear Editor

There is a disease of the body which causes the loss of the mental facilities and voluntary motion. It is paralysis.

There are several kinds of paralysis, but there is one that causes a gradual loss of sensation and control of the body, known as creeping paralysis. In the course of time the body affected no longer has the mental and physical power that it once possessed and enjoyed. The body becomes helpless and is subservient to others.

What is true of the physical body is also true of our political body, our government.

Slowly but surely a political creeping paralysis is gradually seizing the control of our mental and physical freedom. Like the hideous octopus that sends out its slimy tentacles to seize its prey, so our officials through their giant propaganda machine are gaining control of the citizenry and robbing us of the freedom so dear to true Americans and which we once so much enjoyed. Today the bureaucrats with their "crack pot" theories and usurped governmental powers tell us what we can and can not do.

Is this America? Are these policies in accord with America's way of life? Are they granting to every one the right to enjoy, "Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness?"

Our country is full of communistic and political termites that are gradually eating up the moral and physical fabrics of our governmental structure. We are becoming only serfs to the powers that be.

We have too many "pussy-foot" politicians who think more of securing their political ambitions, than they do of protecting American ideals.

Through fear that they might lose a few votes, professional politicians shy off from personalities who have proved by their records that they have abilities as statesmen and military leaders, instead of defending them against the "smear" campaign waged against them.

The "political creeping paralysis" is undermining American principals and our freedom through the dominating Washington bureaucrats. They are propagandizing America with fear of a third world war in an attempt to cover up the many blunders they have made.

America needs more men who are not afraid to stand before the political demagogue and damn his false and treacherous propaganda. Men who think more of America than they do of communistic Russia.

"God, give us men."

J. A. Downing.

To this end we will submit for your pleasure our family cow, "Marigold", who, like a Sullivan insurance customer, possesses an extra feeling of security. Yes she has five legs. Big Time Golfing Pro Visits Friends In The Hilltop Area

Chuck Klein, nationally known golf pro who has been burning up the fairways in golf tourneys about the country, stopped on the Hilltop to visit his many local friends while on the way to the PGA tourney at Pittsburgh. While here Klein visited Sellier's to purchase a pair of Palm Beach slacks from his friend, Joe Werthon, manager of the men's clothing department.

In Klein's opinion, the local Beacon Light Public Golf Course is one of the finest nine-hole courses in the country. He credited Jack Kidwell, owner and pro, very highly for his efforts and hard work in maintaining the local course.

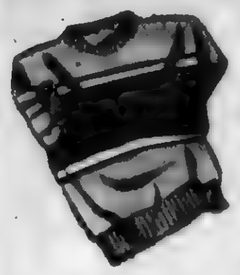
Firefighters Assn. To Again Sponsor Races

Sunday, July 15, has been selected as the date for the annual Speedboat Regatta at Griggs Dam. Sponsoring the 11-event program, which carries a cash prize list totaling $1175, will be the Scioto Boat Club and the Franklin County Firefighters Association.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 spectators viewed last year's races from the banks of the Scioto.

This year's program which starts at 2 p. m., is expected to attract the leading speedboat drivers of the country. They discovered a year ago that the Scioto course is one of the nation's best.

Proceeds from the regatta will be used to further the county-wide program of providing better fire protection to the townships and villages in Franklin County.



Chairmen of the committees of the two organizations sponsoring the race are Dick Bration of the Westerville Firefighters and F. C. McFarland of the Scioto Boat Club.

Tickets are available at any of the fire houses in the county. They may also be obtained from any member of the Franklin County Firefighters Association or the Scioto Boat Club.

THIS PICTURE of the speedboat Mercury was snapped while making a test run at Griggs Dam. This famous boat will thrill you again this year with its speed on Sunday, July 15, when the Scioto Boat Club and the Franklin County Firefighters offer you the opportunity to see these thrilling speedboat races during the 1961 Regatta.

Peterson, Manager of Lumber Yard, Works Wood as Hobby

"Pete" Peterson

V. D. (Pete) Peterson, 37, manager of the West Side Lumber And Coal Co., located at the intersection of Camp Chase and Derrer-rds at the Big Four Railroad, has been in the lumber and construction business since he was a boy. He followed in his father's footsteps.

Peterson, originally an Iowa man, began his lumber yard experience here with the Doddington Lumber Co., after attending Simpson College in Iowa. After a further working knowledge of the field with Doddington, he was appointed to his present position. During the war, he worked with the Army Engineers as assistant chief of the technical section.

His hobbies are confined to work on his home. "Pete", who is married, lives at 687 S. Harris-av. His home's knotty-pine recreation room, cabinet work and a sun porch serve as examples of his craftsmanship. Peterson's other hobbies have lost ground because of the time he devotes to business and to the interior finishing of his house.

Organizationwise, he has also limited himself. He is a member of the Hilltop Business Association and the Aladdin Temple of the Scottish Rite.

The lean and lanky lumber yard manager offers his proof of belief in the Hilltop as a place to live: he purchased a home and moved here long before he thought of working here.

ther development of the Westgate, Wiltshire and township areas toward the west and tremendously devaluate all properties in the region."

Consequently, the group contacted Hilltop builders and asked them to attempt to buy up the option held by S. P. Haban, realtor, for the Westlake firm. According to Banker, Haban offered them the option, but at a price amounting to $1,315 per acre. Hilltop builders' offers went as high as $1,000 an acre.

After a thorough summation of the situation and the discussion of other such civic groups by members, the audience voted almost unanimously to form an incorporated organization aimed at not only effectively blocking the Westlake development, but "at a long range planned development of the area surrounding Westgate, both township and city."

Throughout the meeting, people crowded the back windows of the old hall and the township fire station to sign petitions and take out membership cards. Total membership after the first meeting was well over 200.

Bettirae Beard, Robert Kimes United In June 10th Ceremony

Mrs. Robert Kimes

Glenwood Methodist Church was the setting on June 10th for the ceremony uniting Miss Bettirae Beard and Mr. Robert Kimes Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas read the 4:30 p. m. ceremony before an altar decorated with huckleberry wheels and woodwardia foliage with seven branch candelabra wound with southern smilax placed along the entire width of the chancel. Single candles twined with smilax and tied with satin bows were placed at the ends of the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Raymond A. Beard, 3950 Steele-av, and the late Mr. Beard. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Kimes, 132 S. Highland-av.

Dr. H. E. Beard, of Huntington, W. Va., uncle of the bride escorted her to the altar. She was gowned in heavy ivory satin fashioned along princess lines. The deep sheer nylon yoke was edged with a shirred panel of imported chantilly lace which formed cap sleeves. The full skirt fitted plainly over the hips and widened into an extremely wide cathedral train. She wore matching lace gauntlets.

A matching lace bonnet held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a hand cluster of valley lily bells with a backing of moline. A glamellia centered the arrangement.

The attendants wore gowns styled alike of satin and net designed with formal bodices with which they wore net stoles. The maid of honor, Miss Lavonne Beard, was in mauve and the other bride's attendants, Mrs. Fred V. Kimes, Miss Nancy Kimes and Miss Jeanne Grady, were in camellia pink. Bands of satin trimmed the bodice and top of the full double net skirt. They wore matching half cloches on their heads and carried bouquets fashioned into wedding rings. Along one side were placed glamellia flowerlets, lavender against the pink and pink against the lavender. Natural foliage bows interspersed the blossoms.

Mr. Fred V. Kimes was the best man and seating the guests were Mr. Ned Moore, Mr. Robert Cassell, Mr. Ned Brockington, and Mr. William Griffiths.

A wedding reception was held at the church with Mrs. Beard receiving the guests in a gown of dusty rose crepe with a bodice of matching lace. Her corsage was of miniature white calla lilies. Mrs. Kimes wore a gown of plum lace over pink taffeta with pink accessories. Her corsage was of miniature pink calla lilies.

The couple is making their home at 123 N Burgess-av following a wedding trip through the South.

Toastmistresses To Organize Group For Hilltop Women

One of the most progressive clubs of today is the Toastmistress Club, the women's group of the Toastmasters. This is an international organization which was organized in California in 1938. Since that time groups have been formed in all leading cities.

The club, a non-profit making one, without political, social, economic, racial or religious bias, brings to its members not only social benefits, but is of a constructive, educational nature and tends to give its members the art of public speaking. Do not get the impression that these groups are composed of stuffy intellectual highbrows. Quite the contrary, they are every-day homemakers, business women, stenographers and factory workers, who realize the great need and importance of self-expression.

The Columbus Toastmistress Club launched its membership drive with a dinner at the Jai Lai, Friday, June 22. Their goal is to establish groups in all parts of the city. They already have active groups in the north end.

"What is wrong with the Hilltop? I am sure that we would have no difficulty in finding a convenient meeting place. The quota for each group is only thirty, so if you are interested, and I know you are, phone Mildred Tyrrell at JO. 3596 after 7 p. m.

"North, East, South, watch out—the Hilltop's on the move."

Mildred Tyrrell.

Anderton's Restaurant
2776 W. Broad St.

Dear Sirs:

We always say "flowers to the living" so, please accept this word of praise. Joining the ranks of all your many other patrons we say "bravo" to a top-ranking restaurant.

Combined with a pleasant feeling of being "at home" we enjoyed the good —what we call 'man sized'—portions of food that were served. My wife, even though normally a small eater, I noticed cleaned up her plate.

This is one man's word of appreciation for a good place to eat good food.

We will see you soon — to patronize again our favorite eating place.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. George Jessup.

P. S. I wanted to add that the young lady who waited on us was not only very efficient but also quite comely, but that is out, as my wife is watching as I write this.

Youngsters Learn To Swim At Local Pool

OPEN CLASSES — Beginning swimmers line up across the Hilltop Swimming Pool on Valleyview-dr in the fifth annual "Learn to Swim" classes held by the American Red Cross. The five instructors are giving them an order to "splash water in your face . . . get wet." The youngsters responded with great eagerness and the line almost disappeared in a wall of spray. The swimming instruction is led by Bill Peterson, who gives the youngsters safety talks on walking and riding to the pool, as well as safety in swimming. More than 200 "small fry" attended the classes last Tuesday.

Hilliards Feed Bags Will Bare Utility and Beauty on TV Show

Women's clothes are designed in Paris, London, New York, Los Angeles and Hollywood. However, some of the textiles you see on our local gals and on the backs of young men may only come from as far away as Hilliards.

Back of many of the florals and Hawaiian prints in men's sports shirts and plaids and stripes in milady's newest styles may be found the good, old-fashioned feed bag, and a full view of what can be done with these cotton bags will be presented on WBNS-TV in a style show held on "Farm Time" at 12 noon, next Tuesday. The show will be sponsored by the Russell Grain Company in Hilliards.

In Grandma's day, feed bags were used to make sun bonnets, aprons, dish towels and an occasional work dress; now, new weaves and prints have brought the feed bag out of the stage of "utility only" to "beauty and style."

The TV show will feature bags used by Russell Grain Co. and will begin with the ambitious cotton containers and wind up with its glamorous counterpart. The wardrobe shown on the telecast will be obtained from the National Cotton of America Association. All patterns for the neat dress set are styled by "McCalls" in conjunction with the National Cotton Council.

Clothes for every occasion, from shopping to dancing, are included in the "Cinderella Sacks Wardrobe," with patterns illustrated for youngsters, teen-agers and adults. Afternoon frocks and bolero ensembles, skirts and blouses and even square dance outfits are among the apparel to be modeled.

According to John Russell, head of the local grain company, home sewing opportunities offered in cotton bags this year will be more "challenging and exciting" than ever. This year's production reveals well designed florals, big Hawaiian prints, polka dots, stripes, plaids and even modern abstractions, dressing up the far-from-prosaic feed bag of today. Figures released show that more than 125,000,000 "dress print" cotton bags will serve a double purpose, as containers for vital stock feed and sturdy fabric conserved for home sewing.

Bill Zipf will be aided in the production of the style show by women and youngsters from Hilliards.

Hilliards News

By Elizabeth Stull

Mrs. Lizzie McNaughten of Columbus was the guest of Mrs. Stella Mathews several days this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilcox and daughters spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lembke in Columbus Saturday and attended Children's services at the Church of Christ on Chicago-av. Sunday evening.

Mrs. Stella Mathews, Lizzie McNaughten and Sophia McCullough attended a fried chicken dinner Thursday at the home of Mrs. Maggie Kriel.

Eloise Brown and girl friends spent the week-end in New York.

Following the two weeks' Vacation Bible School at the Hilliards Methodist Church, the children presented a very interesting program Sunday evening which demonstrated the effort put forth by both the children and those in charge of the school.

The Hilliards Youth Fellowship held a picnic Monday evening at shelter house No. 7 along the Scioto river.

Mrs. W. G. Shrum was taken to Dr. Brown's office by Fiel's ambulance for X-ray of her broken hip and they report her improving nicely. She expects to go to the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shrum in Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit and return to Hilliards.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lehrmer, Jr., and Francis Shrum have moved to their new home, 1317 Oakland Park-av. Columbus.

Bill Van Cullin has finished his basic training at Ft. Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., and will remain there where he is employed in the personnel office.

Mrs. Frank Carr, Allen Carr and sons and Mrs. Floyd Close spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carr and family at Galena.

Ann Connor, Hilliards, Pearl Rader, Columbus, and sisters of Tiffin are visiting Washington, D. C., Bridgeport, Conn., Boston and other points of interest.

Patty Lou Dysert, daughter of Mrs. Levina Dysert, Hilliards, was married June 16 to Capt. [illegible] Otwood of Tucson, Ariz., where they will make their home.

Karen Bieber of Columbus spent the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Nieder while her mother, Mrs. Ralph Bieber was a delegate to the Alumni Convention of Theta Sigma Phi.

Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland were called to Allendale, Ill., today by the death of his [illegible]

Did you ever stop to think, for a moment, what part the words look and see play in your own religious faith?

Some people, for example, only "look" at a sunset. But those who "see" the sunset in all its glory know that no mortal could have placed those majestic colors there.

Seeing—for them—is believing in God.

Others look up only occasionally at the stars. But over the grave of a great American astronomer and his wife are these words of touching faith: "We have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night."

Seeing, for them, was believing.

Isn't this true of our churches as well? We may look at them as beautiful buildings. But most of us see in churches man's expression of his faith in his God.

On entering any church door, we sense that faith.

And when we worship within any church, we know that our faith is real.

Yes—there's more to living than just "looking."

When we see the wonders of nature and man for the real meaning they hold, then "seeing is believing"—in God.

Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.
John 20:29

Bible Comment:

Bible Offers Faith To Confused, War-Weary Atomic Age

TENANTS of a world suffering from an acute case of atomic jitters, we have come to accept the threat of another all-out war and the peril of personal destruction as a natural part of our everyday lives.

It was this same sort of situation that existed when the 46th Psalm was written. Therefore it was more than a poetical sentiment when the Psalmist wrote, "God is our refuge and strength; therefore we will not fear."

Going on to declare his courage of fear, even though his whole world might be destroyed, the psalmist expresses his abiding faith in God. The psalm closely resembles the closing verses in Paul's eighth chapter of Romans, another stirring declaration of faith.

There are several other parallels between New Testament Psalms and Old Testament scriptures, indicating that the Old Testament was the rich soil from which the New Testament gained much of its strength.

In both testaments there are frequent protestations of faith made in the face of threats of war, personal danger and in periods of intellectual confusion.

The uncertainty and fear gripping the modernday world has had many parallels in the course of history. With this in mind, a study of the Bible will reveal that each fear-stricken generation has found strength, solace and comfort in the faith of its forefathers.

In this world there are only two tragedies: one is not getting what one wants, and the other is getting it.

A spark twinkles at the wrong time, or in the wrong place . . . In an instant your home—your barn—your business is a flaming torch, reducing hopes and dreams to ashen rubble. Such tragedy is needless when all it takes is a little care . . . a little thought, to eliminate fire hazards. JOE BRIGGS will be glad to discuss complete protection against fire and fire loss. Legion Junior Baseball Nine Loses First Tilt

Camp Chase-Beasley Grove Fords baseball nine went down to a stinging 7-0 defeat at the hands of Columbus Post No. 82 at Westgate Park last Sunday. It was their first league loss.

A win would have given Camp Chase undisputed possession of first place in the Northwest Legion League at the end of the first round. As a result of the defeat they are tied with Southway Post No. 144 (Potter-Gager Fords). A three-way tie is possible if Columbus Post beats Franklin Post in a make-up game next week.

Last Sunday's game looked as if someone had turned the pages of time back to the late 1930's as Camp Chase's manager, Bill Ferguson, visited the man in blue four times in the bitterly contested game. Famous for his umpire baiting in the old West Hardball League, Ferguson made the biggest squawk as his team left the field thinking three outs had been made in the wild and woolly 9th inning. When Umpire Gosnell Layman checked the scorebooks of both teams and ruled only two outs had been made is when the argument developed. Ferguson said Monday morning that "the error has been detected and the umpire is right as usual."

The Camp Chase team started the game with what seemed a lackadaisical, over-confident attitude against the rumored weak Columbus Post team.

St. Aloysius Girl Scout Leaders Are Announced

At the June meeting of the St. Aloysius Girl Scout neighborhood Mrs. E. L. Martindale was elected for a third term as Neigsborhood chairman with Mrs Fred Balthaser as vice-chairman and Mrs. Patrick Martin as secretary-treasurer.

Committee meetings will be resumed in September at which time the by-laws will be revised to correspond with the Council by-laws.

Yaple Makes Dean's List

Newell Yaple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger A. Yaple, 203 S. Brinker-av, a student at Duke University in North Carolina, was notified last week that the grades he earned this year had placed him on the "Dean's List."

Mother: "Stop asking so many questions. Don't you know that curiosity killed the cat."

Junior: "Is that so? What did the cat want to know?"

"Minnie" Becomes County Fair Publicist

"Old Minnie" is doing her share these days to publicize the forthcoming Franklin County Fair which is to be staged at Hilliards Aug. 14-18 under the auspices of Franklin County Agricultural Society. Harold Hart, Rome-Hilliards-rd, president of the society, is currently driving all through the county with "Minnie", lending an old fashioned atmosphere to this year's edition of the fair which urges all-out attendance to "Meet Your Friends".

A woman columnist proudly points out that there are 30 percent more men in mental hospitals than women. OK, OK, but who put them there?

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Well, what do you know?!! A formal dance was attended by RUTH and JIM FOX. Ruth bought a new dress for the occasion. She said it was the first time she had on a long dress since her Graduation Day—uh—shall we say about 10 years ago? And she looked 10 years younger, too.

MADELINE AND BABS MORROW both spent their vacation in New York City. They returned Sunday—ready to go back to their secretarial positions.

The PAUL MURNAMES went up to Lake Erie and over to Michigan while the EMSWILERS took a trip down through the Smoky Mountains. Incidentally that's where they spent their honeymoon eight years ago.

And speaking of wedding dates the HERB RUMFIELDS celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary last Friday. Congratulations!

Who was the good looking couple dancing in the dark the other night? Married four years and they're that romantic!

A new radio clock was given to MARCELLA BROWNE as a prize she won in a contest last March. She had almost given up hope—but it came Thursday.

She didn't call the emergency squad, but the neighbors all lent a hand. MRS. RENSCHLER locked her children in the house—or shall we say she accidentally locked herself out.

All was well when ELECTRIC WATT across the street came to her rescue. He played burglar and climbed in her basement window and let the lady in.

You know these Hi Ridgers are the best neighbors ever. There's not one person who wouldn't give the shirt off his back to help his neighbor.

They take each other to the grocery, to church, to the outdoor movies. Anyway we think this is just about the best section to live in.

Of course my wife makes it just about impossible for me to even live. But when she hits me, I just close my eyes and pretend it's an atom bomb. I try to be patriotic, so I salute her, as usual.

So long, folks!

Order New Trial In $65,000 Suit Against Al Haft

A new trial in a $65,000 damage suit brought by Edward G. Witherspoon of Grove City against Al Haft's Sports Enterprises, Inc., and A. R. Turner 6767 E. Main-st, was ordered last Thursday by the Second District Court of Appeals.

Witherspoon had sued for injuries he claimed he sustained when he fell from bleachers Haft and Turner had erected for the Grandview Heights-Bexley football game in October 1947. His claim states that the bleacher planks were loose.

Comman Pleas Court had ordered a verdict returned for Haft and Turner.

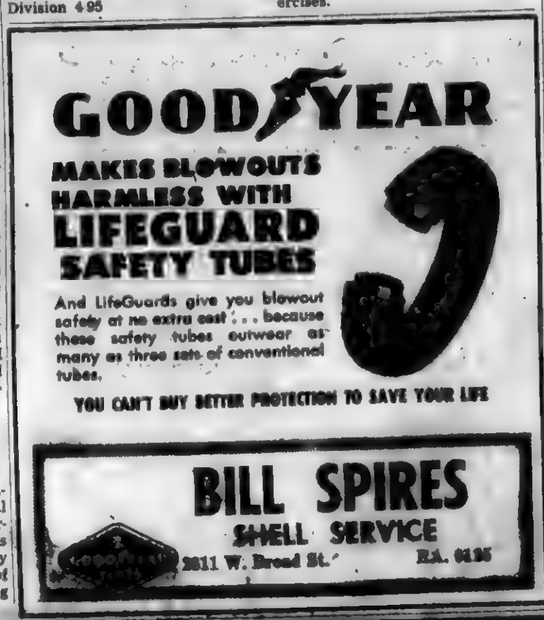
Briggsdale And Brown Road

By Mrs. Harry Downing

Mrs. George Marx, 1226 Tedcodr, was hostess recently to the Columbus branch of Postcard Collectors Club of which she is president. Plans are being made to exhibit cards at the third annual convention of the All State Hobby Club to be held July 20-21-22 in the Neil House.

The W. W. Class of Briggsdale Methodist Church held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening, June 19, at the home of Mrs. John Jones, 1712 Harrisburg-pk. Following are the officers elected for the coming year: Eleanor Reber, president, Frances Fevh, vice-president, Kathryn Spangler, secretary, Malinda Schilling, treasurer, and Reba Jones, flower chairman.



Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Florence Reed, 473 Maplewood-av. She is survived by her husband, Mark J. Reed, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Morbitzer, three sons, Alford Hall, Harold Hall and Clayton Reed, five grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Inez Winters, Mrs. Mame Sealock and Mrs. Carrie Riggs. Mrs. Reed was a resident of this community for many years.

Ronald and Bob Temple, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Temple of Briggsdale, graduated Saturday morning from Great Lakes Naval Training School in Chicago. The parents and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schilling of Harrisburg-pk, were present for the commencement exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevenson, Jr., and children, 900 Palmer-rd (former Briggsdale residents) are vacationing in Florida.

"I guess I've lost another pupil," said the professor as his glass eye rolled down the sink.

Eighth Bean Dinner To Open Tuesday

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

It's Bean Time On The Hilltop Again

It's time again for the big annual Hilltop Bean Dinner and comes next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings hundreds of people from all over the city, yes all over the state, will flock to Westgate Park to participate in the big affair.

If it is the beans you are looking for, however, just recall that beans are going to be served only on Wednesday evening. Association members have concluded it is just too big a task to pass out beans two evenings But come ahead on Wednesday with a beany appetite and eat until your stomach is content.

This affair has grown to be an outstanding event and one that the community can well be proud of.

See you at the Bean Dinner!

Lions Deserve A Big Hand For Celebration

From all we can hear the Lions Club Fourth of July celebration out at West High field was a big success and the boys deserve a big hand from the community

Everything went as per schedule, a goodly crowd was on hand and a lot of fun had by all

Such a program took a lot of work but the Lions jumped right into it with their sleeves rolled up and did a nice job.

The Hilltop will be looking forward to a bigger and better celebration sponsored by the Lions next year

Briefly Told: And then there were the two girls who moved to the Hilltop from the east side and now claim they get sleepy every night at 9:30 because of the nice fresh air over here . . . Margaret Maxwell is in Mt Carmel Hospital after an operation on Monday and will be there for several days yet . . . Outstanding use of the flag on the Fourth was at Furniture Lane on Sullivant-av . . . Youngsters were lacking for the contests at the Lions celebration until after the first nice prize was awarded and then business really began to pick up.

It Could Happen Thus

GOVERNMENT REGULATION
X75-483-575-438

It has been recently brought to the attention of this office that many employees have been dying while on duty for apparently no good reason at all. Furthermore, the same employees are refusing to fall over after they are dead

THIS PRACTICE MUST STOP AT ONCE!

On and after April 1, 1951, any employee found sitting up after he or she has died will be dropped from the payroll at once, without an investigation under Regulation No. 29, Section 8-1

Where it can be proven that the employee is being held up by a desk, drafting table, typewriter or any other support of the government, a 90-day period of grace will be granted.

The following procedure will be strictly adhered to:

If, after several hours, it is noticed that an employee has not moved or changed position, the department head will investigate. Because of the highly sensitive nature of our employees, and the close resemblance between death and their natural working attitude, the investigation will be made quietly so as to prevent waking the employee, if he is asleep. If some doubt exists as to his true condition, extending a paycheck is a final test. If the employee does not reach for it, it may be reasonably assumed that he is dead. (Note: In some instances, the instinct is so strongly developed, however, that a spasmodic clutch reflex action may occur. Don't let it fool you.)

In all cases, a sworn statement by the dead person may be filled out on a special form, provided for this purpose. Fifteen copies will be made—three copies to be sent to Washington and two to the deceased. The others will be promptly lost in the department files

Four Legs Not Enough; Cow Has A "Spare"

The exhibit probably attracting the widest interest at the Hilltop Business Association's Bean Dinner will be the five-legged cow brought to the two-day affair by Lowell T Sullivan, 2211 W. Broad-st, Hilltop insurance man.

"Marigold", the cow, doesn't seem to mind the possession of the extra appendage, nor does it seem to interfere with her mobility. In fact she seems to enjoy the crowds that her presence assures.

In the past, the five-legged cow would probably have been relegated to the status of tales about sea monsters, hydra-headed monsters, witchcraft and unicorns Now, "Marigold" is just another "bossy" with an extra leg.

Sgt. Joe Is Safety Voice In Traffic Division

SAFETY TALES—Sgt. "Joe" Foster lectures youngsters at a West Side park on Safety. Sgt. Joe is using the safety car of the Bureau of Safety Education that he has operated continuously since Dec. 16, 1940. His routine calls for the investigation of the "hidden" causes of accidents, safety lectures, films and demonstrations.

The white Ford Traffic Safety Car turned smoothly into Sullivant-av, when two boys riding double on a bicycle rolled down the street. Sgt. Joseph A. Foster, driver of the familiar car with the dual speakers mounted on its top, pulled to the curb and directed the boys to stop and come over to the car.

The boys dismounted somewhat reluctantly, parked the bike and walked to the car. They figured that they were in for a "bawling out"

Sgt. Joe said, "Boys, don't you know better than to ride two on a bike?" They both answered, "Yes."

The officer asked them their ages. One said he was nine and the other eleven. Sgt. Joe asked, "Don't you think that a boy of 14 could ride a lot better than you?" Both boys nodded. "Well," said Sgt. Joe, "here's a picture of what happened to a 14-year-old boy who was riding double."

The boys stared shakily at the badly battered body in the picture. The sergeant told the boys how the accident had happened. As they looked at the picture and listened to the heavy-set officer, the realization of their own personal danger riding double was apparent on their faces.

Sgt. Joe let the boys go. They picked up their bike and headed for home, not riding double, but walking the bicycle

The practical lecture the sergeant delivered last Thursday to the boys was just part of his daily routine. It's his job to keep down the accident rate and make people safety conscious. His daily itinerary includes such things as safety lectures and films shown at schools and organizational meetings, safety talks to children at the playgrounds, investigation of the "hidden" causes in accidents and a constant check of pedestrian and driver attitudes.

As the officer wheeled the safety car west on Sullivant, an occasional youngster would wave or yell, "Hi, Sergeant Joe."

He drove into a local park, turned on the loud speaker and asked the 75 or 80 children at play to step over by the car. They crowded close in front of the speakers and listened avidly as he told them stories about little boys and girls.

Some of the children in the stories were wise and happy, they didn't get hurt in accidents; some were sad. The youngsters listened open mouthed to every word and shouted answers in unison to safety questions.

When Sgt. Joe, as the kids all call him, climbed back into the car pulled out, the "small fry" all yelled, "Come back next week, Sgt Joe."

Most of the officer's time is devoted to teaching youngsters the facts on "staying alive." Sgt. Joe's interest in child safety instruction has apparently paid off. Columbus

Greased Pole Climb Contest To Be Bean Dinner Feature

LOU KLASS (left) and HAROLD FOX (right) lend encouragement to a would-be winner in the Greased Pole Climbing Contest at the Annual Hilltop Bean Dinner which is to be staged Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The ambitious lad getting a few pointers from the contest's sponsors is Jimmy Graham of 688 S. Richardson-av.

It will be the greased pole climb again as one of the most riotous events at the Hilltop Business Association Bean Dinner, and the one event which draws crowds of the young and the young-old to vie for the prizes that are attached to the slippery pole.

Each year during the tenure of the annual Hilltop event many flock to Westgate Park dressed in old and tattered clothing in order to try their skills at being first to reach the top of the pole where in a little cloth bag reposes a gold wristwatch given annually as top prize by Lou Klass of Hilltop Jewelers.

Cooperating in the promotion of this year's contest is grocer Harold Fox of Fox Food Shop, who is making his debut as a co-sponsor of the event.

Object of the contest, which is to be staged for both nights of the bean dinner, is of course to go high enough on the pole to reach one or more of the prize-containing bags which are attached to the pole at various heights. The top goal of course is to reach the new gold wristwatch. Sponsors of the contest would not reveal just what prizes will be contained in the other bags.

Age is no bar to entrance in the contest say Klass and Fox. "Anyone from six to 98 years of age is eligible to compete. It would be best, however, to wear old clothing because that pole is really going to be well greased."

New K of P Officers Will Be Installed

The installation of the new officers of Mentorwood Lodge 770, Knights of Pythias, will be held on Sunday, July 10, in the organization's club rooms at W. Broad-st and Burgess-av.

The following officers will be installed:

Carl Smith, chancellor commander; William Ardle, vice chancellor; J. E. Smith, prelate; George Rings, master of work; Elmer Jahn, master at arms; Charles Hoodlett, inner guard; Edward Gleason, outer guard.

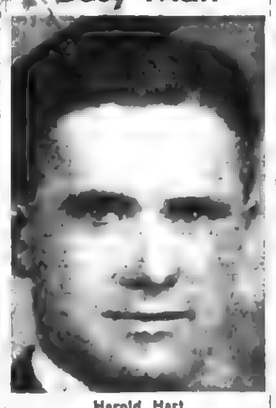
Deputy Grand Chancellor Nils G Berger will be the installing officer. Refreshments will be served

Stellar Party To Be Held At Westgate Park

A "telescope party," with the public invited, will be held at Westgate Park at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Members of the Columbus Astronomical Society, with headquarters at the McMillin Observatory on Ohio State's campus, will bring several large telescopes for observing Venus, Saturn, the moon and other objects.

No charge will be made for the viewings.



Install West Gate Masonic Officers

West Gate Chapter, No. 216, RAM, elected and installed Carl Swisher as Excellent High Priest for the coming year at the annual installation meeting last Wednesday night.

Subordinate officers elected were William Green, king; Fletcher H Wright, scribe; Frost Bratt, treasurer; Kenneth Sharadin, secretary; Arnold Durbin, captain of the host; Stephen Nemes, principal sojourner; Paul Sheets, Royal Arch captain; Cranston Williams, master of third veil; Ernest Gresh, master of second veil; James Norris, master of first veil, and Herbert Pfaltzgraf and Charles C. Martin, stewards.

Installing officers were Excellent Companions Harry Fell, Lawrence Campbell and Albert Torr.

Busy Man

Harold Hart

The family picnic held by the Harold Hart of Rome-Hilliards-rd is one of the busiest men in Franklin County these days, plugging the forthcoming Franklin County Fair which is scheduled to be held at Hilliards Aug. 14-18. Hart is the current president of the Franklin County Agricultural Society ,which is sponsoring the fair for its 38th year.

Hart, incidentally, will be exhibiting his prized Poland China hogs at the fair for the 30th consecutive year.

Classified Ad In The Hilltop Record Sells Girl's Bike In 2 Hours

A small ad placed in the "Too Late To Classify" column of The Hilltop Record sold a girl's bicycle in the first two hours after the paper was out

Mrs. Charles Dilbe, 71 Dana-av, reported that the ad that read. "Girl's 26-inch Schwinn bicycle Used very little $25. JO. 3952", sold the "bike" in only two hours.

The column "Too Late To Classify" is a special service column to accommodate those who call too late to have their ads classified under regular headings.

Pfc. Richard Hart Killed In Korean Action

Pfc. Richard Hart

Pfc. Richard H. Hart, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Hart, 3033 Parkside-rd, was killed in action in Korea on June 3, according to Defense Department notification.

Pfc. Hart, who was with the army of occupation in Japan after World War II for nearly a year, was serving in the famous 23rd Infantry Regiment, 2nd Infantry Division, at the time of his death.

He re-entered the army on Oct 3, 1950, and arrived in Korea on Nov. 1. He had been hospitalized three times for frozen feet and was due to return to the United States on rotation leave last month.

After he graduated from West High School in 1945 and prior to his return to army service he was employed as a machinist at the Denison Engineering Co., where his father is employed.

Surviving are his parents, a sister, Mrs. Leda Kelley, Chicago, Ill., and a brother, Robert Hart, of the Parkside-rd address.

Veteran Hilltopper Declares He Is Not Retired, Just Tired

Roy C. Millikin

"People ask me if I'm retired,' says Royal C. Millikin, 77 Eldon-av, formerly with Harold Fox's Food Market," and I just tell them that I'm tired, not re-tired."

Under doctor's orders Roy has dropped his job at the food market at the corner of W. Broad-st and Eureka-av, after spending 35 years working at stores at that location. But that shouldn't be any indication that the 80-year-old, active, white-haired man is ready to take life easy. He just plans a short rest and then he'll go in search of light work.

Roy, a veteran of Hilltop life, began working on the Hilltop over 35 years ago for his cousins, who then owned the Milliken Bros. Grocery at the same location he just retired from.

Reminiscing, he recalled that when he came here from Plain City, this area was sparsely populated and the business district ended at the grocery.

His hobbies have always been centered on stock raising. The only time that he remembers getting "stung" in a trade was when he swapped a horse, carriage, double harness and a buggy for an early automobile. He repurchased the horse three months later.

But he hasn't made a bad trade now; he refuses to trade activity for retirement.

Thousands Expected At Westgate Park

The eighth annual Hilltop Bean Dinner will open with a bang at Westgate Park next Tuesday at 6 p. m. as Alva Nafzger, president of the Hilltop Business Association, welcomes the throngs, anticipated in the thousands, to the midway, exhibits and displays. Food ordered to feed the crowds consists of 500 pounds of beans, 350 pounds of wieners, 350 dozen wiener buns, 3000 paper cups and plates, 30 pounds of coffee, 15 cartons of crackers and 5000 lumps of sugar.

Diners at the affair, designed to honor the favorite American food, the bean, will fill the Bean Tent when it opens Wednesday afternoon at 4, to taste the tempting and aromatic dish prepared with good, old-fashioned ham hocks

The program for the two-day celebration, prepared under the chairmanship of Robert Knelsley, will follow the opening address with the greased pole climbing contest at 4 p. m. Prizes hanging from the pole may be claimed by the most vigorous. A band concert by the Columbus Civic Concert Orchestra, beginning at 8 p. m. will follow the contest. The displays and exhibits will be open to the public throughout the evening.

Wednesday, the festivities will get under way again when the grounds are opened at 2 p. m. Games and contests for youngsters will follow.

Then at 3 p. m., Mayor James A. Rhodes will officially dedicate the We .gate Park Lake and the more than $100,000 worth of improvements instituted in the park. Local city officials are expected to accompany the mayor in the ceremonies.

One of the highlights of the dinner for the Hilltop fisherman, will occur at 3:30 p. m. The Columbus Casting Club will hold a tournament on the lake for both adults and youngsters. Judges will grade the contestants and the prize awards will be made on the basis of points. Charles Harder and W. F. Bohnen, president and secretary of the club, will both officiate.

At 4 p. m. the Bean Tent will open to the public and serve the "delicacies" through 8 in the evening.

Pie eating and watermelon eating contests will fill the remainder of the afternoon. An intermission will be held from 6-7 p. m.

The greased pole climbers will get their last chance at the grand prize at the top of the pole at 7 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m. MC Joe Goodwin will start awarding the various prizes for the visitors.

At 8 p. m. the $1000 worth of awards from Hilltop Business Association members will be made and the awards continued at 9 by the individual merchants participating in the celebration.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

We must all try out that new accordion that ED WHARTON bought last week. He's trying to find someone who'll give him free lessons, anyway.

Three cheers for DOLLIE MERTON. She won a new hat for just answering a simple question. She was visiting in Erie, Pa., got on a street radio broadcast, and became a lucky girl.

"Rain, rain—go away" was the cry of all the wash ladies last week—especially SONJA WERKS. She no sooner than got her clothes all out on the line and it would rain. She did it for three consecutive days. Now she knows she's going to ask for a dryer for this next Christmas.

NORMA BROWN never tasted honey until last month. Now she buys it all the time and thinks it's a wonderful way to save on sugar in her cooking. That's what she says — but I think she just likes that "candy" taste in her food.

A new set of lamps dons the front room over at BERNIE WHEATON'S home. His wife saw some on sale, and decided to take them—until the saleslady showed her some in nylon—more expensive, of course, and which she bought. "Good saleslady." "Happy wife." "? husband."

The BILL SCHAEFER FAMILY just returned from MAE'S home, down Kentucky way. I remember the last time they were down there, they got caught in that awful snow we had last November. Whew! what a change in the weather we have now.

The ELECTRIC WATTS just unpacked their belongings (We hope it's all theirs, anyway). They spent a few days in Huntington, W. Va., to see their neighbors the CORDRAYS who used to live near them here.

We wonder if the CORDRAYS moved to California, do you think that would stop them? Nope—the Watts would just hop on a plane and visit them just as often. More power to them!

Vacations — vacations! If only someone would give me a vacation. When wifey goes on one, I have to stay home and feed her canary, her dog and her cat.

Joseph S. Goodwin, Pharmacist, Believes In Hilltop Potential

Joseph S. Goodwin

Joseph S. (Joe) Goodwin, 2901 Sullivant-av, has a sincere belief in the future of the Hilltop and took a business risk 10 years ago to prove it.

Goodwin, owner of Goodwin's Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av, recognized the potential of this area, shortly before the beginning of World War II and opened his pharmacy here.

Married, with one daughter, the former Patricia Goodwin, the pharmacist, has two hobbies, tennis and organizations. He takes both hobbies seriously.

His interest in tennis was developed as he studied at Ohio State University. He played tennis and finally taught it at State. He was a member of the varsity tennis squad and won Big Ten ROTC tennis honors. Each spring and summer he continues his teaching interest by instructing "oldsters and youngsters" in the sport.

He graduated from the university in 1925.

No mean organizational man, he has served as the president of the Hilltop Business Association, two years as the president of the Central Ohio Academy of Pharmacy; he is past vice-commander of the southwest district of Boy Scouts and is a member of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, the council of the State Pharmaceutical Association and the Speakers' Bureau.

A member of the Glenwood Methodist Church, his organizational efforts are governed by a belief that "each one takes something out of the community . . . it's up to us to put some nutriment back. Organizations supply the means."

He has worked in the drug business since 1914.

Turn Deaf Ears

As usual, spokesmen for the Administration are protesting vehemently every time Congressional committees make cuts in the proposed budget. Some top officials squeal like stuckpigs at the most modest reductions in appropriation requests which were watered to the saturation point to begin with.

This is to be expected—nothing hurts a bureaucrat so much as to have his share of the take from the taxpayers shaved. But Congress will do the country the greatest possible service if it turns deaf ears to the "politics as usual" crowd and cuts this budget and all future budgets to the irreducible minimum.

It is frequently said, particularly in high Administration circles, that the country should get as nearly as possible on a pay-as-we-go basis, and that the proper way to do this is to sharply raise our taxes. Here is a particularly glaring example of putting the cart in front of the horse. The first step must be to get rid of every nickel of avoidable expense. Then, and only then, will it be the proper time to once more revise the tax laws.

The best authorities think the budget could be cut by as much as $10,000,000,000. Regardless of the figure, it should be evident to all by this time that the effort to pile war spending on top of unlimited political spending, with no economy anywhere, can only result in more inflation, a still cheaper dollar, and more destruction of the savings of the people.

READER COMMENT

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Dear Editor

The signs of the time indicate that "The Old Ship of State" is headed toward the rocks of statism, bosasism, corruption, law-breaking, crime and a fifty-cent dollar, or less.

For a generation there have been spurious celebrities at the head of some of the departments of government who have sought and now seek prestige, power, and control in order to lord it over other people.

Public officials guiding the destiny of our country might well profit by studying the lessons set forth in "The Text Book of Life" and emulate the "Great Teacher" who taught by word and deed that he came to serve, and not to be served.

When His disciples argued over who should be first, He admonished them that "He who is greatest among you is he that serveth." He also told them that "If any man desires to be first, the same shall be servant of all."

In a democracy the people are the government. The preamble of our constitution makes this plain. It says, "We, the people, . . . do ordain and establish this constitution of the United States of America."

Lincoln affirmed this point when he said, "Government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

The people who are the government elect officers to positions of trust. They take an oath to preserve, protect, and defend our government, the people, against all enemies, whether within or without her borders.

This confirms the fact that our officers under the directives of our constitution and the oath of office they take are duty bound to serve and protect the best interests of the people.

If records mean anything and they certainly do, there is plenty of evidence that these celebrities (?) who are attempting to manage the affairs of government are exalting themselves to the positions of "masters" instead of being servants of all.

In view of the fact that the government of the United States is a product of the people and as such belongs to them, it rests with the people to clean their own house by voting the wrong men who are in, out and by voting the right men who are out, in.

This thought was suggested in a recent article in one of the local papers when the writer was commenting on the testimony of men like MacArthur, Wedemeyer and Hurley.

J. A. Downey.

SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARDER

Thousands of letters have poured in from independent businessmen on the Supreme Court action on the Fair Trade Laws. "What can be done?" the majority of them ask.

For one thing, the National Federation of Independent Business, and other organizations, has taken steps to get new legislation introduced. Small Businessmen can aid by writing their Congressman, demanding not only new legislation but also that the Federal Trade Commission immediately investigate and enforce all provisions of the Robinson Patman Act.

C. W. Harder

In writing Congressmen on the Fair Trade Laws it should be borne in mind that uncontrolled price cutting can throw the nation into a severe depression.

Naturally, the chaotic price wars of the past few weeks will eventually harm labor, but it is probably too much to ask that anybody in power in Washington today have vision beyond the ends of their noses.

Don't be blind to effect of this price war. It can do more to wreck economy of country; deliver all business into the hands of a few monopolies than the so-called "police action" in Korea.

And as usual, Washington is months behind. In face of price war, official talk is all on plans to combat rising prices. That's a smoke screen to hide other plans.

It will be up to the businessmen to bring order out of chaos. And while working for stronger Fair Trade Laws and a useful Federal Trade Commission there are several ways that businessmen can protect themselves.

Remember, in the states that have Fair Trade Laws the law can still be enforced. The only big upset by the court decision was that a Fair Trade Agreement is not binding unless the merchants agree in writing to uphold the manufacturer's price.

So, check with your suppliers. If your supplier has required distribution outlets to sign such an agreement, make sure the supplier enforces compliance.

If the suppliers have been lax in this respect, or have not required the agreement in writing, do not buy his merchandise except in small lots just to meet demands of your trade from day to day. You may lose some sales, but lost sales are better than lost inventory dollars.

Where you can, switch to lines that are not being dynamited by the big outfits. You can, with a little extra salesmanship, sell your customers different lines that have quality.

Insist on your suppliers selling you at a price that will enable you to meet the lowest price this line is being sold in your area.

For the immediate present, it will be well to follow this rule.

Keep your inventories as low as possible, even though it hurts, but as stated above, it will be better to lose sales, than lose inventory dollars.

These measures are for your short range protection. Your Congressman supported by organized small business can help you on long range protection.

So, write him, insisting that Fair Trade legislation be enacted immediately, and at the same time protest any vote toward any tax increase of any kind until such legislation is enacted.

INOCULATION AGAINST Diphtheria—
SAFE, SANE PROTECTION

DIPHTHERIA is a once conquered disease. Physicians know positively how to prevent and treat it, and there is no need for any child to contract it. Formerly thousands of children died with diphtheria every year, because there was no known prevention or cure for it.

Through years of medical experiment and research, a serum has been perfected that gives protection against this germ poisoning and highly contagious disease. It is called "Toxin antitoxin," and is harmless.

Your child may have a natural immunity to diphtheria. If so, this fact can be established by a simple test, by a competent physician. This test, known to medicine as the "Schick test," consists of one simple injection. If the reaction is negative, your child will be very unlikely to contract the disease. Should the reaction be positive, the child should be given "Toxin antitoxin" for protection.

In cases of diphtheria, or any severe sore throat, call your Doctor at once.

Berosini Will Thrill Crowds In Aerial Act

The Great Berosini, one of the nation's leading high wire artists, will give his sensational performances in The Lane Shopping Center in Upper Arlington at 1 and 7 p. m. on Thursday and Friday and on Saturday at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m.

His act on the slender swaying rigging consists of two parts, first, an exhibition of balance and skill on a bar extending at right angles from the sway pole at a height of 110 feet.

At this point he performs his thrilling high wire act, including walking the wire blind folded, head stand on the wire and riding a bicycle forward and backwards on the wire.

As his finale, he ascends the sway pole to its top, 145 feet in the air and there performs headstands, handstands, single handstands, while the pole is swaying in a full 40 foot radius.

Fox Chicken Derby Winners Are Selected

WINNERS in the Fox Food Shop annual Chicken Derby are pictured above after being awarded their prizes for having raised the best chicken from the Easter chicks given by Harold Fox to more than 400 youngsters earlier this year. In the rear row are judges: C. C. Hartley, Harold Fox (sponsor), Bill Dever and Marvin Southworth. Winners were Ronnie Edwards, 809 Kelton-av, first; Connie Beackler, 3407 Camp Chase-dr, second; Jimmy Malloy and brother, Jack, 2507 Ridge-av, third and fourth; and Gary Proper, 57 S. Wayne-av, fifth.

Camp Chase Post-Beasley Grove Fords Nine Faces Crucial Play

Camp Chase Post-Beasley Grove Fords baseball nine will play two crucial games this week-end to decide the championship of the Northwest American Legion Baseball League.

Meeting Southway Post-Poter Gager Fords at the State Hospital field at 3 p. m. Saturday and Columbus Post at Westgate at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, the Camp Chase team has its work cut out for it.

Southway was defeated by Camp Chase, 10-2, in the first round, while Columbus Post upset the over-confident Camp Chase nine, 7-0, in their first meeting.

Right-hander Jim Kimball (2-1), who pitched the Camp Chase Intermediates to the City Knothole championship at Red Bird stadium last year, is expected to face Southway team at State Hospital Saturday. Kimball is at his best under pressure.

Ex-West High right-hander Jim Smith (2-1) will probably be on the hill against the Columbus Post team at Westgate Sunday. Having amassed a total of 41 strikeouts in three league games, Smith is expected to bear down on the Columbus Post nine, due to the drubbing they handed the Camp Chasers two weeks ago.

The race for the league lead is so tight that a loss for the local nine would mean losing sight of the championship. The same is true of the Southway and Columbus post teams.

Camp Chase and Southway are tied for the lead while Columbus Post is but one-half game back.

PICNIC Chairman Harry Zulauf anounced today that the post and auxiliary picnic will be held Sunday, Aug. 12 at Shelter House No. 2, Griggs' Dam. You are being furnished this information so that you can arrange your week-end schedule accordingly and not miss a delightful picnic.

The following members are now a part of Sr. Vice Commander Richard Martin's "Membership Committee": George Bradly, Arthur Watts, George Chambers, Raymond Boord, Eugene Wolfe, William Wolfe, Robert Zulauf, Dean Fenner, Henry Levy, Robert Swigert.

SICK CALL: Comrade Paul Kauderer is recuperating in Grant Hospital after having undergone a major operation.

GI TRAINING AID ENDS July 25, 1951. Veterans who plan to enter school or enroll for correspondence school training must act quickly. The great majority of World War II veterans must start their training — actually be enrolled in the school of their choice by July 25, or they will lose their educational benefits. Veterans discharged after July 25, 1947, have four years from discharge date to start their training.

Johannesburg Papers Compare Frank Sexton With Jim Londos

Francis P. (Frank) Sexton, 3251 Parkside-rd, a Hilltop man, who incidentally is the world's champion wrestler, has been jaunting about the world wrestling native experts.

When last heard from, Sexton, a 236 pounder with a chest measurement of 48 inches and 20½-inch collar, was in Johannesburg, South Africa. Of the match then pending between him and Manie Maritz, one of the local papers had this to say:

"Veral waar Manie Maritz intussen besluit het om tydelik weer tot die beroepskryt-toe te tree, wil promotor Irslinger nou die kans benut om nog minstens drie kragmetings me die Amerikaner in die een hoek hier te lande aan te bied."

Another Johannesburg paper, written in English, not in the local Boer tongue, described Sexton as one of the world's fastest men in the wrestling game and compared him with Jim Londos. It praised his scientific style that won bouts by effort and not by "clowning or faking as is so common."

The "Sunday Tribune" printed an interview with the 36-year-old world's champ:

"To keep himself in trim," the story said, "he eats uncooked green vegetables, a certain amount of red steak or veal; he avoids the things he likes best—sweets—and does not eat pork or chicken.

"During his wrestling career, Frank has laughed off such minor injuries as a broken ankle, an ear hanging by a few flimsy shreds, and a twisted elbow cartilage."

The "Tribune" reporter described the champion's belt, which Frank won in 1945. The belt, presented him by the National Wrestling Association, is worth over $10,000.

"It (the belt) is studded with 34 diamonds, a sapphire and a ruby."

"The central diamond is encircled with platinum and is almost the size of a three-penny piece."

Frank, the father of two boys, 11 and 13, is a veteran Hilltopper.

July 14 Last Order Day For Alumni Ducats

Ed Weaver, director of athletic ticket sales and assistant athletic director at Ohio State University, announced Friday that football ticket orders are coming in faster this year than they did last.

The football ticket problem at OSU, always a headache for its handlers, has been appreciably lessened in the past few years by a priority system giving top place to students and faculty, followed by the Priority Three group.

This third group, composed of alumni association members and university benefactors, are reminded by Weaver that the deadline for submitting their ticket orders for this fall's games is Friday, July 14, less than two weeks hence.

The sale of tickets to the general public will open at OSU on Aug. 1. Sales will be handled through the athletic office.

4 Servicemen Listed As Casualties

Two Hilltop service men and two former Hilltoppers were listed as casualties in Korean action. The four are Pfc. Eugene F. Francis, Cpl. Herbert E. Boucher, Pfc. Paul Fletcher and Pfc. Lundy Fletcher.

Army Pfc. Eugene Francis, 22, husband of Mrs. Jean McEvoy Francis, 296 S. Harris-av, was struck by shrapnel in the back and side on June 6. He is being treated in Japan.

Pfc. Francis was graduated from West High School and worked for the American Education Press, Inc. He entered the army on Sept. 22, 1950, and was shipped overseas on Mar. 9, 1951.

Marine Cpl. Herbert E. Boucher, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boucher, 612 S. Ogden-av, sustained rib injuries on June 10. He was treated in Korea and was returned to duty with the 1st Marine Division.

He served six years duty in the navy during World War II and was called to duty with the local Marine Reserve Unit last Labor Day.

Marine Pfc. Paul Fletcher, 23, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Colbert W. Fletcher, 847 Harrison-av, to receive wounds in Korea, attended West High School.

Pfc. Fletcher was wounded in the leg, arm and back on June 10, while he was serving with the 1st Marine Division. He served with the army for two years prior to his entry into the marine corps on Oct. 19, 1950. After he completed his training at Parris Island, N. C., and Camp Pendelton, Calif., he was sent overseas on Apr. 13, 1951.

Marine Pfc. Lundy Fletcher, 21 younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher, had previously been reported as wounded in Korean action. He sustained wounds in November and December last year. He was returned to the United States at the time his brother was being shipped to Korea.

Sgt. Joe

has suffered 10 pedestrian deaths this year. Of this number, six were adults over 50 years of age, and only two were children.

The drop in the number of child deaths in proportion to the total killed may well be due to the work of Sgt. Joe and his assistant, Officer Herb Winters. As they point out, "You can't educate them to the laws of life and safety after they grow up; it must be accomplished while they're first forming habits."

Most policemen are heroes in the eyes of our younger citizens, but Sgt. Joe's a special case. As an example, this year the graduating class at St. Mary Magdalene asked Sgt. Joe out to the school to autograph all of their year books. Needless to say, such things make the popular officer mighty happy.

The Hilltop rose from seventh to sixth place in the Police Department's weekly analysis of traffic accidents for the week of June 26-July 1.

Fifteen accidents were reported during the period with 14 incidents of property damage and one person injured. One case involved a pedestrian injury.

This record for the Hilltop shows little change in accident rate for a five week period.

The traffic division's safety slogan for the week is "Don't run for a bus and catch a hearse!"

Nixes Contract

Edward Eberhard

A Hilliards High School baseball player turned down a $7,000 offer to play for a West Coast team, so that he could attend Capital University, complete his education and play amateur ball.

Ed Eberhard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eberhard, 451 Maple-dr, Hilliards, turned down a $7000 a year offer to play for a farm club ball team in Sacramento, Calif. Eberhard, a catcher for the Hilliards High School ball club, was rated on the Mid-Six team this year, in spite of the fact that he missed two games due to a compound dislocation of a finger and was forced to play wearing a brace on it. His record shows he made one error in play and had no passed balls.

He says he refused the contract because he wants to try both football and baseball at Capital and feels that he should finish his education before he tries professional sports.

Eberhard was an officer in the Franklin Honor Society and held the president's post in the Hilliards Student Council.

Cerebral Palsy Victim Lost From Powell-av Residence

The classified ad appearing in today's "Lost and Found" section reading, "Siamese cat, 'Buddy.' Mrs. M. H. Alfison, 343 S. Powell-av," doesn't begin to tell the story. You see, "Buddy" is a victim of cerebral palsy.

Buddy, whose real name is Ching-Ling, disappeared from the yard around his home nearly three weeks ago. His owner, Mrs. Allison's daughter, didn't worry though, for Buddy was a wise cat and didn't make friends easily. She felt he'd return after a short time.

But Buddy, a seal-point Siamese, hasn't put in reappearance.

Ohio State University's Veterinary Medicine Clinic is also interested in the cat's disappearance, for, as a victim of cerebral palsy, he was being given one of the newest and experimental treatments for the crippling ailment. He was receiving injections of curare, a rare drug used by primitive blowgun hunters of South American jungles.

Curare is a motor paralyzing drug, small amounts of which can kill with an unparalleled speed. In the case of its use on animals, amounts must be almost microscopic.

Buddy's friends, his brother "Shakes", also a cerebral palsy victim, whose real name is Al-Ling, and the family dog, "Jimmie", also miss the Siamese.

Jimmie always regarded both Buddy and Shakes as his charges and tended both the victims of the motor disorders. Now at the mention of Ching-Ling's nickname, Jimmie rushes to the door, expecting to meet his old friend.

The curare treatment has improved Buddy's coordination to a point where the erratic behavior of his muscles is visible only when he jumps or runs rapidly. Shakes, however, is just beginning to show the effects of the injections.

So, if you want to please Bud-dy's owners, veterinarians, and friends, keep your eyes opened for a white Siamese with brown to the name of Buddy, you've made ears, nose and tail. If he answers a valuable find.

"Now today you go shopping with luck and a prayer;
You bring home the bacon and such.
We admit it takes more, to get anywhere,
And a dollar won't buy near as much.

"But, when shopping—chin up—cheerio—toodle-OO
It's really not such a tight squeeze
Just bear this in mind—and it really is true
That money sure does grow on trees."

Practical Gift Suggested For Summer Bride

A gift for the bride? Bright shiny cooking utensils are a practical and appreciated item for the brand new homemaker. Perhaps most important of all toward her meal success are meat cookery utensils. Home economist Reba Staggs has the answer on what is needed for cooking meat properly.

First of all, she explains, meat cookery is divided into two basic methods, dry heat and moist heat. Under the dry heat method special equipment is needed for roasting and pan-broiling. The modern way of roasting meat is uncovered on a rack is a shallow roasting pan, therefore, all she needs is a shallow roasting pan with a rack.

If her husband likes his roast beef cooked to the rare stage, there's nothing quite so sad as for the beef to come from the oven well done. The bride need not worry about this unfortunate occurrence when one of her gifts is a roast meat thermometer. She inserts it in the thickest section of the roast (not on bone, or in fat) before the meat goes in the oven.

For panbroiling as well as frying, a heavy frying-pan is needed. A heavy utensil is recommended because it assures even distribution of heat.

Under moist heat cookery comes braising and cooking in liquid. For braising, she can use her heavy frying pan with a tight fitting cover or a Dutch oven with a close cover. For cooking stews or large cuts of meat in liquid, she will need a heavy utensil such as a Dutch oven, also, with a tightly fitted cover.

Engagement of Betty Burke To James Goudy of Interest

Miss Betty Jane Burke

Burke, Sr., 163 Whitethorne-av, and Mr. Goudy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Goudy, 264 S. Terrace-av, will be read Aug. 18 at Hillcrest Baptist Church. The open church wedding will take place at 3 p. m.

As Girdles Go — So Goes Your Figure

Shopping on a hot summer day is generally a good excuse for forgetting the girdle and consequently the figure, with the ungiamerous result pictured here. (left) But a new foundation garment developed by Gossard of Chicago allows firm control and cool comfort with the results shown at right.

The summer habit of shedding foundation garments because of their steam cabinet characteristics not only allows the bulges to run wild, it also provides an unhealthful vacation for the salubrious advantages to be derived from the girdle. Posture, muscle tone and proper support for tissues, muscles and organs are aided by a well-fitted girdle, so the physicians tell us. But milady quickly forgets about beauty and health when she is faced with the prospect of sizzling in a relentless figure forcer.

The bright ray of hope flashed on the foundation market by The H. W. Gossard Company, world's largest publicly owned manufacturer of women's foundation garments, is the development of a girdle which is strong, yet extremely sheer and which has the added advantage of being absorbent. It's strength is owed to the magic of nylon, but nylon, although strong and light, is non-absorbent, and therefore is uncomfortable on hot days. The secret lies in the fact that cotton makes up over half of the material in the new garment. The nylon-cotton combination, exclusive with Gossard, provides the firm control necessary regardless of weather, and also assures cool, crisp comfort even on sweltering days.

The girdles are available in the regular Narroline model at $12.50 and the all-in-one MisSimplicity model at $13.50. There is a choice of white or pink colors with a delicate "double wedding ring" design worked into the material. A dainty matching bra is available in A, B and C cups at $3.50.

There are two Bert Charles(es) in Columbus, both well-known; both busy; both popular with their many friends and the public in general. They are Bertram and Alberta Charles, both called "Bert". They are Mr. and Mrs. and they live at 1670 Northwest-blvd. They came to Columbus in 1948, bride and groom from Akron. Mr. Bert is manager of Radio Station WVKO; Mrs. Bert is secretary of The Polio Foundation.

Mrs. Bert was interviewed for this item; I hope she enjoyed our talk half as much as I did. She is a lovely lady. Mr. Bert referred me to her, saying she knew more about him than he knew about himself. He is the first man I ever heard admit that, incidentally. Mr. Charles has been manager of WVKO for almost two years; before that, he was sports announcer and program director. The two Berts met in Akron when both were working on a fund campaign for the Red Cross. Mr. Charles has always loved sports. He was chief announcer for the All-American Soapbox Derby held in Akron, for three years; has announced sports — play-by-play — since his high school days, and in 1949 announced the Red Bird games, also Ohio State football games; basketball tournaments and many other important sports events. While in Akron he was Director of "Junior Town Meeting of the Air." He was in the air force for five years, and has been in radio work in Indiana and at WAKR in Akron for three years, serving as news director, sports director, program director and public service director there. Mr. Charles' hobbies are sports, particularly golf; dogs (Mrs. C. says he borrows them), Italian food, and discussing current events. He likes to act as "moderator" when their friends drop in for the evening and argue national affairs, current best-sellers and other topics. Mrs. Bert says often the arguments are heated but their guests never go home hating each other. Mr. Charles' brother, Atty. Arnold Fein, was one of Mr. Halley's assistants in the Kefauver crime investigation.

Mrs. Charles has been active in Red Cross, the Polio Foundation and other public service enterprises for the past ten years. This "Mr. and Mrs." are the kind of people of which any community may be proud. They are unselfishly engaged in working for the good of humanity. To sum it up—they are swell guys, these two Berts.

A saleslady told me recently that she wonders why women shoppers go into a store with left-over grouches. They fume and fuss and don't know what they want, and expect a clerk to read their minds—which this particular lady seems to believe are BLANK, usually.

Excerpts from mail: From a shut in—"next to loneliness, my biggest bugbear is the feeling of obligation and fear of being a burden. I'd like to be on my own as much as possible and I think every shut-in feels the same. If somebody is always hovering over you—wanting you to want something — it makes you feel you are a burden:" from a nephew at Great Lakes: "I want a leave . . . do you suppose the brass would let me have it if I'd tell them my bride is going on a honeymoon and I'd like to go with her?"

Gloria Brockington, 417 S. Burgess-av, attended the National Kappa Phi Sorority convention in Grimmel, Iowa, this week.

H. E. Slyhs Married 53 Years

CELEBRATE — Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Slyh, 127 Highland-av, celebrated their 53rd wedding anniversary last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Slyh, 127 Highland-av, who celebrated their 53rd wedding anniversary on June 26, are real veterans of Hilltop life. Mr. Slyh was born in Rome some 75 years ago, and while still a youngster, was brought to the Hilltop by his parents. His wife, Lottie, born on the North Side, was brought to the Hilltop by her parents 63 years ago.

The two met in 1897, according to the Slyhs, while Mr. Slyh was sitting in the shade on W. Broad-st. Lottie was 18 then and Harry was 21. They talked, became friends and apparently to no one's surprise, were married the following year.

At the time of their marriage, the Slyhs say that there were no homes west of Highland-av, and only a few farm houses. The large farms were all owned by Quakers, many of whom have left their names on local streets.

Streetcars, at the time, ran only as far west as Davis-av and Highland-av was the first paved street in the area.

Shortly after Slyh moved to the Hilltop, the Confederate Cemetery on Sullivant-av was constructed. He recalled that the men who built the wall around the cemetery were named John Owens and Walter Collins. After the stone fence was completed, 24 bodies had to be exhumed and moved into the cemetery with their 2336 comrades.

The men who acted as trustees for the Confederate Cemetery left their imprint on the Hilltop. They were Dave Binns, Al Binns and Henry Briggs.

After the wedding ceremony 53 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Slyh went to housekeeping in a house that stood at 2241 W. Broad-st, where the home of Dr. Howard Whitehead now stands.

Soon the Slyhs moved to the old "Four Mile House" that stood at Broad-st and Hague-av, where the West Broad Street Elementary School now is located. Slyh's mother had been born in the historic house in 1923.

Thirty years ago, the Slyhs moved to their present home at 127 Highland-av. They had three children, two daughters, Sarah and Louise, who now reside in Minnesota, and one son, Edward Slyh, 224 S. Huron-av, department manager of Prudential Insurance. They now have seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Slyh worked as a painter-decorator until he broke his arm two years ago and was forced to retire. Mrs. Slyh, as is her husband, is still able and alert. She does all her own housework.

Kiwanis Hears Of Lilliput Adventures

"A Holiday in Lilliput" with Lawrence College student Robert Peterson was in store for Hilltop Kiwanians at their regular noonday luncheon meeting Thursday. Peterson, with the aid of Kodachrome slides, vividly narrated his travels from Iceland to Morocco and described the "Lilliputian" countries of Andorra, Monaco, Liechtenstein and San Marino in Europe.

The 19-year-old student is one of the few Americans to come back with a forbidden photograph of Russian soil from the ill famed "iron curtain on wheels" — the train running through the Russian seized territory in Finland.

Hilltop Kiwanians were enthusiastic in their remarks on Peterson's presentation, labelling it as one of the most interesting and instructive talks presented this year.

Brownies Commended For Projects At Day Camp

CLAY PROJECT—Brownie Troop 369, one of the newest troops in District 10, earned commendations for the clay project it completed during the group's stay at the West Side Day Camp, last week.

Two local Brownie groups received commendations for projects they carried out during their week's stay at the West Side Day Camp on Kober-Sydan-rd.

The two groups so honored were "Unit 10", formed with girls from the Brownie troops at John Burroughs Elementary School and "Unit 7," consisting of members of Troop 369, formed at Chicago Avenue Elementary School.

The girls from John Burroughs took a nature study project, leaf printing, as their week's work and printed leaves on blueprint paper. Carefully securing the leaves to the paper and exposing the paper to sunlight, they got excellent images.

Those from Troop 369 chose to study insect life and make clay pottery. They dug the clay, washed and kneaded it, designed and completed it as pottery, under the supervision of Mrs. Clifford Richmond and Mrs. Lee Bauer.

The Brownies from Districts 8 and 10 attended the week-long activities at the 54-acre camp site, under the supervision of Mrs. Raymond Haughn, director of District 10. The program at the camp is designed to provide a stimulating enjoyment of out-of-doors training in good citizenship contributing to the physical and mental well-being of each girl.

When the girls first arrived for their camp session, they held a 15-minute group sing and the campers participated in a flag ceremony. Then each unit selected a home site, where the Brownies lived and planned each day's activities with the group leader.

Some of the programs the groups undertook consisted of cooking, hiking, crafts of all kinds, fishing, and writing. Some had projects in woodcraft such as lashing and pin making.

Perhaps luckily, at the end of the week, group leaders reported that there had been no camp tragedies or illnesses, thanks to Mrs. Warren Week, camp nurse.

Campfire Girls Distribute Civil Defense Rules

FREE MATERIAL — Campfire Girl Rosemary Headd is handing her mother, Mrs. Howard Headd, 340 Binns-blvd, the home instruction sheet on air raids, while Patricia McCormack, left, 271 S. Warren-av, and Sharon Washburn, 244 Eldon-av, look on. The girls are members of the Pat-Ki-Ga group. They're having a much easier time leaving the material with Rosemary's mother than they usually encounter in their rounds.

Throughout the West Side, Campfire girls are distributing Civilian Defense air raid instructions, published by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, but too many of the public seem to feel that it can't be true — they can't be getting something for nothing.

Consequently, the girls are frequently greeted with "Don't want any!" or "We already have enough of what you're trying to sell . . . go away and don't bother me."

Such attitudes are reportedly all too common and definitely tend to discourage the youngsters who have given up their swimming, play and spare time to donate their services for the public.

The civil defense chief explains the air raid and all-clear signals following the raid; it gives instructions on how to act if a raid warning is sounded or if a raid occurs. It gives each home owner and resident a chart he can check quickly if an unexpected attack by enemy aircraft develops. It may mean the difference between life and death in the event of a raid.

But in spite of the benefits that people may reap from this free material, some have said . . .

"Don't want any, I've got all I can do now to take care of my family, without buying something else." A local resident offered this before after he was specifically informed that the instruction chart was free and for the good of his family.

Many housewives, according to the girls, have been reluctant to get out of bed or dressed to answer the door. They either yell down from their bedrooms to tell the girls to put the information in the mailbox or merely tell them to "go away."

Rules require the girls to hand the publication directly to the home owner. If no one answers the door, then the girls note the address and return later.

Seemingly, the dissemination of the information has turned into a study of manners and morals; so remember, if a Campfire girl knocks at your door, treat her with respect—she's there to help defend you.

New Approach To Strawberry Shortcake

"Good old-fashioned strawberry shortcake" is a summer saying around many homes. Instead of old fashioned, here's something in new style desserts to start the family talking.

In place of the usual biscuit or sponge shortcake, bake this easy cake in muffin pans, suggests Reba Staggs, split the cake muffins in two and fill with vanilla ice cream. Place the top back on each muffin and cover with plenty of big red-ripe strawberries. There is your dessert wonderful!

Easy Cake

- 1¾ cups sifted cake flour
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ cup lard
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 eggs

Cream ½ cup flour and lard together thoroughly. Add the remaining flour, the sugar, baking powder, salt, vanilla and one-third cup milk. Stir and beat vigorously until smooth and fluffy. Add remaining milk. Beat again until thoroughly combined. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Pour into two round eight-inch cake pans and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 20 to 25 minutes.

Davies' Nine Takes Camp Chase, 6-0

David Davies' Senior Knothole League team romped over the Camp Chase nine, 6-0, with Cahill taking credit for the victory.

Cahill pitched a two hit ball game and struck out 11 men at the plate.

The final box revealed that the David Davies team had six runs, 12 hits and no errors, while the Camp Chase team had no runs, two hits and no errors.

The batteries were Cahill and Power for the David Davies' team and Feen and Weaver for the Camp Chase group. Cahill and Nicholson each had three for three at bat for the winners and Blake of the David Davies' team scored the only homer of the day.

Cab Driver Has License Suspended

Louis Mello, 26, 640 Van Buren-dr, a driver for the City Cab Co., had his license suspended for 10 days by the Columbus Taxicab Board, following an argument over a fare at Port Columbus.

The argument arose when a passenger entered a Green Cab driven by Edgar Gallivan. Mello admitted taking Gallivan's changer, later tossing it back to him.

According to Safety Director Donald D. Cook, the City Cab driver had no business being on city property at the airport. He pointed out that Hill's and Green Cab have contracts with the city to pick up passengers at the stand at Port Columbus.

Civic Association Opens Membership Drive

The Camp Chase Civic Association, a group founded two weeks ago to combat a proposed low-cost housing unit projected for the southwest corner of Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd, will institute a membership drive in the Westgate, Wiltshire and Franklin Township areas, Friday. The organization, which is incorporated, has stated its object as the "long range, planned development of the area."

Now numbering nearly 1,000 members, according to President Harold Banker, 447 Demorest-rd, the group has set a goal of 2,000 members by its next meeting. One enthusiastic resident led the membership drive by enrolling over 85 per cent of the residents of Josephine-av in the organization in one day's work.

The last meeting of the association was held in the auditorium of West High School on Wednesday, June 27. The audience, notified by handbills the preceding evening, numbering above 300 persons, was addressed by Ernie Stork, superintendent of the city building department, and Henry Koontz, head of the city council.

Story expressed his satisfaction at seeing the association formed. He said, "I'm glad to see this type of organization started here, there has long been a need for a citizen's group to work with planning boards."

He declared that "The proposed housing project has been kept strictly under cover. I've never seen any plans on it and, to my knowledge, neither has anyone else in city planning. Until the block plats are filed, streets are completed and the area improved, the development is under the planning board's control. We have yet to see any such action. I don't like the way it has been handled!"

Councilman Koontz joined Stork in disapproval of the way the project has been handled by its developers and further declared, "I'm a Hilltopper . . . I don't want any multiple housing units here!"

He said that he had broached the subject to the city council and they supported him in his contention that the low-cost dwelling development "had no place in this area of fine homes."

Following Koontz' speech, Don Smith, attorney for the organization, presented Banker with the state charter.

Friday, members of the organization were to confront members of the zoning commission with a request to change the public announcement and zone of consideration for rezoning at an open meeting to be held July 30, at 8:30 p. m. in the Franklin Township Hall from the 76-acre tract, to an area extending from Demorest-rd and Sullivant-av to the Sullivant Avenue Airport. They were requesting that the area be changed from light manufacturing to single dwellings.

The largest room in the world is the room for self improvement.

Keep Cool With Florida Frosts

The sun may keep the temperature up these summer days, but you can keep your own temperature down by eating and drinking wisely.

And probably the wisest choice in a way of beverages are fruit juices, which you can get now so conveniently canned right at the source of their goodness, in the Florida citrus grove country.

Canned citrus juices contain plenty of vitamin C, which is a daily need summer as well as winter, for grownups and children alike.

Citrus Soda

For each soda, combine 2/3 cup chilled Florida orange juice with 1/3 cup chilled gingerale in a tall glass. Add a large scoop of vanilla ice cream and two straws, and you have a treat in any weather.

Latvian DP Family Brought Here By Church

FINDS HOME — Rev. A. J. Weld, left, pastor of Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church, looks on as Mr. and Mrs. Arnolds Caune, Latvian DP's, pose with their two sons and new American friends, Albert Jordan, 127 S. Westmoor-av; Mrs. William W. Wylie, 75 Powhatan-av; Herbert Thomas, 307 N. Warren-av; and W. W. Wylie, members of the sponsoring committee.

After more than six years of life in Displaced Persons camps in the American Zone of Western Germany, Mr. and Mrs. Arnolds Caune and their two sons, Normands, four years of age and Svens, seven, proudly announce that they live at 211 N. Wayne-av.

The family had led a happy life in Latvia until nearly 12 years ago when Hitler led the world's people into a blood bath. But, in spite of the advance of the Nazi panzers through the small country and the subsequent German occupation, the Caunes maintained their home.

Then in 1944 and 1945 the Germans were caught in a pincers of Allied might and the Russians rolled in from the east. As the Germans retreated before the mass of Soviet forces, the Caunes fled from their home through Germany, until they were finally interned in the American Zone of then occupied Germany.

Arnolds, a former high school physical education teacher, went to work for UNRAA and then for IRO (International Refugee Organization). He rose from interpreter to food superintendent for a 10 camp area. Soon a second son, Normands, was born to the Caunes.

The 31-year-old Latvian, a player on one of the all-Europe championship basketball clubs, continued his interest in the game and in volleyball by organizing a squad in Munich that placed second in Western German competition.

Finally, after living in a succession of 10 camps in six years, the Caunes were cleared to come to the United States, under the sponsorship of members of the Hope Memorial Church. Arnolds had a job guaranteed by Will W. Wylie, 75 Powhatan-av, at the Borden-Hamilton milk plant.

The family arrived in New York last Thursday afternoon aboard the "General Bellar" and were greeted at the Union Depot Saturday by their formerly unseen friends.

Tuesday, Arnolds undertook two new jobs—work at the milk company and teaching his 30-year-old wife and two children to speak English.

In spite of the tremendous adjustments facing them, the Hilltop's newest residents are happy; they have a home at last.

He is Past Grand Knight of Santa Maria Council, and served in that office for two years from the time of the council's origin in 1944.

The newly elected officers are David E. Brown, grand knight, 598 Wilson-av; Clifford L. Ruff, deputy grand knight, 160 S. Huron-av; Eugene W. Walcutt, chancellor, 1311 Gault-st; John J. It is evident that we need moral strength that shall be equal to our ability to destroy. Brilliance without wisdom is often dangerous.

To join with our boys in Korea in a prayer for peace that shall be a product of wisdom will be a logical celebration of Independence Day.

Bible Comment:

Christianity's 'Rock of Ages': Uplifting Music

"YOU must come down to our church and hear the choir!"

This remark evidences the important part that music plays in Christianity, which, like Judaism, is a singing religion.

Organ music, too, provides the churchgoer with a spiritual revelation beyond the reach of the spoken or written word. Certain religious pieces written for the organ by Gounod, DeKoven, Malotte, Bach and Handel, to name but a few, sound the most stirring depth of love and grace.

And in hymns the Christian finds further expressions of those personal and significant spiritual experiences deep-seated in the soul. Charles Wesley's "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," and Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light," provide a richly satisfying musical communion with God.

Some widely-sung hymns are little more than the rhythmic expression of very limited doctrines, and of doubtful validity in the all-encompassing range of Christian truth.

At the opposite pole are the hymns and songs of shallow sentiment, with no depth of sincerity, jingles that have no relation to great doctrines and truth.

In the field of religion they represent the sort of sentimental songs that in the secular field are typical of the dance palace and radio. However, they are to be completely condemned only when they aspire to attain chief, or exclusive, use.

But as long as mankind will listen with his heart to such overwhelming works as Handel's treasured "Messiah," it is doubtful that the melodic baubles of the entertainment world will long endure.

Truly uplifting music has long been Christianity's "Rock of Ages."

Looking Ahead with J. W. Worrel

Life is an exacting business. While we are healthy and vigorous, we are sorely tempted to live from day to day and wait for tomorrow's trouble to turn up. On the other hand, if we can plan for tomorrow, if we can safeguard old age, if we can mitigate the disaster of death, how much easier become the problems of today. That's exactly what Life Assurance does for its policyholders. You can solve many of tomorrow's problems by becoming a policyholder of the Sun Life of Canada, thus giving yourself contentment today.

Adventist Church Camp Meeting Opens Thursday

Approximately 5,000 are expected to attend the state-wide camp meeting of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists which will be held on the campus of the denomination's academy at Mt. Vernon, O., July 5-15. About 200 members of the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church will attend the Sabbath services on the Ohio camp grounds Saturday, July 7 and 14. A number plan to attend the full 10-day period the camp will be in session.

The following Hilltop and West Side people plan to attend: Katherine Abbott and her nephew, Harvey Kinkead, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Brown, Mrs. Carl Carnes, Mrs. Edna Carnes, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doxley, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton, L. A. Holobaugh, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Liddell, Mrs. Jeanette Neal and her daughter, Mr. and Mrs Charles Pfeifer, Mrs. Mary Alice Preston, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reichenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ruth and family, Mrs. Mary Smallwood and Mrs. Elizabeth Tucker.

The camp program will include a full schedule of devotional studies and special features. Addresses will be given by leading church officials from the denomination's world headquarters in Washington, D. C., and by returned missionaries. Activities and programs are planned for each age group. Many of the meetings will be held in a large tent pavilion which seats several thousand and in the academy's newly erected gymnasium.

Campers will live in tents, in trailers, in the academy dormitories and in the community. Meals will be served in the school's cafeteria.

THE CHURCH NEEDS YOU AND YOU NEED THE CHURCH.

Check up or Build up?

The "good old days" of the open road? Well, maybe. . . .

Distance, then, wasn't just a matter of miles. It was a question as to whether or not you'd make the next garage, after coaxing along the valiant little engine that rattled and wheezed its way over the hills.

Sometimes you got there. Sometimes—you didn't.

Although they drive better automobiles these days, wise motorists still realize the value of a periodic checkup in a good garage. They don't wait for something to go wrong.

But they treat their church on a different basis. If all's well, forget about it. Only when real trouble strikes is it time to head your soul into church for a checkup. To these people, the church is a kind of spiritual garage.

They make one mistake. Souls aren't cars. You check up on a car. But you build up a soul. It cannot be straightened out in one quick Sunday repair job. A man's soul will grow and flourish only in direct proportion to his faith and trust in the Lord—a faith that can be built up through regular, devout church attendance—a trust that grows stronger in the increasing richness and fulness of his years. . .

Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul. . .—DEUT. 11:18.

School Days Never 'Fade Away'

The steps of Central High School are crowded every weekday morning with students from West High School. While many of their classmates are leisurely enjoying their vacations in travel, swimming, part-time work and "loafing" these Hilltop scholars are "sweating" over the books.

Highland Playground News

A doll show was held on the Highland Avenue Playground on Tuesday, June 26. Dolls representing the various countries including Mexico, Spain, France and many American dolls were exhibited. Pandas and Teddy Bears were also spotlighted. It was noted that even the boys were interested in the dolls.

Largest baby doll dressed in a pink outfit was owned by Sharon Harris; tiniest doll belonged to Sharon Fields and was no larger than her little finger. Largest doll, owned by Dorothy Snow, stood as tall as its owner and was dressed in nylon. The smallest, prettiest doll was owned by Mary Lou Sowers. Shirley Ann Johnson won the cutest doll prize with her collection of dolls from various countries. Kathaline Dvorak won the prize for the oldest doll with her big rag doll. Alice Jones exhibited two large teddy bears. Other dolls were exhibited by Phyllis Hill, Barbara Brown, Betty Hill and Sharon Fields.

Judges for the doll show were Mrs. Dvorak, Mrs. Fields and Mrs. Harris.

Opportunity: a favorable occasion for grasping a disappointment.

The story of a faith that paid off

YOU KNOW IT'S TRUE BECAUSE IT'S HAPPENED TO YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

PROBABLY YOU'VE never thought of yourself as a maker of history. But you are. And here is how you, as a citizen of the United States, are creating the greatest success in all history.

Remember back in 1941 when the Defense Bonds you were buying suddenly had to become War Bonds? How you and your neighbors pitched in to buy them in ever-increasing numbers, to back our fighting men and to help achieve the victory of World War II? After V-J Day, when those bonds became Savings Bonds, you continued to buy them because you had learned how regular saving could build security and contentment for yourself and those you love.

The face of the land has undergone some dramatic changes in those years since V-J Day. Now the landscape is dotted with new homes that Savings Bonds built. Thousands upon thousands of new automobiles travel the highways—Savings Bonds cars, bought with the product of individual thrift. On the farms, Bond-purchased equipment has helped produce bumper crops and prosperous years. Everywhere in America, man's urge to get into business for himself has become a bright reality. So has the ambition of loving parents to send their children through college. Time and time again, Savings Bonds have made those dreams and many others come true.

You KNOW they've come true, because it's happened to you or to some of your own friends.

And this is only the beginning of the story. Even after accomplishing so much, millions of American families still enjoy the financial security of owning more than fifty billion dollars—fifty thousand million dollars in Savings Bonds. More than at the peak of war-time Bond holdings!

How much money is that? It's enough to build a new $10,000 mortgage-free home for every family in San Francisco—and Sacramento—and Salt Lake City—and Denver—and Kansas City—and St. Louis—and Indianapolis—and Cincinnati—and Pittsburgh—and New York City—and the whole state of Texas!

And every week, everywhere in America, new millions of dollars are added to the total—as crisp new Savings Bonds are typed up with your name on them.

Kind of a king-size success story, isn't it? Your success story because you and the millions of your neighbors are living it right now. Your own faith in America—your own desire for the warmth of family security and independence—have made the story of United States Savings Bonds the thrift miracle of all time.

For your security, and your country's too, save now - through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds

On Fishing

Scientists say some fish swim as fast as an express train, which may explain why they're so difficult to catch. Fishermen's luck might improve, though if they'd observe certain practices which superstitious fishermen have conjured up in the last 2000 years. For instance, you may be insulting Neptune by neglecting to throw your first catch back into the water. Just how a fellow is to do that when he can't even snare that first one isn't answered. Or concealing a coin in the bait, indicating the fisherman's willingness to pay for all the fish he takes, might be helpful. Another old legend has it that if you're on the way fishing and meet a stranger or a woman in a white dress, go back home and wait until another day. You aren't supposed to bait the hook with the left hand, either. But the one that heads the list advises the fisherman against telling anyone the correct number of fish he's caught. Surely no rod-and-reelman need be told of that precaution—they all practice it.

Bean Dinner Opening Attracts Throngs

IN A SPIN — Ignoring the downpour that greeted the Bean Dinner crowds Tuesday afternoon, the youngsters donned raincoats or got their parents to carry the umbrella until they climbed on the "merry-go-round." Once aboard the animals on the enchanted wheel, not one of the "small fry" gave a "hoot" about the heavy rain.

WISE COWGIRL — Well protected from the dampening drizzle that fell as she rode on a pony on the midway at the Bean Dinner was Diane Lust, 151 N. Eureka-av. Braving the elements under her dusty umbrella, Diane made a quick circuit of the pony track.

Community Celebration Packs Westgate Park

Thousands of local celebrants honoring the traditional American dish, beans, crowded into Westgate Park for the opening of the eighth annual Hilltop Bean Dinner, Tuesday evening. The exhibits, displays and midway were officially opened at 6 p. m. by Hilltop Business Association President, Alva Nafzger. Rain failed to mar the program that followed.

At 7 p. m. the more energetic and ambitious of the crowd entered the greased pole climbing contest sponsored by Lou Klass of Hilltop Jewelers and Harold Fox of Fox Food Market. Participants strained, some more and slipped some more in attempts to reach the grand prize, a gold wristwatch at the top of the pole, or one of the lesser prizes affixed in paper bags at various levels on the pole.

Then the less strenuous part of the evening's festivities got underway, a two hour band concert was presented for the benefit of those tired by the climb and those who could remember the days when the band concert in the city park spelled the best in entertainment.

The crowd left the grounds slowly, viewing the merchant exhibits in the various tents.

The reopening of the Bean Dinner Wednesday afternoon at 2 saw an even larger crowd in attendance. Games and contests, which attracted floods of local youngsters, were run off in quick order.

The new lake in Westgate Park was dedicated Wednesday afternoon in honor of Charles W. Harder, 3043 Olive-st, president of the Columbus Casting Club.

In a statement, Mayor Rhodes said that the naming came in recognition of the retired railroader's efforts in teaching casting to children "from morning to night" in Westgate Park.

Harder is a member of the West Gate Masonic Lodge and the Aladdin Temple of the Shrine. He has been with the Casting Club for 12 years.

Rhodes also lauded the efforts of Arthur J. Baller, who as acting service director initiated and carried out plans for beautification of Westgate Park.

Prizes were distributed by members of Jack Alkire's committee and the crowd moved on to the next highlight.

Mayor James A. Rhodes and party arrived at 3 p. m. to officially dedicate the Westgate Park Lake and the myriad improvements instituted in the park proper. After the dedication of the more than $100,000 worth of added facilities and beauty in the local site, the lake was put to the test, the Columbus Casting Club opened its tournament.

Sportsmen from all parts of the community and local fishermen vied in the tournament for top prizes. The tourney was divided into two age groups so that the younger fishermen could try their hand with hope of success. Aiding the judges in the officiation in the competition were Charles Harder, president, and W. T. Behnen, secretary of the Columbus Casting Club.

Then at 4 p. m. the celebration hit its peak—the bean tent was opened to the public. The "delicacies" were served through 8 p. m. in the main tent.

The crowd jumped "teeth first" into the 500 pounds of beans prepared into an aromatic dish flavored with the traditional ham hocks; 350 pounds of wieners; 350 dozen wiener buns; 30 pounds of coffee; 15 cartons of crackers; and 5000 lumps of sugar.

At press time the beans were fast placating hungry palates.

At 4:30 p. m. a watermelon eating contest was to begin and at 8 a pie eating contest opened to those with competitive appetites.

An intermission was to be held from 6 to 7 p. m. to give the Hilltop Business Association's guests a chance to catch their breaths.

The final chance at the prizes on the greased pole was held at 7 p. m. and at 7:30 Emcee Joe Goodwin was to begin awarding the various prizes to the visitors.

At 8 p. m. the $1,000 worth of awards from Hilltop Business Association members was made and awards from the individual merchants participating in the celebration were scheduled by 9.

Hilltop organizations with display at the Bean Dinner included: West Side Motors, Buells Hobby Shop, Westgate Plumbing, Rausch Bros. Hardware, Wolfe Electric Co., Better Homes Center, West

Phillips Wins Release From County Jail

George Phillips, 23, accused slayer of Mrs. Ruth Alter, 360 N. Sylvan-av, last April 25, was released from Franklin County jail Tuesday afternoon, after 21 relatives and friends pledged $50,000 in cash and property.

He is free on bond, free to come and go, until indicted or freed by the grand jury, pending the outcome of its investigation. It now has a charge of first degree murder against Phillips before it. It could return a lesser charge if the grand jurors should so decide.

Upon his indictment, Phillips will be forced by law to appear to answer charges, otherwise the $50,000 bond will be forfeit.

The bond was reported scraped together with some pledges as small as $250 and some as large as $5,000. Friends and relatives joined in the fund raising. They had worked for five days Tuesday, when they finally succeeded in raising an amount totaled at $44,750, which was $5,250 short of the required amount.

Defense Attorney Phil M. Herbert then went before Judge Joseph M. Harter to argue that since property values have doubled or tripled since 1940 that bond was equal to $150,000 in present values. Judge Harter approved the property as sufficient "to support the $50,000 bond."

Phillips was greeted by his father, uncles, aunts and cousins when he left the jail. Relatives said that he would go to his home at 397 S. Hague-av, where his grandmother, Mrs. Dora Psora lives.

Construction Begins On Westinghouse

Work on the new $20-million Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant was begun July 2 by the Ebasco Services, Inc., one of the world's largest construction and engineering firms. The plant designed to manufacture turbo-jet engine parts for the Navy, will contain nearly 48 acres of floor space. It will be one of the largest single manufacturing buildings in the world. Completion date for the plant, which will employ between 6,000 and 7,000, is set in early 1953.

Kiwanis Garden Project Prizes To Be Awarded

Cash prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50 will be awarded to three Hilltop gardeners Monday, July 23, following judging of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club gardening project on Valleyview-dr.

Nineteen gardeners have toiled through these hot summer days caring for their small garden plots which were made available to them by the agricultural committee of the local Kiwanis Club. Of these 19, three will be awarded the cash prizes for the best gardens of the year.

Judging of the event will take place on the morning of July 23 by three judges as yet unnamed. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of care given to the gardens, neatness, arrangement, types of products and methods of cultivation.

Gardeners are urged by members of the agriculture committee to have their garden plots ready for judging as early as possible.

Council Votes Equipment

City Council voted to pass an $80,000 measure to replace old vehicles with new and provide apparatus for the new Sullivant-av fire station which is expected to be completed this fall.

Franklin Fire Companies To Begin Duty

Franklin Township Board of Trustees today announced certain changes affecting fire protection for residents and property owners of Franklin Township.

Effective July 15 at 12 o'clock noon, the three fire companies of the Franklin Township Fire Department will take over the protection of all of the township except the Dublin-rd area on the north side of the Scioto River. The new plan will take the place of the protection formerly supplied by the Columbus Fire Department on a contract basis.

The Columbus Fire Department will be subject to call, however, at any time its services might be desired. This "standby" arrangement will be in effect for several months.

The Franklin Township Fire Department is composed of three organized companies recently trained in the latest methods of fire protection. These companies are made up of a total of 100 men all under the supervision of a qualified full-time chief, James C. Moffitt, and three assistant chiefs.

Fire stations are located at 3265 McKinley-av, 3440 Sullivant-av, and 2193 Frank-rd (in Briggsdale). The latter station is rapidly nearing completion and will be in operation within 30 days. Firemen will be on duty on a 24-hour basis to receive calls and dispatch equipment from any of the three stations. All these stations are linked by leased telephone wires used exclusively for fire purposes.

Equipment at present consists of two new pumps designed especially for fighting rural fires but equally adaptable for pumping from fire hydrants where available. Each pumper carries 500 gallons of water at all times. A third pumper of the same type is scheduled to be delivered before the end of July and will be put into service immediately upon arrival.

On and after July 15, call JO. 6375 to report any fire.

Asks Removal Of War Surplus Tents

City Planning Director Ernest H. Stork yesterday asked county authorities to remove "ugly and unsightly" war surplus silos tents from the fringes of the city.

In a letter to County Building Inspector O. C. Miller, Stork said City Hall had been "deluged" by complaints. He described the tents as not only unsightly, but fire hazards to customers and surrounding property. They "ruin otherwise beautiful approaches to the city," he added.

Five-Year-Old Flies To Visit Grandparents

Five-year-old Craig Messenger doesn't hold with the theory that children shouldn't travel alone on the airlines. While flying here from Wichita, Kas., to visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Thomas, 87 S. Westgate-av, he had the time of his life and the stewardess and fellow passengers agreed he was an ideal traveler.

The stewardess said "He was no trouble at all and he got to know all the passengers before we arrived."

Craig will visit here with his grandparents until September when he'll fly back to Wichita.

Roscoe Messenger, his father, works for the Boeing Aircraft Corp. there. A pilot in World War II, he met his young wife, the former Kathryn Thomas, while he was stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base. His wife is a graduate of West High School and Ohio State University.

Craig said he wasn't afraid when the TWA plane took off. He just looked out the window and enjoyed the ride.

Hilltop Cops New Traffic Injury Record

The Hilltop's previous "good" record in traffic safety dropped to "worst" last week, July 1-8, when it had the highest "persons injured in accidents" on the weekly city-wide police accident analysis chart. The Hilltop had eight persons hurt in 10 recorded accidents. None of those suffering injuries were pedestrians.

The report shows that there were 10 accidents, seven cases of property damage and eight persons injured.

On a city-wide basis, however, Columbus has measurably improved over its last year's accident record. To date last year there had been 22 fatal accidents, while this year there have been only 13 recorded.

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Dear Editor:

When I was a lad sixty-five years ago, baseball was the favorite sport. Basketball and football were not so popular then as they are now.

Baseball is still my favorite game, with football second and basketball third.

Since wrestling has become a popular sport, we have added it to our list. Wrestling is Mrs. D.'s favorite.

All four sports have rules that govern them and an official (or officials) to enforce them.

In the first three sports mentioned the official in charge immediately penalizes the team for any infraction of the rules. He just imposes the penalty and the players know this. As a result there are but few violations of the rules.

This is not the case in wrestling. Infractions of rules are tolerated.

At the start of the contest the referee calls the wrestlers to the center of the squared circle and explains what they can do and can not do. He tells them that there is to be no hair pulling, choking, eye gouging, using the fist and that they must break clean.

We observe that there are very few dread wrestlers. Most of them are dirty and break all rules, some of them several times in the contest. All the referee does about it is shake his finger at the offender with the warning don't do it again.

Very seldom is a wrestler disqualified or penalized. Oh, they may be made to break a hold, but the break is seldom clean. It does not mean a thing to dirty wrestlers for they go right on breaking rules.

We don't know whether the referee, the management, or both, are to blame and the unscientific manner of conducting wrestling is leaving the wrong impression on the minds of old and young alike. It is conveying the idea to win by any means, whether fair or foul.

Why are not the rules enforced and placed on the same level of fairplay as the other major sports? The rules could be and should be enforced. Wrestling would then become a sport of science and skill as it is intended to be. As conducted today it is more a relic of the dark ages.

Be Alert Against Polio

Parents, grandparents and all the rest of us are being asked to be on the alert concerning polio.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis asked the Hartley Publications today to publish this warning together with some practical Do's and Don'ts. The foundation, through its long experience, feels that if polio can be caught and treated before it gets a "head-start" the patient can hope for complete recovery and a minimum of discomfort.

Here are the foundation's suggestions:

Encourage children to play with children they have been with right along.

Keep them away from new people, especially in the close daily living of the home.

By precept and example train children to wash their hands carefully before eating and after using the toilet —especially important when polio is around.

Keep foods clean and covered.

Watch for signs of illness, such as upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness or nervousness, trouble in breathing or swallowing.

Put the ailing person to bed at once, away from others, and call the doctor.

Prompt Action

Prompt action may lessen crippling.

No patient need go without care for lack of money. Your chapter will pay what you can't afford.

Remember that at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.

Don't get overtired by hard play, exercise, work or travel. This means men, women or children.

Don't get chilled. Don't bathe or swim long in cold water, or sit around in wet clothes.

Don't have mouth or throat operations during a polio outbreak.

Don't use another person's towel, dish, tableware or the like.

Don't take children to places where there is polio. Ask your health department.

Rheumatic Fever

Don't take your child out of camp and playground, where there is good health supervision.

Far more children of school age lose their lives or are left invalids from rheumatic fever than are victims of polio, yet rheumatic fever is not contagious.

One-third of the children with rheumatic fever recover completely, without demonstrable heart damage.

Another third show some sign of cardiac damage, but they are not prevented from leading normal or almost normal lives.

And only one-third of children who have one or more rheumatic infections develop heart disease severe enough that special long-term planning is required.

Of great importance is bed rest until, after weeks or months, the inflammation dies down.

As in all acute infections, bed rest is prescribed; in rheumatic fever it is desirable to give the heart as much rest as possible.

The surprise peace proposal from Soviet quarters has prompted many to wonder whether Stalin is just stallin' for time, or whether he really has "MaNks toward none."

The new manager of a large plant was scarcely settled in his job when a foreman dashed in to lodge a string of complaints against another foreman. Calling in the second foreman, the manager bade the complainer continue his diatribe. He wouldn't.

"All right," said the chief, "you two step out of the office and thresh this thing out. If you can't reach an agreement in 15 minutes, I'll have to let one of you go."

They came back in five minutes. Both were smiling.—Arthur Smedley (Port Jefferson, L.I., N.Y.)

When I hear people talking glibly on the radio or TV I'm envious as all get out for I remember painfully the one and only time I ever faced a mike. That was back in the days when—according to everyone who knew anything—radio was in its infancy. At my radio debut I outshook any aspen leaf and my teeth sounded like my typewriter writing home for money. I could see right then that Mary Margaret McBride had nothing to fear, for I'd never replace her. The night of my debut I'd been so confident that radio was to be my career. I had learned my skit so I could say it backward—like Serutan. If I remember correctly, when my turn came, I began at the middle and worked both ways!

The kitten (Snowball by name) was watching the changing of the baby and suddenly swallowed an open safety pin. Now Snowball can't meow any more but is as spry as ever.

A neighbor reports three agents in one day last week, all selling brushes. She said they were from different companies but all had practically the same line. She knows—she listened. She had to because she was sitting on her porch because she had locked herself out.

My brother-in-law, a particularly successful contractor, credited his good fortune to the "sidewalk superintendents" who gathered to witness his building projects. He employed one man to do nothing but gather the comments of the crowd and he claimed that many a major problem was solved by piecing together these bits of wisdom from the sidelines.

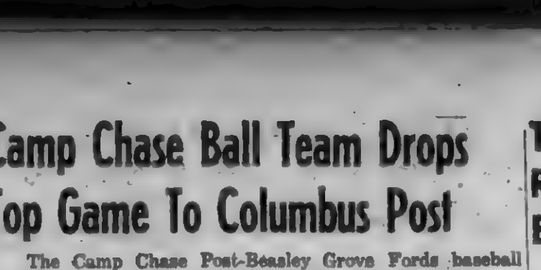
Camp Chase Ball Team Drops Top Game To Columbus Post

The Camp Chase Post-Beasley Grove Fords baseball knocked out of the Northwest American Legion League team battled to the last game of the season before being championship.

Going into the bottom of the eighth inning, trailing 5 to 1 against Southway Post-Potter Gager Fords at State Hospital Saturday, the Camp Chase nine staged a 6 hit, 5 run rally after two were out, to take Southway 6 to 5. The win gave them a tie for first place with Columbus Post.

Sunday at Westgate, Camp Chase and Columbus Post, the last game of the season for both, and tied for the league lead, seesawed back and forth with the Columbus Post team coming out on the top end of a 5 to 4 score.

Camp Chase had 4 runs, 11 hits and 4 errors, while Columbus Post had 3 hits, 5 runs and 2 errors. Camp Chase had the bases loaded in the ninth but was unable to score.



This year's Camp Chase nine made the best showing in Legion play in several years. All the boys were from West High School and, with the exception of Pitcher Jim Smith who graduates mid-term, and Ellis Easterly who is moving to Louisville, Ky., will be eligible for the West team next season.

If the Legion play is any indication, next year's West team should be well in the running in the High School League.

Thrills, Spills Await Spectators At Firefighter Boat Races

The Scioto River course at Griggs Dam, scene of the July 15 Scioto Boat Club inboard regatta, has been hailed by the inboard and outboard drivers of the country for the past 25 years as one of the finest racing courses in the United States.

Because of their high regard for this glass-smooth body of water, the country's leading speedsters will help make next Sunday's program one of the highlights of the summer's sport calendar in Central Ohio.

The three and a half hour show is co-sponsored by the Scioto Boat Club and the Franklin County Firefighters Association. The Firefighters will use profits to purchase new firefighting equipment. Past promotions have enabled the association to maintain one of the most modern systems in the state.

Price of admission is only 50 cents. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free.

First race is scheduled for 2 p. m. with the featured free-for-all set for 5:20.

JOE TAGGART of Canton, who finished second in both heats of the Seven Litre Hydro events in last year's Columbus Speedboat Regatta, will churn the waters again this year when the Scioto Boat Club and the Franklin County Firefighters' Association again bring you the same thrills and spills Sunday, July 15, at Griggs Dam.

Local Man On Auxiliary Force

One local man was a member of the city's first company of auxiliary police officers sworn into service, on July 3, in City Hall.

Walter F. Canary, 1980 Demorest-rd; a member of the Southway Post, American Legion, was sworn into the auxiliary police with 33 others by Municipal Judge Charles R. Petree. The Southway Post unit was the first of four local auxiliary squads to complete training under civil defense regulations.

The group received 30 hours of first aid training and 30 hours of police manual training. Lt. Edgar Reeves and Sgt. Kenneth Miller instructed the class under the supervision of Capt. George Scholer, police training officer.

The squad members will be assigned to a veteran patrolman two nights a week to gain experience. The men serve without pay and will be activated if a national emergency should arise.

Two Soap Box Racers Backed By Recruiters

Robert Estes, 11, and Gary Thompson, 12, will be wearing the navy blue, but not in the usual sense, for the colors will be carried for the Soap Box Derby races only.

Since the soap box racers can be sponsored this year with official sanction, navy recruiters thought it would be a good idea if they sponsored a couple of boys in the annual race.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Estes, 575 Scott-st, and Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Thompson, were both working on their racers and were happy to get the sponsors. Robert will enter in the younger, 11-13 bracket and Gary the older, 13-15 bracket.

The boys will compete in the races on Grandview-av hill on July 28.

Boys compete for heat prizes as well as the grand prize, the Columbus championship. Winner of the local Soap Box Derby goes to Akron to try for the national championship and a $5,000 college scholarship.

Any boy within the age brackets is eligible to enter the contest. Registration may be made and rules obtained at any Chevrolet dealer's office.

Declare Lions Fourth of July Day Smash Hit

The community-wide Lions Club Fourth of July program at West High School was declared a "smashing success" by civic leaders and those in attendance. The evening section of the show saw more than 8,000 people packed into the West High Stadium, standing on the athletic field and crowding the fences.

Youngsters ooohed and aahed as the fireworks exploded high above their heads. Lions Club members reported that huge quantities of soft-drinks and hot dogs were consumed by the throngs and the police reported no disturbances at the 10-hour long festivities, therefore, on every count, it seems the club is to be congratulated in their efforts to keep Hilltoppers "Happy at home on the Fourth."

The celebration's planners declare that this past community activity will be only the first in a constantly improving series of such celebrations.

Further indications that the Lions Club day was well received by local residents came from city officials who added the most pleasant note of the celebration by their declaration that in spite of the cool day and contrary weather, the Hilltop's Fourth of July celebration had the largest attendance of any such activity in the city. It succeeded in drawing higher attendance than other, long established, celebrations.

Has It Gone This Far

"Because, she's a minor."

New Assistant Pastor Named

Louis W. Hammond

July 1 was a red letter day on the calendar for more than one reason to the members of the Apostolic Gospel Church, 1074 W. Broad-st. Not only was it Sunday, but it marked the arrival of their new assistant pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Hammond of Caldwell, Idaho. Mr. Hammond at 21, is not only one of the most talented, but also holds the distinction of being the youngest assistant pastor ever employed by the well known West Side church.

Although just a recent graduate of International Bible College, Mr. Hammond has already had wide experience as a youth director and minister of music. Among his outstanding past achievements was aiding to establish the great interdenominational "Youth for Christ" services in his home, Caldwell, Id.

Plans for the future work of the new assistant pastor in the local church include directing a new youth choir and organizing youth services one night each week. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond reside at 186 Lechner-av.

Seems like the fellow who has the most dollars got 'em from not depositing his quarters on easy chairs.

One of the most unusual displays currently being shown at the Hilltop Bean Dinner is the huge Dumont 30-inch direct view television at the tent occupied by Better Home Center on the midway. Editor's note: What role does the home play in life on the Hilltop? What is the story behind the beautiful homes that make up this community? Who are the people that find time and money to improve their properties? To what extent do the home owners beautify their respective properties and in what diverse manners? How many Hilltoppers use much of their leisure in doing practical and decorative projects that add immeasurably to making this community of 50,000 the COMMUNITY BEAUTIFUL!

Typical of many busy citizens living on the Hilltop is Dr. John C. Lowmiller, 98 Sylvan-av, and affable dentist, 270 E. State-st, whose family, home and garden are his hobbies. His is a concrete example of "living at its best," achieved in leisure hours by dint of planning, hard work and perseverance.

The aggressive, amiable dentist, when away from his practice, tackles his "home work" projects in much the same spirit as he approaches his dental problems.

It was more than a co-incident that 11 years ago, Dr. Lowmiller decided to "put his stakes" on Hilltop land, since which time, his place has been one of the show places here.

"I like the fresh, clean, cool air —that's why I located on the Hilltop," retorted the dentist.

His family of Mrs. Lowmiller, Susan 5½, Nancy 9, and Judith 16, are avid, enthusiastic helpers in cooperatively promoting whatever tasks they may undertake. Even one year old Siamese cat, "Toby" has a part.

At least one gigantic project looms large annually in the Lowmiller book, most recent of which is the mammoth, ornate, out-of-door furnace, designed and manually built by the aggressive dentist and Judith. It is perhaps one of the most pretentious out-of-door kitchen units in the country—a veritable paradise for epicureans.

After long, laborious hours of practicing dentistry, Dr. Lowmiller, aided by daughter, Judith, were engaged in building the huge furnace every night for a period of five months, hod carrying, brick laying, etc. were diversions of the Lowmillers each evening. The firebox is larger than standard.

Donning his chef hat, the dentist can now do the culinary honors to the utmost satisfaction of the family and guests.

Accessories to this unit are a sink, grill, spit for barbecues and chicken, coffee pot holder, electricity, city water, septic tank, and all picnic accommodations.

Project the year before was a bomb-proof cold storage room beneath the breeze-way of the garage and home. It is 8x10 feet, with a height of 6' 2", well ventilated and handsomely surfaced with a mosaic of stone. The Lowmillers all pitched in to see this through.

On the agenda for another year, a lily pool will be constructed.

His interest in the out-of-doors, particularly flowers and vegetables, stems from his farm life as a boy at Bucyrus where he was raised.

"I think the youngsters miss a lot," he philosophically observed, "if they have had no experience with the growing of flowers and vegetables."

An executive officer of the Columbus Rose Club, the progressive dentist this year grew some 150 of the petalled flowers that bedeck his lovely home.

Dr. Lowmiller likes to putter in the soil 12 months out of the year —in frigid weather in the portable green house, annexed to his garage. He starts all of his myriad flower and vegetable plants from new seed, which he grows profusely.

An omnivorous reader of floriculture and vegetable growing he reads widely of the new ideas in improving plants. His flower and plant encyclopedia is frequently at his elbow.

His is a miniature estate farm, growing practically all of the produce for the family. He rotates his crops, uses buckwheat hulls for mulch, and saves all matter for compost purposes.

An apiarist, the genial dentist has hives of honey bees which pollinate his fruit trees.

Eternally exploring and experimenting, the Hilltop "Burbank" is producing plants short of phenominal.

Photography crowds the life of Dr. Lowmiller, as a side venture, he photographs many of the homes on the Hilltop, shows the print to the home-owner and makes up the picture for the Christmas card. He has printed more than 10,000 cards for Hilltoppers.

Delia Jenny, Veteran Hilltopper Passes From Local Scene At 91

Miss Delia Jenny

Miss Delia Jenny, 2235 W. Broad-st, a lifelong resident of the Hilltop and witness of many changes in the area during her 91 years of residence here, passed from the local scene Monday at her home when death claimed one of the Hilltop's oldest residents.

Surviving are three nieces, Mrs. Olive Tomlinson, Columbus, Mrs. Anna Coffin, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Delia Wilson, Clinton, Mich.; four nephews, Herbert and Howard Haldy of Columbus, Arthur Haldy of Newburg, Ore., and Erwin Haldy, Walbridge, O.; and a foster sister, Mrs. Anna Sloan of Columbus. She was a charter member of the Sunset Literary Club.

Born and reared in pre-school years on a farm along the Georgesville-rd (two miles south of the National-rd), the Jenny family migrated when she was six years of age, north of the "National Pike" and further east in Camp Chase. Her father, Benedict Jenny, purchased a 100-acre tract following the Civil War at $60 an acre, which in that early day was a scandalous figure to pay for unimproved property "far out in the sticks." Its value, however, has increased many-fold since the original Jenny investment. The first railroad here bisected the farm.

A pioneer in the construction business, her father plied his trade extensively in this section. A multitude of homes and buildings, many still in use, evidence his craftsmanship. Barns and homes spanning the Alton-Hilliards area were built by Benedict Jenny. St James Church, an imposing brick structure in this same fertile area, was built by Mr. Jenny, and is a monument to his genius and workmanship.

It was no picnic to raise a family of six in the Camp Chase backwoods. The elder Jennys made sure, however, that their three girls and one boy would gain all that education and religion in that day provided.

Miss Jenny vividly recalled on the occasion of her 91st birthday, her school days in the Mix School, and her daily treks over the muddy National-rd in order to attend Columbus High School, "far down in the city," and from which she graduated 70 years ago in the class of 1880.

Confirmed in the Reformed Protestant faith early in life, she attended this church on E. Mound-st in which her parents were active. She later became identified with the Methodist movement on the Hilltop, and was at her death a devout member of the Glenwood Methodist flock under the leadership of Rev. Joseph Sheilhaas. For years she was very active in the affairs of this church, particularly in the women's societies. She read her Bible with alacrity and enjoyed visits from her minister and friends.

Broadminded and alert in her thinking, she learned much from her many travels. A veteran globe trotter, she had seen much of the world. As late as 1925 she made an extended tour of Europe, visiting practically all of the important sectors of that continent.

Especially did she enjoy her visit to Berne, Switzerland, whence came her parents. There she visited the school attended by her parents more than a century ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Schoedinger Chapel, 229 E. State-st. Interment will be made in Greenlawn Cemetery.

The Story of a Tree

By George W. Wolfe

This is a story about a tree. Not one of the giant redwoods that grow in California, or of a tree that became famous because of some historical event that took place years ago under its spreading branches, but of a tree and men. This tree was just a common cottonwood tree, 30 inches thick at its base, rising into the heavens about 125 feet. This tree stood in the front yard of one of America's millions of homes. This home was like one of the average homes we find all over America. It was the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ohlinger, and located at 1920 Jackson-av.

John and Tess, as his wife was known, had talked of removing this tree. It was too close to the house and dead limbs had already begun falling from high above. They knew the damage it would cause to their home if, in a high wind, it would crash down upon their house. But John and Tess were like millions of other people. The garden had to be planted, and so many other jobs needed their attention that the tree had to wait. But on May 6, 1951, suddenly and without warning, and when Johnny was getting his garden ready to be plowed, God called Johnny to one of his Heavenly Mansions that we were told hundreds of years ago were prepared for us. Johnny fell, not far from this cottonwood tree.

But John and Tess were good neighbors. They were always trying to help some one else. After paying their respects to a good neighbor, men began to talk. What could they do to help Tess? The tree. Yes, John had spoken to them about his desire to remove this tree, and these men knew that it was dangerous to Tess's home. Sure, one of these men knew where he could get the loan of a gas powered saw. Another knew a farmer who had a tractor. When could they do it? Sunday, May 13. Church? Well, they would miss one Sunday. The tractor? Well, this farmer needed the tractor that day. He was a little late now, but he could wait. So early that Sunday morning men came. Yes, it was Sunday, but weren't they told long ago to "love thy neighbor". Soon this giant cottonwood was on the ground, and it fell just where these men had planned, away from the house.

This writer arrived after the tree had fallen. Men were working. Two men were guiding the powerful teeth of the power saw through the trunk of this fallen giant. Other men were rolling the big logs away as fast as they fell. Another man was on the tractor, hauling the big limbs away that were being cut by other men. Yes, these men were working, sweating and smiling. John had been a swell neighbor, and they too were good neighbors.

And as I stood there watching these men work, I was sorry that, due to a disability, I could not join them in this good deed. But as I stood and watched them I thought of the different faiths there—Protestant and Catholic, Democrat and Republican, but all Americans. And as you stood and watched the smile of these men you could feel the warmth of their smile, because they knew that God and Johnny were watching, and saying "Well done."

And what a wonderful world this would be if all people could be like these people, and all the time. If in all our churches, at the close of the service, and at night when we go to bed to seek the sleep and rest we all need, we would say "God help me to be a good neighbor."

There would be no war in Korea, and peace and contentment would again settle over this blood-soaked earth. Maybe if this tree had grown in Korea, and just two men, one named Harry S. Truman and the other Joseph Stalin, had met as these men had met, with the same spirit in their hearts, then maybe some good writer could write a story about a tree that would live throughout the ages.

Only a tree, and men.
